

CANDIDATES AND PEOPLE BOTH GLAD IT IS OVER

General Satisfaction Expressed Over the Nominations Made by the Republicans
On Saturday.

DEFEATED WARMLY SUPPORT THE TICKET

THE TICKET THAT WON.

Mayor—THOMAS V. THOMPSON.
President of Council—JOHN HORWELL.
City Auditor—WILLIS DAVIDSON.
City and Township Treasurer—CHRIS HORTON.
City Solicitor—GEORGE E. DAVIDSON.
Board of Public Service—JOHN N. TAYLOR, W. L. SMITH, JACOB SHENKEL.
Councilman-at-Large—JOS. BARLOW, HENRY BULLOCK, E. N. CROXALL.
Council, First Ward—ZED. T. SMITH.
Council, Second Ward—HUGH JOHNSTON.
Council, Third Ward—HOWARD E. MOON.
Council, Fourth Ward—THOMAS CANNON.
Justice of the Peace—H. P. McCARRON.
Constable—WM. COPESTICK.
Township Trustee—JOSEPH BEARDMORE.
Board of Education—W. B. HILL, E. M. KNOWLES, JESSE H. SMITH.

That a strong ticket was named Saturday by the Republicans is an indisputable fact, and that it will win at the general election on the first Monday in April is generally conceded this morning. At this time it is impossible to determine just how much opposition will develop, but as the nominees represent, by a preponderance of votes, the sentiment of the people, it is only reasonable to assume that this same preference will be expressed again at the polls.

So spirited was the campaign for the nominations that it is only natural that a great deal of disappointment should exist, at least for a few days, among the defeated aspirants. For the most part they are taking defeat philosophically and gracefully, giving heartiest expressions of good wishes for the success of the ticket. Some of the defeated candidates took it stoically and before the completion of the count were in the best of spirits and gave full assurance to the voters that the entire ticket would have their unqualified support.

From the head of the ticket to the assessors in the wards good men have been named, according to the general opinion of Republican voters. Especially cause for congratulation is found in the public service board, conceded to be one of the strongest and best the city could have.

The story of the contest was told in the News Review extras of Saturday night, the last of which, containing the complete vote for all the candidates, was distributed among its subscribers.

BIG CAR PLANT AT CANTON

STRUCTURAL STEEL COMPANY TO
HAVE $10,000,000 CAPITAL.

The Concern to Erect One of the Largest Establishments of the Kind.

Canton, February 23.—It is given out at the office of the Structural Steel Car company that notice has been received from eastern stockholders, stating that they will reorganize and recapitalize the company, increasing the capital stock to $10,000,000. This means that Canton is to have one of the largest structural steel car plants in the United States. A meeting of the stockholders will be held in this city March 15, at which time the reorganization and recapitalization will be perfected and plans adopted for the enlarging of the plant.

An option has been secured on additional land, the price of which is agreed upon as $20,000. This gives the new company when it is organized almost 80 acres, which will be needed for the shops to be erected. The company will make all styles of structural steel cars, including hopper and side dumps, combination wood and steel and ordinary wooden gondolas. C. E. Howe, one of the eastern capitalists, has taken an active part in the reorganization of the company, and visited Canton several days ago. He states that when the plant is ready to begin early yesterday morning. This vote is given in tabular form today.

The total vote cast was 3,491, probably the largest ever polled at a primary election in the city. Friends of the several candidates everywhere were alert to prevent illegal voting and challenges were numerous in nearly every precinct.

At the East End polling places there were a number of wordy scraps during the afternoon, but no serious trouble resulted. One or two fist fights were reported, but the combatants were separated before either one was injured.

The East End stood by its home candidate in good style, and Dr. Marshall received nearly twice as many votes as both Thompson and Nice combined. The great bulk of the vote was polled at the fire station, the first precinct of the ward. There was little necessity for the police in the East End, as there was no attempt at illegal voting. A number of persons were challenged in both precincts and one man in the second precinct became very angry at being challenged and threatened to clean up the election officials. He was quieted in a few moments, however, and left in a better frame of mind. The whole afternoon passed very quietly, considering the extra large vote.

In the first precinct of the First ward the clerks erred in totaling the vote of both Nice and Marshall, but as they both involved but one vote the result is still a tie.

A meeting of the city committee has been called for 7:30 this evening, when a decision will be rendered.

operations that orders will be booked for 5,000 cars. The Structural Steel Car company was organized several months ago and the plant as originally intended has been completely finished and machinery has been placed. Some hitch, however, occurred in the company, and several stockholders dropped out. A few months ago several Canton capitalists enlisted the aid of eastern men from Pittsburgh, Cleveland and New York to reorganize the company, and the deal was closed a few days ago for the sale of $500,000 worth of stock to the eastern men.

Mrs. A. S. McCaskey.

Lisbon, February 23.—(Special).—The funeral of Mrs. A. S. McCaskey, wife of Dr. McCaskey, formerly of this county, was held in Cleveland at 10 o'clock today with burial in Lakeview cemetery. Mrs. McCaskey, who was formerly Miss Mayme Spickler, of East Palestine, died Friday after a brief illness with acute gastritis, for the relief of which she had undergone a severe surgical operation a few hours previous. She was about 35 years old and was the third wife of Dr. McCaskey who is well known in Columbiana county, having been brought up in Lisbon and having practiced in Columbiana and East Palestine. His sister, Mrs. Wm. M. Hostetter, of this city, attended the funeral.

Get the Saturday Review (weekly) to send to absent friends who want all the home news.

THE VOTE IN DETAIL.

NAME.	First Ward		Second Ward		Third Ward		Fourth Ward		Township	Total
	First Precinct	Second Precinct	First Precinct	Second Precinct	First Precinct	Second Precinct	First Precinct	Second Precinct
For Mayor—
O. D. Nice.....	59	30	125	99	94	113	127	138	141	926
Thomas V. Thompson.....	96	22	194	129	266	170	123	159	109	1,268
Dr. R. J. Marshall.....	237	67	94	98	86	129	89	61	65	926
Andy C. Roe.....	22	33	23	47	17	17	8	17	184
For President of Council—
Robert Burner.....	123	48	163	127	130	133	109	98	77	1,008
John Horwell.....	163	36	173	135	140	155	140	112	84	1,138
George E. Rigby.....	59	15	86	64	177	104	87	104	115	811
For City Auditor—
Willis Davidson.....	233	71	455	307	497	438	363	202	338	3,007
For City and Twp. Treasurer—
Chris Horton.....	189	52	221	143	222	234	174	196	147	1,678
Joseph Betz.....	150	43	188	175	202	173	160	118	129	1,334
For City Solicitor—
George E. Davidson.....	227	70	455	307	497	438	363	202	338	2,897
For Board of Public Service—
George Olmhausen.....	15	8	58	42	75	57	37	48	70	429
W. L. Smith.....	172	54	272	214	307	290	252	202	151	1,914
John N. Taylor.....	163	52	309	234	313	312	262	199	166	2,919
George Peach.....	72	15	66	62	130	87	73	95	59	659
Jacob Shenkel.....	147	56	246	165	227	221	187	155	141	1,545
John H. Harris.....	72	12	58	67	62	60	64	58	41	494
Charles Hanley.....	193	53	87	97	65	85	55	47	75	760
For Councilman-at-Large—
Joseph Barlow.....	179	53	258	214	291	289	231	195	166	1,870
Henry E. Bullock.....	143	29	202	122	210	178	137	112	85	1,318
Henry Chambers.....	171	36	113	84	117	124	100	84	53	882
Herman Feustel, Jr.....	55	18	85	94	86	97	64	74	45	618
E. N. Croxall.....	125	53	172	126	203	202	188	163	188	1,420
R. C. Hedderston.....	107	28	170	131	135	104	105	61	54	895
For Justice of the Peace—
H. P. McCarron.....	194	53	455	307	497	438	363	202	338	2,863
For Constable—
John McVay.....	36	14	93	88	101	112	80	72	84	685
W. E. Cooper.....	33	14	138	85	170	130	99	90	55	820
William Copestick.....	195	18	106	86	103	93	96	92	97	1
William Zane Davis.....	78	59	61	53	68	62	54	44	36	498
For Township Trustee—
Joseph Beardmore.....	190	53	455	307	497	438	363	202	338	2,959
For Board of Education—
W. B. Hill.....	217	74	455	307	497	438	363	202	338	3,007
E. M. Knowles.....	195	57	455	307	497	438	363	202	338	2,963
Jesse H. Smith.....	215	63	455	307	497	438	363	202	338	2,994

NOW PUTTING UP THE TROLLEY WIRE

The Electric Line to Pleasant Heights Is Now Almost Completed.

IT MEANS A GREAT DEAL

To a Growing Section of the City. Which Is Likely to Become Very Populous and Prosperous—Cars Will Soon Run.

The construction of the street car line to be known as the Pleasant Heights railway is rapidly nearing completion. After several months of continuous and hard work the management of the road has the work practically at an end. For only a short time now will the residents of the snow capped hill be compelled to trudge their way up the cold and uninviting road.

Not only will the new road be a great convenience to the dwellers of that section of the city but it will result in an increase to property value all along the route. It is predicted that Pleasant Heights will in the next few years be one of the most densely populated districts of the suburban vicinities. The residents in general will hail the trip of the first car with delight, realizing full well what it will eventually mean to the entire city.

A gang of men under the superintendency of W. B. Thomas was at work today, stringing the trolley wire from the Diamond out West Market street to Sheridan avenue, where it will meet with the wire strung from the other end. Everything will likely be in readiness for operation before the end of the week.

FELL ON ICY PORCH

Mrs. Joseph Conkle Sustained Broken Arm at Pittsburgh Where She Was Visiting.

Mrs. Joseph Conkle, 338 Walnut street, met with a painful accident at Pittsburgh Saturday afternoon, where she had been visiting friends. In some way she slipped and fell on an icy porch, breaking her arm above the wrist. Mr. Conkle went to Pittsburgh yesterday and returned with his wife on the midnight train. Mrs. Conkle became sick on the trip and it was necessary to call the ambulance to convey her to her home. She was given medical attention and is resting comfortably today.

THE TOTAL VOTE FOR COUNCILMEN

HOW THE CONTESTS IN THE FOUR WARDS RESULTED.

Only Moon in the Third Was Nominated Without Any Opposition.

The vote for ward councilmen in the city is given in full in the following table:

Council, First ward—
Jameson	83	48	131
Thomas	105	35	141
Chaffin	26	3	29
Smith	158	30	188
Council, Second ward—
Johnston	217	170	387
King	133	137	270
Council, Third ward—
Moon	497	438	825
Council Fourth ward—
Berg	86	71	157
Massey	31	61	92
Cannon	72	126	198
McKeone	67	22	89
McLane	62	55	117

WILLIE COOK IS AGAIN AT HOME

NO PLACE ELSE WHERE HE CAN LEGALLY STAY

No Chance to Get Him in Reformatory. The Sheriff Weary of Him.

Lisbon, February 23.—(Special).—Willie Cook, the incorrigible from Walker, who has been confined in the jail here ever since Sheriff Leonard returned with him from Lancaster, where the lad was refused admission to the industrial school, has been taken home by his father, William Cook, who came here Saturday. An ineffectual effort was made to secure William's admission to the reformatory under a special privilege.

His removal from the jail is a relief to Sheriff and Mrs. Leonard as he required constant watching.

Busiest place in town—the News Review job office.

MAYOR PROPOSES TO PLEASE HIMSELF

Tired of Running His Office to Suit the Whims of Other People.

THOSE WHO CANNOT PAY

Will Be Compelled to Linger in the Canton Workhouse Until the Law Has Received Satisfaction as Regards Their Fines.

Evil doers falling into the hands of the police from the present date until the first of May, when the new officials will take their seats, will meet something besides pleasant smiles in the mayor's sanctum.

Upon his arrival at the city hall this morning, Mayor Davidson was completely disgusted. The slips before him were made out for the usual bunch of drunks, and from them not one penny could be expected unless friends came to their support. Every man ushered into the chief executive's presence was given the same greeting:

"You are charged with being drunk and your fine is $1 and costs. If you cannot pay it, you must lie in the Canton workhouse. For three years I have worked to please the people; from now until May, I am going to run this office to suit Billy Davidson," said the mayor.

The first culprit to receive sentence was Moody Cohn. He was arrested in the Diamond by Officer Woods and was charged with intoxication. Owing to a back fine of $5.60 his total fine was $11.20 and being unable to produce he was remanded to jail where he will languish until both are paid.

Cohn had a terrible experience in the East End yesterday morning. He had been out all of Saturday and the night following, celebrating the primaries. Taking aboard too much booze he was thrown to the mercy of the weather. At about 9 o'clock Sunday morning he became so stupefied that he could not amble another inch, and, falling against a telephone pole near Oakland, stood there for several hours. A motorman on a street car finally realized that he was in a dangerous condition and stopping the car made a thorough examination, finding that, although standing upright, he was

AN EXCITING ENCOUNTER BETWEEN TWO YOUNG WOMEN DUE TO A GIRL'S JEALOUSY

Wellsville Lass Followed Her Lover to This City and Angrily Attacked the Girl He Escorted.

Feeling confident that her professed lover was deceiving her, Miss Jessie James, a young brunette of Wellsville, who has figured prominently in the circles of Tophet in that city for several months, came to this city early last evening on a street car and immediately set a watch for the young man, who, according to her testimony, has made a reputation for himself as a Lothario.

Her vigilance was repaid in a short time by discovering him in company with another young lady of the city. The first sight of him was obtained on Washington street, near the corner of Second street. Without thinking of the probable results, the idea of her beloved being with another only in her mind, she rushed after the couple and, catching them at the corner of Cherry alley, without a word or sign of warning, she rushed at her lover's companion.

In a few moments one of the most terrific hair-pullings and hand-to-hand encounters occurring in the city for months happened. The East Liverpool maiden was unaware of the reason for the onslaught, but was compelled to unconscious and a victim of the cold. Kindly the motorman placed him on a street car and carried him to the Diamond, whence he was taken to the city hall by the aid of the patrol wagon. Restoratives were applied and he was revived, but today he was suffering from the effects. He expects to be released from custody by the aid of his wife who he thinks will produce the double fine.

Richard Walker, when arraigned, presented the appearance of one who had met the sidewalk face to face, numerous times. Officer Aufderheide nabbed him while he was attempting to reach another place for one more drink. He was very repentant and had forgotten all about owing a back fine of $11.20. It was imposed on himself and wife, the time they were arrested for disfiguring each other's face. He was given his preference, the total fine or a term in the workhouse.

Frank Robinson, a colored gentleman of Wellsville, pleaded guilty to a charge of drunkenness. He will be given a trial this evening. He said when the charge was read to him: "I was not drunk. You know me and Mahoney are great friends. I was walking down the street and Mike came up to me and said 'Hello.' I replied and we walked down together. He put me in and I didn't deserve it any more than he did. You know we always run together."

His order on Harrison Rinehart will likely be accepted. He is working on street contracts in the neighboring city. James Carnes was the only one of the bunch that could ante up. He was arrested by Officer Morris for being drunk in the Diamond and paid his assessment of $5.60.

JUDGMENT IS GIVEN FOR THE PLAINTIFF

In a Suit for $250 Between Men Interested in Oil and Gas Leases.

Lisbon, February 23.—(Special).—Justice J. M. Dickinson rendered judgment for the plaintiff Saturday in the case of Frank Woodmancy vs. George Randolph, oil and gas prospectors from New York and Pennsylvania, suit having been brought for the payment of a $250 check. Judge Wells, attorney for defendant, served notice of appeal. Attorney Lodge Riddle represented the plaintiff.

The case grew out of an agreement whereby a prospector named Humphrey was engaged by Randolph to secure the financing of a company to the amount of $1,500 for the development of oil and gas leases near Hanovertown. A verbal agreement between Humphrey and Randolph provided that the latter was to receive a one-sixth interest, or $250, as compensation. In order to induce others to sign the paper he circulated, Humphrey secured from Randolph a check on a fight to save herself personal injury, and a spectator states that she did it most admirably.

The young man, fearing the wrath of his Wellsville girl, perhaps having been her victim before, made himself scarce soon after the fray was commenced. The girls fought in desperation, and had it not been for the interference of the spectators, one would undoubtedly have been seriously injured. From the entrance to the alley up to Third street they clawed like tigresses, and when they were finally separated blood was streaming from the faces and necks of both.

When separated Miss James again started in search of her beau. She was not successful, however, and after several hours of hunting she went to the train and left for home. In a conversation with a friend she stated that her lover's name was Frank Aleshire, and that he had been her constant companion for almost a year. Several times she had caught him talking with other girls and yesterday she heard that he had come to this city to meet one of them. Having promised to be her husband, she could not stand the thought and followed.

New York bank for his one-sixth interest, although there was an agreement between them that Randolph should not pay anything. Humphrey secured the entire subscription and Woodmancy became a partner in the concern.

In a settlement between them Humphrey transferred to Woodmancy the check against Randolph for which Woodmancy brought suit.

A GREAT DAY FOR THE KNIGHTS

INITIATION AND BANQUET OF THE K. OF C. YESTERDAY.

Crowds Went from Here And Other Cities to Steubenville—Interesting Exercises.

Representatives from 16 councils, numbering several hundred, took part in the initiation of half a hundred candidates for membership into the Knights of Columbus at Steubenville yesterday afternoon. The special train from this city carried about 100 Knights, including the initiatory team of the local council, and at Wellsville 50 more were added. Special trains also carried Knights from Newark, Wheeling, Zanesville, Dennison and other Ohio valley towns. All the trains arrived in Steubenville in time to permit the Knights to attend the special mass held in St. Peter's Catholic church.

The initiatory ceremonies took place in the Elks' lodge rooms, beginning at 10:30 a. m. The East Liverpool team conferred the first degree and the Wheeling council had charge of the second degree. District Deputy P. A. Gavin, with the assistance of Youngstown council, conferred the third.

After these ceremonies were over the Knights repaired to the lodge room of the Steubenville council, where an elaborate banquet had been laid. An orchestra rendered beautiful music between the toasts. Attorney J. J. Coniff, Steubenville; Dr. Wingerter, Wheeling; T. J. Duffy, East Liverpool; Revs. Fathers Qualey and Slattery, Steubenville, and W. A. Malline, Youngstown, were among the speakers.

The Knights spent a most enjoyable day and will long remember it. Their train returning reached here at midnight.

Administrator Removed.

Lisbon, February 23.—(Special).—A. H. Clark, as administrator of the estate of the late George Hallam, of East Liverpool, having failed to furnish a new bond, as required by the court, has been removed and his letters of authority as such administrator revoked.

All the news all the time in the News Review.

CANDIDATES AND PEOPLE BOTH GLAD IT IS OVER

General Satisfaction Expressed Over the Nominations Made by the Republicans
On Saturday.

DEFEATED WARMLY SUPPORT THE TICKET

THE TICKET THAT WON.

Mayor—THOMAS V. THOMPSON.
President of Council—JOHN HORWELL.
City Auditor—WILLIS DAVIDSON.
City and Township Treasurer—CHRIS HORTON.
City Solicitor—GEORGE E. DAVIDSON.
Board of Public Service—JOHN N. TAYLOR, W. L. SMITH, JACOB SHENKEL.
Councilman-at-Large—JOS. BARLOW, HENRY BULLOCK, E. N. CROXALL.
Council, First Ward—ZED. T. SMITH.
Council, Second Ward—HUGH JOHNSTON.
Council, Third Ward—HOWARD E. MOON.
Council, Fourth Ward—THOMAS CANNON.
Justice of the Peace—H. P. McCARRON.
Constable—WM. COPESTICK.
Township Trustee—JOSEPH BEARDMORE.
Board of Education—W. B. HILL, E. M. KNOWLES, JESSE H. SMITH.

That a strong ticket was named Saturday by the Republicans is an indisputable fact, and that it will win at the general election on the first Monday in April is generally conceded this morning. At this time it is impossible to determine just how much opposition will develop, but as the nominees represent, by a preponderance of votes, the sentiment of the people, it is only reasonable to assume that this same preference will be expressed again at the polls.

So spirited was the campaign for the nominations that it is only natural that a great deal of disappointment should exist, at least for a few days, among the defeated aspirants. For the most part they are taking defeat philosophically and gracefully, giving heartiest expressions of good wishes for the success of the ticket. Some of the defeated candidates took it stoically and before the completion of the count were in the best of spirits and gave full assurance to the voters that the entire ticket would have their unqualified support.

From the head of the ticket to the assessors in the wards good men have been named, according to the general opinion of Republican voters. Especially cause for congratulation is found in the public service board, conceded to be one of the strongest and best the city could have.

The story of the contest was told in the News Review extras of Saturday night, the last of which, containing the complete vote for all the candidates, was distributed among its subscribers.

BIG CAR PLANT AT CANTON

STRUCTURAL STEEL COMPANY TO
HAVE $10,000,000 CAPITAL.

The Concern to Erect One of the Largest Establishments of the Kind.

Canton, February 23.—It is given out at the office of the Structural Steel Car company that notice has been received from eastern stockholders, stating that they will reorganize and recapitalize the company, increasing the capital stock to $10,000,000. This means that Canton is to have one of the largest structural steel car plants in the United States. A meeting of the stockholders will be held in this city March 15, at which time the reorganization and recapitalization will be perfected and plans adopted for the enlarging of the plant.

An option has been secured on additional land, the price of which is agreed upon as $20,000. This gives the new company when it is organized almost 80 acres, which will be needed for the shops to be erected. The company will make all styles of structural steel cars, including hopper and side dumps, combination wood and steel and ordinary wooden gondolas. C. E. Howe, one of the eastern capitalists, has taken an active part in the reorganization of the company, and visited Canton several days ago. He states that when the plant is ready to begin early yesterday morning. This vote is given in tabular form today.

The total vote cast was 3,491, probably the largest ever polled at a primary election in the city. Friends of the several candidates everywhere were alert to prevent illegal voting and challenges were numerous in nearly every precinct.

At the East End polling places there were a number of wordy scraps during the afternoon, but no serious trouble resulted. One or two fist fights were reported, but the combatants were separated before either one was injured.

The East End stood by its home candidate in good style, and Dr. Marshall received nearly twice as many votes as both Thompson and Nice combined. The great bulk of the vote was polled at the fire station, the first precinct of the ward. There was little necessity for the police in the East End, as there was no attempt at illegal voting. A number of persons were challenged in both precincts and one man in the second precinct became very angry at being challenged and threatened to clean up the election officials. He was quieted in a few moments, however, and left in a better frame of mind. The whole afternoon passed very quietly, considering the extra large vote.

In the first precinct of the First ward the clerks erred in totaling the vote of both Nice and Marshall, but as they both involved but one vote the result is still a tie.

A meeting of the city committee has been called for 7:30 this evening, when a decision will be rendered.

operations that orders will be booked for 5,000 cars.

The Structural Steel Car company was organized several months ago and the plant as originally intended has been completely finished and machinery has been placed. Some hitch, however, occurred in the company, and several stockholders dropped out. A few months ago several Canton capitalists enlisted the aid of eastern men from Pittsburg, Cleveland and New York to refinance the company, and the deal was closed a few days ago for the sale of $500,000 worth of stock to the eastern men.

Mrs. A. S. McCaskey.

Lisbon, February 23.—(Special.)—The funeral of Mrs. A. S. McCaskey, wife of Dr. McCaskey, formerly of this county, was held in Cleveland at 10 o'clock today with burial in Lakewood cemetery. Mrs. McCaskey, who was formerly Miss Mayme Spickler, of East Palestine, died Friday after a brief illness with acute gastritis, for the relief of which she had undergone a severe surgical operation a few hours previous. She was about 35 years old and was the third wife of Dr. McCaskey who is well known in Columbiana county, having been brought up in Lisbon and having practiced in Columbiana and East Palestine. His sister, Mrs. Wm. M. Hostetter, of this city, attended the funeral.

Get the Saturday Review (weekly) to send to absent friends who want all the home news.

THE VOTE IN DETAIL.

NAME.	First Ward		Second Ward		Third Ward		Fourth Ward		Township.
	First Precinct	Second Precinct	First Precinct	Second Precinct	First Precinct	Second Precinct	First Precinct	Second Precinct
For Mayor—
O. D. Nice.....	59	30	125	99	94	113	127	138	141	926
Thomas V. Thompson.....	96	22	194	129	266	170	123	159	109	1,268
Dr. R. J. Marshall.....	237	67	94	98	86	129	89	61	65	926
Andy C. Roe.....	22	...	33	23	47	17	17	8	17	184
For President of Council—
Robert Burner.....	123	48	163	127	130	133	109	98	77	1,008
John Horwell.....	163	36	173	135	140	155	140	112	84	1,138
George E. Rigby.....	59	15	86	64	177	104	87	104	115	811
For City Auditor—
Willis Davidson.....	233	71	455	307	497	438	363	202	338	3,007
For City and Twp. Treasurer—
Chris Horton.....	189	52	221	143	222	234	174	196	147	1,678
Joseph Betz.....	150	43	188	175	202	173	160	118	129	1,334
For City Solicitor—
George E. Davidson.....	227	70	455	307	497	438	363	202	338	2,897
For Board of Public Service—
George Olmhausen.....	45	8	58	42	75	57	37	48	70	429
W. L. Smith.....	172	54	272	214	307	290	252	202	151	1,914
John N. Taylor.....	163	52	309	234	313	312	262	199	166	2,019
George Peach.....	72	15	66	62	130	87	73	95	59	659
Jacob Shenkel.....	147	56	246	165	227	221	187	155	141	1,545
John H. Harris.....	72	12	58	67	62	60	64	58	41	494
Charles Hanley.....	193	53	87	97	65	85	55	47	75	760
For Councilman-at-Large—
Joseph Barlow.....	179	53	258	214	291	289	231	195	166	1,870
Henry E. Bullock.....	143	29	202	122	210	178	137	112	85	1,318
Henry Chambers.....	171	36	113	84	117	124	100	84	53	882
Herman Feustel, Jr.....	55	18	85	94	86	97	64	74	45	618
E. N. Croxall.....	125	53	172	126	203	202	188	163	188	1,420
R. C. Heddleston.....	107	28	170	131	135	104	105	61	54	895
For Justice of the Peace—
H. P. McCarron.....	194	53	455	307	497	433	363	202	338	16 2,863
For Constable—
John McVay.....	36	14	93	88	101	112	80	72	84	5 685
W. E. Cooper.....	33	14	138	85	170	130	99	90	55	6 820
William Copestick.....	195	18	106	86	103	93	96	92	97	1 887
William Zane Davis.....	78	59	61	53	68	62	54	44	36	3 498
For Township Trustee—
Joseph Beardmore.....	190	53	455	307	497	438	363	202	338	16 2,959
For Board of Education—
W. B. Hill.....	217	74	455	307	497	438	363	202	338	16 3,007
E. M. Knowles.....	195	57	455	307	497	438	363	202	338	16 2,963
Jesse H. Smith.....	215	63	455	307	497	438	363	202	338	16 2,994

NOW PUTTING UP THE TROLLEY WIRE

The Electric Line to Pleasant Heights Is Now Almost Completed.

IT MEANS A GREAT DEAL

To a Growing Section of the City, Which Is Likely to Become Very Populous and Prosperous—Cars Will Soon Run.

The construction of the street car line to be known as the Pleasant Heights railway is rapidly nearing completion. After several months of continuous and hard work the management of the road has the work practically at an end. For only a short time now will the residents of the snow-capped hill be compelled to trudge their way up the cold and uninviting road. Not only will the new road be a great convenience to the dwellers of that section of the city but it will result in an increase to property value all along the route. It is predicted that Pleasant Heights will in the next few years be one of the most densely populated districts of the suburban vicinities.

The residents in general will hail the trip of the first car with delight, realizing full well what it will eventually mean to the entire city.

A gang of men under the superintendency of W. B. Thomas was at work today, stringing the trolley wire from the Diamond out West Market street to Sheridan avenue, where it will meet with the wire strung from the other end. Everything will likely be in readiness for operation before the end of the week.

FELL ON ICY PORCH

Mrs. Joseph Conkle Sustained Broken Arm at Pittsburg Where She Was Visiting.

Mrs. Joseph Conkle, 338 Walnut street, met with a painful accident at Pittsburg Saturday afternoon, where she had been visiting friends. In some way she slipped and fell on an icy porch, breaking her arm above the wrist. Mr. Conkle went to Pittsburg yesterday and returned with his wife on the midnight train. Mrs. Conkle became sick on the trip and it was necessary to call the ambulance to convey her to her home. She was given medical attention and is resting comfortably today.

THE TOTAL VOTE FOR COUNCILMEN

HOW THE CONTESTS IN THE FOUR WARD'S RESULTED.

Only Moon in the Third Was Nominated Without Any Opposition.

The vote for ward councilmen in the city is given in full in the following table:

Council, First ward—
	1st prec.	2d prec.	Total
Jameson	83	48	131
Thomas	105	35	141
Chaffn	26	3	29
Smith	158	30	188
Council, Second ward—
	1st prec.	2d prec.	Total
Johnston	217	170	387
King	133	137	270
Council, Third ward—
	1st prec.	2d prec.	Total
Moon	497	438	825
Council Fourth ward—
	1st.	2d.	3d.	Total.
Berg	86	71	60	217
Massey	31	61	40	132
Cannon	72	126	89	287
McKeone	67	22	16	105
McLane	62	55	76	193

WILLIE COOK IS AGAIN AT HOME

NO PLACE ELSE WHERE HE CAN LEGALLY STAY

No Chance to Get Him in Reformatory. The Sheriff Weary of Him.

Lisbon, February 23.—(Special.)—Willie Cook, the incorrigible from Walker, who has been confined in the jail here ever since Sheriff Leonard returned with him from Lancaster, where the lad was refused admission to the industrial school, has been taken home by his father, William Cook, who came here Saturday. An ineffectual effort was made to secure William's admission to the reformatory under a special privilege.

His removal from the jail is a relief to Sheriff and Mrs. Leonard as he required constant watching.

Busiest place in town—the News Review job office.

MAYOR PROPOSES TO PLEASE HIMSELF

Tired of Running His Office to Suit the Whims of Other People.

THOSE WHO CANNOT PAY

Will Be Compelled to Linger in the Canton Workhouse Until the Law Has Received Satisfaction as Regards Their Fines.

Evil doers falling into the hands of the police from the present date until the first of May, when the new officials will take their seats, will meet something besides pleasant smiles in the mayor's sanctum.

Upon his arrival at the city hall this morning, Mayor Davidson was completely disgusted. The slips before him were made out for the usual bunch of drunks, and from them not one penny could be expected unless friends came to their support. Every man ushered into the chief executive's presence was given the same greeting:

"You are charged with being drunk and your fine is $1 and costs. If you cannot pay it, you must lie in the Canton workhouse. For three years I have worked to please the people; from now until May, I am going to run this office to suit Billy Davidson," said the mayor.

The first culprit to receive sentence was Moody Coburn. He was arrested in the Diamond by Officer Woods and was charged with intoxication. Owing to a back fine of $5.60 his total fine was $11.20 and being unable to produce he was remanded to jail where he will languish until both are paid.

Coburn had a terrible experience in the East End yesterday morning. He had been out all of Saturday and the night following, celebrating the primaries. Taking aboard too much booze he was thrown to the mercy of the weather. At about 9 o'clock Sunday morning he became so stupefied that he could not amble another inch, and, falling against a telephone pole near Oakland, stood there for several hours. A motorman on a street car finally realized that he was in a dangerous condition and stopping the car made a thorough examination, finding that, although standing upright, he was

AN EXCITING ENCOUNTER BETWEEN TWO YOUNG WOMEN DUE TO A GIRL'S JEALOUSY

Wellsville Lass Followed Her Lover to This City and Angrily Attacked the Girl He Escorted.

Feeling confident that her professed lover was deceiving her, Miss Jessie James, a young brunette of Wellsville, who has figured prominently in the circles of Tophet in that city for several months, came to this city early last evening on a street car and immediately set a watch for the young man, who, according to her testimony, has made a reputation for himself as a Lothario.

Her vigilance was repaid in a short time by discovering him in company with another young lady of the city. The first sight of him was obtained on Washington street, near the corner of Second street. Without thinking of the probable results, the idea of her beloved being with another only in her mind she, rushed after the couple and, catching them at the corner of Cherry alley, without a word or sign of warning, she rushed at her lover's companion.

In a few moments one of the most terrific half-pullings and hand-to-hand encounters occurring in the city for months happened. The East Liverpool maiden was unaware of the reason for the onslaught, but was compelled to unconscious and a victim of the cold. Kindly the motorman placed him on a street car and carried him to the Diamond, whence he was taken to the city hall by the aid of the patrol wagon. Restoratives were applied and he was revived, but today he was suffering from the effects. He expects to be released from custody by the aid of his wife who he thinks will produce the double fine.

Richard Walker, when arraigned, presented the appearance of one who had met the sidewalk face to face, numerous times. Officer Aufderheide nabbed him while he was attempting to reach another place for one more drink. He was very repentant and had forgotten all about owing a back fine of $11.20. It was imposed on himself and wife, the time they were arrested for disfiguring each other's face. He was given his preference, the total fine or a term in the workhouse.

Frank Robinson, a colored gentleman of Wellsville, pleaded not guilty to a charge of drunkenness. He will be given a trial this evening. He said when the charge was read to him: "I was not drunk. You know me and Mahoney are great friends. I was walking down the street and Mike came up to me and said 'Hello.' I replied and we walked down together. He put me in and I didn't deserve it any more than he did. You know we always run together."

His order on Harrison Rinehart will likely be accepted. He is working on street contracts in the neighboring city.

James Carnes was the only one of the bunch that could ante up. He was arrested by Officer Morris for being drunk in the Diamond and paid his assessment of $5.60.

JUDGMENT IS GIVEN FOR THE PLAINTIFF

In a Suit for $250 Between Men Interested in Oil and Gas Leases.

Lisbon, February 23.—(Special.)—Justice J. M. Dickinson rendered judgment for the plaintiff Saturday in the case of Frank Woodman vs. George Randolph, oil and gas prospectors from New York and Pennsylvania, suit having been brought for the payment of a $250 check. Judge Wells, attorney for defendant, served notice of appeal. Attorney Lodge Riddle represented the plaintiff.

The case grew out of an agreement whereby a prospector named Humphrey was engaged by Randolph to secure the financing of a company to the amount of $1,500 for the development of oil and gas leases near Hanover. A verbal agreement between Humphrey and Randolph provided that the latter was to receive a one-sixth interest, or $250, as compensation. In order to induce others to sign the paper he circulated, Humphrey secured from Randolph a check on a fight to save herself personal injury, and a spectator states that she did it most admirably.

The young man, fearing the wrath of his Wellsville girl, perhaps having been her victim before, made himself scarce soon after the fray was commenced. The girls fought in desperation, and had it not been for the interference of the spectators, one would undoubtedly have been seriously injured. From the entrance to the alley up to Third street they clawed like tigers, and when they were finally separated blood was streaming from the faces and necks of both.

When separated Miss James again started in search of her beau. She was not successful, however, and after several hours of hunting she went to the train and left for home. In a conversation with a friend she stated that her lover's name was Frank Aleshire, and that he had been her constant companion for almost a year. Several times she had caught him talking with other girls and yesterday she heard that he had come to this city to meet one of them. Having promised to be her husband, she could not stand the thought and followed.

New York bank for his one-sixth interest, although there was an agreement between them that Randolph should not pay anything. Humphrey secured the entire subscription and Woodman became a partner in the concern.

In a settlement between them Humphrey transferred to Woodman the check against Randolph for which Woodman brought suit.

A GREAT DAY FOR THE KNIGHTS

INITIATION AND BANQUET OF THE K. OF C. YESTERDAY.

Crowds Went from Here And Other Cities to Steubenville—Interesting Exercises.

Representatives from 16 councils, numbering several hundred, took part in the initiation of half a hundred candidates for membership into the Knights of Columbus at Steubenville yesterday afternoon. The special train from this city carried about 100 Knights, including the initiatory team of the local council, and at Wellsville 50 more were added. Special trains also carried Knights from Newark, Wheeling, Zanesville, Dennison and other Ohio valley towns. All the trains arrived in Steubenville in time to permit the Knights to attend the special mass held in St. Peter's Catholic church.

The initiatory ceremonies took place in the Elks' lodge rooms, beginning at 10:30 a. m. The East Liverpool team conferred the first degree and the Wheeling council had charge of the second degree. District Deputy P. A. Gaylin, with the assistance of Youngstown council, conferred the third.

After these ceremonies were over the Knights repaired to the lodge room of the Steubenville council, where an elaborate banquet had been laid. An orchestra rendered beautiful music between the toasts. Attorney J. J. Coniff, Steubenville; Dr. Wingerter, Wheeling; T. J. Duffy, East Liverpool; Revs. Fathers Qualey and Slattery, Steubenville, and W. A. Maline, Youngstown, were among the speakers.

The Knights spent a most enjoyable day and will long remember it. Their train returning reached here at midnight.

Administrator Removed.

Lisbon, February 23.—(Special.)—A. H. Clark, as administrator of the estate of the late George Hallam, of East Liverpool, having failed to furnish a new bond, as required by the court, has been removed and his letters of authority as such administrator revoked.

All the news all the time in the News Review.

CANDIDATES AND PEOPLE BOTH GLAD IT IS OVER

General Satisfaction Expressed Over the Nominations Made by the Republicans
On Saturday.

DEFEATED WARMLY SUPPORT THE TICKET

THE TICKET THAT WON.

Mayor—THOMAS V. THOMPSON.
President of Council—JOHN HORWELL.
City Auditor—WILLIS DAVIDSON.
City and Township Treasurer—CHRIS HORTON.
City Solicitor—GEORGE E. DAVIDSON.
Board of Public Service—JOHN N. TAYLOR, W. L. SMITH, JACOB SHENKEL.
Councilman-at-Large—JOS. BARLOW, HENRY BULLOCK, E. N. CROXALL.
Council, First Ward—ZED. T. SMITH.
Council, Second Ward—HUGH JOHNSON.
Council, Third Ward—HOWARD E. MOON.
Council, Fourth Ward—THOMAS CANNON.
Justice of the Peace—H. P. MCCARRON.
Constable—WM. COPESTICK.
Township Trustee—JOSEPH BEARDMORE.
Board of Education—W. B. HILL, E. M. KNOWLES, JESSE H. SMITH.

That a strong ticket was named Saturday by the Republicans is an indisputable fact, and that it will win at the general election on the first Monday in April is generally conceded this morning. At this time it is impossible to determine just how much opposition will develop, but as the nominees represent, by a preponderance of votes, the sentiment of the people, it is only reasonable to assume that this same preference will be expressed again at the polls.

So spirited was the campaign for the nominations that it is only natural that a great deal of disappointment should exist, at least for a few days, among the defeated aspirants. For the most part they are taking defeat philosophically and gracefully, giving heartiest expressions of good wishes for the success of the ticket. Some of the defeated candidates took it stoically and before the completion of the count were in the best of spirits and gave full assurance to the voters that the entire ticket would have their unqualified support.

From the head of the ticket to the assessors in the wards good men have been named, according to the general opinion of Republican voters. Especially cause for congratulation is found in the public service board, conceded to be one of the strongest and best the city could have.

The story of the contest was told in the News Review extras of Saturday night, the last of which, containing the complete vote for all the candidates, was distributed among its subscribers.

BIG CAR PLANT AT CANTON

STRUCTURAL STEEL COMPANY TO
HAVE $10,000,000 CAPITAL.

The Concern to Erect One of the Largest Establishments of the Kind.

Canton, February 23.—It is given out at the office of the Structural Steel Car company that notice has been received from eastern stockholders, stating that they will reorganize and recapitalize the company, increasing the capital stock to $10,000,000. This means that Canton is to have one of the largest structural steel car plants in the United States. A meeting of the stockholders will be held in this city March 15, at which time the reorganization and recapitalization will be perfected and plans adopted for the enlarging of the plant.

An option has been secured on additional land, the price of which is agreed upon as $20,000. This gives the new company when it is organized almost 80 acres, which will be needed for the shops to be erected. The company will make all styles of structural steel cars, including hopper and side dumps, combination wood and steel and ordinary wooden gondolas. C. E. Howe, one of the eastern capitalists, has taken an active part in the reorganization of the company, and visited Canton several days ago. He states that when the plant is ready to begin early yesterday morning. This vote is given in tabular form today.

The total vote cast was 3,491, probably the largest ever polled at a primary election in the city. Friends of the several candidates everywhere were alert to prevent illegal voting and challenges were numerous in nearly every precinct.

At the East End polling places there were a number of wordy scraps during the afternoon, but no serious trouble resulted. One or two fist fights were reported, but the combatants were separated before either one was injured.

The East End stood by its home candidate in good style, and Dr. Marshall received nearly twice as many votes as both Thompson and Nice combined. The great bulk of the vote was polled at the fire station, the first precinct of the ward. There was little necessity for the police in the East End, as there was no attempt at illegal voting. A number of persons were challenged in both precincts and one man in the second precinct became very angry at being challenged and threatened to clean up the election officials. He was quieted in a few moments, however, and left in a better frame of mind. The whole afternoon passed very quietly, considering the extra large vote.

In the first precinct of the First ward the clerks erred in totaling the vote of both Nice and Marshall, but as they both involved but one vote the result is still a tie.

A meeting of the city committee has been called for 7:30 this evening, when a decision will be rendered.

operations that orders will be booked for 5,000 cars.

The Structural Steel Car company was organized several months ago and the plant as originally intended has been completely finished and machinery has been placed. Some hitch, however, occurred in the company, and several stockholders dropped out. A few months ago several Canton capitalists enlisted the aid of eastern men from Pittsburg, Cleveland and New York to refinance the company, and the deal was closed a few days ago for the sale of $500,000 worth of stock to the eastern men.

Mrs. A. S. McCaskey.

Lisbon, February 23.—(Special).—The funeral of Mrs. A. S. McCaskey, wife of Dr. McCaskey, formerly of this county, was held in Cleveland at 10 o'clock today with burial in Lakeview cemetery. Mrs. McCaskey, who was formerly Miss Mayme Spickler, of East Palestine, died Friday after a brief illness with acute gastritis, for the relief of which she had undergone a severe surgical operation a few hours previous. She was about 35 years old and was the third wife of Dr. McCaskey who is well known in Columbiana county, having been brought up in Lisbon and having practiced in Columbiana and East Palestine. His sister, Mrs. Wm. M. Hostetter, of this city, attended the funeral.

Get the Saturday Review (weekly) to send to absent friends who want all the home news.

THE VOTE IN DETAIL.

NAME.	First Ward	Second Ward	Third Ward	Fourth Ward	Township	Total
For Mayor—
O. D. Nice.....	69	39	125	99	94	113
Thomas V. Thompson.....	96	22	194	129	266	170
Dr. R. J. Marshall.....	237	67	94	98	86	129
Andy C. Roe.....	22		33	23	47	17
For President of Council—
Robert Bursner.....	123	48	153	127	130	133
John Horwell.....	163	36	173	135	140	155
George E. Rigby.....	59	15	86	64	177	104
For City Auditor—
Willis Davidson.....	233	71	455	307	497	438
For City and Twp. Treasurer—
Chris Horton.....	189	52	221	143	222	234
Joseph Betz.....	150	43	188	175	202	173
For City Solicitor—
George E. Davidson.....	227	70	455	307	497	438
For Board of Public Service—
George Olmhausen.....	45	8	58	42	75	57
W. L. Smith.....	172	54	272	214	307	290
John N. Taylor.....	163	52	309	234	313	312
George Peach.....	72	15	66	62	130	87
Jacob Shenkel.....	147	56	246	165	227	221
John H. Harris.....	72	12	58	67	62	60
Charles Hanley.....	193	53	87	97	65	85
For Councilman-at-Large—
Joseph Barlow.....	179	53	258	214	291	289
Henry E. Bullock.....	143	29	202	122	210	178
Henry Chambers.....	171	36	113	84	117	124
Herman Feustel, Jr.....	55	18	85	94	86	97
E. N. Croxall.....	125	53	172	126	203	202
R. C. Heddlleston.....	107	28	170	131	135	104
For Justice of the Peace—
H. P. McCarron.....	194	53	455	307	497	433
For Constable—
John McVay.....	36	14	93	88	101	112
W. E. Cooper.....	33	14	138	85	170	139
William Copestick.....	195	18	106	86	103	93
William Zane Davis.....	78	59	61	53	68	62
For Township Trustee—
Joseph Beardmore.....	190	53	455	307	497	438
For Board of Education—
W. B. Hill.....	217	74	455	307	497	438
E. M. Knowles.....	195	57	455	307	497	438
Jesse H. Smith.....	215	63	455	307	497	438

NOW PUTTING UP THE TROLLEY WIRE

The Electric Line to Pleasant Heights Is Now Almost Completed.

IT MEANS A GREAT DEAL

To a Growing Section of the City. Which Is Likely to Become Very Populous and Prosperous—Cars Will Soon Run.

The construction of the street car line to be known as the Pleasant Heights railway is rapidly nearing completion. After several months of continuous and hard work the management of the road has the work practically at an end. For only a short time now will the residents of the snow capped hill be compelled to trudge their way up the cold and uninviting road.

Not only will the new road be a great convenience to the dwellers of that section of the city but it will result in an increase to property value all along the route. It is predicted that Pleasant Heights will in the next few years be one of the most densely populated districts of the suburban vicinities.

The residents in general will hail the trip of the first car with delight, realizing full well what it will eventually mean to the entire city.

A gang of men under the superintendency of W. B. Thomas was at work today, stringing the trolley wire from the Diamond out West Market street to Sheridan avenue, where it will meet with the wire strung from the other end. Everything will likely be in readiness for operation before the end of the week.

FELL ON ICY PORCH

Mrs. Joseph Conkle Sustained Broken Arm at Pittsburg Where She Was Visiting.

Mrs. Joseph Conkle, 338 Walnut street, met with a painful accident at Pittsburg Saturday afternoon, where she had been visiting friends. In some way she slipped and fell on an icy porch, breaking her arm above the wrist. Mr. Conkle went to Pittsburg yesterday and returned with his wife on the midnight train. Mrs. Conkle became sick on the trip and it was necessary to call the ambulance to convey her to her home. She was given medical attention and is resting comfortably today.

THE TOTAL VOTE FOR COUNCILMEN

HOW THE CONTESTS IN THE FOUR WARDS RESULTED.

Only Moon in the Third Was Nominated Without Any Opposition.

The vote for ward councilmen in the city is given in full in the following table:

Council, First ward—	1st prec.	2d prec.	Total
Jameson.....	83	48	131
Thomas.....	105	35	141
Chaffin.....	26	3	29
Smith.....	158	30	188

Council, Second ward—	1st prec.	2d prec.	Total
Johnston.....	217	170	387
King.....	133	137	270

Council, Third ward—	1st prec.	2d prec.	Total
Moon.....	497	438	825

Council Fourth ward—	1st.	2d.	3d.	Total.
Berg.....	86	71	60	217
Massey.....	31	61	49	141
Cannon.....	72	126	89	287
McKeone.....	67	22	16	105
McLane.....	62	55	76	193

WILLIE COOK IS AGAIN AT HOME

NO PLACE ELSE WHERE HE CAN LEGALLY STAY

No Chance to Get Him in Reformatory. The Sheriff Weary of Him.

Lisbon, February 23.—(Special).—Willie Cook, the incorrigible from Walker, who has been confined in the jail here ever since Sheriff Leonard returned with him from Lancaster, where the lad was refused admission to the industrial school, has been taken home by his father, William Cook, who came here Saturday. An ineffectual effort was made to secure William's admission to the reformatory under a special privilege.

His removal from the jail is a relief to Sheriff and Mrs. Leonard as he required constant watching.

Busiest place in town—the News Review office.

MAYOR PROPOSES TO PLEASE HIMSELF

Tired of Running His Office to Suit the Whims of Other People.

THOSE WHO CANNOT PAY

Will Be Compelled to Linger in the Canton Workhouse Until the Law Has Received Satisfaction as Regards Their Fines

Evil doers falling into the hands of the police from the present date until the first of May, when the new officials will take their seats, will meet something besides pleasant smiles in the mayor's sanctum.

Upon his arrival at the city hall this morning, Mayor Davidson was completely disgusted. The slips before him were made out for the usual bunch of drunks, and from them not one penny could be expected unless friends came to their support. Every man ushered into the chief executive's presence was given the same greeting:

"You are charged with being drunk and your fine is $1 and costs. If you cannot pay it, you must lie in the Canton work house. For three years I have worked to please the people; from now until May, I am going to run this office to suit Billy Davidson," said the mayor.

The first culprit to receive sentence was Moody Coburn. He was arrested in the Diamond by Officer Woods and was charged with intoxication. Owing to a back fine of $5.60 his total fine was $11.20 and being unable to produce he was remanded to jail where he will languish until both are paid.

Coburn had a terrible experience in the East End yesterday morning. He had been out all of Saturday and the night following, celebrating the primaries. Taking aboard too much booze he was thrown to the mercy of the weather. At about 9 o'clock Sunday morning he became so stupefied that he could not amble another inch, and, falling against a telephone pole near Oakland, stood there for several hours. A motorman on a street car finally realized that he was in a dangerous condition and stopping the car made a thorough examination, finding that, although standing upright, he was

AN EXCITING ENCOUNTER BETWEEN TWO YOUNG WOMEN DUE TO A GIRL'S JEALOUSY

Wellsville Lass Followed Her Lover to This City and Angrily Attacked the Girl He Escorted.

Feeling confident that her professed lover was deceiving her, Miss Jessie James, a young brunette of Wellsville, who has figured prominently in the circles of Tophet in that city for several months, came to this city early last evening on a street car and immediately set a watch for the young man, who, according to her testimony, has made a reputation for himself as a Lothario.

Her vigilance was repaid in a short time by discovering him in company with another young lady of the city. The first sight of him was obtained on Washington street, near the corner of Second street. Without thinking of the probable results, the idea of her beloved being with another only in her mind she, rushed after the couple and, catching them at the corner of Cherry alley, without a word or sign of warning, she rushed at her lover's companion.

In a few moments one of the most terrific hair-pullings and hand-to-hand encounters occurring in the city for months happened. The East Liverpool maiden was unaware of the reason for the onslaught, but was compelled to unconscious and a victim of the cold. Kindly the motorman placed him on a street car and carried him to the Diamond, whence he was taken to the city hall by the aid of the patrol wagon. Restoratives were applied and he was revived, but today he was suffering from the effects. He expects to be released from custody by the aid of his wife who he thinks will produce the double fine.

Richard Walker, when arraigned, presented the appearance of one who had met the sidewalk face to face, numerous times. Officer Auferheld nabbed him while he was attempting to reach another place for one more drink. He was very repentant and had forgotten all about owing a back fine of $11.20. It was imposed on himself and wife, the time they were arrested for disfiguring each other's face. He was given his preference, the total fine or a term in the workhouse.

Frank Robinson, a colored gentleman of Wellsville, pleaded not guilty to a charge of drunkenness. He will be given a trial this evening. He said when the charge was read to him: "I was not drunk. You know me and Mahoney are great friends. I was walking down the street and Mike came up to me and said 'Hello.' I replied and we walked down together. He put me in and I didn't deserve it any more than he did. You know we always run together."

His order on Harrison Rinehart will likely be accepted. He is working on street contracts in the neighboring city.

James Carnes was the only one of the bunch that could ante up. He was arrested by Officer Morris for being drunk in the Diamond and paid his assessment of $5.60.

JUDGMENT IS GIVEN FOR THE PLAINTIFF

In a Suit for $250 Between Men Interested in Oil and Gas Leases.

Lisbon, February 23.—(Special).—Justice J. M. Dickinson rendered judgment for the plaintiff Saturday in the case of Frank Woodmancy vs. George Randolph, oil and gas prospectors from New York and Pennsylvania, suit having been brought for the payment of a $250 check. Judge Wells, attorney for defendant, served notice of appeal. Attorney Lodge Riddle represented the plaintiff.

The case grew out of an agreement whereby a prospector named Humphrey was engaged by Randolph to secure the financing of a company to the amount of $1,500 for the development of oil and gas leases near Hanover. A verbal agreement between Humphrey and Randolph provided that the latter was to receive a one-sixth interest, or $250, as compensation. In order to induce others to sign the paper he circulated, Humphrey secured from Randolph a check on a fight to save herself personal injury, and a spectator states that she did it most admirably.

The young man, fearing the wrath of his Wellsville girl, perhaps having been her victim before, made himself scarce soon after the fray was commenced. The girls fought in desperation, and had it not been for the interference of the spectators, one would undoubtedly have been seriously injured. From the entrance to the alley up to Third street they clawed like tigers, and when they were finally separated blood was streaming from the faces and necks of both.

When separated Miss James again started in search of her beau. She was not successful, however, and after several hours of hunting she went to the train and left for home. In a conversation with a friend she stated that her lover's name was Frank Aleshire, and that he had been her constant companion for almost a year. Several times she had caught him talking with other girls and yesterday she heard that he had come to this city to meet one of them. Having promised to be her husband, she could not stand the thought and followed.

New York bank for his one-sixth interest, although there was an agreement between them that Randolph should not pay anything. Humphrey secured the entire subscription and Woodmancy became a partner in the concern.

In a settlement between them Humphrey transferred to Woodmancy the check against Randolph for which Woodmancy brought suit.

A GREAT DAY FOR THE KNIGHTS

INITIATION AND BANQUET OF THE K. OF C. YESTERDAY.

Crowds Went from Here And Other Cities to Steubenville—Interesting Exercises.

Representatives from 16 councils, numbering several hundred, took part in the initiation of half a hundred candidates for membership into the Knights of Columbus at Steubenville yesterday afternoon. The special train from this city carried about 100 Knights, including the initiatory team of the local council, and at Wellsville 50 more were added. Special trains also carried Knights from Newark, Wheeling, Zanesville, Dennison and other Ohio valley towns. All the trains arrived in Steubenville in time to permit the Knights to attend the special mass held in St. Peter's Catholic church.

The initiatory ceremonies took place in the Elks' lodge rooms, beginning at 10:30 a. m. The East Liverpool team conferred the first degree and the Wheeling council had charge of the second degree. District Deputy P. A. Gavin, with the assistance of Youngstown council, conferred the third.

After these ceremonies were over the Knights repaired to the lodge room of the Steubenville council, where an elaborate banquet had been laid. An orchestra rendered beautiful music between the toasts. Attorney J. J. Coniff, Steubenville; Dr. Wingerter, Wheeling; T. J. Duffy, East Liverpool; Revs. Fathers Qualey and Slattery, Steubenville, and W. A. Maline, Youngstown, were among the speakers.

The Knights spent a most enjoyable day and will long remember it. Their train returning reached here at midnight.

Administrator Removed.

Lisbon, February 23.—(Special).—A. H. Clark, as administrator of the estate of the late George Hallam, of East Liverpool, having failed to furnish a new bond, as required by the court, has been removed and his letters of authority as such administrator revoked.

All the news all the time in the News Review.

WITH THE WORKMEN IN THE CLAY PLANTS

TRENTON'S LENOX WARE.

A little boasting about Trenton's art pottery is indulged in by the True American, which says:

"From Trenton potteries have gone in the last few months to different parts of the country specimens of ceramic art rivaling, if not surpassing in beauty and workmanship and decoration and excellence in quality and grace of execution, the best work of famed foreign makers. Importers are astonished, critics and lovers of the ceramic are delighted, and European manufacturers have sent for specimens and reports, having been agitated at the prospect of competition in a line not before attempted by American capital or labor. Although New Jersey has for half a century been known universally for its clay working industries, its product in pottery has been until within the last few years confined almost exclusively to those lines of earthenware and crockery in which utility and economy of manufacture have been more potent in giving them a place in the world's market than an artistic consideration or effort.

"To the foreign maker has been left entirely the credit and profit of producing the triumphs in china and porcelain that form the highest branch in the clay working art; that art sought by art lovers to be given place in collections or to beautify costly and elegant homes and tables; that have made the towns of Limoges, of Lambeth, and of Louton, of Staffordshire, Chelsea and Coalport; that have brought eminence and respect to such names as Wedgwood and Minton. Among these wares of the old world makers, (Lenox blue) and (Lenox brown) porcelain and china, dainty bone china and beek, the creation of Walter Lenox of the Ceramic Art company, Trenton, have in the last few years gradually acquired a place of honor and repute. In the show cases and show rooms of importers and dealers Lenox ware has attained recognition and trade papers and critics have declared with almost unanimous voice that the potters and decorators of France and England will have to look to their laurels to preserve their standing as the leaders in the porcelain and china markets.

"Rival potters, accruing fortunes from commoner grades of product, say Lenox is losing time and money. Artists and connoisseurs proclaim him the advance agent of a new departure in American industry and art, in which New Jersey is fated to take a foremost part."

CHINESE SPECIMENS RARE.

Extensive collections of Chinese porcelain are very rare, rare that private collections are even well known to dealers and others. There are only two collections of which much has been heard, and they are without doubt the most important in the world. One is the collection lent by George Salting to the Victoria and Albert Museum, England, and the other is the one made by the late James A. Garland, formerly president of the First National bank, New York. Garland was a judicious and skillful enthusiast in Chinese and oriental porcelain. For several years the Garland collection has been exhibited in the Metropolitan Museum, New York, and is rich in specimens of every class or school.

POTTERY FOR JAPAN.

J. M. Takito, a pottery manufacturer of Nagaya, Japan, was in Pittsburgh last week, having come up from East Liverpool and other pottery towns in the Ohio valley. He said he had been much impressed with the machinery used in American factories, which turn out an enormous product as compared with the output of the Japanese factories. "They are not artistic in their decorations as our wares are," he continued, "but the ware itself is good, and will last as long as ours. Our decorations are painted on the ware by highly skilled artists, most of whom are descendants of pottery artists for many generations."

FROM POTTERY TO UNIVERSITY.

At a distinguished gathering of college presidents at Highstown, N. J., last week, who had assembled to celebrate the anniversary of the Peddie Institute, there was present Prof. William T. Morrell, of the University of Rochester. Prof. Morrell's life and career has been an inspiration to thousands of young men, and his address commemorating the founding of the Peddie school was doubtless one of the best efforts of the gathering. Prof. Morrell at one time modeled the plastic clay as he now shapes and fashions the minds of his students. He is well known in Trenton, having worked in the potteries there for years before he went to college and worked his way to his present honorable position.

UNCONSCIOUS AND FREEZING

YOUNG FARMER RODE ABOUT DURING THE BLIZZARD.

An Experience In Steubenville That Nearly Ended Wm. Runyon's Life

Steubenville, February 23.—William Runyon, a young countryman who lives back of Wintersville, had an experience during the recent blizzard that he will never forget.

He makes weekly trips to sell products of his father's little farm. He is not blessed with an overwhelming amount of the world's goods, but is strong and robust, and for this reason he did not wrap himself up more carefully than he would do in ordinary weather. He left home at daylight and three hours afterwards he was in Steubenville, having come down over the Franklin avenue route instead of the steep Market street hill. He drove two horses attached to a sleigh, the animals fortunately, being of the kind that can take care of themselves.

When Runyon entered the city, the horses were following their own routes, the lines were hanging loose and Runyon was apparently asleep. People whom he passed thought him drunk and gave him no more than ordinary attention. His horses traveled along the streets of the north end of the city, until finally Expressman John Bickerstaff stopped them. He shook the motionless driver, but received no response. Again he shook him but still the driver could not be aroused. It was then noticed that Runyon's face was purple, which led to the belief that he was unconscious from the cold. His hands were rubbed, and body well wrapped up, and shaken at intervals, and at last he became aroused slowly. At first he did not know where he was, but as the work of his rescuers continued unceasingly, Runyon soon recovered consciousness and was able to talk.

He was surprised to know that he had reached the city, although he remembered passing the high pressure water basin. He felt the cold severely after leaving home, he said, but as the journey towards Steubenville progressed, he thought he was getting warmer. At the same time he felt sleepiness coming over him. He could not hold his eyes open, although he made every effort to do so. He passed the water basin he knew but after that everything was black until he was aroused in the city.

Runyon said he felt well enough to continue his journey and started away to distribute his goods to his customers and to arrange for his trip home as soon as possible. It is likely that his frozen nose and ears, will keep the memory of his experience fresh in his mind.

Don't fool with a cold, no one can tell what the end may be. Pneumonia, catarrh, chronic bronchitis and consumption invariably result from neglected colds. Nothing can be compared with Chamberlain's Cough Remedy as a quick cure for colds and influenza, and by its use these diseases may be avoided. For sale by Alvin H. Bulger.

Buy a Suit for yourself and the Boys while you can get 20 per cent discount on each dollar you spend.
THE SURPRISE CLOTHING HOUSE.
43-eod-4

The Wade Jewelry Co. have removed to 164 Fifth street, where they are fitting up a commodious store room and optical parlors.
31-11

All the news all the time in the News Review.

FORECAST OF WEEK.

Statehood Bill Will Soon Reach
Critical Period of Career
in the Senate.

LONGER SESSIONS WILL BE HELD

Probable that Daily Sittings of Upper Body Will Begin at 10 or 11 O'clock and Frequently Run Into Night.
House Business in Good Shape.

Washington, Feb. 23.—The course of the proceedings in the senate during the present week will depend very largely upon whether there is an adjustment of differences upon the statehood bill. If there is no agreement the bill will continue to cut a figure in the proceedings, whether it be technically under consideration or not, just as it has done during the greater part of the session. If the canal treaty is preceded by the statehood bill will do much to shape its course; if the treaty is put aside and the appropriation bills taken up the statehood question will present itself in the shape of riders on those bills.

According to the present program the postoffice appropriation bill will be the first of the supply measures to be considered. It is indeed the only one of those bills not yet passed which has been reported from committee. It carries the statehood bill as a rider, and unless an understanding is arrived at before the bill is taken up the question of its retention will immediately confront the senate. That will be a critical period in the statehood bill's career. Some of the anti-statehood senators contend that it can be beaten as a rider, and advocate an invitation to this test of strength.

To Take Up Appropriation Bills.
It is not intended that many more days will be allowed to elapse before the taking up of the appropriation bills. With only eight working days of the session left all senators appreciate that it is essential that there should be little more delay in voting the necessary supplies for the support of the government for the next fiscal year.

Of the 13 appropriation bills, only six have so far been considered by the senate proper, but several of the remaining seven have had the attention of senate committees. Three have now, however, been received from the house of representatives.

In order to conclude its work on the appropriation bills and transact other necessary business before the day for final adjournment on March 4, the senate will find it necessary, regardless of the statehood bill, and the canal treaty, to hold longer sessions than ordinarily, and it is probable that during the greater part of the time henceforth the daily sittings will begin at 10 or 11 o'clock and that many of them will run into the night.

On Saturday considerable time will be devoted to eulogies on deceased members of the house.

House Forecast.

The house enters the last full week of the session with the decks practically cleared of every thing except appropriation bills. Only one of these—the general deficiency—which was reported Saturday, remains to be passed. Several interesting contests are expected during the consideration of the questions of adjusting the differences between the two houses on a number of bills in conference. Especially spirited would be the fight over the proposition to accept a statehood amendment, if one should come to the house as a rider on an appropriation bill. It would command the solid support of the Democratic side and it is believed enough Republicans to accept it, although it would be strongly resisted by the Republican leaders. The Philippines currency bill has been set for tomorrow. The six suspension days, which under the rules precedes the expiration of each congress, begins on Wednesday and by means of the parliamentary expedient of making motions under suspension of the rules parliamentary knots can be cut and legislation expedited.

Fowler Bill Not Likely to Pass.

The Fowler currency bill will continue to be the stop gap whenever the matters are not pressing, but there seems no prospect of its passage. There is an intimation, however, that it might serve a useful purpose in case the Aldrich deposit bill should come over from the senate. It is said that the latter bill could be substituted for the former without going to committee either by striking out all after the enactment clause of the Fowler bill or through the operations of a special rule. If neither of these courses will be adopted the bill will be referred to the ways and means committee, which could report it forthwith, as it is well understood that a reference to the committee on banking and currency would be equivalent to its death. The reference to the ways and means committee can be made on the ground that it provides for interest on government deposit in national banks and to that extent is a revenue measure.

Inflammation of the bronchial tubes or even the lobes of the lungs, is promptly subdued and a reconstruction of tissue begun after a short treatment of Hager's Cordial of Cod Liver Oil. A food and tonic for wasted conditions without the disagreeable grease. Pleasant to take.

REALM OF SPORTS

LEAGUE UMPIRES

The Staff of the National League Now Nearly Complete—The American League.

With the appointment of J. E. Johnston, who umpired in the American league last season, after being tried by fire in the Southern and Interstate leagues, Harry Pulliam's National League staff needs but one more judge of play to complete the quota. Bob Eusie and Hank O'Day were the only members of the old staff to be re-appointed—neither Tom Brown, Arlie Latham nor Arthur Irwin being recalled. The latter is fixed in the Rochester managerial berth, but the others would not have required much coaxing to take up their old roles of the autocrats of the diamond, and in ball parlance "autocrat" is a synonym for "mark."

Tom Lynch refused to accept a regular appointment that was proffered him, but volunteered his services during the summer in case he is needed. Gus Moran and J. E. Johnston are the new appointees. If good words count for anything "Bug" Holliday may be considered to have an even chance to draw the other diploma, but he is only one of over a score of applicants all anxious to suffer in the cause of good ball and the appropriation that goes with it. Johnston won a reputation as a disciplinarian. He is said to give his decisions without hesitation in a clear, loud voice.

President Ban Johnson, of the American league, has announced his staff of umpires for the coming season. Only one new man, James E. Hasset, of the New England league, will handle the indicator for the American during the coming summer. The rest of the list is Jack Sheridan, Bob Carruthers, Silk O'Laughlin and Tommy Connolly.

BONA FIDE OFFER

Tendered Jim Jeffries for a Fight Between Himself And Corbett.

Jim Jeffries has received an official offer for a fight between himself and James J. Corbett for the championship of the world. For the past six weeks there have appeared in the public prints numerous challenges of Corbett and bids by different clubs for a contest, but as late as Thursday evening Jeffries declared that he had not received a single authentic challenge beyond an offer for a contest with Corbett.

Friday morning, however, he received from John Pollock, of New York, a bona fide offer for a fight for the championship, the same to take place at Carson City, Nev., or at some other place to be agreed upon. After reading the telegram Jeffries said: "That is the first legitimate offer that has been made, and if Corbett wants to fight me to a finish he can have my game. I still believe he is bluffing and will not stand the gauntlet."

Jeffries said he was in the show business now, and would not go into training unless a bona fide match that could be pulled off was made. In a finish fight he said he could lick Corbett easily, but would not say anything until after the match is made.

Corbett says he will accept the offer.

SPORTING MISCELLANY.

Wheeling has a Y. M. C. A. bowling league.

Young Griffio has been sentenced to three months in jail at Chicago for disorderly conduct.

Harry Forbes and Andy Tokell box for bantam weight championship at Detroit February 27.

E. J. Arnold's breeding farm at Greenville, Ill., and the horse Gold Heels have been attached. The property is worth $40,000.

Western Reserve university has at last signed a coach, Charles J. Boyle, for the past two years coach at Ohio Wesleyan university, and star player at Dartmouth in 1901.

ORCHESTRA CONCERTS

The Fifteenth Set at Carnegie Hall This Week, Presenting a Choice Program.

The fifteenth set of concerts this season by the Pittsburgh orchestra in Carnegie hall, Shesley Park, Pittsburgh, will be given Friday evening and Saturday afternoon, February 27 and 28. This will be the last set of concerts this season but three.

In some respects this week's program, given with the co-operation of Edwin H. Lemare, organist, is one of the most interesting of the season. The works by Hadley and Parker are entirely new here. Mr. Hadley is an American and his symphony, "The Seasons," is his most notable work, and it has been played by the leading concert orchestras of this country and abroad. Mr. Parker is a Boston man and his concerto, which Mr. Lemare will play at these concerts, is his latest large work.

USED INTERNALLY AND EXTERNALLY

HAMLINS WIZARD OIL

CURES—RHEUMATISM, LAME BACK, STIFF JOINTS, NEURALGIA, HEADACHE, TOOTHACHE, EARACHE, DEAFNESS, CUTS, WOUNDS, SPRAINS, BRUISES, BURNS, SCALDS, SORE THROAT, CRAMPS, COLIC, CHOLERA, MORE, SORES, ULCERS, AND ALL PAIN, LAMENESS, SORROW, SWELLING & INFLAMMATION FROM ANY CAUSE WHATSOEVER.

"The Greatest Family Medicine That Ever Came Down The Pike."

Sold by all DRUGGISTS
50 cts. and $1.00 Per Bottle
MANUFACTURED BY HAMLINS WIZARD OIL CO. CHICAGO

Hereafter it is believed that the organ will be used more frequently with the orchestra, which will be welcome news to Pittsburgh orchestra audiences, the changes now being wrought in the organ at the hall will make it available for this sort of work.

Mr. Lemare, organist and director of music at Carnegie institute, is the soloist, and Pittsburgh is to be congratulated that he has been invited by the orchestra committee to appear at these concerts. He is the peer of any living concert organist.

The program in full is:
Symphony, "The Seasons," Op. 39

Concerto for organ and orchestra, Op. 55..... Hadley

Ballet Music from "The Queen of Sheba"..... Goldmark

For organ solo: (a) Intermezzo in D flat..... Rollins

(b) Etude Symphonique..... Bossi

March, "Pomp and Circumstance"..... Elgar

SLIPPED AND FELL AND LOST HIS LIFE

Jefferson County Man Dead as Result of an Accident in Wellsville.

Campbell M. Collins, justice of the peace at Portland station, Jefferson county, died at the Gill hospital in Steubenville as the result of injuries received at Wellsville on February 10. He was 50 years old and leaves a wife and two sons. One son is station agent at Rush Run. George W. Collins, a brother, is C. & P. freight agent in Steubenville.

February 19, as Mr. Collins was running alongside a freight train near the Wellsville shops he stepped on a pile of ashes. His right leg slipped under the wheels of the train and was terribly crushed. The passenger train which he had intended boarding to go to his home at Portland station, took him to the Gill hospital, where he had his leg amputated above the knee, as the only means of prolonging his life. Collins rallied from the operation, but his condition did not improve.

KILLED IN A WRECK IN NEW MEXICO

Former Resident of Wellsville Victim of a Railroad Accident.

Word has been received in Wellsville that Frank W. Prosser was killed in a railroad wreck in New Mexico. He was an engineer on the railroads. Mr. Prosser was born and reared in Wellsville and was 45 years old. He was the only son of Squire John Prosser, now of Cleveland.

Mr. Prosser left Wellsville 20 years ago and for several years lived at Meriden, Miss.

This is the last week of our sale. We advise you to take advantage of it. THE SURPRISE CLOTHING HOUSE.
43-eod-4

FOR SALE.
THE UNITED PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH PROPERTY, fronting seventy feet on Main street, between Fifth and Sixth, Wellsville, Ohio. If not sold previous to March 1st, the property will be withdrawn from the market. Inquire of Samuel Stevenson, Wellsville, Ohio.
31-eod-2wks

The following is a list of Union contractors of plastering of East Liverpool, Ohio, and suburbs:
Wm. Howard, Wm. Graham, Wm. Recco, Hugh Johnston, H. S. Huston, Thos. Eaton, Chas. Hamilton, Samuel McLure.

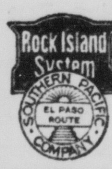

Non-union contractors:
Wm. McClure.
39-1m

Take advantage of our Discount Sale on all Overcoats and Suitings. This is the last week.
THE SURPRISE CLOTHING HOUSE

For the real good old buckwheat flavor, buy Mrs. Austin's buckwheat and don't forget the name. 34-2wks-74

$33 to California

That is the Rock Island's rate from Chicago. In effect daily, February 15 to April 30. Tickets are good in tourist sleeping cars, which the Rock Island runs every day in the week Chicago to Los Angeles and San Francisco. These cars make quicker time to Southern California than similar cars over any other line. Cars are operated over both the "Scenic" and "Southern" lines. Folder giving full information mailed on request.

If you are going to California, GO NOW. After May 1st it will cost you nearly $20.00 more than at present. Low rates to Montana, Idaho, Utah and Puget Sound are also offered by the Rock Island. Write or call. We will gladly give you full information.

Phil. A. Auer, D.P.A., 415 Park Bldg., Pittsburgh, Pa.

INTEREST ON CHECKING ACCOUNTS
PAYS 4% INTEREST ON TIME DEPOSITS

BANK BY MAIL

It is just as safe as in person—It is many times easier—It causes you no unnecessary trouble—Drop us a postal for booklet—How to BANK BY MAIL. Capital and surplus, $3,750,000

REQUESTS IMMEDIATE PAYMENT

Minister Bowen Promptly Declines to Pay Money Asked for By the German Government.

Washington, Feb. 23.—The German government, through its representative here, Baron Speck von Sternberg, has made a request of Mr. Bowen for the immediate payment of the 5,500 pounds which it was stipulated in the protocol signed on February 13, should be paid within 30 days from that date, as a preliminary to the raising of the blockade against Venezuelan ports and the agreement to send the question of preferential treatment of the blockading nations to The Hague for determination. Mr. Bowen promptly declined to accede to the request, but informed Baron Sternberg that as provided in the protocol the money would be paid to the German representative at Caracas 30 days from February 13, which would be on the 15th of March.

The reason that animated the German government in making the request is not disclosed here nor is Mr. Bowen aware of it. The matter, however, has some significance, perhaps, in view of the fact that the ships taken by the Germans during the blockade have not yet been returned to Venezuela.

During the day Mr. Bowen had calls from the French ambassador, M. Jusserand, the Spanish minister, Senor Ojeda, and the Belgian minister, Baron Moncheur, in regard to the protocols that are in preparation for the settlement of the claims of the citizens of their countries against Venezuela. Rough drafts of these instruments are already on their way by mail to the European governments interested, but there are certain provisions regarding them about which the envoys desired to consult Mr. Bowen. The protocols are expected to reach their destinations the latter part of this week, pending which no final steps for their joint signature can be taken.

London, Feb. 23.—The correspondent of the "Standard" at Brussels telegraphs that the protocol between Belgium and Venezuela will be signed this week. Belgium, says the correspondent, has obtained full satisfaction. The Belgium claimants will receive $2,500,000 after the Anglo-German claims have been paid.

Too late to cure a cold after consumption has fastened its deadly grip on the lungs. Take Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup while yet there is time.

Fine Job Printing—News Review.

DO YOU KNOW

that investments made in mining stocks, JUDICIOUSLY SELECTED, produce larger returns than any other form of investment.

We are in position to make money for you. OUR EXPERIENCE PROVES IT. Stocks sold by us have risen in value from 60 per cent to 600 per cent WITHIN TWO YEARS. If you want to make money, make it safely, and lots of it, write

C. W. RUTH & CO.

210-211-212, 331 Fourth Avenue, Pittsburgh, Pa.

Dr. J. F. Bumpus

Osteopathic Physician.

Graduate under Dr. A. T. Still, the founder of Osteopathy, Kirksville, Mo., is located in the Oyster Building, 118 1/2 Sixth St.

East Liverpool, Ohio.

Consultation by appointment.

C. C. Phone 674.

PennStock Exchange

Potters' Bank Building.

STOCKS BONDS & GRAIN

Markets Received Momentarily

Over Private Wire.

BRANCH PENN STOCK EXCHANGE.

PITTSBURGH, PA.

Telephone, Bell 36.

ALL PEOPLE

ought to know that McFadden keeps the best whiskey in town. Twenty different brands to select from. All pure rye. Call at corner of Walnut and Railroad streets and you will come back.

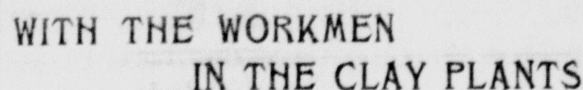

FRESH MEATS.

YOU WANT THE BEST YOU CAN GET FOR YOUR MONEY

That is why you should come here. Our market supplies only the best.

Selected meats for those who want something especially nice for this season.

Charles Trainer,
Broadway and East Market.

Charles Trainer,
Broadway and East Market.

All the news all the time in the News Review.

inflammation of the bronchial tubes even the lobes of the lungs, is promptly subdued and a re-construction of tissue begun after a short treatment of Hagee's Cordial of Cod Liver Oil. A food and tonic for wasty conditions without the disagreeable taste. Pleasant to take.

ntirely new here. Mr. Hadley is an American and his symphony, "The Seasons," is his most notable work, and has been played by the leading concert orchestras of this country and abroad. Mr. Parker is a Boston man and his concerto, which Mr. Lemare will play at these concerts, is his latest large work.

Wm. McClure. 39-1m

Take advantage of our Discount Sale on all Overcoats and Suitings. This is the last week.

THE SURPRISE CLOTHING HOUSE.

For the real good old buckwheat flavor, buy Mrs. Austin's buckwheat and don't forget the name. 34-2wks-74

no late to cure a cold after conception has fastened its deadly grip on the lungs. Take Dr. Wood's Normal Pine Syrup while yet there is a chance.

Job Printing News Review.

ALL PEOPLE ought to know that McFadden keeps the best whiskey in town.
Twenty different brands to select from. All pure rye. Call at corner of Walnut and Railroad streets and you will come back.

WITH THE WORKMEN IN THE CLAY PLANTS

TRENTON'S LENOX WARE.

A little boasting about Trenton's art pottery is indulged in by the True American, which says:

"From Trenton potteries have gone in the last few months to different parts of the country specimens of ceramic art rivaling, if not surpassing in beauty and workmanship and decoration and excellence in quality and grace of execution, the best work of famed foreign makers. Importers are astonished, critics and lovers of the ceramic are delighted, and European manufacturers have sent for specimens and reports, having been aghast at the prospect of competition in a line not before attempted by American capital or labor. Although New Jersey has for half a century been known universally for its clay working industries, its product in pottery has been until within the last few years confined almost exclusively to those lines of earthenware and crockery in which utility and economy of manufacture have been more potent in giving them a place in the world's market than an artistic consideration or effort.

"To the foreign maker has been left entirely the credit and profit of producing the triumphs in china and porcelain that form the highest branch in the clay working art; that art sought by art lovers to be given place in collections or to beautify costly and elegant homes and tables; that have made the towns of Limoges, of Lambeth, and of Louth, of Staffordshire, Chelsea and Coalport; that have brought emulgence and respect to such names as Wedgwood and Minton. Among these wares of the old world makers, (Lenox blue) and (Lenox brown) porcelain and china, dainty bone china and bone, the creation of Walter Lenox of the Ceramic Art company, Trenton, have in the last few years gradually acquired a place of honor and repute. In the show cases and show rooms of importers and dealers Lenox ware has attained recognition and trade papers and critics have declared with almost unanimous voice that the potters and decorators of France and England will have to look to their laurels to preserve their standing as the leaders in the porcelain and china markets.

"Rival potters, according to fortunes from common grades of product, say Lenox is losing time and money. Artists and connoisseurs proclaim him the advance agent of a new departure in American industry and art, in which New Jersey is fated to take a foremost part."

CHINESE SPECIMENS RARE.

Extensive collections of Chinese porcelain are very rare, rare that private collections are even well known to dealers and others. There are only two collections of which much has been heard, and they are without doubt the most important in the world. One is the collection lent by George Salting to the Victoria and Albert Museum, England, and the other is the one made by the late James A. Garland, formerly president of the First National bank, New York. Garland was a judicious and skillful enthusiast in Chinese and oriental porcelain. For several years the Garland collection has been exhibited in the Metropolitan Museum, New York, and is rich in specimens of every class or school.

POTTERY FOR JAPAN.

J. M. Takito, a pottery manufacturer of Nagaya, Japan, was in Pittsburgh last week, having come up from East Liverpool and other pottery towns in the Ohio valley. He said he had been much impressed with the machinery used in American factories, which turn out an enormous product as compared with the output of the Japanese factories. "They are not artistic in their decorations as our wares are," he continued, "but the ware itself is good, and will last as long as ours. Our decorations are painted on the ware by highly skilled artists, most of whom are descendants of pottery artists for many generations."

FROM POTTERY TO UNIVERSITY.

At a distinguished gathering of college presidents at Highstown, N. J., last week, who had assembled to celebrate the anniversary of the Peddie Institute, there was present Prof. William T. Morrell, of the University of Rochester. Prof. Morrell's life and career has been an inspiration to thousands of young men, and his address commemorating the founding of the Peddie school was doubtless one of the best efforts of the gathering. Prof. Morrell at one time modeled the plastic clay as he now shapes and fashions the minds of his students. He is well known in Trenton, having worked in the potteries there for years before he went to college and worked his way to his present honorable position.

UNCONSCIOUS AND FREEZING

YOUNG FARMER RODE ABOUT DURING THE BLIZZARD.

An Experience In Steubenville That Nearly Ended Wm. Runyon's Life

Steubenville, February 23.—William Runyon, a young countryman who lives back of Winterville, had an experience during the recent blizzard that he will forever remember.

He makes weekly trips to sell products of his father's little farm. He is not blessed with an overwhelming amount of the world's goods, but is strong and robust, and for this reason he did not wrap himself up more carefully than he would do in ordinary weather. He left home at daylight and three hours afterwards he was in Steubenville, having come down over the Franklin avenue route instead of the steep Market street hill. He drove two horses attached to a sleigh, the animals fortunately, being of the kind that can take care of themselves.

When Runyon entered the city, the horses were following their own routes, the lines were hanging loose and Runyon was apparently asleep. People whom he passed thought him drunk and gave him no more than ordinary attention. His horses traveled along the streets of the north end of the city, until finally Expressman John Bickerstaff stopped them. He shook the motionless driver, but received no response. Again he shook him but still the driver could not be aroused. It was then noticed that Runyon's face was purple, which led to the belief that he was unconscious from the cold. His hands were rubbed, and body well wrapped up, and shaken at intervals, and at last he became aroused slowly. At first he did not know where he was, but as the work of his rescuers continued unceasingly, Runyon soon recovered consciousness and was able to talk.

He was surprised to know that he had reached the city, although he remembered passing the high pressure water basin. He felt the cold severely after leaving home, he said, but as the journey towards Steubenville progressed, he thought he was getting warmer. At the same time he felt sleepiness coming over him. He could not hold his eyes open, although he made every effort to do so. He passed the water basin he knew but after that everything was black until he was aroused in the city.

Runyon said he felt well enough to continue his journey and started away to distribute his goods to his customers and to arrange for his trip home as soon as possible. It is likely that his frozen nose and ears, will keep the memory of his experience fresh in his mind.

Don't fool with a cold, no one can tell what the end may be. Pneumonia, catarrh, chronic bronchitis and consumption invariably result from neglected colds. Nothing can be compared with Chamberlain's Cough Remedy as a quick cure for colds and influenza, and by its use these diseases may be avoided. For sale by Alvin H. Bulger.

Buy a Suit for yourself and the Boys while you can get 20 per cent discount on each dollar you spend.

THE SURPRISE CLOTHING HOUSE. 43-eod-1

The Wade Jewelry Co. have removed to 164 Fifth street, where they are fitting up a commodious store room and optical parlors. 31-1f

All the news all the time in the News Review.

FORECAST OF WEEK.

Statehood Bill Will Soon Reach Critical Period of Career in the Senate.

LONGER SESSIONS WILL BE HELD

Probable that Daily Sittings of Upper

Body Will Begin at 10 or 11 O'clock

and Frequently Run Into Night.

House Business in Good Shape.

Washington, Feb. 23.—The course of the proceedings in the senate during the present week will depend very largely upon whether there is an adjustment of differences upon the statehood bill. If there is no agreement the bill will continue to cut a figure in the proceedings, whether it be technically under consideration or not, just as it has done during the greater part of the session. If the canal treaty is preceded with the statehood bill will do much to shape its course. If the treaty is put aside and the appropriation bill's taken up the statehood question will present itself in the shape of riders on those bills.

According to the present program the postoffice appropriation bill will be the first of the supply measures to be considered. It is indeed the only one of those bills not yet passed which has been reported from committee. It carries the statehood bill as a rider, and unless an understanding is arrived at before the bill is taken up the question of its retention will immediately confront the senate. That will be a critical period in the statehood bill's career. Some of the anti-statehood senators contend that it can be beaten as a rider, and advocate an invitation to this test of strength.

To Take Up Appropriation Bills. It is not intended that many more days will be allowed to elapse before the taking up of the appropriation bills. With only eight working days of the session left all senators appreciate that it is essential that there should be little more delay in voting the necessary supplies for the support of the government for the next fiscal year.

Of the 13 appropriation bills, only six have so far been considered by the senate proper, but several of the remaining seven have had the attention of senate committees. Three have now, however, been received from the house of representatives.

In order to conclude its work on the appropriation bills and transact other necessary business before the day for final adjournment on March 4, the senate will find it necessary, regardless of the statehood bill, and the canal treaty, to hold longer sessions than ordinarily, and it is probable that during the greater part of the time henceforth the daily sittings will begin at 10 or 11 o'clock and that many of them will run into the night.

On Saturday considerable time will be devoted to eulogies on deceased members of the house.

House Forecast.

The house enters the last full week of the session with the decks practically cleared of every thing except appropriation bills. Only one of these—the general deficiency—which was reported Saturday, remains to be passed. Several interesting contests are expected during the consideration of the questions of adjusting the differences between the two houses on a number of bills in conference. Especially spirited would be the fight over the proposition to accept a statehood amendment, if one should come to the house as a rider on an appropriation bill. It would command the solid support of the Democratic side and it is believed enough Republicans to accept it, although it would be strongly resisted by the Republican leaders. The Philippines currency bill has been set for tomorrow. The six suspension days, which under the rules precedes the expiration of each congress, begins on Wednesday and by means of the parliamentary expedient of making motions under suspension of the rules, parliamentary knots can be cut and legislation expedited.

Fowler Bill Not Likely to Pass.

The Fowler currency bill will continue to be the stop gap whenever the matters are not pressing, but there seems no prospect of its passage. There is an intimation, however, that it might serve a useful purpose in case the Aldrich deposit bill should come over from the senate. It is said that the latter bill could be substituted for the former without going to committee either by striking out all after the enactment clause of the Fowler bill or through the operations of a special rule. If neither of these courses will be adopted the bill will be referred to the ways and means committee, which could report it forthwith, as it is well understood that a reference to the committee on banking and currency would be equivalent to its death. The reference to the ways and means committee can be made on the ground that it provides for interest on government deposit in national banks and to that extent is a revenue measure.

Inflammation of the bronchial tubes or even the lobes of the lungs, is promptly subdued and a reconstruction of tissue begun after a short treatment of Hagee's Cordial of Cod Liver Oil. A food and tonic for wasted conditions without the disagreeable grease. Pleasant to take.

REALM OF SPORTS

LEAGUE UMPIRES

The Staff of the National League Now Nearly Complete—The American League.

With the appointment of J. E. Johnstone, who umpired in the American league last season, after being tried by fire in the Southern and Interstate refineries, Harry Pulliam's National League staff needs but one more judge of play to complete the quota. Bob Emslie and Hank O'Day were the only members of the old staff to be re-appointed—neither Tom Brown, Arlie Latham nor Arthur Irwin being recalled. The latter is fixed in the Rochester managerial berth, but the others would not have required much coaxing to take up their old roles of the autocrats of the diamond, and in ball parlance "autocrat" is a synonym for "mark."

Tom Lynch refused to accept a regular appointment that was proffered him, but volunteered his services during the summer in case he is needed. Gus Moran and J. E. Johnstone are the new appointees. If good words count for anything "Bug" Holliday may be considered to have an even chance to draw the other diploma, but he is only one of over a score of applicants all anxious to suffer in the cause of good ball and the appropriation that goes with it. Johnstone won a reputation as a disciplinarian. He is said to give his decisions without hesitation in a clear, loud voice.

President Ban Johnson, of the American league, has announced his staff of umpires for the coming season. Only one new man, James E. Hassett, of the New England league, will handle the indicator for the American during the coming summer. The rest of the list is Jack Sheridan, Bob Carruthers, Silk O'Laughlin and Tommy Connolly.

BONA FIDE OFFER

Tendered Jim Jeffries for a Fight Between Himself and Corbett.

Jim Jeffries has received an official offer for a fight between himself and James J. Corbett for the championship of the world. For the past six weeks there have appeared in the public prints numerous challenges of Corbett and bids by different clubs for a contest, but as late as Thursday evening Jeffries declared that he had not received a single authentic challenge beyond an offer for a contest with Corbett.

Friday morning, however, he received from John Pollock, of New York a bona fide offer for a fight for the championship, the same to take place at Carson City, Nev., or at some other place to be agreed upon. After reading the telegram Jeffries said: "That is the first legitimate offer that has been made, and if Corbett wants to fight me to a finish he can have my game. I still believe he is bluffing and will not stand the gauntlet."

Jeffries said he was in the show business now, and would not go into training unless a bona fide match that could be pulled off was made. In a finish fight he said he could lick Corbett easily, but would not say anything until after the match is made. Corbett says he will accept the offer.

SPORTING MISCELLANY.

Wheeling has a Y. M. C. A. bowling league.

Young Griffio has been sentenced to three months in jail at Chicago for disorderly conduct.

Harry Forbes and Andy Tokell box for bantam weight championship at Detroit February 27.

E. J. Arnold's breeding farm at Greenville, Ill., and the horse Gold Heels have been attached. The property is worth $40,000.

Western Reserve university has at last signed a coach, Charles J. Boyle, for the past two years coach at Ohio Wesleyan university, and star player at Dartmouth in 1901.

ORCHESTRA CONCERTS

The Fifteenth Set at Carnegie Hall This Week, Presenting a Choice Program.

The fifteenth set of concerts this season by the Pittsburgh orchestra in Carnegie hall, Shenley Park, Pittsburgh, will be given Friday evening and Saturday afternoon, February 27 and 28. This will be the last set of concerts this season but three.

In some respects this week's program, given with the co-operation of Edwin H. Lemare, organist, is one of the most interesting of the season. The works by Hadley and Parker are entirely new here. Mr. Hadley is an American and his symphony, "The Seasons," is his most notable work, and it has been played by the leading concert orchestras of this country and abroad. Mr. Parker is a Boston man and his concerto, which Mr. Lemare will play at these concerts, is his latest large work.

USED INTERNALLY AND EXTERNALLY

HAMLINS WIZARD OIL

CURES RHEUMATISM, LAME BACK, STIFF JOINTS, NEURALGIA, HEADACHE, TOOTHACHE, BRUISES, BURNS, SCALDS, CUTS, WOUNDS, SPRAINS, CRUPE, DIPHTHERIA, SORE THROAT, QUINCY, COLIC, CHOLERA, MORBUS, INDIGESTION, CRAMPS, AND ALL PAIN, LAMENESS, SORENESS, SORES, ULCERS, AND INFLAMMATION FROM ANY CAUSE WHATSOEVER.

SWELLING & INFLAMMATION FROM ANY CAUSE WHATSOEVER

"The Greatest Family Medicine That Ever Came Down The Pike."

Sold by all DRUGGISTS
50 cts. and $1.00 Per Bottle
MANUFACTURED BY HAMLINS WIZARD OIL CO CHICAGO

Hereafter it is believed that the organ will be used more frequently with the orchestra, which will be welcome news to Pittsburgh orchestra audiences, the changes now being wrought in the organ at the hall will make it available for this sort of work.

Mr. Lemare, organist and director of music at Carnegie Institute, is the soloist, and Pittsburgh is to be congratulated that he has been invited by the orchestra committee to appear at these concerts. He is the peer of any living concert organist.

The program in full is:

Symphony, "The Seasons," Op. 39
Concerto for organ and orchestra, Op. 55
Ballet Music from "The Queen of Sheba"
For organ solo: (a) Intermezzo in D flat
(b) Etude Symphonique
March, "Pomp and Circumstance"

SLIPPED AND FELL AND LOST HIS LIFE

Jefferson County Man Dead as Result of an Accident in Wellsville.

Campbell M. Collins, justice of the peace at Portland station, Jefferson county, died at the Gill hospital in Steubenville as the result of injuries received at Wellsville on February 10. He was 50 years old and leaves a wife and two sons. One son is station agent at Rush Run. George W. Collins, a brother, is C. & P. freight agent in Steubenville.

February 19, as Mr. Collins was running alongside a freight train near the Wellsville shops he stepped on a pile of ashes. His right leg slipped under the wheels of the train and was terribly crushed. The passenger train which he had intended boarding to go to his home at Portland station, took him to the Gill hospital, where he had his leg amputated above the knee, as the only means of prolonging his life. Collins rallied from the operation, but his condition did not improve.

KILLED IN A WRECK IN NEW MEXICO

Former Resident of Wellsville Victim of a Railroad Accident.

Word has been received in Wellsville that Frank W. Prosser was killed in a railroad wreck in New Mexico. He was an engineer on the railroads. Mr. Prosser was born and reared in Wellsville and was 45 years old. He was the only son of Squire John Prosser, now of Cleveland.

Mr. Prosser left Wellsville 20 years ago and for several years lived at Meriden, Miss.

This is the last week of our sale. We advise you to take advantage of it. THE SURPRISE CLOTHING HOUSE. 43-eod-1

FOR SALE.

THE UNITED PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH PROPERTY, fronting seventy feet on Main street, between Fifth and Sixth, Wellsville, Ohio. If not sold previous to March 1st, the property will be withdrawn from the market. Inquire of Samuel Stevenson, Wellsville, Ohio. 31-eod-2wks

The following is a list of Union contractors of plastering of East Liverpool, Ohio, and suburbs:

Wm. Howard, Wm. Graham, Wm. Reece, Hugh Johnston, H. S. Huston, Thos. Eaton, Chas. Hamilton, Samuel McClure.

Non-union contractors:

Wm. McClure. 39-1m

Take advantage of our Discount Sale on all Overcoats and Suits. This is the last week.

THE SURPRISE CLOTHING HOUSE.

For the real good old buckwheat flavor, buy Mrs. Austin's buckwheat and don't forget the name. 34-2wks-74

$33 to California

That is the Rock Island's rate from Chicago. In effect daily, February 15 to April 30. Tickets are good in tourist sleeping cars, which the Rock Island runs every day in the week Chicago to Los Angeles and San Francisco. These cars make quicker time to Southern California than similar cars over any other line. Cars are operated over both the "Scenic" and "Southern" lines. Folder giving full information mailed on request.

If you are going to California, GO NOW. After May 1st it will cost you nearly $200 more than at present. Low rates to Montana, Idaho, Utah and Puget Sound are also offered by the Rock Island. Write or call. We'll gladly give you full information. Phil. A. Auer, D.P.A., 415 Park Bldg., Pittsburgh, Pa.

REAL ESTATE TRUST CO

311 FOURTH AVE. PITTSBURGH, PA.

PAYS 4% INTEREST ON TIME DEPOSITS PAYS 2% INTEREST ON CHECKING ACCOUNTS

BANK BY MAIL

It is just as safe as in person—It is many times easier—It causes you no unnecessary trouble—Drop us a postal for booklet—How to BANK BY MAIL. Capital and surplus, $3,750,000

REQUESTS IMMEDIATE PAYMENT

Minister Bowen Promptly Declines to Pay Money Asked for By the German Government.

Washington, Feb. 23.—The German government, through its representative here, Baron Speck von Sternberg, has made a request of Mr. Bowen for the immediate payment of the 5,500 pounds which it was stipulated in the protocol signed on February 13, should be paid within 30 days from that date, as a preliminary to the raising of the blockade against Venezuelan ports and the agreement to send the question of preferential treatment of the blockading nations to The Hague for determination. Mr. Bowen promptly declined to accede to the request, but informed Baron Sternberg that as provided in the protocol the money would be paid to the German representative at Caracas 30 days from February 13, which would be on the 15th of March.

The reason that animated the German government in making the request is not disclosed here nor is Mr. Bowen aware of it. The matter, however, has some significance, perhaps, in view of the fact that the ships taken by the Germans during the blockade have not yet been returned to Venezuela.

During the day Mr. Bowen had calls from the French ambassador, M. Jusserand, the Spanish minister, Senor Ojeda, and the Belgian minister, Baron Monseigneur, in regard to the protocols that are in preparation for the settlement of the claims of the citizens of their countries against Venezuela. Rough drafts of these instruments are already on their way by mail to the European governments interested, but there are certain provisions regarding them about which the envoys desired to consult Mr. Bowen. The protocols are expected to reach their destinations the latter part of this week, pending which no final steps for their joint signature can be taken.

London, Feb. 23.—The correspondent of the "Standard" at Brussels telegraphs that the protocol between Belgium and Venezuela will be signed this week. Belgium, says the correspondent, has obtained full satisfaction. The Belgian claimants will receive $2,500,000 after the Anglo-German claims have been paid.

Too late to cure a cold after consumption has fastened its deadly grip on the lungs. Take Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup while yet there is time.

For the real good old buckwheat flavor, buy Mrs. Austin's buckwheat and don't forget the name. 34-2wks-74

DO YOU KNOW

that investments made in mining stocks, JUDICIOUSLY SELECTED, produce larger returns than any other form of investment.

We are in position to make money for you. OUR EXPERIENCE PROVES IT. Stocks sold by us have risen in value from 60 per cent to 600 per cent WITHIN TWO YEARS. If you want to make money, make it safely, and lots of it, write

C. W. RUTH & CO.
210-211-212, 331 Fourth Avenue, Pittsburgh, Pa.

Dr. J. F. Bumpus

Osteopathic Physician.

Graduate under Dr. A. T. Still, the founder of Osteopathy, Kirksville, Mo., is located in Oyster Building, 118 1/2 Sixth St.

East Liverpool, Ohio.

Consultation by appointment. C. C. Phone 674.

PennStock Exchange

Potters' Bank Building.

STOCKS BONDS & GRAIN

Markets Received Momentarily Over Private Wire.

BRANCH PENN STOCK EXCHANGE.

PITTSBURGH, PA.

Telephone, Ball 36.

ALL PEOPLE ought to know that McFadden keeps the best whiskey in town.

Twenty different brands to select from. All pure rye. Call at corner of Walnut and Railroad streets and you will come back.

Fine Job Printing News Review.

FRESH MEATS.

YOU WANT THE BEST YOU CAN GET FOR YOUR MONEY

That is why you should come here. Our market supplies only the best.

Selected meats for those who want something especially nice for this season.

Charles Trainer,
Broadway and East Market.

EAST END

TWENTY-SX ADDED
TO THE CHURCH ROLLS

Large Increase of Second Presbyterian Church Membership Results from Special Services.

The services at the Second Presbyterian church yesterday were the most successful ever held since the organization of the church. Rev. N. M. Crowe, the pastor, preached two fine sermons to the largest audiences ever gathered in the church. The regular communion services were held and Prof. Morton sang several selections in a beautiful manner. The communion service was the closing service of the series of meetings lasting three weeks at this church, and the result of these meetings has been to awaken the church as never before.

Twenty-six new members were received into the church yesterday and 15 of them were heads of families. It is seldom that a revival appeals to the older persons with such great force as the series of meetings just closed. The proportion of heads of families is usually much smaller than that given above. The condition of the church at present is more prosperous than ever before. The members, as well as the pastor, are all greatly pleased with the outcome of the meetings and propose to keep up the interest all through the year. Prof. Morton, who so ably assisted by his music during the meetings, left this morning for his home in Pittsburgh. The members of the church will always remember his sweet singing, and the prominent part it played in winning so many souls to Christ.

The meetings at the Erie street M. E. church closed yesterday with very interesting services. Rev. G. W. Orcutt preached a thoughtful sermon to a large congregation. The revival services, which have been in progress there for several weeks, closed Friday evening, but the last service of a revival nature was held last night. A large number of persons have joined the church since these meetings began and many have professed conversion. Wednesday night Rev. Mr. Orcutt will begin a series of sermons to be preached instead of the regular mid-week prayer meetings.

The services at the Second U. P. church were particularly interesting yesterday. Rev. G. W. McCracken, of Monmouth, Ill., preached at both services to a well-filled house. He chose for his morning topic, "Heaven As a Place." In the evening he preached from "Prisoners of Hope." The sermons were bright and pointed and the congregation was delighted with both discourses.

PAYING ELECTION BETS

Large Amount of Money Changed Hands in the East End District.

All was quiet and serene in the East End this morning. It was similar to the quiet after a great storm. The principal business transacted was the paying of election wagers. But few if any persons with any sporting inclinations whatever failed to make a bet of some kind on the result. At least half dozen East Enders are several hundred dollars out of pocket apiece. Many backed the East End candidate to win, but a larger amount was wagered that he would win over Nice. The latter bets are of course yet undecided, as the returns indicate a tie vote between Nice and Marshall.

Yesterday was very quiet, as hardly anyone could realize that the fight had terminated as it did. Now that the nominations have been made business will again assume its usual activity, and in a few days everything will go along as though nothing had happened.

The nomination of Smith over Thomas for council, was a surprise to

WHEN YOU BUY

Meredith's Diamond Club Pure Rye whiskey you get the highest grade whiskey made. That's why it's best for medicinal purposes and preferred for other uses. That's why you should try it. Send the tops to us and you will get the mug.

G. W. MEREDITH & CO.
177 Market St., East Liverpool, O.

many, as the former was late in entering the fight. However, bets of 2 to 1 were offered on Smith late Saturday afternoon and found no takers.

Gypsy Camp Still Stays.

The gypsy camp which has been located below the East End school building still thrives. They have about eight wagons and each one seems to contain several different families, at least when they all come out. There are not half as many as camped in the East End a year ago, and they appear to be more quiet than those that camped in Calhoun's addition. The camp was visited yesterday by quite a number of persons and many had their fortunes told them.

Bridge Building Next.

The stonemasons reached the East End this morning to begin work on the abutments of the new bridges to be erected by the C. & P. railroad. The company has finished the greater part of the grading for its double track through the East End and now proposes to build the bridges necessary at once. The first bridge to be put in will be between the East End and Smith's Ferry.

Many Vaccinated.

A large number of residents of the East End are nursing sore arms today. A great many children and persons who had never been vaccinated, visited a physician when the recent case of smallpox appeared in the East End and were vaccinated. Their arms are now beginning to get sore, but no one has yet been reported seriously ill.

EAST END AFFAIRS.

A successful dance was held Saturday night at the Columbian park.

Born, to Mr. and Mrs. Edward Long, of St. George street, Saturday night a daughter.

Will Hutchinson, mouldrunner at the Klondike pottery, is confined to his home on account of sickness.

George Wilson, jiggerman, at the Klondike pottery, is unable to be at work today on account of sickness.

Mrs. A. Searight has returned to her home on Pennsylvania avenue after a week's visit with relatives in Pittsburgh.

Henry Goodballet, of First avenue, is much improved after an illness lasting a couple of months with typhoid fever.

J. S. Noah, of Virginia avenue, is confined to the house with an attack of grip. His little daughter, who has been ill, is improving.

T. J. Kerr has returned after a week's visit in Missouri, where he was inspecting the property of the East Liverpool Lead & Zinc company. He brought back with him about 50 pounds of ore that tests 86 per cent pure.

The condition of Bryan, the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. D. F. White, of Railroad street, is unchanged. The funeral of the twin brother of the little fellow who died Friday was held yesterday afternoon at the house. Interment at Riverview cemetery.

COUNTY AND NEIGHBORHOOD

Wheeling banks have decided to pay only 3 per cent interest on deposits hereafter.

Chas. W. Fulton, Republican, who has been elected senator from Oregon, was born in Ohio in 1853.

John Taylor, aged 78, for 59 years a resident of Salem, died of blood poisoning, caused by an injury to his hand.

John P. Vance, son of the late Rev. John A. Vance, formerly of New Castle, Pa., was frozen to death while on a surveying expedition to Canada.

C. B. Allman, prominent in Massillon business and social circles, and member of the firm of Allman & Putman, died suddenly of paralysis, aged 60 years.

At Ravenna Mr. and Mrs. Austin Blackman celebrated their 65th wedding anniversary. February 22, 1838, Mr. Blackman and Miss Jane G. Hickox were married in Aurora.

Lloyd Austin and John Baum, of Marlboro, were lodged in jail, charged with having robbed Vernon Clayton, of that town, of $100. Both men are very prominent. They were released on bail.

At Gallon a horse kicked at a dog being playfully patted by John Groll, aged 31. The hoof struck Groll in the cheek, crushing it, fracturing the skull and breaking his neck. Groll lived 20 minutes.

THE JOURNEY
TO JERUSALUM

A Scholarly Lecture Addressed to Young Men by Rev. Dr. M. B. Pratt.

A NEW EPOCH IN HISTORY

Marked by the Founding of the Hebrew Capital, the Cradle of the World's Faith—Services in the Local Churches.

Tolise who accompanied Rev. Dr. Pratt, and there were many, on his "Journey to Jerusalem" at the opera house yesterday afternoon were highly pleased and edified. Those, however, who expected to hear the sacred places of the ancient Hebrew capital described were disappointed, for the lecturer described it only as one of the five great capitals, which in turn flourished and waned as centers of different forms of religious worship. His discourse showed a thorough and critical knowledge and conception of the sacred and profane history of the ages.

Mrs. Homer Knowles sang "The Holy City," which was illustrated with stereoscopic views by Dr. Birkett. Mrs. Knowles possesses a beautiful and cultured voice and her rendition of this touching refrain greatly pleased and impressed the large audience. The lecturer answered the query, "Should the young man of corrupt morals be favorably received in the better class of society?" but dismissed with a few words several which might be called catch questions. "The privilege of society is a gift and great benefits are derived from it when properly conducted and guarded. It is a great safeguard to an everlasting civilization, a factor that determines human character. Society should not be degraded for it has a holy mission in its sphere as has the church. Excluding vices is a premium on virtue, and by all means immorality should not be tolerated.

REV. R. A. JENNINGS.

Associate pastor and musical director, First M. E. church.

"The world has known five great capitals, noted for their splendor, for their wealth and as centers of religious worship in one form or another. Thebes in the valley of the Nile, noted for its architecture, mechanical achievements and great influence. The pyramids were their accomplishments. Babylon, the Chaldean capital on the banks of the Euphrates was in turn one of the world's mightiest cities; Athens, the capital of ancient Greece, was celebrated for its art, architecture and literature, but Rome grasped its power and made the earth tremble for the empires that opposed its dominion. Jerusalem was the cradle of the world's ultimate faith. Religion is the fundamental matter in human life. Knowledge comes and goes; power is temporal, but religion stands eternally. Forms and creeds alter with the ages. The ancients bowed before serpents and defied the mysteries, but religion was stripped of extraneous ceremonies and emerged finally to the worship of one God and found its first abiding place in Jerusalem.

"Empires attached to religious principles will endure. Mohammedanism, with all its truth and error, has withstood the attack of ages because its roots have been sunk deep into the consciousness of religion. The political, social and labor organizations will be enduring or fleeting just as they send their roots into religious truths. Religion in every human life is a fundamental thing.

"The Jews have been scattered over the world for 20 centuries but have defied the attacks of the world and retain their religious individuality. He is preeminently the religious man and Jerusalem razed to the ground did not utterly banish his religion, protected as it is by the laws of Moses and the words of the prophets. Jerusalem marked a new era in the history of the world. It is the mother of a distinctly refining force and stands for refinement as nothing else does. It has been said the mind grows by what it feeds upon but I say it grows like what it feeds upon. Nero ate red flesh and was a brute, the incarnation of the devil. Lions do not smell flowers but hunt for blood. The mind takes on character and ideals by what it feeds upon. You will take on coarseness of the civilization upon which you feed and a man vulgar and polluted can be picked out from among many. On the other hand the man who feeds upon religious truths and strives for manhood can safely be distinguished.

SKIRTS FOR THE LITTLE LADIES.

We have just received a lot of dainty Dress Skirts in short lengths, prettily trimmed with satin ribbon and mercerized lined. These Skirts are well worth $3.75 each but for this week you take your pick at..... $2.98

THE HOME OF LOW PRICES THE LEADER. KNOWLES BLOCK WASHINGTON ST.

"Manhood can be taken from environment. If you would be licentious seek Dinana at the Greek capital, if you would be brutal, go to Rome and Nero, if degraded and self-indulgent go to Babylon and neighbor with Nebuchadnezzar. If you seek elevation and pure thoughts, to the great city of Jerusalem. Life's ideal is not coarseness. Time is not given to be spoiled by loafing. Remember, man was given to rise in supreme majesty and become a proud citizen."

A LARGE NUMBER
OF NEW MEMBERS

Fifty-Five Were Added to the Roll at the First Presbyterian Church Sunday.

The ordinance of communion was celebrated yesterday morning at the First Presbyterian church and 55 members were added to the church roll, several by letter from churches of other cities, but the majority by profession of faith. It is with a great degree of satisfaction that the report of the work in the church during the pastorate of Rev. Mr. Jordan is referred to by members of his congregation. With the additional members added yesterday the total increase during his pastorate reaches 472. This is probably the best record in the Steubenville presbytery.

The advancement has also been marked in the Sunday school, the increase of the past two years being nearly 70 per cent. The enrollment of the school yesterday was 559.

DR. JONES PREACHED
TO THE PYTHIANS

An Able and Interesting Sermon on the Need of Helping One Another.

Rev. David Jones, D. D., preached a sermon yesterday morning to the Knights of Pythias and the members of the order were out in large numbers to hear it. The helplessness of one man to accomplish great things by his own strength and the assistance he may derive from close association with and dependence upon others, was part of the theme. He said in part:

"The law of well being and progress depends almost entirely on the law of dependence and help. A man may be seemingly great but he can do very little in this world by his own strength. He must call for help from others. Nations cannot exist independently, let it riches be ever so great for when it severs its connection with other nations it falls into ruin and decay.

"In crude conditions of society the wants of communities and individuals are few but as civilization advances man's wants multiply. Science has revolutionized the world and nature has given up valued secrets to the research of men—not man. No discovery was made without assistance and no man can say 'I alone did this.'

"How many in the pottery industry can make a piece of ware unassisted? Very few, if any. Every process requires a distinct order of skill; each step a knowledge not needed in the previous stages of development. This is true of all industries and shows that the law operates in the industrial as well as the social world. Trade and commerce come under the same law. No one is independent and no one can work without the assistance of another. Progress is made only in so far as men are willing to help one another.

"Men are compelled to obey the law; it is compulsory. There is no alternative, he must receive help from his fellows.

"This law comes into human life, we are liable to disease and changes of fortune and circumstances and would perish unless assistance came to us. How strong the law is here! God ordains that one man shall help another, so if your neighbor is hungry you must feed him, if naked clothe him, if homeless give him society and friendship.

"God is powerless to help without your assistance for God works through man. It is an ennobling thought that we are co-operating with God. What a helpless creature is man alone. Yet a giant when he unites with others.

"God has united men, has bound them together as a web and you cannot touch a strand of it without shaking the fabric and disturbing the whole world. The Knights of Pythias as an order is comparatively young, less than 40 years old but has 200,000 members. What a vast influence it has! How many homes has it placed over the defenseless heads of humanity. How much suffering has been soothed. You have obeyed this law and helped your brother. May God bless your order. No man can grasp the good it has done."

A SERMON UPON
THE GREATEST SIN

Grieving the Holy Spirit the Greatest Wrong Any Man Can Do.

Excellent music and an eloquent sermon, both combined with a spiritual blessing, which was in evidence throughout the congregation, made the special evangelistic services last evening at the First United Presbyterian church, conducted by Rev. Leslie Hawk, of Toledo, most impressive, interesting and enjoyable to the immense gathering present.

The evangelist has made a specialty of conducting such services and his manner is commendable and pleasing. After preaching ably on the subject, "The Greatest Sin," he had cards passed among the members of the congregation for their signatures, which, when appended, pledged themselves to lead a better life and the acceptance of Jesus Christ. There were numerous cards signed, showing that the evangelist's work had not been fruitless and on the other hand very successful.

In part Dr. Hawk said: "There has been a church in the world since the first believers were in evidence. God has always provided a dispensation of His life, that from which we are to take lessons and live by. The first dispensation came through Moses and was called the Mosaic law. It continued until Christ came to earth. He brought with him the dispensation of the Holy Spirit. The three then were Father, Son and Holy Ghost. The three combined make the godhead. All three are God. How one can be three and three one is more than I can explain. There is no man that understands it. If there were God would not be God.

"There are things that we are not supposed to understand, that our minds are not capable of conceiving. This is one of them. The last of the godhead, the Holy Spirit, is one of the most important of the three. He is the agent of God in the world. My text, taken from Ephesians 4:30, 'Grieve not the Holy Spirit of God, whereby ye are sealed until the day of redemption,' gives the essence of my sermon. The greatest sin that can be committed, with the exception of the unpardonable sin, is to grieve the Holy Spirit.

"The Holy Spirit is sensitive to the touch of sin. All sin grieves the Spirit. We are all sinners and grieve the Spirit. It is because He loves us. We should beware. The Spirit can be so grieved that it will depart from us and once that is done we are doomed, damned and our destiny is sealed forever."

Many conclusions were drawn and lessons pictured by the exhorter and his words were eagerly grasped. There will be meetings every night this week, and commencing tomorrow short services will be held in the afternoons.

What's the secret of happy, vigorous health? Simply keeping the bowels, the stomach, the liver and kidneys strong and active. Burdock Blood Bitters does it.

Take advantage of our Discount Sale on all Overcoats and Suits. This is the last week.

THE SURPRISE CLOTHING HOUSE

The Union Savings Bank
Of Pittsburgh

Capital, $1,000,000

The Capital Stock of $1,000,000

and the names of its Directors are a guarantee of soundness and of safe, conservative management.

4 Per Cent. Interest

Compounded semi-annually

Deposits of any amount accepted by mail

Write for the Booklet

DIRECTORS

H. C. Frick	H. C. McElowney	D. E. Park	R. B. Mellon
W. N. Frew	A. W. Mellon	H. C. Fownes	F. J. Hearne
James McCrea	James H. Lockhart	J. B. Finley	John Porterfield
Geo. I. Whitney	J. M. Schoonmaker	P. C. Knox	Geo. E. Shaw

OPEN SATURDAY EVENINGS

Frick Building

Pittsburgh

ANNOUNCEMENT

We have opened a branch office in East Liverpool at Rooms 5 and 6, Potters National Bank Building, under the management of Mr. Thomas Healey, with direct wire to our main office in Pittsburg.

Our extensive system of private wires—east and west—enables us to quickly execute orders on all leading exchanges.

EDWARD T. C. SLEASE & CO.,

Bankers and Brokers,

Telephones—Bell 525. Columbiana County 382.

TO CALIFORNIA.
COLONIST RATES
VIA

SOUTHERN PACIFIC,
February 15th to April 30th,
FROM

Pittsburg.....	$42 00
Chicago.....	33 00
St. Louis.....	30 00
New Orleans.....	30 00
Missouri River.....	25 00

California literature mailed free to any address, full particulars apply to

G. G. HERRING,
No. 515 Park Bldg,
Pittsburg, Pa.

Pittsburg and Cincinnati Packet Line.

Mrs. for Wheeling, Marietta, Parkersburg, Gallipolis, Huntington, Ironport, Portsmouth, Cincinnati, Louisville, Memphis, St. Louis, New Orleans and way landings. Leave wharf foot of Broadway, down as follows: Steamer Keystone State, Monday 9 p. m.; Queen City, Wednesday 9 p. m.; Virginia, Saturday 9 p. m. Up the river, Keystone State, Sunday 2 p. m.; Queen City, Tuesday 2 p. m.; Virginia, Friday 3 p. m. Fare, East Liverpool to Cincinnati, $4.50; round trip, $11 and $18 meals and berth included. For freight or passage apply to Gus Martindale, Act. Broadway wharf. Both phones 85 Jas. A. Henderson, Gen. Mgr. Pittsburg.

Real Beauties

are the Diamonds, Jewelry, etc., that we are offering on reasonable payments. Our stock is complete.

Pianos, Organs, other musical goods and Sewing Machines on monthly payments.

J. M. BUCKLE,

Successor to Lacey & Buckle,
Mulberry St., East End.

EAST END

TWENTY-SX ADDED
TO THE CHURCH ROLLS

Large Increase of Second Presbyterian Church Membership Results from Special Services.

The services at the Second Presbyterian church yesterday were the most successful ever held since the organization of the church. Rev. N. M. Crowe, the pastor, preached two fine sermons to the largest audiences ever gathered in the church. The regular communion services were held and Prof. Morton sang several selections in a beautiful manner. The communion service was the closing service of the series of meetings lasting three weeks at this church, and the result of these meetings has been to awaken the church as never before.

Twenty-six new members were received into the church yesterday and 15 of them were heads of families. It is seldom that a revival appeals to the older persons with such great force as the series of meetings just closed. The proportion of heads of families is usually much smaller than that given above. The condition of the church at present is more prosperous than ever before. The members, as well as the pastor, are all greatly pleased with the outcome of the meetings and propose to keep up the interest all through the year. Prof. Morton, who so ably assisted by his music during the meetings, left this morning for his home in Pittsburgh. The members of the church will always remember his sweet singing, and the prominent part it played in winning so many souls to Christ.

The meetings at the Erie street M. E. church closed yesterday with very interesting services. Rev. G. W. Orcutt preached a thoughtful sermon to a large congregation. The revival services, which have been in progress there for several weeks, closed Friday evening, but the last service of a revival nature was held last night. A large number of persons have joined the church since these meetings began and many have professed conversion. Wednesday night Rev. Mr. Orcutt will begin a series of sermons to be preached instead of the regular mid-week prayer meetings.

The services at the Second U. P. church were particularly interesting yesterday. Rev. G. W. McCracken, of Monmouth, Ill., preached at both services to a well-filled house. He chose for his morning topic, "Heaven as a Place." In the evening he preached from "Prisoners of Hope." The sermons were bright and pointed and the congregation was delighted with both discourses.

PAYING ELECTION BETS

Large Amount of Money Changed Hands in the East End District.

All was quiet and serene in the East End this morning. It was similar to the quiet after a great storm. The principal business transacted was the paying of election wagers. But few if any persons with any sporting inclinations whatever failed to make a bet of some kind on the result. At least half dozen East Enders are several hundred dollars out of pocket apiece. Many backed the East End candidate to win, but a larger amount was wagered that he would win over Nice. The latter bets are of course yet undecided, as the returns indicate a tie vote between Nice and Marshall.

Yesterday was very quiet, as hardly anyone could realize that the fight had terminated as it did. Now that the nominations have been made business will again assume its usual activity, and in a few days everything will go along as though nothing had happened.

The nomination of Smith over Thomas for council, was a surprise to

WHEN YOU BUY

Meredith's Diamond Club Pure Rye whiskey you get the highest grade whiskey made. That's why it's best for medicinal purposes and preferred for other uses. That's why you should try it. Send the tops to us and you will get the mug.

G. W. McREITH & CO.
177 Market St., East Liverpool, O.

many, as the former was late in entering the fight. However, bets of 2 to 1 were offered on Smith late Saturday afternoon and found no takers.

Gypsy Camp Still Stays.

The gypsy camp which has been located below the East End school building still thrives. They have about eight wagons and each one seems to contain several different families, at least when they all come out. There are not half as many as camped in the East End a year ago, and they appear to be more quiet than those that camped in Calhoun's addition. The camp was visited yesterday by quite a number of persons and many had their fortunes told them.

Bridge Building Next.

The stonemasons reached the East End this morning to begin work on the abutments of the new bridges to be erected by the C. & P. railroad. The company has finished the greater part of the grading for its double track through the East End and now proposes to build the bridges necessary at once. The first bridge to be put in will be between the East End and Smith's Ferry.

Many Vaccinated.

A large number of residents of the East End are nursing sore arms today. A great many children and persons who had never been vaccinated, visited a physician when the recent case of smallpox appeared in the East End and were vaccinated. Their arms are now beginning to get sore, but no one has yet been reported seriously ill.

EAST END AFFAIRS.

A successful dance was held Saturday night at the Columbian park. Born to Mr. and Mrs. Edward Long, of St. George street, Saturday night a daughter.

Will Hutchinson, mouldrunner at the Klondike pottery, is confined to his home on account of sickness.

George Wilson, jiggerman, at the Klondike pottery, is unable to be at work today on account of sickness.

Mrs. A. Searight has returned to her home on Pennsylvania avenue after a week's visit with relatives in Pittsburgh.

Henry Goodballet, of First avenue, is much improved after an illness lasting a couple of months with typhoid fever.

J. S. Noah, of Virginia avenue, is confined to the house with an attack of grip. His little daughter, who has been ill, is improving.

T. J. Kerr has returned after a week's visit in Missouri, where he was inspecting the property of the East Liverpool Lead & Zinc company. He brought back with him about 50 pounds of ore that tests 85 per cent pure.

The condition of Bryan, the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. D. F. White, of Railroad street, is unchanged. The funeral of the twin brother of the little fellow who died Friday was held yesterday afternoon at the house. Interment at Riverview cemetery.

COUNTY AND NEIGHBORHOOD

Wheeling banks have decided to pay only 3 per cent interest on deposits hereafter.

Chas. W. Fulton, Republican, who has been elected senator from Oregon, was born in Ohio in 1853.

John Taylor, aged 78, for 59 years a resident of Salem, died of blood poisoning, caused by an injury to his hand.

John P. Vance, son of the late Rev. John A. Vance, formerly of New Castle, Pa., was frozen to death while on a surveying expedition to Canada.

C. B. Allman, prominent in Massillon business and social circles, and member of the firm of Allman & Putman, died suddenly of paralysis, aged 60 years.

At Ravenna Mr. and Mrs. Austin Blackman celebrated their 65th wedding anniversary. February 22, 1838, Mr. Blackman and Miss Jane G. Hickox were married in Aurora.

Lloyd Austin and John Baum, of Marlboro, were lodged in jail, charged with having robbed Vernon Clayton, of that town, of $100. Both men are very prominent. They were released on bail.

At Gallon a horse kicked at a dog being playfully patted by John Groll, aged 31. The hoof struck Groll in the cheek, crushing it, fracturing the skull and breaking his neck. Groll lived 20 minutes.

THE JOURNEY
TO JERUSALUM

A Scholarly Lecture Addressed to Young Men by Rev. Dr. M. B. Pratt.

A NEW EPOCH IN HISTORY

Marked by the Founding of the Hebrew Capital, the Cradle of the World's Faith—Services in the Local Churches.

Those who accomplished Rev. Dr. Pratt, and there were many, on his "Journey to Jerusalem" at the opera house yesterday afternoon were highly pleased and edified. Those, however, who expected to hear the sacred places of the ancient Hebrew capital described were disappointed, for the lecturer described it only as one of the five great capitals, which in turn flourished and waned as centers of different forms of religious worship. His discourse showed a thorough and critical knowledge and conception of the sacred and profane history of the ages.

Mrs. Homer Knowles sang "The Holy City," which was illustrated with stereopticon views by Dr. Birkett. Mrs. Knowles possesses a beautiful and cultured voice and her rendition of this touching refrain greatly pleased and impressed the large audience. The lecturer answered the query, "Should the young man of corrupt morals be favorably received in the better class of society?" but dismissed with a few words several which might be called catch questions. "The privilege of society is a gift and great benefits are derived from it when properly conducted and guarded. It is a great safeguard to an everlasting civilization, a factor that determines human character. Society should not be degraded for it has a holy mission in its sphere as has the church. Excluding vices is a premium on virtue, and by all means immorality should not be tolerated.

REV. R. A. JENNINGS.

Associate pastor and musical director, First M. E. church.

"The world has known five great capitals, noted for their splendor, for their wealth and as centers of religious worship in one form or another. Thebes in the valley of the Nile, noted for its architecture, mechanical achievements and great influence. The pyramids were their accomplishments. Babylon, the Chaldean capital on the banks of the Euphrates was in turn one of the world's mightiest cities; Athens, the capital of ancient Greece, was celebrated for its art, architecture and literature, but Rome grasped its power and made the earth tremble for the empires that opposed its dominion. Jerusalem was the cradle of the world's ultimate faith. Religion is the fundamental matter in human life. Knowledge comes and goes; power is temporal, but religion stands eternally. Forms and creeds alter with the ages. The ancients bowed before serpents and defied the mysteries, but religion was stripped of extraneous ceremonies and emerged finally to the worship of one God and found its first abiding place in Jerusalem.

"Empires attached to religious principles will endure. Mohammedanism, with all its truth and error, has withstood the attack of ages because its roots have been sunk deep into the consciousness of religion. The political, social and labor organizations will be enduring or fleeting just as they send their roots into religious truths. Religion in every human life is a fundamental thing.

"The Jews have been scattered over the world for 29 centuries but have defied the attacks of the world and retain their religious individuality. He is preeminently the religious man and Jerusalem razed to the ground did not utterly banish his religion, protected as it is by the laws of Moses and the words of the prophets. Jerusalem marked a new era in the history of the world. It is the mother of a distinctly refining force and stands for refinement as nothing else does. It has been said the mind grows by what it feeds upon but I say it grows like what it feeds upon. Nero ate red flesh and was a brute, the incarnation of the devil. Lions do not smell flowers but hunt for blood. The mind takes on character and ideals by what it feeds upon. You will take on coarseness of the civilization upon which you feed and a man vulgar and polluted can be picked out from among many. On the other hand the man who feeds upon religious truths and strives for manhood can safely be distinguished.

SKIRTS FOR THE LITTLE LADIES.

We have just received a lot of dainty Dress Skirts in short lengths, prettily trimmed with satin ribbon and mercerized lined. These Skirts are well worth $3.75 each but for this week you take your pick at..... $2.98

THE HOME OF LOW PRICES THE LEADER. KNOWLES BLOCK WASHINGTON ST.

"Manhood can be taken from environment. If you would be licentious seek Dinana at the Greek capital, if you would be brutal, go to Rome and Nero, if degraded and self-indulgent go to Babylon and neighbor with Nebuchadnezzar, if you seek elevation and pure thoughts, to the great city of Jerusalem. Life's ideal is not coarseness. Time is not given to be spoiled by loafing. Remember, man was given to rise in supreme majesty and become a proud citizen."

A LARGE NUMBER
OF NEW MEMBERS

Fifty-Five Were Added to the Roll at the First Presbyterian Church Sunday.

The ordinance of communion was celebrated yesterday morning at the First Presbyterian church and 55 members were added to the church roll, several by letter from churches of other cities, but the majority by profession of faith. It is with a great degree of satisfaction that the report of the work in the church during the pastorate of Rev. Mr. Jordan is referred to by members of his congregation. With the additional members added yesterday the total increase during his pastorate reaches 472. This is probably the best record in the Steubenville presbytery.

The advancement has also been marked in the Sunday school, the increase of the past two years being nearly 70 per cent. The enrollment of the school yesterday was 550.

DR. JONES PREACHED
TO THE PYTHIANS

An Able and Interesting Sermon on the Need of Helping One Another.

Rev. David Jones, D. D., preached a sermon yesterday morning to the Knights of Pythias and the members of the order were out in large numbers to hear it. The helplessness of one man to accomplish great things by his own strength and the assistance he may derive from close association with and dependence upon others, was part of the theme. He said in part: "The law of well being and progress depends almost entirely on the law of dependence and help. A man may be seemingly great but he can do very little in this world by his own strength. He must call for help from others. Nations cannot exist independently, let its riches be ever so great for when it severs its connection with other nations it falls into ruin and decay.

"In crude conditions of society the wants of communities and individuals are few but as civilization advances man's wants multiply. Science has revolutionized the world and nature has given up valued secrets to the research of men—not man. No discovery was made without assistance and no man can say 'I alone did this.'

"How many in the pottery industry can make a piece of ware unassisted? Very few, if any. Every process requires a distinct order of skill; each step a knowledge not needed in the previous stages of development. This is true of all industries and shows that the law operates in the industrial as well as the social world. Trade and commerce come under the same law. No one is independent and no one can work without the assistance of another. Progress is made only in so far as men are willing to help one another.

"Men are compelled to obey the law; it is compulsory. There is no alternative, he must receive help from his fellows.

"This law comes into human life, we are liable to disease and changes of fortune and circumstances and would perish unless assistance came to us. How strong the law is! God ordains that one man shall help another, so if your neighbor is hungry you must feed him, if naked clothe him, if homeless give him society and friendship.

"God is powerless to help without your assistance for God works through man. It is an ennobling thought that we are co-operating with God. What a helpless creature is man alone. Yet a giant when he unites with others.

"God has united men, has bound them together as a web and you cannot touch a strand of it without shaking the fabric and disturbing the whole world. The Knights of Pythias as an order is comparatively young, less than 40 years old but has 300,000 members. What a vast influence it has! How many homes has it placed over the defenseless heads of humanity. How much suffering has been soothed. You have obeyed this law and helped your brother. May God bless your order. No man can grasp the good it has done."

A SERMON UPON
THE GREATEST SIN

Grieving the Holy Spirit the Greatest Wrong Any Man Can Do.

Excellent music and an eloquent sermon, both combined with a spiritual blessing, which was in evidence throughout the congregation, made the special evangelistic services last evening at the First United Presbyterian church, conducted by Rev. Leslie Hawk, of Toledo, most impressive, interesting and enjoyable to the immense gathering present.

The evangelist has made a specialty of conducting such services and his manner is commendable and pleasing. After preaching ably on the subject, "The Greatest Sin," he had cards passed among the members of the congregation for their signatures, which, when appended, pledged themselves to lead a better life and the acceptance of Jesus Christ. There were numerous cards signed, showing that the evangelist's work had not been fruitless and on the other hand very successful.

In part Dr. Hawk said: "There has been a church in the world since the first believers were in evidence. God has always provided a dispensation of His life, that from which we are to take lessons and live by. The first dispensation came through Moses and was called the Mosaic law. It continued until Christ came to earth. He brought with him the dispensation of the Holy Spirit. The three then were Father, Son and Holy Ghost. The three combined make the godhead. All three are God. How one can be three and three one is more than I can explain. There is no man that understands it. If there were God would not be God.

"There are things that we are not supposed to understand, that our minds are not capable of conceiving. This is one of them. The last of the godhead, the Holy Spirit, is one of the most important of the three. He is the agent of God in the world. My text, taken from Ephesians 4:30, 'Grieve not the Holy Spirit of God, whereby ye are sealed until the day of redemption,' gives the essence of my sermon. The greatest sin that can be committed, with the exception of the unpardonable sin, is to grieve the Holy Spirit.

"The Holy Spirit is sensitive to the touch of sin. All sin grieves the Spirit. We are all sinners and grieve the Spirit. It is because He loves us. We should beware. The Spirit can be so grieved that it will depart from us and once that is done we are doomed, damned and our destiny is stilled forever."

Many conclusions were drawn and lessons pictured by the exhorter and his words were eagerly grasped. There will be meetings every night this week, and commencing tomorrow short services will be held in the afternoons.

What's the secret of happy, vigorous health? Simply keeping the bowels, the stomach, the liver and kidneys strong and active. Burdock Blood Bitters does it.

Take advantage of our Discount Sale on all Overcoats and Suits. This is the last week.

THE SURPRISE CLOTHING HOUSE.

The Union Savings Bank
Of Pittsburgh

Capital, $1,000,000

The Capital Stock of $1,000,000

and the names of its Directors are a guarantee of soundness and of safe, conservative management.

4 Per Cent. Interest

Compounded semi-annually

Deposits of any amount accepted by mail

Write for the Booklet

DIRECTORS

H. C. Frick	H. C. McDowney	D. E. Park	R. B. Mellon
W. N. Frew	A. W. Mellon	H. C. Fownes	F. J. Hearne
James McCrea	James H. Lockhart	J. B. Finley	John Porterfield
Geo. I. Whitney	J. M. Schoonmaker	P. C. Knox	Geo. E. Shaw

OPEN SATURDAY EVENINGS

Frick Building

Pittsburgh

ANNOUNCEMENT

We have opened a branch office in East Liverpool at Rooms 5 and 6, Potters National Bank Building, under the management of Mr. Thomas Healey, with direct wire to our main office in Pittsburg.

Our extensive system of private wires—east and west—enables us to quickly execute orders on all leading exchanges.

EDWARD T. C. SLEASE & CO.,
Bankers and Brokers,

Telephones—Bell 525, Columbiana County 382.

TO CALIFORNIA.
COLONIST RATES
VIA SOUTHERN PACIFIC,
February 15th to April 30th,
FROM

Pittsburg.....	$42 00
Chicago.....	33 00
St. Louis.....	30 00
New Orleans.....	30 00
Missouri River.....	25 00

California literature mailed free to any address, full particulars apply to
G. O. HERRING,
No. 515 Park Bldg.,
Pittsburg, Pa.

Pittsburg and Cincinnati Packet Line.

Stops for Wheeling, Marietta, Parkersburg, Gallipolis, Huntington, Ironton, Portsmouth, Cincinnati, Louisville, Memphis, St. Louis, New Orleans and way landings. Leave wharftown foot of Broadway, down as follows: Steamer Keystone State, Monday 9 p. m.; Queen City, Wednesday, 9 p. m.; Virginia, Saturday, 9 p. m. Up the river, Keystone State, Sunday, 2 p. m.; Queen City, Tuesday, 2 p. m.; Virginia, Friday, 2 p. m.
Fare, East Liverpool to Cincinnati, $4.50; round trip, $1 and $1.50 meals and berth included. For freight or passage apply to Gus Martindale, Agt., Broadway wharf. Both phones 85. Jas. A. Henderson, Gen. Mgr. Pittsburg.

Real Beauties

are the Diamonds, Jewelry, etc., that we are offering on reasonable payments. Our stock is complete.

Pianos, Organs, other musical goods and Sewing Machines on monthly payments.

J. M. BUCKLE,
(Successor to Lacey & Buckle.)
Mulberry St., East End.

EAST END

TWENTY-SX ADDED
TO THE CHURCH ROLLS

Large Increase of Second Presbyterian Church Membership Results from Special Services.

The services at the Second Presbyterian church yesterday were the most successful ever held since the organization of the church. Rev. N. M. Crowe, the pastor, preached two fine sermons to the largest audiences ever gathered in the church. The regular communion services were held and Prof. Morton sang several selections in a beautiful manner. The communion service was the closing service of the series of meetings lasting three weeks at this church, and the result of these meetings has been to awaken the church as never before.

Twenty-six new members were received into the church yesterday and 15 of them were heads of families. It is seldom that a revival appeals to the older persons with such great force as the series of meetings just closed. The proportion of heads of families is usually much smaller than that given above. The condition of the church at present is more prosperous than ever before. The members, as well as the pastor, are all greatly pleased with the outcome of the meetings and propose to keep up the interest all through the year. Prof. Morton, who so ably assisted by his music during the meetings, left this morning for his home in Pittsburgh. The members of the church will always remember his sweet singing, and the prominent part it played in winning so many souls to Christ.

The meetings at the Erie street M. E. church closed yesterday with very interesting services. Rev. G. W. Orcutt preached a thoughtful sermon to a large congregation. The revival services, which have been in progress there for several weeks, closed Friday evening, but the last service of a revival nature was held last night. A large number of persons have joined the church since these meetings began and many have professed conversion. Wednesday night Rev. Mr. Orcutt will begin a series of sermons to be preached instead of the regular mid-week prayer meetings.

The services at the Second U. P. church were particularly interesting yesterday. Rev. G. W. McCracken, of Monmouth, Ill., preached at both services to a well-filled house. He chose for his morning topic, "Heaven As a Place." In the evening he preached from "Prisoners of Hope." The sermons were bright and pointed and the congregation was delighted with both discourses.

PAYING ELECTION BETS

Large Amount of Money Changed Hands in the East End District.

All was quiet and serene in the East End this morning. It was similar to the quiet after a great storm. The principal business transacted was the paying of election wagers. But few if any persons with any sporting inclinations whatever failed to make a bet of some kind on the result. At least half dozen East Enders are several hundred dollars out of pocket apiece. Many backed the East End candidate to win, but a larger amount was wagered that he would win over Nice. The latter bets are of course yet undecided, as the returns indicate a tie vote between Nice and Marshall.

Yesterday was very quiet, as hardly anyone could realize that the fight had terminated as it did. Now that the nominations have been made business will again assume its usual activity, and in a few days everything will go along as though nothing had happened.

The nomination of Smith over Thomas for council, was a surprise to

WHEN YOU BUY

Meredith's Diamond Club Pure Rye whiskey you get the highest grade whiskey made. That's why it's best for medicinal purposes and preferred for other uses. That's why you should try it. Send the tops to us and you will get the mug.

G. W. MEREDITH & CO.
177 Market St., East Liverpool, O.

many, as the former was late in entering the fight. However, bets of 2 to 1 were offered on Smith late Saturday afternoon and found no takers.

Gypsy Camp Still Stays.

The gypsy camp which has been located below the East End school building still thrives. They have about eight wagons and each one seems to contain several different families, at least when they all come out. There are not half as many as camped in the East End a year ago, and they appear to be more quiet than those that camped in Calhoun's addition. The camp was visited yesterday by quite a number of persons and many had their fortunes told them.

Bridge Building Next.

The stonemasons reached the East End this morning to begin work on the abutments of the new bridges to be erected by the C. & P. railroad. The company has finished the greater part of the grading for its double track through the East End and now proposes to build the bridges necessary at once. The first bridge to be put in will be between the East End and Smith's Ferry.

Many Vaccinated.

A large number of residents of the East End are nursing sore arms today. A great many children and persons who had never been vaccinated, visited a physician when the recent case of smallpox appeared in the East End and were vaccinated. Their arms are now beginning to get sore, but no one has yet been reported seriously ill.

EAST END AFFAIRS.

A successful dance was held Saturday night at the Columbian park. Born to Mr. and Mrs. Edward Long, of St. George street, Saturday night a daughter.

Will Hutchinson, mouldrunner at the Klondike pottery, is confined to his home on account of sickness.

George Wilson, jiggerman, at the Klondike pottery, is unable to be at work today on account of sickness.

Mrs. A. Searight has returned to her home on Pennsylvania avenue after a week's visit with relatives in Pittsburgh.

Henry Goodballet, of First avenue, is much improved after an illness lasting a couple of months with typhoid fever.

J. S. Noah, of Virginia avenue, is confined to the house with an attack of grip. His little daughter, who has been ill, is improving.

T. J. Kerr has returned after a week's visit in Missouri, where he was inspecting the property of the East Liverpool Lead & Zinc company. He brought back with him about 50 pounds of ore that tests 86 per cent pure.

The condition of Bryan, the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. D. F. White, of Railroad street, is unchanged. The funeral of the twin brother of the little fellow who died Friday was held yesterday afternoon at the house. Interment at Riverview cemetery.

COUNTY AND NEIGHBORHOOD

Wheeling banks have decided to pay only 3 per cent interest on deposits hereafter.

Chas. W. Fulton, Republican, who has been elected senator from Oregon, was born in Ohio in 1853.

John Taylor, aged 78, for 50 years a resident of Salem, died of blood poisoning, caused by an injury to his hand.

John P. Vance, son of the late Rev. John A. Vance, formerly of New Castle, Pa., was frozen to death while on a surveying expedition to Canada.

C. B. Allman, prominent in Massillon business and social circles, and member of the firm of Allman & Putman, died suddenly of paralysis, aged 60 years.

At Ravenna Mr. and Mrs. Austin Blackman celebrated their 65th wedding anniversary. February 22, 1838, Mr. Blackman and Miss Jane G. Hickox were married in Aurora.

Lloyd Austin and John Baum, of Marlboro, were lodged in jail, charged with having robbed Vernon Clayton, of that town, of $100. Both men are very prominent. They were released on bail.

At Gallon a horse kicked at a dog being playfully patted by John Groll, aged 31. The hoof struck Groll in the cheek, crushing it, fracturing the skull and breaking his neck. Groll lived 20 minutes.

THE JOURNEY
TO JERUSALUM

A Scholarly Lecture Addressed to Young Men by Rev. Dr. M. B. Pratt.

A NEW EPOCH IN HISTORY

Marked by the Founding of the Hebrew Capital, the Cradle of the World's Faith—Services in the Local Churches.

Tolse who accompanied Rev. Dr. Pratt, and there were many, on his "Journey to Jerusalem" at the opera house yesterday afternoon were highly pleased and edified. Those, however, who expected to hear the sacred places of the ancient Hebrew capital described were disappointed, for the lecturer described it only as one of the five great capitals, which in turn flourished and waned as centers of different forms of religious worship. His discourse showed a thorough and critical knowledge and conception of the sacred and profane history of the ages.

Mrs. Homer Knowles sang "The Holy City," which was illustrated with stereoscopic views by Dr. Birkett. Mrs. Knowles possesses a beautiful and cultured voice and her rendition of this touching refrain greatly pleased and impressed the large audience. The lecturer answered the query, "Should the young man of corrupt morals be favorably received in the better class of society?" but dismissed with a few words several which might be called catch questions. "The privilege of society is a gift and great benefits are derived from it when properly conducted and guarded. It is a great safeguard to an everlasting civilization, a factor that determines human character. Society should not be degraded for it has a holy mission in its sphere as has the church. Excluding vices is a premium on virtue, and by all means immorality should not be tolerated.

REV. R. A. JENNINGS.

Associate pastor and musical director, First M. E. church.

"The world has known five great capitals, noted for their splendor, for their wealth and as centers of religious worship in one form or another. Thebes in the valley of the Nile, noted for its architecture, mechanical achievements and great influence. The pyramids were their accomplishments. Babylon, the Chaldean capital on the banks of the Euphrates was in turn one of the world's mightiest cities; Athens, the capital of ancient Greece, was celebrated for its art, architecture and literature, but Rome grasped its power and made the earth tremble for the empires that opposed its domination. Jerusalem was the cradle of the world's ultimate faith. Religion is the fundamental matter in human life. Knowledge comes and goes; power is temporal, but religion stands eternally. Forms and creeds alter with the ages. The ancients bowed before serpents and deified the mysteries, but religion was stripped of extraneous ceremonies and emerged finally to the worship of one God and found its first abiding place in Jerusalem.

"Empires attached to religious principles will endure. Mohammedanism, with all its truth and error, has withstood the attack of ages because its roots have been sunk deep into the consciousness of religion. The political, social and labor organizations will be enduring or fleeting just as they send their roots into religious truths. Religion in every human life is a fundamental thing.

"The Jews have been scattered over the world for 20 centuries but have defied the attacks of the world and retain their religious individuality. He is preeminently the religious man and Jerusalem razed to the ground did not utterly banish his religion, protected as it is by the laws of Moses and the words of the prophets. Jerusalem marked a new era in the history of

SKIRTS FOR THE LITTLE LADIES.

We have just received a lot of dainty Dress Skirts in short lengths, prettily trimmed with satin ribbon and mercerized lined. These Skirts are well worth $3.75 each but for this week you take your pick at $2.98

THE HOME OF LOW PRICES

THE LEADER.

KNOWLES BLOCK
WASHINGTON ST.

the world. It is the mother of a distinctly refining force and stands for refinement as nothing else does. It has been said the mind grows by what it feeds upon but I say it grows like what it feeds upon. Nero ate red flesh and was a brute, the incarnation of the devil. Lions do not smell flowers but hunt for blood. The mind takes on character and ideals by what it feeds upon. You will take on coarseness of the civilization upon which you feed and a man vulgar and polluted can be picked out from among many. On the other hand the man who feeds upon religious truths and strives for manhood can safely be distinguished.

"Manhood can be taken from environment. If you would be licentious seek Dinana at the Greek capital. If you would be brutal, go to Rome and Nero, if degraded and self-indulgent go to Babylon and neighbor with Nebuchadnezzar, if you seek elevation and pure thoughts, to the great city of Jerusalem. Life's ideal is not coarseness. Time is not given to be spoiled by loafing. Remember, man was given to rise in supreme majesty and become a proud citizen."

A LARGE NUMBER
OF NEW MEMBERS

Fifty-Five Were Added to the Roll at the First Presbyterian Church Sunday.

The ordinance of communion was celebrated yesterday morning at the First Presbyterian church and 55 members were added to the church roll, several by letter from churches of other cities, but the majority by profession of faith. It is with a great degree of satisfaction that the report of the work in the church during the pastorate of Rev. Mr. Jordan is referred to by members of his congregation. With the additional members added yesterday the total increase during his pastorate reaches 472. This is probably the best record in the Steubenville presbytery.

The advancement has also been marked in the Sunday school, the increase of the past two years being nearly 70 per cent. The enrollment of the school yesterday was 550.

DR. JONES PREACHED
TO THE PYTHIANS

An Able and Interesting Sermon on the Need of Helping One Another.

Rev. David Jones, D. D., preached a sermon yesterday morning to the Knights of Pythias and the members of the order were out in large numbers to hear it. The helplessness of one man to accomplish great things by his own strength and the assistance he may derive from close association with and dependence upon others, was part of the theme. He said in part:

"The law of well being and progress depends almost entirely on the law of dependence and help. A man may be seemingly great but he can do very little in this world by his own strength. He must call for help from others. Nations cannot exist independently, let its riches be ever so great for when it severs its connection with other nations it falls into ruin and decay.

"In crude conditions of society the wants of communities and individuals are few but as civilization advances man's wants multiply. Science has revolutionized the world and nature has given up valued secrets to the research of men—not man. No discovery was made without assistance and no man can say 'I alone did this.'

"How many in the pottery industry can make a piece of ware unassisted? Very few, if any. Every process requires a distinct order of skill; each step a knowledge not needed in the previous stages of development. This is true of all industries and shows that the law operates in the industrial as well as the social world. Trade and commerce come under the same law. No one is independent and no one can work without the assistance of another. Progress is made only in so far as men are willing to help one another.

"Men are compelled to obey the law; it is compulsory. There is no alternative, he must receive help from his fellows.

"This law comes into human life, we are liable to disease and changes of fortune and circumstances and would perish unless assistance came to us. How strong the law is her! God ordains that one man shall help another, so if your neighbor is hungry you must feed him, if naked clothe him, if lonesome give him society and friendship.

"God is powerless to help without your assistance for God works through man. It is an ennobling thought that we are co-operating with God. What a helpless creature is man alone. Yet a giant when he unites with others.

"God has united men, has bound them together as a web and you cannot touch a strand of it without shaking the fabric and disturbing the whole world. The Knights of Pythias as an order is comparatively young, less than 40 years old but has 300,000 members. What a vast influence it has! How many homes has it placed over the defenseless heads of humanity. How much suffering has been soothed. You have obeyed this law and helped your brother. May God bless your order. No man can grasp the good it has done."

A SERMON UPON
THE GREATEST SIN

Grieving the Holy Spirit the Greatest Wrong Any Man Can Do.

Excellent music and an eloquent sermon, both combined with a spiritual blessing, which was in evidence throughout the congregation, made the special evangelistic services last evening at the First United Presbyterian church, conducted by Rev. Leslie Hawk, of Toledo, most impressive, interesting and enjoyable to the immense gathering present.

The evangelist has made a specialty of conducting such services and his manner is commendable and pleasing. After preaching ably on the subject, "The Greatest Sin," he had cards passed among the members of the congregation for their signatures, which, when appended, pledged themselves to lead a better life and the acceptance of Jesus Christ. There were numerous cards signed, showing that the evangelist's work had not been fruitless and on the other hand very successful.

In part Dr. Hawk said: "There has been a church in the world since the first believers were in evidence. God has always provided a dispensation of His life, that from which we are to take lessons and live by. The first dispensation came through Moses and was called the Mosaic law. It continued until Christ came to earth. He brought with him the dispensation of the Holy Spirit. The three then were Father, Son and Holy Ghost. The three combined make the godhead. All three are God. How one can be three and three one is more than I can explain. There is no man that understands it. If there were God would not be God.

"There are things that we are not supposed to understand, that our minds are not capable of conceiving. This is one of them. The last of the godhead, the Holy Spirit, is one of the most important of the three. He is the agent of God in the world. My text, taken from Ephesians 4:30, 'Grieve not the Holy Spirit of God, whereby ye are sealed until the day of redemption,' gives the essence of my sermon. The greatest sin that can be committed, with the exception of the unpardonable sin, is to grieve the Holy Spirit.

"The Holy Spirit is sensitive to the touch of sin. All sin grieves the Spirit. We are all sinners and grieve the Spirit. It is because He loves us. We should beware. The Spirit can be so grieved that it will depart from us and once that is done we are doomed, damned and our destiny is sealed forever."

Many conclusions were drawn and lessons pictured by the exhorter and his words were eagerly grasped. There will be meetings every night this week, and commencing tomorrow short services will be held in the afternoons.

What's the secret of happy, vigorous health? Simply keeping the bowels, the stomach, the liver and kidneys strong and active. Burdock Blood Bitters does it.

Take advantage of our Discount Sale on all Overcoats and Suits. This is the last week.

THE SURPRISE CLOTHING HOUSE

The Union Savings Bank
Of Pittsburgh

Capital, $1,000,000

The Capital Stock of $1,000,000

and the names of its Directors are a guarantee of soundness and of safe, conservative management.

4 Per Cent. Interest

Compounded semi-annually

Deposits of any amount accepted by mail

Write for the Booklet

DIRECTORS

H. C. Frick	H. C. McDowney	D. E. Park	R. B. Mellon
W. N. Frew	A. W. Mellon	H. C. Fownes	F. J. Hearne
James McCrea	James H. Lockhart	J. B. Finley	John Porterfield
Geo. I. Whitney	J. M. Schoonmaker	P. C. Knox	Geo. E. Shaw

OPEN SATURDAY EVENINGS

Frick Building

Pittsburgh

ANNOUNCEMENT

We have opened a branch office in East Liverpool at Rooms 5 and 6, Potters National Bank Building, under the management of Mr. Thomas Healey, with direct wire to our main office in Pittsburgh.

Our extensive system of private wires—east and west—enables us to quickly execute orders on all leading exchanges.

EDWARD T. C. SLEASE & CO.,

Bankers and Brokers,

Telephones—Bell 525. Columbiana County 382.

TO CALIFORNIA.
COLONIST RATES
VIA

SOUTHERN PACIFIC,
February 15th to April 30th,
FROM

Pittsburg.....	$42 00
Chicago.....	33 00
St. Louis.....	30 00
New Orleans.....	30 00
Missouri River.....	25 00

California literature mailed free to any address, full particulars apply to

G. O. HERRING,
No. 515 Park Bldg.,
Pittsburg, Pa.

Pittsburg and Cincinnati Packet Line.

Rts. for Wheeling, Marietta, Parkersburg, Gallipolis, Huntington, Ironton, Portsmouth, Cincinnati, Louisville, Memphis, St. Louis, New Orleans and way landings. Leave whatabout foot of Broadway, down as follows: Steamer Keystone State, Monday 9 p.m.; Queen City, Wednesday 9 p.m.; Virginia, Saturday 9 p.m. Up the river, Keystone State, Sunday 2 p.m.; Queen City, Tuesday 2 p.m.; Virginia, Friday 2 p.m. Fare, East Liverpool to Cincinnati, $3.50; round trip, $11 and $12, meals and berth included. For freight or passage apply to Gus Martindill, Agt., Broadway wharf. Both phones 35. Jas. A. Henderson, Gen. Mgr. Pittsburg.

Real Beauties

are the Diamonds, Jewelry, etc., that we are offering on reasonable payments. Our stock is complete.

Pianos, Organs, other musical goods and Sewing Machines on monthly payments.

J. M. BUCKLE,

(Successor to Lacey & Buckle.)
Mulberry St., East End.

The News Review

Daily Except Sunday.

BRUSH BROS. PROP'S.

LOUIS H. BRUSH, Manager.

The News Review, Daily,

Established 1884. By mail, one year, $5.00; six months, $3.00; three months, $1.75; by carrier $5.00; ten cents per week.

The Saturday Review, Weekly,

Established 1879. By mail one year, $1.00 in advance; six months, 50 cents; three months, 25 cents.

Official Papers

of the City of East Liverpool and Columbiana County

Office 196 Washington Street.

Bell Telephone.

Business Office, No. 127

Editorial Room, No. 127

Columbiana County Telephone.

Business Office, No. 127

Editorial Room, No. 127

CHARLES S. PATTESON,

Manager of Foreign Advertising, 623 Temple Court, New York.

CITY AND TOWNSHIP TICKET.

Mayor—THOMAS V. THOMPSON.
President of C. M. H. H. HOWELL.
City and Township Treasurer—CHRIS HOFMAN.

City Solicitor—GEORGE E. DAVIDSON.
Board of Public Service—JOHN S. TAYLOR, W. L. SMITH, JACOB SHENKEL.
Commissioner of Public Works—HOS. BARKOW.
HENRY E. BULLOCK, E. N. CROXALL.
Council, Second Ward—ZELI T. SMITH.
Council, Second Ward—BUDG. JOHN.

Council, Third Ward—HOWARD E. M. STON.
Council, Fourth Ward—THOS. CANNON.
Justice of the Peace—H. P. McCARRON.
Treasurer—W. L. COLEMAN.
Treasurer—JOSEPH BEARD.
MORSE.

Board of Education—W. B. HILL, E. M. KNOWLES, JESSE H. SMITH.

CIRCULATION STATEMENT.

The sworn paid circulation of THE EVENING NEWS REVIEW for the month of January, 1903, was 81,106. Average for the month, 3,119.

The following are the figures for each issue:

January 1	HOLIDAY.
January 2		3,011
January 3		2,975
January 4	SUNDAY.
January 5		3,020
January 6		3,060
January 7		2,994
January 8		2,991
January 9		3,017
January 10		2,991
January 11	SUNDAY.
January 12		3,028
January 13		3,086
January 14		3,065
January 15		3,035
January 16		3,151
January 17		3,104
January 18	SUNDAY.
January 19		3,027
January 20		3,054
January 21		3,358
January 22		3,114
January 23		3,107
January 24		3,208
January 25	SUNDAY.
January 26		3,121
January 27		3,112
January 28		3,123
January 29		3,104
January 30		3,112
January 31		3,138
Total		81,106
Average		3,119

Columbiana County, State of Ohio, ss.

I, Louis H. Brush, publisher of the Evening News Review, swear that the above statement is true.

LOUIS H. BRUSH.

Sworn to and subscribed to in my presence this 2d of February, 1903.

J. S. HILBERT,

Notary Public.

MONDAY, FEBRUARY 23, 1903.

The Republican primaries are over, thus virtually deciding who shall be the first to hold office in East Liverpool under the new municipal code. The contest, especially that for the head of the ticket, was one of the most strenuous and earnest that the city has ever seen. That the popular chief of police won the mayoralty nomination over three strong candidates speaks volumes for his standing in the community and public confidence in him. For the board of public service, which will have large authority in deciding what public improvements shall be carried out and how the people's money shall be spent, it is certainly most gratifying to know that the people showed their appreciation of the importance of this new official body and chose for candidates men of such excellent qualifications as Messrs. Taylor, Smith and Shenkel. In the hands of these gentlemen that part of the city administration which relates to matters most closely concerning the interests of taxpayers and citizens generally will be capably and conservatively conducted. For president of council and members of that body, both at large and representing the several wards, men who are well known and trusted have been nominated; and, best of all, there are in the list several who have had experience as city legislators and who are familiar with the affairs of the municipality.

That Tired Feeling

Is a Common Spring Trouble.

It's a sign that the blood is deficient in vitality, just as pimples and other eruptions are signs that the blood is impure.

It's a warning, too, which only the hazardous fail to heed.

Hood's Sarsaparilla and Pills

Remove it, give new life, new courage, strength and animation.

They cleanse the blood and clear the complexion.

Accept no substitute.

"I felt tired all the time and could not sleep. After taking Hood's Sarsaparilla a while I could sleep well and the tired feeling had gone. This great medicine has also cured me of scrofula." Mrs. C. M. Root, Gilead, Conn.

Hood's Sarsaparilla promises to cure and keeps the promise.

as well as having knowledge of what new legislation is needed. The remaining nominees are men generally well known throughout the city, and that the majority of them found no opposition in securing a place on the ticket is excellent evidence that the voters believe them to be the right men for the office. The News Review takes pleasure in endorsing the ticket which the party has chosen and in giving it hearty support. All the candidates for the principal offices have gone on record with pledges of honesty and faithfulness and determination to execute the laws impartially should they be elected, and it will be the duty of press and people to hold them to strict accountability in keeping these promises. Our city has much to be proud of, and it should have, first of all, such good government that that will be among its proudest and most valued possessions.

The News Review on Saturday evening showed its appreciation of popular interest in election results by issuing four successive extras, beginning at 9 p. m., and giving in each the latest and fullest returns which it was possible to secure up to the hour of going to press. The last extra, issued a few minutes after the count of the entire city was completed, gave the names of every nominee, as well as the total vote for every candidate in every precinct of the city and township. This meant a vast amount of hard work and hustling, but that the public thoroughly appreciated the enterprise of the News Review was shown by the fact that these extras sold almost as rapidly as the newsboys could hand them out. The last edition, with election returns complete, went to every subscriber in the city, enabling them to digest the news along with their Sunday morning breakfast, instead of waiting a day longer for the information which everybody sought, as they would have been compelled to do but for the provision made by the News Review to supply their wants.

The men who sought nominations and missed them will be just as enthusiastic in the support of the ticket as anybody else. Disappointment for some is inevitable in all political contests, but with Republicans it leads to no bitterness and no sulking.

Recent presidential appointments show that the man of merit gets there. Political pulls count for nothing with Roosevelt.

OBITUARY

Richard Burrows.

The funeral services of Richard Burrows, Sr., who died Saturday afternoon at his home near Thompson park from dropsy, will be held at the residence tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock. Rev. Dr. David Jones, of the M. P. church, will officiate. The interment will be made in Riverview cemetery. Mr. Burrows was 72 years of age.

SKIN CHAPPING

Do your hands look like a washwoman's or like a corn-huskers?

ANDERSON'S Cream of Rose Lotion

is a quick, pleasant relief and cure for chapping and skin roughness. You will look a long time before you find anything better.

Price, 10 and 25 Cents.

C. G. ANDERSON, Druggist. Diamond.

rows was 52 years of age, and came to this city 20 years ago from England. He was twice married and his second wife survives him. The children are Richard, Alice, Sidney, of this city, and Frank, of Cleveland, and Mary, of Pittsburgh; Malvern, aged 2 years, and a baby four days old.

FRIENDS AND VISITORS

G. H. A. Hunt was a business visitor in Pittsburgh Saturday.

James Spencer, of Broadway, is seriously ill with an attack of grip.

Earl Brownfield, of Calcutta street, is critically ill with typhoid fever.

Mrs. Presley Todd, of Chester, is confined to the house with a severe case of grip.

Mrs. Van Denning, of Calcutta street, is seriously ill at her home with bronchitis.

Theodore Carson and son, David, of Steubenville, were the guests of friends and relatives yesterday.

Miss Jennie Phillips, who has been visiting her parents at Burgettstown, Pa., has returned to her home in this city.

Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Knowles returned yesterday from an eastern trip after spending some time in New York City.

Mrs. Willard Say and Miss Moore, of Oil City, who have been the guests of George S. Goodwin returned home today.

George S. Goodwin leaves today for a business and pleasure trip in the south. He will remain at New Orleans for two weeks.

Mrs. H. Estrakamp, who has been making an extended visit with relatives at Covington, Ky., is expected home early this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Weaver, of New Cumberland, are visiting Mr. Weaver's grandmother, Mrs. Lydia Weaver, 251 Third street.

George Drake, whose illness with the mumps was mentioned a few days ago, is now very seriously ill. He is threatened with typhoid fever.

J. E. Keegan, vice president and general manager of the Columbia Oil & Gas company, of Woodfield, O., is a business visitor in East Liverpool.

Messrs. Harry T. Hall, of the Dollar Savings bank, and Irwin Dunlap, of the Citizens' National, left Saturday for Pittsburgh to attend the annual convention of the Pennsylvania Bankers' association.

Bishop Merrill Seriously Ill.

Chicago, Feb. 23.—Bishop Stephen M. Merrill, of the Methodist Episcopal church, is seriously ill at the Wesley hospital here, with pneumonia. The bishop was suffering severely Saturday with a cold which had troubled him for several days and he went to the hospital for a few days' rest. Pneumonia developed early yesterday. It was said last night that he was holding his own and his physicians were confident that he would recover.

Bubonic Plague Abating.

Mazatlan, Feb. 23.—There were no deaths from the plague yesterday. One case of the disease occurred at the barracks of the gendarmes and the entire force was sent to the observation station. There is a more hopeful feeling now that it begins to be evident that the sanitary precautions are having the expected effect. There will be no abatement of the rigorous enforcement of the sanitary regulations.

Drank Wood Alcohol.

Schenectady, N. Y., Feb. 23.—Mrs. George Stave, aged 52, and her daughter, Mrs. Lennel David, aged 27, died yesterday from drinking wood alcohol. They had been accustomed to drinking small quantities of hot diluted grain alcohol to relieve illness and during the night, neither one being well, they prepared by mistake wood alcohol and drank it. They survived several hours and died within an hour of each other.

Son Kills Father.

New Orleans, Feb. 23.—Peter Farrell, one of the leading local Democratic politicians and state coal ganger, was shot and killed by his eldest son, Edward, yesterday. The family claims that in a fit of ungovernable temper Farrell attempted to kill Edward and George, his eldest boys, for misconduct and Edward wrested the pistol from him and fired three shots into his father's heart. The boy surrendered.

Body Thrown Upon Depot Roof.

Greensburg, Pa., Feb. 23.—While driving across the Pennsylvania railroad tracks at New Florence, yesterday morning, Wallace Killen, aged 19, was struck by a train and killed. His body was thrown almost 30 feet and struck on the depot roof. His horse was also killed.

Four Killed.

Bloomington, Ill., Feb. 23.—The Kansas City limited on the Chicago and Alton railroad last night struck a wagon, containing five Italian coal miners south of Braceville, killed four of the men and fatally injured the fifth man.

Died in Church.

Cleveland, O., Feb. 23.—Ex-Police Judge R. D. Undergraff died suddenly of heart disease in Plymouth church last night. He was 55 years old. He was prominent in law practice and had been a member of the state legislature.

The Wade Jewelry Co., 164 Fifth street.

FEEDING A MILLION MOUTHS

There are a million little mouths in your skin ready to absorb whatever comes to them. What kind of soap do you feed them? We seldom reckon with the powers of absorption exercised by the pores of the skin, and yet it is possible for these little mouths to take in four quarts of water in twenty-four hours. No wonder impure toilet and bath soaps are so apt to produce skin diseases.

You can trust the soaps we sell you. We hand none but worthy brands, and by buying in quantities we are able to make low prices on them.

CHAS. F. CRAIG, DRUGGIST.

S. W. Cor. W. Fifth and Market Sts.

KILLED TRUST AND WON HONOR.

Judge Day's Opinion in Coal Combine Case Excited Admiration of President.

Washington, Feb. 23.—Now that the Hon. William R. Day of Canton, O., is about to assume his duties as an associate justice of the United States supreme court, it may be of public interest to state that his interpretation of the Sherman anti-trust law was a factor in determining the president to elevate him to a seat on the highest judicial tribunal in the United States.

As a judge of the United States circuit court of appeals Mr. Day handed down a decision last April which resulted in disrupting a coal combination formed for the purpose of controlling prices and stifling competition in the Kanawha district. In that decision he expounded the anti-trust act in such a clear and forceful manner that it excited the admiration of Mr. Roosevelt after he had read it, and at the time he was considering the question of whom to appoint to the place which was soon to be vacated by Justice Shiras. The decision carried the point in favor of Judge Day.

DR. LOEB'S RECENT DISCOVERY.

Says That Muscular and Nervous Diseases Can Be Cured By Administering Calcium Salts.

Chicago, Feb. 23.—Dr. Jacques Loeb has discovered that muscular and nervous diseases, such as St. Vitus' dance, paralysis agitans, locomotor ataxia and sleeplessness can be cured by administering calcium salts, that is, such salts as are found in well water and many foods.

Announcement of this discovery in scientific research by the former head of the department of physiology at the University of Chicago has just been made. In one of the decennial publications just issued by the University of Chicago press, Dr. Loeb tells of his experiment on lower forms of life and the conclusions suggested in regard to human beings.

Simply stated, the conclusion is that the presence of calcium salts in the muscles is what prevents their twitching, that practically all nervous diseases are caused by the absence of the calcium and that, therefore, to restore normal conditions and effect a cure, the cure is to dose with calcium salts.

Major General Foster Dying.

Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 23.—Major General Robert S. Foster is dying at his home here. Physicians say he can live but a few hours. He commanded the first division of the twenty-fourth corps in the Civil war, and headed off General Lee at Appomattox, causing his surrender. He was one of the founders of the G. A. R., and was its first junior vice commander. He was United States marshal for Indiana under President Garfield, and is now quartermaster-general of Indiana.

Held for Murder.

Cleveland, O., Feb. 23.—Joseph Corwin, a railroad man of Toledo, was arrested last night, and is held in connection with the murder of Maggie Snedegar, a few days ago. A watchman that was identified as belonging to the murdered woman, was found in Corwin's pocket by the police. He was arrested in the vicinity where the alleged murder occurred.

Four Foot Fall Is Fatal.

Cumberland, Md., Feb. 23.—Fred Snyder died at the hospital here Saturday night after a long illness. He was about four feet high and was working on a boat in one of the yards here, and slipped from a trestle and fell. His head coming in contact with a block. He weighed 200 pounds, and his weight, doubtless was the cause of his short fall proving fatal.

Reception to Mitchell.

Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 23.—President John Mitchell of the United Mine Workers of America, left last night for Springfield, Ill., where he will attend the convention of the Illinois miners and the joint conference with the operators which will follow. The citizens of Springfield will give a reception in his honor tonight.

It leads—the News Review.

REFORMS DEMANDED.

Russian and Austrian Ambassadors Present Identical Memoranda to Sultan.

MACEDONIAN BANDS ORGANIZED

Leaders Are Collecting and Equipping Armies to Oppose Turkish Troops.

Czar Recommends Papers to Abstain from Attacks on the Sultan.

Constantinople, Feb. 23.—The Austrian and Russian ambassadors presented Saturday to the grand vizier identical memoranda embodying the demands for reforms in Macedonia. They afterwards acquainted the foreign minister of the step taken. This course was adopted to give the proceedings a semi-official character.

The chief proposal made in the memoranda is the appointment of an inspector general for three years with ample powers to act independently and to requisition troops in case of emergency. The plan also provides for the reorganization of the gendarmerie and police under European instructors, for administrative and financial reforms and for a more equitable collection of taxes. These reforms do not affect the sultan's prerogatives or wound the religious susceptibilities of the muslimans.

Macedonian Bands Organized.

Vienna, Feb. 23.—It is reported that the Macedonian leader, Boris Sarafoff, has organized within the past fortnight several well-equipped Bulgarian bands in Macedonia, each consisting of about 250 men.

The Neue Freie Presse learns that 4,000 armed Macedonians are concentrated near the celebrated Rila monastery 40 miles from Sofia, and are preparing to attack the town of Melnik in the Turkish province of Seres.

There is unconfirmed rumor that the Albanians have attacked the Roumanian consulate at Mitrovitsa, Turkey, 20 miles northwest of Prishtina.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 23.—The government, in a secret circular sent to the Press, calls attention to the declaration published in the official Messenger, February 15, in which the newspapers are instructed to refrain from publishing articles hostile to Turkey in connection with the Macedonian situation. The circular states that the previous declaration clearly indicated the constant desire of the czar to promote peacefully and earnestly reforms in Turkey, and it recommends the papers to abstain from superfluous attacks upon the sultan and the Turkish government.

Another circular forbids the mention of the participation of the Russian government and its local agents in the construction of highways in Persia.

Ohio River 15 Miles Wide.

Evansville, Ind., Feb. 23.—The river continues to rise slowly here and at 9 o'clock last night stood 49.8 feet. It is thought it will come to a stand some time tonight or tomorrow morning. In some places between here and Paducah, Ky., the Ohio river is 15 miles wide and resembles a sea. Most river boats were delayed again yesterday. All the tributary streams of the Ohio are expected to begin falling by tonight. Reports received say the wheat crop in many sections will be destroyed. Thousands of acres of wheat are now under water.

Diphtheria relieved in twenty minutes. Almost miraculous. Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil. At any drug store.

J. M. KELLY, President.
GEO. W. BRADFORD, N. G. MACRUM, Vice President.

THE UNION BUILDING, LOAN AND TRUST COMPANY,

GRAND OPERA HOUSE BLOCK,
Given on Paid-up Stock.
Given on Savings Accounts

6 PER CENT INTEREST

Money to Loan at Lowest Rates

ASSETS OVER $300,000.00.

The First National Bank OF EAST LIVERPOOL, OHIO.

President—David Boyce.
Vice President—J. M. Kelly.
Cashier—N. G. Macrum.
Asst. Cashier—Thos. H. Fisher.

BOARD OF DIRECTORS:

David Boyce, W. L. Thompson,
J. M. Kelly, O. C. Vodrey,
B. C. Simms, Jno. C. Thompson,
N. G. Macrum.

CAPITAL $100,000
SURPLUS $100,000

General Banking Business.

Invites Business and Personal Accounts

SAFE DEPOSIT BOXES FOR RENT

193 Washington Street.

OUR "JEWEL" GAS RANGE

IS THE BEST

.. Satisfaction Guaranteed ..

20 Per Cent. Off ON ALL GAS AND COAL HEATERS.

WEST & KING,

Broadway and Washington St.,
EAST LIVERPOOL, OHIO.

OUR SHOES

FIT WELL AND WEAR WELL.

We are offering good shoes at great reductions. They are made of substantial materials and are elegant in fit and finish.

IT WILL PAY YOU TO TRADE AT OUR STORE.

A. PETERSON, - 251 West Market St.

THE CRYSTAL MAZE

LUNCH AND CONFECTION PARLORS.

D. W. JOHNSTON, Prop., - 200 Market Street.

SPECIALLY EQUIPPED FOR SUPPER PARTIES

Of Clubs or Private Parties.

THE MOST ELITE CAFE IN THE CITY.

We Are Burglar Proof

Every appliance that the inventive faculty of man can suggest has been provided.
Why Not Be Secure?

Citizen's National Bank.

Capital $100,000.00.

Surplus and Undivided Profits $42,000.00.

NOW IS THE TIME to open an account with

The Porters Building and Savings Company and get the September Dividend.

Has always paid 6 per cent. Dividends.
Corner Fifth and Washington Streets.

Don't Take Our Word For It.

Just Try a Glass of CROCKERY CITY PURE ALE

You'll Know Then What GOOD ALE Really Is.
Sold Everywhere.

MOTT'S PENNYROYAL PILLS

They overcome Weakness, irregularity and omissions, increase vigor and banish "pains" of womanhood, aiding development of organs and body. No known remedy for women equals them. Cannot do harm—life becomes a pleasure. $1.00 PER BOX BY MAIL. Sold by druggists. DR. MOTT'S CHEMICAL CO., Cleveland, Ohio. Sold by Will Reed, C. F. Craig, C. G. Anderson and Bert Ansley.

The News Review

Daily Except Sunday.

BRUSH BROS. PROP'S.

LOUIS H. BRUSH, Manager.

The News Review, Daily,

Established 1879. By mail, one year, $5.00; six months, $3.00; three months, $1.75; by carrier $5.00; ten cents per week. The Saturday Review, Weekly.

Established 1879. By mail, one year, $1.00 in advance; six months, 50 cents; three months, 25 cents. Official Papers of the City of East Liverpool and Columbiana County.

Office 196 Washington Street.

Bell Telephone.

Business Office, No. 122
Editorial Room, No. 122
Columbiana County Telephone.
Business Office, No. 122
Editorial Room, No. 122

CHARLES S. PATTESON,

Manager of Foreign Advertising, 525 Temple Court, New York.

CITY AND TOWNSHIP TICKET.

Mayor—THOMAS V. THOMPSON.
President of Council—JOHN H. HOWE.
City Auditor—WILLIAM L. AYER.
City and Township Treasurer—CHRIS HORTON.
City Solicitor—GEORGE E. DAVIDSON.
Board of Public Service—JOHN N. TAYLOR, W. L. SMITH, JACOB STEINKE, J. H. NAY, E. H. LOCK, E. N. CROXALL.
Coun. H. First Ward—ZED T. SMITH.
Coun. H. Second Ward—HUGH JOHNSTON.
Coun. H. Third Ward—HOWARD E. MOY.
Coun. H. Fourth Ward—THOS. CANNON.
Justice of the Peace—H. P. MCCARRON.
Constable—W. M. COLE-TRICK.
Township Trustee—JOSEPH BEARD-MORE.
Board of Education—W. B. HILL, E. M. KNOWLES, JESSE H. SMITH.

CIRCULATION STATEMENT.

The sworn paid circulation of THE EVENING NEWS REVIEW for the month of January, 1903, was 81,106. Average for the month, 3,119.

The following are the figures for each issue:

January 1	HOLIDAY.
January 2		3,011
January 3		2,975
January 4	SUNDAY.
January 5		3,020
January 6		3,060
January 7		2,994
January 8		2,991
January 9		3,017
January 10		2,991
January 11	SUNDAY.
January 12		3,028
January 13		3,086
January 14		3,065
January 15		3,035
January 16		3,151
January 17		3,104
January 18	SUNDAY.
January 19		3,027
January 20		3,054
January 21		3,358
January 22		3,114
January 23		3,107
January 24		3,208
January 25	SUNDAY.
January 26		3,121
January 27		3,112
January 28		3,123
January 29		3,104
January 30		3,112
January 31		3,138
Total		81,106
Average		3,119

Columbiana County, State of Ohio, ss.
I, Louis H. Brush, publisher of the Evening News Review, swear that the above statement is true.

LOUIS H. BRUSH.

Sworn to and subscribed to in my presence this 2d of February, 1903.

J. S. HILBERT,

Notary Public.

MONDAY, FEBRUARY 23, 1903.

The Republican primaries are over, thus virtually deciding who shall be the first to hold office in East Liverpool under the new municipal code. The contest, especially that for the head of the ticket, was one of the most strenuous and earnest that the city has ever seen. That the popular chief of police won the mayoralty nomination over three strong candidates speaks volumes for his standing in the community and public confidence in him. For the board of public service, which will have large authority in deciding what public improvements shall be carried out and how the people's money shall be spent, it is certainly most gratifying to know that the people showed their appreciation of the importance of this new official body and chose for candidates men of such excellent qualifications as Messrs. Taylor, Smith and Shenkel. In the hands of these gentlemen that part of the city administration which relates to matters most closely concerning the interests of taxpayers and citizens generally will be capably and conservatively conducted. For president of council and members of that body, both at large and representing the several wards, men who are well known and trusted have been nominated; and, best of all, there are in the list several who have had experience as city legislators and who are familiar with the affairs of the municipality.

That Tired Feeling

Is a Common Spring Trouble.

It's a sign that the blood is deficient in vitality, just as pimples and other eruptions are signs that the blood is impure.

It's a warning, too, which only the hazardous fail to heed.

Hood's Sarsaparilla and Pills

Remove it, give new life, new courage, strength and animation.

They cleanse the blood and clear the complexion.

Accept no substitute.

"I felt tired all the time and could not sleep. After taking Hood's Sarsaparilla a while I could sleep well and the tired feeling had gone. This great medicine has also cured me of scrofula." Mrs. C. M. Root, Giload, Conn.

Hood's Sarsaparilla promises to cure and keeps the promise.

as well as having knowledge of what new legislation is needed. The remaining nominees are men generally well known throughout the city, and that the majority of them found no opposition in securing a place on the ticket is excellent evidence that the voters believe them to be the right men for the office. The News Review takes pleasure in endorsing the ticket which the party has chosen and in giving it hearty support. All the candidates for the principal offices have gone on record with pledges of honesty and faithfulness and determination to execute the laws impartially should they be elected, and it will be the duty of press and people to hold them to strict accountability in keeping these promises. Our city has much to be proud of, and it should have, first of all, such good government that that will be among its proudest and most valued possessions.

The News Review on Saturday evening showed its appreciation of popular interest in election results by issuing four successive extras, beginning at 9 p. m., and giving in each the latest and fullest returns which it was possible to secure up to the hour of going to press. The last extra, issued a few minutes after the count of the entire city was completed, gave the names of every nominee, as well as the total vote for every candidate in every precinct of the city and township. This meant a vast amount of hard work and hustling, but that the public thoroughly appreciated the enterprise of the News Review was shown by the fact that these extras sold almost as rapidly as the newsboys could hand them out. The last edition, with election returns complete, went to every subscriber in the city, enabling them to digest the news along with their Sunday morning breakfast, instead of waiting a day longer for the information which everybody sought, as they would have been compelled to do but for the provision made by the News Review to supply their wants.

The men who sought nominations and missed them will be just as enthusiastic in the support of the ticket as anybody else. Disappointment for some is inevitable in all political contests, but with Republicans it leads to no bitterness and no sulking.

Recent presidential appointments show that the man of merit gets there. Political pulls count for nothing with Roosevelt.

OBITUARY

Richard Burrows.

The funeral services of Richard Burrows, Sr., who died Saturday afternoon at his home near Thompson park from dropsy, will be held at the residence tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock. Rev. Dr. David Jones, of the M. P. church, will officiate. The interment will be made in Riverview cemetery. Mr. Burrows was 72 years of age.

SKIN CHAPPING

Do your hands look like a washwoman's or like a corn-buskers?

ANDERSON'S Cream of Rose Lotion

is a quick, pleasant relief and cure for chapping and skin roughness. You will look a long time before you find anything better.

Price, 10 and 25 Cents.

C. G. ANDERSON, Druggist. Diamond.

rows was 52 years of age, and came to this city 20 years ago from England. He was twice married and his second wife survives him. The children are Richard, Alice, Sidney, of this city, and Frank, of Cleveland, and Mary, of Pittsburgh; Malvern, aged 2 years, and a baby four days old.

FRIENDS AND VISITORS

G. H. A. Hunt was a business visitor in Pittsburgh Saturday.

James Spencer, of Broadway, is seriously ill with an attack of grip.

Earl Brownfield, of Calcutta street, is critically ill with typhoid fever.

Mrs. Presley Todd, of Chester, is confined to the house with a severe case of grip.

Mrs. Van Denning, of Calcutta street, is seriously ill at her home with bronchitis.

Theodore Carson and son, David, of Steubenville, were the guests of friends and relatives yesterday.

Miss Jennie Phillips, who has been visiting her parents at Burgettstown, Pa., has returned to her home in this city.

Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Knowles returned yesterday from an eastern trip after spending some time in New York City.

Mrs. Willard Say and Miss Moore, of Oil City, who have been the guests of George S. Goodwin returned home today.

George S. Goodwin leaves today for a business and pleasure trip in the south. He will remain at New Orleans for two weeks.

Mrs. H. Estrakamp, who has been making an extended visit with relatives at Covington, Ky., is expected home early this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Weaver, of New Cumberland, are visiting Mr. Weaver's grandmother, Mrs. Lydia Weaver, 251 Third street.

George Drake, whose illness with the mumps was mentioned a few days ago, is now very seriously ill. He is threatened with typhoid fever.

J. E. Keegan, vice president and general manager of the Columbia Oil & Gas company, of Woodfield, O., is a business visitor in East Liverpool.

Messrs. Harry T. Hall, of the Dollar Savings bank, and Irwin Dunlap, of the Citizens' National, left Saturday for Pittsburgh to attend the annual convention of the Pennsylvania Bankers' association.

Bishop Merrill Seriously Ill.

Chicago, Feb. 23.—Bishop Stephen M. Merrill, of the Methodist Episcopal church, is seriously ill at the Wesley hospital here, with pneumonia. The Bishop was suffering severely Saturday with a cold which had troubled him for several days and he went to the hospital for a few days' rest. Pneumonia developed early yesterday. It was said last night, that he was holding his own and his physicians were confident that he would recover.

Bubonic Plague Abating.

Mazatlan, Feb. 23.—There were no deaths from the plague yesterday. One case of the disease occurred at the barracks of the gendarmes and the entire force was sent to the observation station. There is a more hopeful feeling now that it begins to be evident that the sanitary precautions are having the expected effect. There will be no abatement of the rigorous enforcement of the sanitary regulations.

Drank Wood Alcohol.

Schenectady, N. Y., Feb. 23.—Mrs. George Stave, aged 52, and her daughter, Mrs. Lemuel David, aged 27, died yesterday from drinking wood alcohol. They had been accustomed to drinking small quantities of hot diluted grain alcohol to relieve illness and during the night, neither one being well, they prepared by mistake wood alcohol and drank it. They survived several hours and died within an hour of each other.

Son Kills Father.

New Orleans, Feb. 23.—Peter Farrell, one of the leading local Democratic politicians and state court gauger, was shot and killed by his eldest son, Edward, yesterday. The family claims that in a fit of ungovernable temper Farrell attempted to kill Edward and George, his eldest boys, for misconduct and Edward wrested the pistol from him and fired three shots into his father's heart. The boy surrendered.

Body Thrown Upon Depot Roof.

Greensburg, Pa., Feb. 23.—While driving across the Pennsylvania railroad tracks at New Florence, yesterday morning, Wallace Killen, aged 19, was struck by a train and killed. His body was thrown almost 30 feet and struck on the depot roof. His horse was also killed.

Four Killed.

Bloomington, Ill., Feb. 23.—The Kansas City limited on the Chicago and Alton railroad last night struck a wagon, containing five Italian coal miners south of Braceville, killed four of the men and fatally injured the fifth man.

Died in Church.

Cleveland, O., Feb. 23.—Ex-Police Judge R. D. Undergraff died suddenly of heart disease in Plymouth church, last night. He was 55 years old. He was prominent in law practice and had been a member of the state legislature.

The Wade Jewelry Co., 164 Fifth street.

FEEDING

A MILLION

MOUTHS

There are a million little mouths in your skin ready to absorb whatever comes to them. What kind of soap do you feed them? We seldom reckon with the powers of absorption exercised by the pores of the skin, and yet it is possible for these little mouths to take in four quarts of water in twenty-four hours. No wonder impure toilet and bath soaps are so apt to produce skin diseases.

You can trust the soaps we sell you. We hand none but worthy brands, and by buying in quantities we are able to make low prices on them.

CHAS. F. CRAIG, DRUGGIST.

S. W. Cor. W. Fifth and Market Sts

KILLED TRUST AND WON HONOR.

Judge Day's Opinion in Coal Combine Case Excited Admiration of President.

Washington, Feb. 23.—Now that the Hon. William R. Day of Canton, O., is about to assume his duties as an associate justice of the United States supreme court, it may be of public interest to state that his interpretation of the Sherman anti-trust law was a factor in determining the president to elevate him to a seat on the highest judicial tribunal in the United States.

As a judge of the United States circuit court of appeals Mr. Day handed down a decision last April which resulted in disrupting a coal combination formed for the purpose of controlling prices and stifling competition in the Kanawha district. In that decision he expounded the anti-trust act in such a clear and forceful manner that it excited the admiration of Mr. Roosevelt after he had read it, and at the time he was considering the question of whom to appoint to the place which was soon to be vacated by Justice Shiras. The decision carried the point in favor of Judge Day.

DR. LOEB'S RECENT DISCOVERY.

Says That Muscular and Nervous Diseases Can Be Cured By Administering Calcium Salts.

Chicago, Feb. 23.—Dr. Jacques Loeb has discovered that muscular and nervous diseases, such as St. Vitus dance, paralysis agitans, locomotor ataxia and sleeplessness can be cured by administering calcium salts, that is, such salts as are found in well water and many foods.

Announcement of this discovery in scientific research by the former head of the department of physiology at the University of Chicago has just been made. In one of the decennial publications just issued by the University of Chicago press, Dr. Loeb tells of his experiment on lower forms of life and the conclusions suggested in regard to human beings.

Simply stated, the conclusion is that the presence of calcium salts in the muscles is what prevents their twitching, that practically all nervous diseases are caused by the absence of the calcium and that, therefore, to restore normal conditions and effect a cure, the cure is to dose with calcium salts.

Major General Foster Dying.

Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 23.—Major General Robert S. Foster is dying at his home here. Physicians say he can live but a few hours. He commanded the first division of the twenty-fourth corps in the Civil war, and headed off General Lee at Appomattox, causing his surrender. He was one of the founders of the G. A. R. and was its first junior vice commander. He was United States marshal for Indiana under President Garfield, and is now quartermaster-general of Indiana.

Held for Murder.

Cleveland, O., Feb. 23.—Joseph Corwin, a railroad man of Toledo, was arrested last night, and is held in connection with the murder of Maggie Snedegar, a few days ago. A watch that was identified as belonging to the murdered woman, was found in Corwin's pocket by the police. He was arrested in the vicinity where the alleged murder occurred.

Four Foot Fall Is Fatal.

Cumberland, Md., Feb. 23.—Fred Snyder died at the hospital here Saturday night, after a long illness, at the age of about four feet. Snyder was working on a boat in one of the yards here, and slipped from a trestle and fell, his head coming in contact with a block. He weighed 200 pounds, and his weight doubtless was the cause of his short fall proving fatal.

Reception to Mitchell.

Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 23.—President John Mitchell of the United Mine Workers of America, left last night for Springfield, Ill., where he will attend the convention of the Illinois miners and the joint conference with the operators which will follow. The citizens of Springfield will give a reception in his honor tonight.

It leads—the News Review.

REFORMS DEMANDED.

Russian and Austrian Ambassadors Present Identical Memoranda to Sultan.

MACEDONIAN BANDS ORGANIZED

Leaders Are Collecting and Equipping Armies to Oppose Turkish Troops.

Czar Recommends Papers to Abstain from Attacks on the Sultan.

Constantinople, Feb. 23.—The Austrian and Russian ambassadors presented Saturday to the grand vizier identical memoranda embodying the demands for reforms in Macedonia. They afterwards acquainted the foreign minister of the step taken. This course was adopted to give the proceedings a semi-official character.

The chief proposal made in the memoranda is the appointment of an inspector general for three years with ample powers to act independently and to requisition troops in case of emergency. The plan also provides for the reorganization of the gendarmerie and police under European instructors, for administrative and financial reforms and for a more equitable collection of taxes. These reforms do not effect the sultan's prerogatives or wound the religious susceptibilities of the muslimans.

Macedonian Bands Organized.

Vienna, Feb. 23.—It is reported that the Macedonian leader, Boris Sarafoff, has organized within the past fortnight several well-equipped Bulgarian bands in Macedonia, each consisting of about 250 men.

The Neue Freie Presse learns that 4,000 armed Macedonians are concentrated near the celebrated Rila monastery 40 miles from Sofia, and are preparing to attack the town of Melnik in the Turkish province of Seres.

There is unconfirmed rumor that the Albanians have attacked the Roumanian consulate at Mitrovitsa, Turkey, 20 miles northwest of Prishtina.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 23.—The government, in a secret circular sent to the Press, calls attention to the declaration published in the official Messenger, February 15, in which the newspapers are instructed to refrain from publishing articles hostile to Turkey in connection with the Macedonian situation. The circular declares that the previous declaration clearly indicated the constant desire of the czar to promote peacefully and earnestly reforms in Turkey, and it recommends the papers to abstain from superfluous attacks upon the sultan and the Turkish government.

Another circular forbids the mention of the participation of the Russian government and its local agents in the construction of highways in Persia.

Ohio River 15 Miles Wide.

Evansville, Ind., Feb. 23.—The river continues to rise slowly here and at 9 o'clock last night stood 49.8 feet. It is thought it will come to a stand some time tonight or tomorrow morning. In some places between here and Paducah, Ky., the Ohio river is 15 miles wide and resembles a sea. Most river boats were delayed again yesterday. All the tributary streams of the Ohio are expected to begin falling by tonight. Reports received say the wheat crop in many sections will be destroyed. Thousands of acres of wheat are now under water.

Diphtheria relieved in twenty minutes. Almost miraculous. Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil. At any drug store.

J. M. KELLY, President.
Geo. W. RUFFORD, N. G. MACRUM, Vice President.

THE UNION BUILDING, LOAN AND TRUST COMPANY,

GRAND OPERA HOUSE BLOCK,

Given on Paid-up Stock.
Given on Savings Accounts

Money to Loan at Lowest Rates

ASSETS OVER $300,000.00.

The First National Bank

OF EAST LIVERPOOL, OHIO.

President—David Boyce.
Vice President—J. M. Kelly.
Cashier—N. G. Macrum.
Asst. Cashier—Thos. H. Fisher.

BOARD OF DIRECTORS:

David Boyce, W. L. Thompson,
J. M. Kelly, O. C. Voadrey,
B. C. Simms, Jno. C. Thompson,
N. G. Macrum.

CAPITAL $100,000

SURPLUS $100,000

General Bankers' Business.

Invites Business and Personal Accounts

SAFE DEPOSIT BOXES FOR RENT

193 Washington Street.

OUR "JEWEL" GAS RANGE

IS THE BEST

.. Satisfaction Guaranteed..

20 Per Cent. Off ON ALL GAS AND COAL HEATERS.

WEST & KING,

Broadway and Washington St.,
EAST LIVERPOOL, OHIO.

OUR SHOES

FIT WELL AND WEAR WELL.

We are offering good shoes at great reductions. They are made of substantial materials and are elegant in fit and finish.

IT WILL PAY YOU TO TRADE AT OUR STORE.

A. PETERSON, - 251 West Market St.

THE CRYSTAL MAZE

LUNCH AND CONFECTION PARLORS.

D. W. JOHNSTON, Prop., 200 Market Street.

SPECIALLY EQUIPPED FOR SUPPER PARTIES
Of Clubs or Private Parties.

THE MOST ELITE CAFE IN THE CITY.

We Are Burglar Proof

Every appliance that the inventive faculty of man can suggest has been provided.
Why Not Be Secure?

Citizen's National Bank.

Capital $100,000.00.

Surplus and Undivided Profits $42,000.00.

NOW IS THE TIME to open an account with
The Putters Building and Savings Company and get the September Dividend.
Has always paid 6 per cent. Dividends.
Corner Fifth and Washington Streets.

Don't Take Our Word For It.

Just Try a Glass of CROCKERY CITY PURE ALE

You'll Know Then What GOOD ALE Really Is.
Sold Everywhere.

MOTT'S PENNYROYAL PILLS

They overcome Weakness, irregularity and omissions, increase vigor and banish "pains of menstruation." They are "LIFE SAVERS" to girls at womanhood, aiding development of organs and body. No known remedy for women equals them. Cannot do harm. Sold by druggists. $1.00 PER BOX BY MAIL. Sold by Will Reed, C. F. Craig, C. G. Anderson and Bert Ansley.

WELLSVILLE

WINTER AUTOMOBILE

Farmer Near Salineville Invents a Horseless Vehicle to Run On Snow

A prominent citizen of Salineville who was in Wellsville last week is authority for the statement that a farmer residing near the coal town, Chester E. Morton, has about completed an invention, which, when perfected, will be one of the most unique of the age.

Morton, it is stated, has been working at the invention for a number of years, and now success is about to crown his efforts. The invention is an automobile propelled by a small gasoline engine, which, instead of running on four wheels is run on sled runners. The vehicle is for use only in good sleighing weather and cannot be used during any other time of the year.

On the sides of each runner there is a small ratchet which is similar to a Hindley's screw or a circular saw, excepting that the sharp teeth of the ratchet are about three inches apart. The ratchets are said to be small and concealed in the body of the heavy runners. The ratchets are run by a cog on a shaft on each side and on the back of part of the vehicle. The entire weight of the "auto" rests on the runners and the ratchets only serve for propelling purposes.

It is said that a speed of 15 miles per hour can be maintained on ordinary country roads, while on ice the speed is unlimited and would rival an ice boat. If the new invention proves a success, and it appears at the present time as though it would, Mr. Morton's years of toil will bring handsome returns.

THE VOTE WAS LIGHT IN WELLSVILLE

Fogo for Mayor Won With Ease. Other Successful Candidates.

The vote was light in Wellsville. Complete returns give Fogo, for mayor, 636, against 316 for McLain.

Attorney Charles MacGregor had no opposition for auditor, carrying the full vote.

Attorney Charles Boyd, for solicitor, had no opposition. The vote was 342.

For treasurer, T. R. Andrews, with no opposition, polled the full vote.

For board of public service, W. G. Stewart, 506; Herbert, 479; Bowers, 381; St. Clair, 305; Gerren, 270; Brandon, 259; Harmon, 148.

Council at large, O'Grady, 865; Blackburn, 860; McDaniel, 839.

Council, First ward, Anderson, 326; Second ward, 223; Third ward, Bissell, 245; Fourth ward, Joseph, 125; Flowers, 45.

Constable, Spores, 222; Moorehead, 357; McKee, 355; Thorn, 468.

For assessor, First ward, Holliday; Second ward, Marsh; Third ward, Lomax; Fourth ward, McCormick. All ran without opposition.

Board of education, Lones, 953; McKenzie, 931.

A West End Improvement.

The work of making the excavation for the new business block of Clayton Arkhambach on lower Main street, near 18th street, Wellsville is now about completed and work on the foundation will commence in a few days. The building will be one of the most modern in the West End. It will be of frame, three stories in height. The lower floor will be rented for store purposes and the second and third floors for flats.

Sermon to Pythians.

A special sermon was delivered by Rev. Chas. E. Clark last evening at the M. E. church of which he is pastor, to the members of Silver Lodge No. 182, Knights of Pythias, who attended in body. Promptly at 6 o'clock all

W. A. WEAVER.

How is your Candy stock. Let us brighten up your line with some of our fresh goods received since the Holidays—
Do you need a
PEANUT ROASTER
We have one for sale at a bargain it is a "Boss on Wheels."

W. A. WEAVER,
Wholesale Confectioner.

of the Sir Knights assembled at the castle hall on the square, in full uniform and marched in a body to the church, headed by their Chancellor Commander R. H. Keay.

WELLSVILLE SHORT STORIES.

Henry Morgan has returned from a trip to Pittsburg.

Edward Porter, of Commerce street, is visiting in Bridgeport.

Attorney W. F. Lones returned from a business trip to Lisbon.

Mrs. Mary J. McCalmont, of Commerce street is very ill of grip.

Mrs. Ross Noble, of Front street, is ill and confined to her home.

Miss Lena Hatt, of Bridgewater, Pa., has been visiting friends here.

James McBane, of Ironside, has returned from a short business trip here.

Frank L. Wells, of Main street, spent Sunday with his family in Lisbon.

Miss Stella Hale, of Main street, spent Sunday with friends in Pittsburg.

D. E. Lowe, of Cleveland, has returned from a short visit to friends in the city.

Mrs. T. L. Apple, of Main street, has returned from a visit to friends in New Castle, Pa.

C. W. Aten, of Nevada street, has returned from a short visit with friends in Pittsburg.

Will Colley, of this city, visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Colley, in Salineville Sunday.

Miss Grace Wilson has returned to her home after spending a few days with friends in Allegheny.

Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Bailey, of Albion, returned to their home Saturday after visiting in the city.

J. B. Struck, of Beaver Falls, Pa., returned to his home Saturday evening after visiting friends here.

Mrs. Bessie G. Russell, of Pittsburg, is the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Gamble of Broadway.

A. D. Mattison, of the West End, left Saturday afternoon for Albany, N. Y., where he will hereafter reside.

Mrs. Burnhill, of Salineville, has returned to her home after visiting her daughter, Mrs. Jacob Rindler, of this city.

In celebration of the anniversary of the birth of George Washington all of the branches of Wellsville schools were closed today.

Miss Mary Everson, of Front street, after spending Sunday at her home here, returned to Allegheny this morning where she is teaching in an orphan school.

Four Drowned.

Tallahassee, Fla., Feb. 23.—Three white children and a negro man were drowned Saturday night, in the Flatwoods south of Tallahassee. Jefferson Johnson and his wife, parents of the children, were saved. The family were in a wagon and in the darkness the team lost the road and got into deep water.

Art Wall Paper.

Store open every evening this week, the last week to buy paper at cost and less. Room to be given up March 1st.

Children's Suit Sale, notice Joseph Bros.' show window.

You notice the large watch sign of the Wade Jewelry Co. has been removed to Fifth street, near the Y. M. C. A.

All the news all the time in the News Review.

VEST OF MISSOURI

PERSONALITY OF THE SENATOR WHO IS SOON TO RETIRE.

Brilliant as Orator and Wit and a Forceful Debater—Noted as a Story Teller—His Experience as a Soldier—A Man of Many Moods.

Senator George Graham Vest of Missouri, who on March 3 next will retire from the United States senate, in which he has been a force since 1879, has been in public life since 1860 and is one of the two surviving members of the Confederate senate that sat in Richmond in 1863.

For many years Senator Vest was regarded as the best equipped debater on the Democratic side and one of the best in the senate. For several years Senator Vest's health has been failing, and his voice has been seldom heard. On the rare occasions when he has spoken the fire of the senator's earlier days has been lacking, and his physical weakness and feeble voice make his efforts seem a reminiscence.

Vest is not the oldest man in the senate, having been born in 1829, but he is near it. There have been few greater orators in the senate than he and none who was a greater master of invective. Vest has been one of the best story tellers the senate has ever known, and many good stories that have appeared in print originated with him.

When Vest was a member of the Confederate States congress, he became aware that sentiment in Missouri was being aroused against him by the assertion that he preferred the life of a legislator to that of a soldier. He thereupon shouldered a musket and went to the war.

The first battle in which he was engaged the Confederates lost, and Vest was retiring from the field when he met a soldier from his own district.

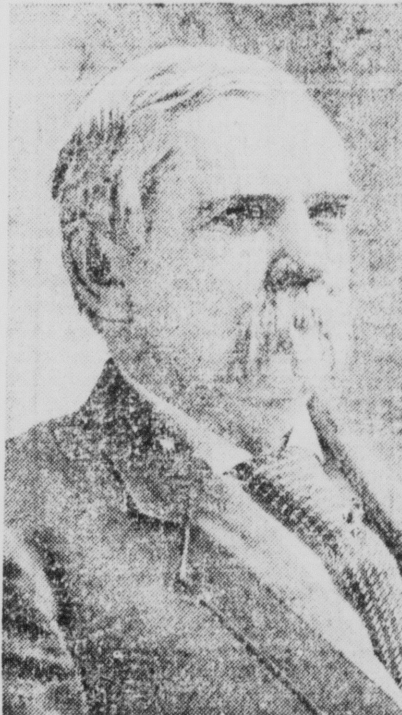

"Jim," he said, "you see what I am doing?"

"Yes," said the other.

"Now, Jim," said Vest, "I want you to go back to Missouri and tell them there that you saw me fighting for my country. Tell them, Jim, that you saw me in a battle yourself."

Jim said he would do as he was bid and started on his way.

"Oh, Jim!" Vest called after him, as a new thought flashed into his mind.

SENATOR GEORGE GRAHAM VEST OF MISSOURI.

"When you tell them you saw me in battle, you can add, if you want to, that if I keep my health and have an ordinary run of luck no living man will ever see me in another."

Vest, like all men of imagination, is a man of moods. There are times when he is absorbed in thought, and then he is taciturn. It is related that one day the late William H. Hatch, who entered the house the day Vest entered the senate, went over to consult the senator and found him in a fit of abstraction, moody and taciturn. Hatch had about as much imagination as a broomstick.

Hatch got no satisfaction from Vest and so went tearing back to the house, scattering epithets on the way. Some Missouri people got hold of him and told him that Vest would be all right next day and to go and see him when he was in the vein. Hatch did so and came back delighted. There was a discussion as to the occasion of Vest's moods, and one of the party said it was his imagination.

"Imagination be hanged!" roared Hatch. "It's his liver. That's all the matter with him. Let him send for some good Kentucky bourbon whiskey and he'll be all right."

Of those whom Vest found in the senate when he entered it in 1879 only Horat, Allison, Jones of Nevada, Cockrell and Morgan remain. Cockrell and Allison will die in harness, and one or the other of them will have the record for length of service in the United States senate and a record that may hold for a century. In this computation, however, Jones of Nevada may also be included.

Senator Vest is a native of Kentucky, but has lived in Sweet Springs, Mo., since 1853. His retirement from the senate is because of his own desire. He will leave a vacancy that will be hard to fill and will be missed by his conferees, with whom he is very popular.

A Success.

"Do tell us what Mrs. Bonner is like." "Well, she's a woman of sixty who looks fifty, thinks she's forty, dresses like thirty and acts like twenty."—Life.

The Star Bargain Store.

A Special 5 Days' Sale of Blankets and Comforts Commencing Tomorrow and will last until Saturday night and it will pay to attend this Special Sale at once as our stock is limited.

A full size Cotton Blanket for 45c a pair.
The best 1-4 $1.00 Blankets, for this sale, 75c a pair.
$1.39 extra heavy 1-4 Blankets for 98c for this sale only.
10-4 all wool Blankets in plaids for $2.00 for this special only.
1-4 $1.00 all wool Blankets for this sale for $2.75, in all colors.
10-4 all wool Country Blankets, $4.50 grade, for this sale reduced to $3.50, in all colors.
The best $6.00 1-4 all wool Country Blankets, for this special sale for $4.00, in all colors.
Special reductions in comforts—$1.25 ones for $1.00, $1.50 grade for $1.25. $2.50 fine grade comforts for $2.00.

WINTER UNDERWEAR.

Ladies' fleeced 25c vests and pants for 19c.
33c ladies' union suits for 25c.
50c ladies' vests and pants for 39c.
Wool union suits at half price.
Men's 50c heavy fleeced and ribbed underwear, sale price 25c.
75c heavy fleeced underwear, sale price 42c. $1.25 camel's hair and scarlet underwear, sale price 87c.

25c ladies' and misses' golf gloves for 19c. 50c ladies' and misses' golf gloves for 35c. $1.00 fleeced wrappers for 65c. $1.25 fleeced wrappers for 75c. $1.50 and $1.75 fleeced wrappers for $1.00. One lot of men's 50c and 75c stiff bosom shirts for 25c.

Winter Coats Almost Given Away.

Ladies' $12.50 and $15.00 grey raglans for $3.50.
Ladies' and misses' 27-inch jackets, this season's, sold at $5.00 and $6.00, for $2.00.
All our monte carlo coats and children's jackets, this season's, at half price.
Child's elderdown coats, in white pink and blue, sold at $2.98, for $1.00.
A lot of tailor-made suits at half price and less than half. A lot of silk and broadcloth dress skirts at half price. A lot of walking skirts, sold at $5.98 and $8.98, for $3.50.
A lot of black and colored dress skirts, sold at $4.98 and $5.98, for $3.00.
A lot of $4.00 and $5.00 silk waists for $2.00.
$2.00, $2.49 and $2.98 flannel waists for $1.00.
$3.98 flannel waists for $1.50.

STAR BARGAIN STORE.

138 and 140 FIFTH STREET.

TRIBUTE TO DECEASED MEMBERS

House Held Session Yesterday and Adopted the Customary Resolutions—Eulogies Delivered.

Washington, Feb. 23.—The house held a session yesterday, to pay tribute to the memories of three deceased members, the late Representative Tongue, of Oregon, the late Representative Rimple, of Iowa, and the late Representative Moody, of North Carolina. Mr. Moody, of Oregon, presided in the absence of Speaker Henderson. The customary resolutions were adopted and the following members delivered eulogies: Upon the late Representative Tongue, Messrs. Bishop (Rep., Mich.), Mondell (Rep., Wyo.), Bellamy (Dem., N. C.), Davidson (Rep., Wis.), Needham (Rep., Cal.), Lawrence (Rep., Mass.), Ransdell (Dem., Louisiana), Coombs (Rep., Cal.), Burton (Rep., Ohio), Reeves (Rep., Ill.), Dovenor (Rep., W. Va.), Sparkman (Dem., Fla.), and Cushman (Rep., Wash.).

Upon the late Representative Rimple: Messrs. Lacy (Rep., Iowa), Connor (Rep., Iowa), Cousins (Rep., Iowa), Hepburn (Rep., Iowa), Hodze (Rep., Iowa), Smith (Rep., Iowa), Thomas (Rep., Iowa), Calderhead (Rep., Kas.), Thompson (Dem., Ala.), and Hauger (Rep., Iowa).

Upon the late Representative Moody: Messrs. Klutz (Dem., N. C.), Poir (Dem., N. C.), Gibson (Rep., Tenn.), Thomas (Dem., N. C.), and Small (Dem., N. C.).

At 4:25 p. m., as a further mark of respect, the house adjourned.

Pope Gives Dinner to 1,000 Poor.

Rome, Feb. 23.—Yesterday was a great day for the poor of Rome, a thousand of them being the guests of the pope at a dinner in the belvedere court of the Vatican in honor of the pontiff's jubilee. The excellent menu included wine and desert. Great enthusiasm was displayed and there were repeated cries of "Long live Pope Leo." The pope desired to personally administer his blessing on the gathering, but although he was well, the doctors vetoed his desire in order that he might husband his strength for the coming fastings.

WEATHER FORECAST.

Washington, Feb. 23.—Forecast for today and tomorrow:

Ohio—Generally fair today; tomorrow cloudy and colder; probably snow flurries along the lakes; brisk to high west winds.

Western Pennsylvania—Fair and warmer today; brisk to high south west winds; tomorrow fair and colder.

West Virginia—Fair and warmer today; tomorrow fair and colder.

Knee Pains Sale today. Joseph Bros.

A big discount given on Men's and Boys' Sweaters. This week only at THE SURPRISE CLOTHING HOUSE.

43-6041

We write Fire Insurance.

We write Life Insurance.

We write Accident Insurance.

We write Plate Glass Insurance.

We write Cyclone Insurance.

We write Liability Insurance.

We will Bond You.

We will send you to Europe, or bring your friends over.

We will sell you Real Estate.

Geo. H. Owen & Co.

First National Bank Building, East Liverpool, O.

THE TRAVELS OF COLUMBUS.

The conference failing to reach a decision, Columbus follows for several years the royal court as it moves from place to place in the hope of further audiences with the sovereigns.

FIND TWO HIDDEN COURTIERS.

NAVAL CONSTRUCTION DELAYED.

Still, Secretary Moody Says United States Is Not Materially Behind Germany and England.

Washington, Feb. 23.—The president has been in correspondence with Secretary Moody respecting the matter of delay in the construction of naval vessels and the secretary in turn has called upon the chief constructor for a statement of conditions in various shipbuilding yards where naval work is going on. The secretary has submitted a letter in the nature of a report to the president including with it the chief constructor's report in substance these letters show that "while through a number of causes the building of warships has been delayed and the dates of their completion have been and will be considerably beyond the dates originally set, naval construction in the United States is not materially behind the naval construction of England and Germany in the matter of time."

Secretary Moody argues that it would be a mistake to offer a bonus for the completion of vessels ahead of contract time and adds that two months ago he directed that no further extension of time be permitted except by his own personal order.

The chief constructor's report shows that there are seven causes for delay in naval work, namely: Inadequate plans, changes in armor or armament or design, delays in delivery of armor and ordnance, delays in structural steel, delays due to inadequate facilities and insufficient ability in the contractor's staff and delays due to inadequate supply of skilled labor. All of these subjects are treated in detail in the report, and the point is made that after all the apparent great speed in English shipyards is due to the fact that the vessels are delivered by the contractors in very incomplete condition to the government which spends several years in many instances, in equipping the ship for commission.

TO TEST NEW TYPE OF VESSEL

Submarine Torpedo Boat Will Be Put Through Series of Trials to Demonstrate Capabilities.

New York, Feb. 23.—The submarine torpedo boat Protector, a new type of vessel which will shortly be put through a series of trials for the purpose of demonstrating her capabilities to officers of the United States navy, is being overhauled at City Island, and put in first-class condition for the coming tests.

The Protector was built in Bridgeport Conn., by her inventor and owner, Captain Simon Lake. The vessel is designed for harbor defense. She is 69 feet long, 11-feet beam, draws 12 feet of water and weighs about 200 tons. She is built of steel and equipped with two wheels to enable her to travel along the bottom of the sea. Her motive power is electricity when submerged, and gasoline when cruising on the surface. There are two torpedo tubes, one fore and aft, and an opening in her bow will admit of a diver leaving the boat to cut cables or mine connections. Her builder believes she can destroy submarine defenses in any harbor. During recent trials she carried a crew of eight men and nine passengers. A speed of 12 knots was easily made on her surface run.

Hotel Destroyed.

Toledo, Feb. 23.—The Hotel Devaux, corner of St. Clair and Jefferson streets, was almost completely destroyed by fire yesterday evening. The fire was discovered by one of the guests on the third floor, and had gained quite a little headway. An alarm was turned in at once, but by the time the department had arrived the flames had spread to the second and fourth floors. The guests and help were notified and all left the building in safety, many taking their personal effects with them. The cause of the fire is unknown. The loss will amount to $60,000, with $50,000 insurance. There were about 50 guests in the house.

Suspected of Poisoning Children.

Davy, W. Va., Feb. 23.—Mrs. Walter Dykes is being hunted by authorities here. Her two children were found dead yesterday morning, having been poisoned. Rumor has it that she administered the drug rather than allow her husband to secure possession of them. She and her husband had been separated a few weeks.

Two Deaths from Typhoid.

Ithaca, N. Y., Feb. 23.—Two deaths from typhoid fever occurred here yesterday, one that of Francis E. Swartz, of Marlboro, N. Y., a senior in the Cornell college of law, the twelfth student to succumb to the disease, and the other that of Mrs. W. C. Taber, a resident of the city.

Remanded for Trial.

New York, Feb. 23.—Lester Levine, Bernhard Levine, Louis Levine, Leo Strauss, George Gachstatter, Max Simpson and William Terib, all of whom were arrested, charged with being implicated in a Mexican lottery scheme, were arraigned in the police court yesterday. After a preliminary hearing, all were remanded until next Friday for examination, security being accepted.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Cards under this heading will be run until the primaries for a charge of ten dollars, payable strictly in advance.

COUNTY TICKET.

For State Representative, ELIJAH W. HILL, Liverpool Township. Subject to the decision of the Republican county primaries, March 28, 1903.

For Prosecuting Attorney, C. P. ROTHWELL, Unity township. Subject to the decision of the Republican county primaries, March 28, 1903.

For Prosecuting Attorney, L. C. MOORE, Washington township. Subject to the decision of the Republican county primaries, March 28, 1903.

For Prosecuting Attorney, M. J. MCGARRY, Liverpool township. Subject to the decision of the county Republican primary election, March 28, 1903.

For Sheriff, A. J. JOHNSON, Liverpool township. Subject to the decision of the Republican county primaries, March 28, 1903.

For Sheriff, CHRIS A. BICK, Center township. Subject to the decision of the Republican county primaries, March 28, 1903.

For Sheriff, WILLIAM DALRYMPLE, Salem township. Subject to the decision of the Republican primary, March 28, 1903.

For County Commissioner, R. G. BOYD. Subject to the decision of the county primary election, March 28, 1903.

A Light That Makes reading Pleasant.

It rests the eyes, it gives a coolness about the head which is impossible with any other light, and it is not expensive.

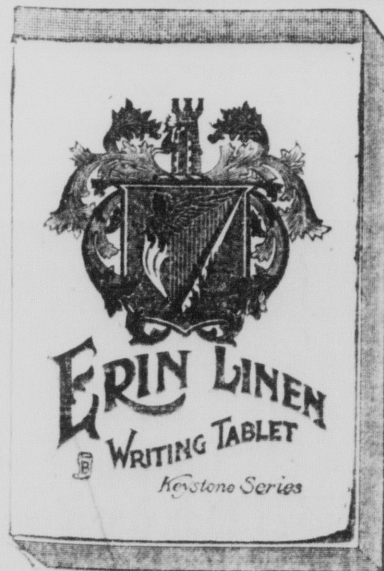

You Can Use It Without Work.

No trouble to keep it clean and gives ease and rest to the household.

THE CERAMIC CITY LIGHT CO.
177 Washington St.

—A NEW—
Pleasure Palace!

Everything, New, Novel and Up-to-Date.
Try our lunch. Finest in the city. Don't miss seeing the New Views for Saturday.
C. M. Smith, Prop., Washington St.

THE NEW CENTURY WRITING TABLET.

"Leads Them All."
"Perfect Goods Only."
"Fully Guaranteed."

Our Fifth and Broadway window is filled with these and other tablets of equal merit. Prices 5c to 35c each.

In Box Papers we carry the finest goods only, ranging in price from 10c per box to $2.00.

Hodson's Drug Store,
(THE HODSON DRUG CO.)
Fifth and Broadway.

WELLSVILLE

WINTER AUTOMOBILE

Farmer Near Salineville Invents a Horseless Vehicle to Run On Snow

A prominent citizen of Salineville who was in Wellsville last week is authority for the statement that a farmer residing near the coal town, Chester E. Morton, has about completed an invention, which, when perfected, will be one of the most unique of the age.

Morton, it is stated, has been working at the invention for a number of years, and now success is about to crown his efforts. The invention is an automobile propelled by a small gasoline engine, which, instead of running on four wheels is run on sled runners. The vehicle is for use only in good sleighing weather and cannot be used during any other time of the year.

On the sides of each runner there is a small ratchet which is similar to a Hindley's screw or a circular saw, excepting that the sharp teeth of the ratchet are about three inches apart. The ratchets are said to be small and concealed in the body of the heavy runners. The ratchets are run by a cog on a shaft on each side and on the back of part of the vehicle. The entire weight of the "auto" rests on the runners and the ratchets only serve for propelling purposes.

It is said that a speed of 15 miles per hour can be maintained on ordinary country roads, while on ice the speed is unlimited and would rival an ice boat. If the new invention proves a success, and it appears at the present time as though it would, Mr. Morton's years of toil will bring handsome returns.

THE VOTE WAS LIGHT IN WELLSVILLE

Fogo for Mayor Won With Ease. Other Successful Candidates.

The vote was light in Wellsville. Complete returns give Fogo, for mayor, 636, against 316 for McLain.

Attorney Charles MacGregor had no opposition for auditor, carrying the full vote.

Attorney Charles Boyd, for solicitor, had no opposition. The vote was 942.

For treasurer, T. R. Andrews, with no opposition, polled the full vote.

For board of public service, W. G. Stewart, 506; Herbert, 479; Bowers, 381; St. Clair, 305; Gerren, 270; Brannon, 250; Harmon, 148.

Council-at-large, O'Grady, 865; Blackburn, 860; McDaniel, 839.

Council, First ward, Anderson, 326; Second ward, 223; Third ward, Bissell, 154; Fourth ward, Joseph, 125; Flowers, 45.

Constable, Spires, 222; Moorehead, 357; McKee, 355; Thorn, 468.

For assessor, First ward, Holliday; Second ward, Marsh; Third ward, Lomax; Fourth ward, McCormick. All ran without opposition.

Board of education, Lones, 953; McKenzie, 934.

A West End Improvement.

The work of making the excavation for the new business block of Clayton Anghinbaugh on lower Main street, near 15th street, Wellsville, is now about completed and work on the foundation will commence in a few days. The building will be one of the most modern in the West End. It will be of frame, three stories in height. The lower floor will be rented for store purposes and the second and third floors for flats.

Sermon to Pythians.

A special sermon was delivered by Rev. Chas. E. Clark last evening at the M. E. church of which he is pastor, to the members of Silver Lodge No. 182, Knights of Pythias, who attended in body. Promptly at 6 o'clock all

W. A. WEAVER.

How is your Candy stock. Let us brighten up your line with some of our fresh goods received since the Holidays—Do you need a

PEANUT ROASTER
We have one for sale at a bargain it is a "Boss on Wheels."

W. A. WEAVER,
Wholesale Confectioner.

of the Sir Knights assembled at the castle hall on the square, in full uniform and marched in a body to the church, headed by their Chancellor Commander, R. H. Keay.

WELLSVILLE SHORT STORIES.

Henry Morgan has returned from a trip to Pittsburg.

Edward Porter, of Commerce street, is visiting in Bridgeport.

Attorney W. F. Lones returned from a business trip to Lisbon.

Mrs. Mary J. McCalmont, of Commerce street is very ill of grip.

Mrs. Ross Noble, of Front street, is ill and confined to her home.

Miss Lena Hart, of Bridgewater, Pa., has been visiting friends here.

James McBane, of Irondale, has returned from a short business trip here.

Frank L. Wells, of Main street, spent Sunday with his family in Lisbon.

Miss Stella Hale, of Main street, spent Sunday with friends in Pittsburg.

D. E. Lowe, of Cleveland, has returned from a short visit to friends in the city.

Mrs. T. L. Apple, of Main street, has returned from a visit to friends in New Castle, Pa.

C. W. Aten, of Nevada street, has returned from a short visit with friends in Pittsburg.

Will Colley, of this city, visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Colley, in Salineville Sunday.

Miss Grace Wilson has returned to her home after spending a few days with friends in Allegheny.

Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Bailey, of Alliance, returned to their home Saturday after visiting in the city.

J. B. Strock, of Beaver Falls, Pa., returned to his home Saturday evening after visiting friends here.

Mrs. Bessie G. Russell, of Pittsburg, is the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Gamble of Broadway.

A. D. Mattison, of the West End, left Saturday afternoon for Albany, N. Y., where he will hereafter reside.

Mrs. Barnhill, of Salineville, has returned to her home after visiting her daughter, Mrs. Jacob Ridinger, of this city.

In celebration of the anniversary of the birth of George Washington all of the branches of Wellsville schools were closed today.

Miss Mary Everson, of Front street, after spending Sunday at her home here, returned to Allegheny this morning where she is teaching in an orphan school.

Four Drowned.

Tallahassee, Fla., Feb. 23.—Three white children and a negro man were drowned Saturday night, in the Flatwoods south of Tallahassee. Jefferson Johnson and his wife, parents of the children, were saved. The family were in a wagon and in the darkness the team lost the road and got into deep water.

Art Wall Paper.

Store open every evening this week, the last week to buy paper at cost and less. Room to be given up March 1st.

Children's Suit Sale, notice Joseph Bros.' show window.

You notice the large watch sign of the Wade Jewelry Co. has been removed to Fifth street, near the Y. M. C. A.

All the news all the time in the News Review.

The new century writing tablet.

"Leads Them All."

"Perfect Goods Only."

"Fully Guaranteed."

Our Fifth and Broadway window is filled with these and other tablets of equal merit. Prices 5c to 35c each.

In Box Papers we carry the finest goods only, ranging in price from 10c per box to $2.00.

Hodson's Drug Store,

(THE HODSON DRUG CO.)

Fifth and Broadway.

VEST OF MISSOURI

PERSONALITY OF THE SENATOR WHO IS SOON TO RETIRE.

Brilliant as Orator and Wit and a Forceful Debater—Noted as a Story Teller—His Experience as a Soldier—A Man of Many Moods.

Senator George Graham Vest of Missouri, who on March 3 next will retire from the United States senate, in which he has been a force since 1870, has been in public life since 1860 and is one of the two surviving members of the Confederate senate that sat in Richmond in 1863.

For many years Senator Vest was regarded as the best equipped debater on the Democratic side and one of the best in the senate. For several years Senator Vest's health has been failing, and his voice has been seldom heard. On the rare occasions when he has spoken the fire of the senator's earlier days has been lacking, and his physical weakness and feeble voice make his efforts seem a reminiscence.

Vest is not the oldest man in the senate, having been born in 1830, but he is near it. There have been few greater orators in the senate than he and none who was a greater master of invective. Vest has been one of the best story tellers the senate has ever known, and many good stories that have appeared in print originated with him.

When Vest was a member of the Confederate States congress, he became aware that sentiment in Missouri was being aroused against him by the assertion that he preferred the life of a legislator to that of a soldier. He thereupon shouldered a musket and went to the war.

The first battle in which he was engaged the Confederates lost, and Vest was retiring from the field when he met a soldier from his own district.

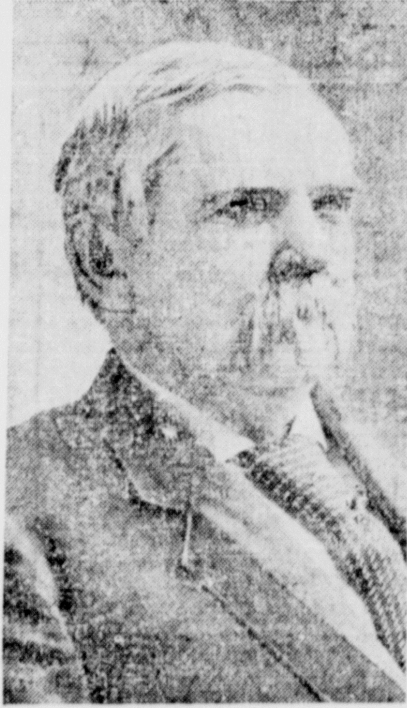

"Jim," he said, "you see what I am doing?"

"Yes," said the other.

"Now, Jim," said Vest, "I want you to go back to Missouri and tell them there that you saw me fighting for my country. Tell them, Jim, that you saw me in a battle yourself."

Jim said he would do as he was bid and started on his way.

"Oh, Jim!" Vest called after him, as a new thought flashed into his mind.

SENATOR GEORGE GRAHAM VEST OF MISSOURI.

"When you tell them you saw me in battle, you can add, if you want to, that if I keep my health and have an ordinary run of luck no living man will ever see me in another."

Vest, like all men of imagination, is a man of moods. There are times when he is absorbed in thought, and then he is factious. It is related that one day the late William H. Hatch, who entered the house the day Vest entered the senate, went over to consult the senator and found him in a fit of abstraction, moody and taciturn. Hatch had about as much imagination as a broomstick.

Hatch got no satisfaction from Vest and so went tearing back to the house, scattering explosives on the way. Some Missouri people got hold of him and told him that Vest would be all right next day and to go and see him when he was in the vein. Hatch did so and came back delighted. There was a discussion as to the occasion of Vest's moods, and one of the party said it was his imagination.

"Imagination be hanged!" roared Hatch. "It's his liver. That's all the matter with him. Let him send for some good Kentucky bourbon whiskey and he'll be all right."

Of those whom Vest found in the senate when he entered it in 1870 only Hoar, Allison, Jones of Nevada, Cockrell and Morgan remain. Cockrell and Allison will die in harness, and one or the other of them will have the record for length of service in the United States senate and a record that may hold for a century. In this computation, however, Jones of Nevada may also be included.

Senator Vest is a native of Kentucky, but has lived in Sweet Springs, Mo., since 1853. His retirement from the senate is because of his own desire. He will leave a vacancy that will be hard to fill and will be missed by his conferees, with whom he is very popular.

A Success.

"Do tell us what Mrs. Bouncer is like."

"Well, she's a woman of sixty who looks fifty, thinks she's forty, dresses like thirty and acts like twenty."—Life.

The Star Bargain Store.

A Special 5 Days' Sale of Blankets and Comforts Commencing Tomorrow and will last until Saturday night and it will pay to attend this Special Sale at once as our stock is limited.

A full size Cotton Blanket for 45c a pair. The best 1-1-4 $1.00 Blankets, for this sale, 75c a pair. $1.39 extra heavy 1-1-4 Blankets for 98c for this sale only. 10-4 all wool Blankets in plaids for $2.00 for this special only. 1-1-4 $4.00 all wool Blankets for this sale for $2.75, in all colors. 10-4 all wool Country Blankets, $4.50 grade, for this sale reduced to $3.50, in all colors. The best $6.00 1-1-4 all wool Country Blankets, for this special sale for $4.00, in all colors. Special reductions in comforts—$1.25 ones for $1.00. $1.50 grade for $1.25. $2.50 fine grade comforts for $2.00.

WINTER UNDERWEAR.

Ladies' fleeced 25c vests and pants for 19c. 39c ladies' union suits for 25c. 50c ladies' vests and pants for 39c. Wool union suits at half price. Men's 50c heavy fleeced and ribbed underwear, sale price 25c. 75c heavy fleeced underwear, sale price 42½c. $1.25 camel's hair and scarlet underwear, sale price 87½c.

STAR BARGAIN STORE. 138 and 140 FIFTH STREET.

TRIBUTE TO DECEASED MEMBERS

House Held Session Yesterday and Adopted the Customary Resolutions—Eulogies Delivered.

Washington, Feb. 23.—The house held a session yesterday, to pay tribute to the memories of three deceased members, the late Representative Tongue, of Oregon, the late Representative Rumble of Iowa, and the late Representative Moody of North Carolina. Mr. Moody, of Oregon, presided in the absence of Speaker Henderson. The customary resolutions were adopted and the following members delivered eulogies: Upon the late Representative Tongue, Messrs. Bishop (Rep., Mich.), Mondell (Rep., Wyo.), Bellamy (Dem., N. C.), Davidson (Rep., Wis.), Needham (Rep., Cal.), Laurence (Rep., Mass.), Ransdell (Dem., Louisiana), Coombs (Rep., Cal.), Burton (Rep., Ohio), Reeves (Rep., Ill.), Dwyer (Rep., W. Va.), Sparkman (Dem., Fla.), and Cushman (Rep., Wash.).

Upon the late Representative Rumble: Messrs. Lacy (Rep., Iowa), Connor (Rep., Iowa), Cousins (Rep., Iowa), Hepburn (Rep., Iowa), Hodge (Rep., Iowa), Smith (Rep., Iowa), Thomas (Rep., Iowa), Calderhead (Rep., Kas.), Thompson (Dem., Ala.), and Hauger (Rep., Iowa).

Upon the late Representative Moody: Messrs. Klutz (Dem., N. C.), Poir (Dem., N. C.), Gibson (Rep., Tenn.), Thomas (Dem., N. C.), and Small (Dem., N. C.).

At 1:25 p. m., as a further mark of respect, the house adjourned.

Pope Gives Dinner to 1,000 Poor.

Rome, Feb. 23.—Yesterday was a great day for the poor of Rome, a thousand of them being the guests of the pope at a dinner in the Belvedere court of the Vatican in honor of the pontiff's jubilee. The excellent menu included wine and desert. Great enthusiasm was displayed and there were repeated cries of "Long live Pope Leo." The pope desired to personally administer his blessing on the gathering, but, although he was well, the doctors vetoed his desire in order that he might husband his strength for the coming functions.

WEATHER FORECAST.

Washington, Feb. 23.—Forecast for today and tomorrow:

Ohio—Generally fair today; tomorrow cloudy and colder, probably snow flurries along the lakes; brisk to high west winds.

Western Pennsylvania—Fair and warmer today; brisk to high south-west winds; tomorrow fair and colder.

West Virginia—Fair and warmer today; tomorrow fair and colder.

Knee Pants Sale today. Joseph Bros. 444

A big discount given on Men's and Boys' Sweaters. This week only at THE SURPRISE CLOTHING HOUSE. 43-eod-4

We write Fire Insurance.

We write Life Insurance.

We write Accident Insurance.

We write Plate Glass Insurance.

We write Cyclone Insurance.

We write Liability Insurance.

We will Bond You.

We will send you to Europe, or bring your friends over.

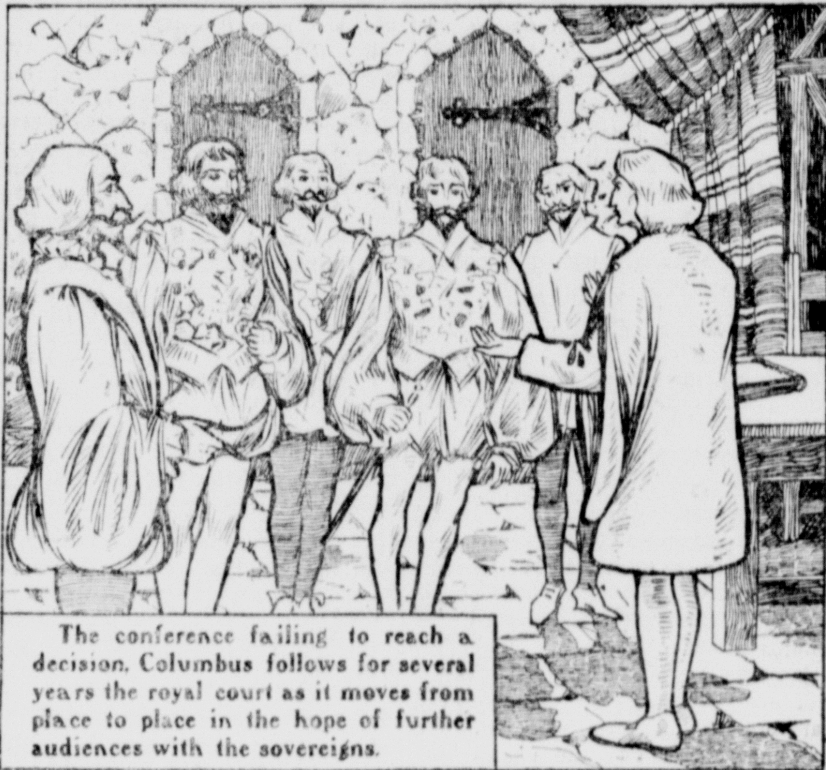

We will sell you Real Estate.

Geo. H. Owen & Co.

First National Bank Build.

ing, East Liverpool, O.

THE TRAVELS OF COLUMBUS.

The conference failing to reach a decision, Columbus follows for several years the royal court as it moves from place to place in the hope of further audiences with the sovereigns.

FIND TWO HIDDEN COURTIER.

NAVAL CONSTRUCTION DELAYED.

Still, Secretary Moody Says United States is Not Materially Behind Germany and England.

Washington, Feb. 23.—The president has been in correspondence with Secretary Moody respecting the matter of delay in the construction of naval vessels and the secretary in turn has called upon the chief constructor for a statement of conditions in various shipbuilding yards where naval work is going on. The secretary has submitted a letter in the nature of a report to the president including with it the chief constructor's report. In substance these letters show that "while through a number of causes the building of warships has been delayed and the dates of their completion have been and will be considerably beyond the dates originally set, naval construction in the United States is not materially behind the naval construction of England and Germany in the matter of time."

Secretary Moody argues that it would be a mistake to offer a bonus for the completion of vessels ahead of contract time and adds that two months ago he directed that no further extension of time be permitted except by his own personal order.

The chief constructor's report shows that there are seven causes for delay in naval work, namely: Inadequate plans, changes in armor or armament or design, delays in delivery of armor and ordnance, delays in government inspection, delays in structural steel, delays due to inadequate facilities and insufficient ability in the contractor's staff and delays due to inadequate supply of skilled labor. All of these subjects are treated in detail in the report, and the point is made that after all the apparent great speed in English shipyards is due to the fact that the vessels are delivered by the contractors in very incomplete condition to the government which spends several years in many instances, in equipping the ship for commission.

TO TEST NEW TYPE OF VESSEL

Submarine Torpedo Boat Will Be Put Through Series of Trials to Demonstrate Capabilities.

New York, Feb. 23.—The submarine torpedo boat Protector, a new type of vessel which will shortly be put through a series of trials for the purpose of demonstrating her capabilities to officers of the United States navy, is being overhauled at City Island, and put in first-class condition for the coming tests.

The Protector was built in Bridgeport, Conn., by her inventor and owner, Captain Simon Lake. The vessel is designed for harbor defense. She is 69 feet long, of 11-foot beam, draws 12 feet of water and weighs about 200 tons. She is built of steel 25c ladies' and misses' golf gloves for 19c. 50c ladies' and misses' golf gloves for 35c. $1.00 fleeced wrappers for 65c. $1.25 fleeced wrappers for 75c. $1.50 and $1.75 fleeced wrappers for $1.00. One lot of men's 50c and 75c stiff bosom shirts for 25c.

Winter Coats Almost Given Away.

Ladies' $12.50 and $15.00 grey raglans for $3.50. Ladies' and misses' 27-inch jackets, this season's, sold at $5.00 and $6.00, for $2.00.

All our monte carlo coats and children's jackets, this season's, at half price.

Child's elderdown coats, in white pink and blue, sold at $2.98, for $1.00.

A lot of tailor-made suits at half price and less than half. A lot of silk and broadcloth dress skirts at half price. A lot of walking skirts, sold at $6.98 and $8.98, for $3.50.

A lot of black and colored dress skirts, sold at $4.98 and $5.98, for $3.00.

A lot of $4.00 and $5.00 silk waists for $2.00.

$2.00, $2.49 and $2.98 flannel waists for $1.00.

$3.98 flannel waists for $1.50.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Cards under this heading will be run until the primaries for a charge of ten dollars, payable strictly in advance.

COUNTY TICKET.

For State Representative, ELIJAH W. HILL, Liverpool township.

Subject to the decision of the Republican county primaries, March 28, 1903.

For Prosecuting Attorney, C. P. ROTHWELL, Unity township.

Subject to the decision of the Republican county primaries, March 28, 1903.

For Prosecuting Attorney, L. C. MOORE, Washington township.

Subject to the decision of the Republican county primaries, March 28, 1903.

For Prosecuting Attorney, M. J. McGARRY, Liverpool township.

Subject to the decision of the county Republican primary election, March 28, 1903.

For Sheriff, A. J. JOHNSON, Liverpool township.

Subject to the decision of the Republican county primaries, March 28, 1903.

For Sheriff, CHRIS A. BICK, Center township.

Subject to the decision of the Republican county primaries, March 28, 1903.

For Sheriff, WILLIAM DALRYMPLE, Salem township.

Subject to the decision of the Republican primary, March 28, 1903.

For County Commissioner, R. G. BOYD.

Subject to the decision of the county primary election, March 28, 1903.

A Light That Makes reading Pleasant.

It rests the eyes, it gives a coolness about the head which is impossible with any other light, and it is not expensive.

You Can Use It Without Work.

No trouble to keep it clean and gives ease and rest to the household.

THE CERAMIC CITY LIGHT CO. 177 Washington St.

A NEW—Pleasure Palace!

Everything, New, Novel and Up-to-Date.

Try our lunch. Finest in the city. Don't miss seeing the New Views for Saturday.

C. M. Smith, Prop., Washington St

THE NEW CENTURY WRITING TABLET.

"Leads Them All."
"Perfect Goods Only."
"Fully Guaranteed."

Our Fifth and Broadway window is filled with these and other tablets of equal merit. Prices 5c to 35c each.

In Box Papers we carry the finest goods only, ranging in price from 10c per box to $2.00.

Hodson's Drug Store, (THE HODSON DRUG CO.) Fifth and Broadway.

WELLSVILLE

WINTER AUTOMOBILE

Farmer Near Salineville Invents a Horseless Vehicle to Run On Snow

A prominent citizen of Salineville who was in Wellsville last week is authority for the statement that a farmer residing near the coal town, Chester E. Morton, has about completed an invention, which, when perfected, will be one of the most unique of the age.

Morton, it is stated, has been working at the invention for a number of years, and now success is about to crown his efforts. The invention is an automobile propelled by a small gasoline engine, which, instead of running on four wheels is run on sled runners. The vehicle is for use only in most sleighing weather and cannot be used during any other time of the year.

In the sides of each runner there is a small ratchet which is similar to a ratchet and a circular saw, excepting that the sharp teeth of the ratchet are about three inches apart. The ratchets are said to be small and concealed in the body of the heavy runners. The ratchets are run by a cog on a shaft on each side and on the back of part of the vehicle. The entire weight of the "auto" rests on the runners and the ratchets only serve for propelling purposes.

It is said that a speed of 15 miles per hour can be maintained on ordinary country roads, while on ice the speed is unlimited and would rival an ice boat. If the new invention proves a success, and it appears at the present time as though it would, Mr. Morton's years of toil will bring handsome returns.

THE VOTE WAS LIGHT IN WELLSVILLE

Fogo for Mayor Won With Ease. Other Successful Candidates.

The vote was light in Wellsville. Complete returns give Fogo, for mayor, 636, against 316 for McLain.

Attorney Charles MacGregor had no opposition for auditor, carrying the full vote.

Attorney Charles Boyd, for solicitor, had no opposition. The vote was 942.

For treasurer, T. R. Andrews, with no opposition, polled the full vote.

For board of public service, W. G. Baird, 506; Herbert, 479; Bowers, 417; St. Clair, 305; Gerren, 270; Branton, 259; Harmon, 148.

Council-at-large, O'Grady, 865; Blackburn, 860; McDaniel, 839.

Council, First ward, Anderson, 326; Second ward, 223; Third ward, Bissell, 245; Fourth ward, Joseph, 125; Flowers, 15.

Constable, Spires, 222; Moorehead, 357; McKee, 355; Thorn, 468.

For assessor, First ward, Holliday; Second ward, Marsh; Third ward, Lomax; Fourth ward, McCormick. All ran without opposition.

Board of education, Lones, 953; McKenzie, 934.

A West End Improvement.

The work of making the excavation for the new business block of Clayton Archibald on lower Main street, near 18th street, Wellsville is now about completed and work on the foundation will commence in a few days. The building will be one of the most modern in the West End. It will be of frame, three stories in height. The lower floor will be rented for store purposes and the second and third floors for flats.

Sermon to Pythians.

A special sermon was delivered by Rev. Chas. E. Clark last evening at the M. E. church of which he is pastor, to the members of Silver Lodge No. 82, Knights of Pythias, who attended in body. Promptly at 6 o'clock all

W. A. WEAVER.

How is your Candy stock. Let us brighten up your line with some of our fresh goods received since the Holidays—Do you need a

PEANUT ROASTER

We have one for sale at a bargain it is a "Boss on Wheels."

W. A. WEAVER,
Wholesale Confectioner.

of the Sir Knights assembled at the castle hall on the square, in full uniform and marched in a body to the church, headed by their Chancellor Commander R. H. Keay.

WELLSVILLE SHORT STORIES.

Henry Morgan has returned from a trip to Pittsburg.

Edward Porter, of Commerce street, is visiting in Bridgeport.

Attorney W. F. Lones returned from a business trip to Lisbon.

Mrs. Mary J. McCalmont, of Commerce street is very ill of grip.

Mrs. Ross Noble, of Front street, is ill and confined to her home.

Miss Lena Hatt, of Bridgewater, Pa., has been visiting friends here.

James McBane, of Ironsdaie, has returned from a short business trip here.

Frank L. Wells, of Main street, spent Sunday with his family in Lisbon.

Miss Stella Hale, of Main street, spent Sunday with friends in Pittsburg.

D. E. Lowe, of Cleveland, has returned from a short visit to friends in the city.

Mrs. T. L. Apple, of Main street, has returned from a visit to friends in New Castle, Pa.

C. W. Aten, of Nevada street, has returned from a short visit with friends in Pittsburg.

Will Colley, of this city, visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Colley, in Salineville Sunday.

Miss Grace Wilson has returned to her home after spending a few days with friends in Allegheny.

Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Bailey, of Albion, returned to their home Saturday after visiting in the city.

J. B. Strock, of Beaver Falls, Pa., returned to his home Saturday evening after visiting friends here.

Mrs. Bessie G. Russell, of Pittsburg, is the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Gamble of Broadway.

A. D. Mattison, of the West End, left Saturday afternoon for Albany, N. Y., where he will hereafter reside.

Mrs. Barnhill, of Salineville, has returned to her home after visiting her daughter, Mrs. Jacob Ridinger, of this city.

In celebration of the anniversary of the birth of George Washington all of the branches of Wellsville schools were closed today.

Miss Mary Everson, of Front street, after spending Sunday at her home here, returned to Allegheny this morning where she is teaching in an orphan school.

Four Drowned.

Tallahassee, Fla., Feb. 23.—Three white children and a negro man were drowned Saturday night in the Flatwoods south of Tallahassee. Jefferson Johnson and his wife, parents of the children, were saved. The family were in a wagon and in the darkness the team lost the road and got into deep water.

Art Wall Paper.

Store open every evening this week, the last week to buy paper at cost and less. Room to be given up March 1st.

Children's Suit Sale, notice Joseph Bros. show window. 44j

You notice the large watch sign of the Wade Jewelry Co. has been removed to Fifth street, near the Y. M. C. A. 30xt

All the news all the time in the News Review.

VEST OF MISSOURI

PERSONALITY OF THE SENATOR WHO IS SOON TO RETIRE.

Brilliant as Orator and Wit and a Forceful Debater—Noted as a Story Teller—His Experience as a Soldier—A Man of Many Moods.

Senator George Graham Vest of Missouri, who on March 3 next will retire from the United States senate, in which he has been a force since 1879, has been in public life since 1860 and is one of the two surviving members of the Confederate senate that sat in Richmond in 1863.

For many years Senator Vest was regarded as the best equipped debater on the Democratic side and one of the best in the senate. For several years Senator Vest's health has been failing, and his voice has been seldom heard. On the rare occasions when he has spoken the fire of the senator's earlier days has been lacking, and his physical weakness and feeble voice make his efforts seem a reminiscence.

Vest is not the oldest man in the senate, having been born in 1829, but he is near it. There have been few greater orators in the senate than he and none who was a greater master of invective. Vest has been one of the best story tellers the senate has ever known, and many good stories that have appeared in print originated with him.

When Vest was a member of the Confederate States congress, he became aware that sentiment in Missouri was being aroused against him by the assertion that he preferred the life of a legislator to that of a soldier. He thereupon shouldered a musket and went to the war.

The first battle in which he was engaged the Confederates lost, and Vest was retiring from the field when he met a soldier from his own district.

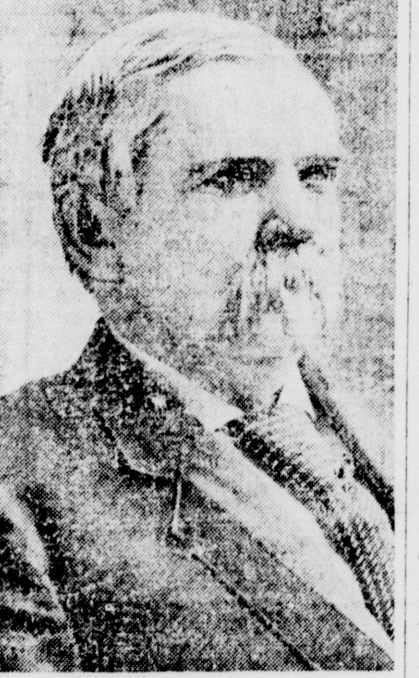

"Jim," he said, "you see what I am doing?"

"Yes," said the other.

"Now, Jim," said Vest, "I want you to go back to Missouri and tell them there that you saw me fighting for my country. Tell them, Jim, that you saw me in a battle yourself."

Jim said he would do as he was bid and started on his way.

"Oh, Jim," Vest called after him, as a new thought flashed into his mind.

SENATOR GEORGE GRAHAM VEST OF MISSOURI.

"When you tell them you saw me in battle, you can add, if you want to, that if I keep my health and have an ordinary run of luck no living man will ever see me in another."

Vest, like all men of imagination, is a man of moods. There are times when he is absorbed in thought, and then he is taciturn. It is related that one day the late William H. Hatch, who entered the house the day Vest entered the senate, went over to consult the senator and found him in a fit of abstraction, moody and taciturn. Hatch had about as much imagination as a broomstick.

Hatch got no satisfaction from Vest and so went tearing back to the house, scattering explosives on the way. Some Missouri people got hold of him and told him that Vest would be all right next day and to go and see him when he was in the vein. Hatch did so and came back delighted. There was a discussion as to the occasion of Vest's moods, and one of the party said it was his imagination.

"Imagination be hanged!" roared Hatch. "It's his liver. That's all the matter with him. Let him send for some good Kentucky bourbon whisky and he'll be all right."

Of those whom Vest found in the senate when he entered it in 1879 only Hoar, Allison, Jones of Nevada, Cockrell and Morgan remain. Cockrell and Allison will die in harness, and one or the other of them will have the record for length of service in the United States senate and a record that may hold for a century. In this computation, however, Jones of Nevada may also be included.

Senator Vest is a native of Kentucky, but has lived in Sweet Springs, Mo., since 1853. His retirement from the senate is because of his own desire. He will leave a vacancy that will be hard to fill and will be missed by his conferees, with whom he is very popular.

A Success.

"Do tell us what Mrs. Bouncer is like." "Well, she's a woman of sixty who looks fifty, thinks she's forty, dresses like thirty and acts like twenty."—Life.

The Star Bargain Store.

A Special 5 Days' Sale of Blankets and Comforts Commencing Tomorrow and will last until Saturday night and it will pay to attend this Special Sale at once as our stock is limited.

A full size Cotton Blanket for 45c a pair.
The best 1-4 $1.00 Blankets, for this sale, 75c a pair.
$1.39 extra heavy 1-4 Blankets for 98c for this sale only.
10-4 all wool Blankets in plaids for $2.00 for this special only.
1-4 $1.00 all wool Blankets for this sale for $2.75, in all colors.
10-4 all wool Country Blankets, $4.50 grade, for this sale reduced to $3.50, in all colors.
The best $6.00 1-4 all wool Country Blankets, for this special sale for $4.00, in all colors.
Special reductions in comforts—$1.25 ones for $1.00, $1.50 grade for $1.25, $2.50 fine grade comforts for $2.00.

WINTER UNDERWEAR.

Ladies' fleeced 25c vests and pants for 19c.
39c ladies' union suits for 25c.
50c ladies' vests and pants for 39c.
Wool union suits at half price.
Men's 50c heavy fleeced and ribbed underwear, sale price 25c.
75c heavy fleeced underwear, sale price 42c.
$1.25 camel's hair and scarlet underwear, sale price 87c.

25c ladies' and misses' golf gloves for 19c. 50c ladies' and misses' golf gloves for 35c. $1.00 fleeced wrappers for 65c. $1.25 fleeced wrappers for 75c. $1.50 and $1.75 fleeced wrappers for $1.00. One lot of men's 50c and 75c stiff bosom shirts for 25c.

Winter Coats Almost Given Away.

Ladies' $12.50 and $15.00 grey raglans for $3.50.
Ladies' and misses' 27-inch jackets, this season's, sold at $5.00 and $6.00, for $2.00.

All our monte carlo coats and children's jackets, this season's, at half price.
Child's elderdown coats, in white pink and blue, sold at $2.98, for $1.00.

A lot of tailor-made suits at half price and less than half. A lot of silk and broadcloth dress skirts at half price. A lot of walking skirts, sold at $6.98 and $8.98, for $3.50.

A lot of black and colored dress skirts, sold at $4.98 and $5.98, for $3.00.

A lot of $4.00 and $5.00 silk waists for $2.00.
$2.00, $2.49 and $2.98 flannel waists for $1.00.
$3.98 flannel waists for $1.50.

STAR BARGAIN STORE.

138 and 140 FIFTH STREET.

TRIBUTE TO DECEASED MEMBERS

House Held Session Yesterday and Adopted the Customary Resolutions—Eulogies Delivered.

Washington, Feb. 23.—The house held a session yesterday, to pay tribute to the memories of three deceased members, the late Representative Tongue, of Oregon, the late Representative Rumble, of Iowa, and the late Representative Moody, of North Carolina. Mr. Moody, of Oregon, presided in the absence of Speaker Henderson. The customary resolutions were adopted and the following members delivered eulogies: Upon the late Representative Tongue, Messrs. Bishop (Rep., Mich.), Mondell (Rep., Wyo.), Bellamy (Dem., N. C.), Davidson (Rep., Wis.), Needham (Rep., Cal.), Laurence (Rep., Mass.), Ransdell (Dem., Louisiana), Coombs (Rep., Cal.), Burton (Rep., Ohio), Reeves (Rep., Ill.), Dwyer (Rep., W. Va.), Sparkman (Dem., Fla.), and Cushman (Rep., Wash.).

Upon the late Representative Rumble, Messrs. Lacy (Rep., Iowa), Connor (Rep., Iowa), Cousins (Rep., Iowa), Hepburn (Rep., Iowa), Hodge (Rep., Iowa), Smith (Rep., Iowa), Thomas (Rep., Iowa), Calderhead (Rep., Kas.), Thompson (Dem., Ala.), and Hauger (Rep., Iowa).

Upon the late Representative Moody, Messrs. Klutz (Dem., N. C.), Poir (Dem., N. C.), Gibson (Rep., Tenn.), Thomas (Dem., N. C.), and Small (Dem., N. C.).

At 1:25 p. m. as a further mark of respect, the house adjourned.

Pope Gives Dinner to 1,000 Poor.

Rome, Feb. 23.—Yesterday was a great day for the poor of Rome, a thousand of them being the guests of the pope at a dinner in the Palatinal court of the Vatican in honor of the pontiff's jubilee. The excellent menu included wine and desert. Great enthusiasm was displayed and there were repeated cries of "Long live Pope Leo." The pope desired to personally administer his blessing on the gathering, but, although he was well, the doctors vetoed his desire in order that he might husband his strength for the coming functions.

WEATHER FORECAST.

Washington, Feb. 23.—Forecast for today and tomorrow:

Ohio—Generally fair today; tomorrow cloudy and colder, probably snow flurries along the lakes; brisk to high west winds.

Western Pennsylvania—Fair and warmer today; brisk to high south west winds; tomorrow fair and colder.

West Virginia—Fair and warmer today; tomorrow fair and colder.

Knee Pants Sale today. Joseph Bros. 44j

A big discount given on Men's and Boys' Sweaters. This week only at THE SURPRISE CLOTHING HOUSE. 43-eod 1

We write Fire Insurance.

We write Life Insurance.

We write Accident Insurance.

We write Plate Glass Insurance.

We write Cyclone Insurance.

We write Liability Insurance.

We will Bond You.

We will send you to Europe, or bring your friends over.

We will sell you Real Estate.

Geo. H. Owen & Co.

First National Bank Building, East Liverpool, O.

THE TRAVELS OF COLUMBUS.

The conference failing to reach a decision, Columbus follows for several years the royal court as it moves from place to place in the hope of further audiences with the sovereigns.

FIND TWO HIDDEN COURTIERS.

NAVAL CONSTRUCTION DELAYED.

Still, Secretary Moody Says United States Is Not Materially Behind Germany and England.

Washington, Feb. 23.—The president has been in correspondence with Secretary Moody respecting the matter of delay in the construction of naval vessels and the secretary in turn has called upon the chief constructor for a statement of conditions in various shipbuilding yards where naval work is going on. The secretary has submitted a letter in the nature of a report to the president in which with it the chief constructor's report, in substance these letters show that "while through a number of causes the building of warships has been delayed and the dates of their completion have been and will be considerably beyond the dates originally set, naval construction in the United States is not materially behind the naval construction of England and Germany in the matter of time."

Secretary Moody argues that it would be a mistake to offer a bonus for the completion of vessels ahead of contract time and adds that two months ago he directed that no further extension of time be permitted except by his own personal order.

The chief constructor's report shows that there are seven causes for delay in naval work, namely: Inadequate plans, changes in armor or armament or design, delays in delivery of armor and ordnance, delays in government inspection, delays in structural steel, delays due to inadequate facilities and insufficient ability in the contractor's staff and delays due to inadequate supply of skilled labor. All of these subjects are treated in detail in the report, and the point is made that after all the apparent great speed in English shipyards is due to the fact that the vessels are delivered by the contractors in very incomplete condition to the government which spends several years in many instances, in equipping the ship for commission.

TO TEST NEW TYPE OF VESSEL

Submarine Torpedo Boat Will Be Put Through Series of Trials to Demonstrate Capabilities.

New York, Feb. 23.—The submarine torpedo boat Protector, a new type of vessel which will shortly be put through a series of trials for the purpose of demonstrating her capabilities to officers of the United States navy, is being overhauled at City Island, and put in first-class condition for the coming tests.

The Protector was built in Bridgeport, Conn., by her inventor and owner, Captain Simon Lake. The vessel is designed for harbor defense. She is 69 feet long, of 11-foot beam, draws 12 feet of water and weighs about 200 tons. She is built of steel and equipped with two wheels to enable her to travel along the bottom of the sea. Her motive power is electricity when submerged, and gasoline when cruising awash. There are two torpedo tubes, one fore and aft, and an opening in her bow will admit of a diver leaving the boat to cut cables or mine connections. Her builder believes she can destroy submarine defenses in any harbor. During recent trials she carried a crew of eight men and nine passengers. A speed of 12 knots was easily made on her surface run.

Hotel Destroyed.

Toledo, Feb. 23.—The Hotel Devaux, corner of St. Clair and Jefferson streets, was almost completely destroyed by fire yesterday evening. The fire was discovered by one of the guests on the third floor, and had gained quite a little headway. An alarm was turned in at once, but by the time the department had arrived the flames had spread to the second and fourth floors. The guests and help were notified and all left the building in safety, many taking their personal effects with them. The cause of the fire is unknown. The loss will amount to $60,000, with $50,000 insurance. There were about 50 guests in the house.

Suspected of Poisoning Children.

Davy, W. Va., Feb. 23.—Mrs. Walter Dykes is being hunted by authorities here. Her two children were found dead yesterday morning, having been poisoned. Rumor has it that she administered the drug rather than allow her husband to secure possession of them. She and her husband had been separated a few weeks.

Two Deaths from Typhoid.

Ithaca, N. Y., Feb. 23.—Two deaths from typhoid fever occurred here yesterday, one that of Francis E. Swartz, of Marlboro, N. Y., a senior in the Cornell college of law, the twelfth student to succumb to the disease, and the other that of Mrs. W. C. Taber, a resident of the city.

Lacks Four Feet of Highest Mark.

Owensboro, Ky., Feb. 23.—The Ohio river was slowly rising at 6 o'clock last night. It lacks four feet of the highest mark in 1884. The bottoms are covered for several miles on the Indiana side. River men are fearful of a thaw. A rise of a few feet more will cause untold damage.

Remanded for Trial.

New York, Feb. 23.—Lester Levine, Bernhard Levine, Louis Levine, Leo Strauss, George Gachstatter, Max Simpson and William Terib, all of whom were arrested, charged with being implicated in a Mexican lottery scheme, were arraigned in the police court yesterday. After a preliminary hearing, all were remanded until next Friday for examination, security being accepted.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Cards under this heading will be run until the primaries for a charge of ten dollars, payable strictly in advance.

COUNTY TICKET.

For State Representative, ELIJAH W. HILL, Liverpool Township.

Subject to the decision of the Republican county primaries, March 28, 1903.

For Prosecuting Attorney, C. P. ROTHWELL, Unity township.

Subject to the decision of the Republican county primaries, March 28, 1903.

For Prosecuting Attorney, L. C. MOORE, Washington township.

Subject to the decision of the Republican county primaries, March 28, 1903.

For Prosecuting Attorney, M. J. McGARRY, Liverpool township.

Subject to the decision of the county Republican primary election, March 28, 1903.

For Sheriff, A. J. JOHNSON, Liverpool township.

Subject to the decision of the Republican county primaries, March 28, 1903.

For Sheriff, CHRIS A. BICK, Center township.

Subject to the decision of the Republican county primaries, March 28, 1903.

For Sheriff, WILLIAM DALRYMPLE, Salem township.

Subject to the decision of the Republican primary, March 28, 1903.

For County Commissioner, R. G. BOYD.

Subject to the decision of the county primary election, March 28, 1903.

A Light That Makes reading Pleasant.

It rests the eyes, it gives a coolness about the head which is impossible with any other light, and it is not expensive.

You Can Use It Without Work.

No trouble to keep it clean and gives ease and rest to the household.

THE CERAMIC CITY LIGHT CO.
177 Washington St.

—A NEW—

Pleasure Palace!

Everything, New, Novel and Up-to-Date.

Try our lunch. Finest in the city. Don't miss seeing the New Views for Saturday.

C. M. Smith, Prop., Washington St.

THE NEW CENTURY WRITING TABLET.

"Leads Them All."
"Perfect Goods Only."
"Fully Guaranteed."

Our Fifth and Broadway window is filled with these and other tablets of equal merit. Prices 5c to 35c each.

In Box Papers we carry the finest goods only, ranging in price from 10c per box to $2.00.

Hodson's Drug Store,
(THE HODSON DRUG CO.)
Fifth and Broadway.

HOME STUDY COURSE

Self Education Through the Medium of Specially Prepared Articles by Prominent Instructors

Interesting Features of Medicine

By George Thomas Palmer, M. D.

IX.—Some Peculiar "Isms" and "Pathies."

IN a vocation so rife with superstitious notions as medicine it is not strange that various illogical and absurd cults have arisen. Inasmuch as the art of healing has always had in it a great deal which is incapable of explanation, it is not to be wondered at that thousands of people have been ready to follow every new "ism" without troubling themselves about why and wherefore. The admixture of religion with the healing of disease, born of the miraculous cures by Christ and the saints of old, has been productive of

Dr. L. Pasteur.

[Discoverer of the antirabies serum.] the "faith cures" which have from time to time appeared in various forms. So much of mythology hangs over Homeric, Hippocratic and post-Hippocratic medical history that it is difficult to differentiate quackery from the natural superstitious beliefs of the day. In Roman times we come upon a quack so arrogant and bigoted that he is placed beyond question on a par with quacks of our own day.

However absurd may have been the teachings of the older masters, there was earnestness in their research and modesty in their demeanor, but Thessalus of Tralles was too pronounced a charlatan and his teachings were too grandiose to credit him with a shadow of sincerity.

How unchanging are the methods of the quack! Thessalus came to Rome an ignorant adventurer and began the practice of the art of healing. He studied the tastes of his clientele and advised liberal use of wines, choice viands and all forms of self indulgence, thereby making himself exceedingly agreeable to his patients. He opened a school of medicine, guaranteeing to teach the entire art in six weeks—a veritable twentieth century diploma mill. Of students he had hundreds, of patients thousands, and he rode upon the very crest of popular favor. Before his death he superintended the carving of his own tombstone, on which he had inscribed, "Greater Than All Physicians, Living or Dead!" The "pathy" of Thessalus was the first on record of many of those by which the world has been willingly hoodwinked.

But even before his day Paracelsus had in all sincerity established a school of healing, the theories of which were so peculiar as to entitle them to consideration here. He taught that man is best understood by the study of nature and that each disease has its cure in some special product of nature. His was also a popular school and for a time overthrew the teachings of Hippocrates, and, absurd as his ideas now seem to us, we must admit that they contributed materially to the knowledge of specific medication. There was a grain of truth in his writings. Some diseases have certain specific cures in nature, but not many. His were as true as the doctrines of Hahnemann, who taught that like cures like; that what will cause a condition will also cure it.

But of the "isms" and "pathies" of which we still have traces the school of Hahnemann is the greatest. We can speak freely of this school today, for it is practically out of existence. The narrow teachings of Hahnemann no more resemble the great homeopathic school of today than do the theories of Hippocrates resemble the allopathic ideas of the present.

The father of homeopathy taught the doctrine of "high potency"—that a drug diluted with ten times its bulk of water was stronger than the drug undiluted, and that the greater the dilution the greater the potency or strength; furthermore, that a greatly diluted drug shaken by a strong arm would have a higher degree of potency than if shaken by an arm not so strong. He also believed, as I have mentioned, that a drug which will cause a condition will cure the same condition ("similia similibus curantur"). In the teachings of Hahnemann there was more than a grain of truth. The theory is exemplified by the fact that ipecac, which will cause nausea and vomiting when given in small doses, will allay nausea. But who can believe that whisky in minute doses will overcome alcoholic intoxication? that salt, which causes thirst, will also allay thirst?

As I say, the homeopathy of Hahnemann is no more. The great school which bears that name each year approaches more and more the allopathic school, and it has had the effect upon the old school of modifying its treatment, of reducing its dosage and of making medicinal treatment far more tolerable to suffering humanity.

And now comes the cult of Mrs. Eddy—Christian Science. It is one which is following the course of the dozens which have gone before. It is now in the era of prosperity which each "ism" has in its day and soon shall be forgotten with the others. It is the natural association of religion with healing which has existed since the earliest days of history. There is little that is new in it save that it is the refined and cultured faith of the well to do instead of the blind faith of the ignorant. It denies the existence of matter, holds disease to be mere error and insists that when faith has so far developed as to overcome our present fallacious beliefs in the existence of things, and false feelings and emotions, sin and disease, and even death, will pass away. It is called a science because its followers believe that they have arrived at their conclusions logically and by a regular sequence of facts.

It has in it the grain of truth that to a certain extent mind can overcome matter and that functional disease can be cured by faith. It is the therapeutic measure of mental suggestion which is used and has been used by the regular medical profession for many years. The Christian Scientists call in surgeons to set bones because the faith is not yet sufficiently developed to overcome such conditions without mechanical aid. It will reach that state of perfection some day—some day!

The same element of religious faith is evidenced in a crude way in the workings of Dowie of Chicago. Like Mrs. Eddy, but in a cruder way, suited to the clientele to which he caters, he has thrown a cloak of divine power about his person, claiming with convincing earnestness that he is the reincarnated Elijah and John the Baptist merged in one. This assumption of holy place or divine inspiration is essential to working upon the minds of people who have been taught for centuries of the disease curing process of religion and to account for the powers of the alleged healer. Man's confidence in man is not sufficient to permit the healer to claim the power as lying within himself.

Many of my readers will remember the wonderful popularity of spiritualism in its day, of the cures accomplished by the advice of those who had gone before generously volunteered in the seances of skillful mediums. While not so directly medical as others, the cult of spiritualism was one which was felt in the medical world.

Others may recall that peculiar condition of "king's evil" now known as scrofula, or tubercular glands of the neck—peculiar because it could only be cured by the laying on of royal hands. Many were the pilgrimages to European courts by sufferers, and many were the cures reported. The spontaneous recoveries which are common to the disease were naturally attributed to the monarchs who set aside days on which to bring relief to their suffering subjects.

Some years ago a certain layman discovered (?) that rays of sunlight coming through panes of blue glass would cure almost any ill to which man is heir. Physicians took it up, and hundreds and thousands were cured of every variety of ills. After reporting these recoveries with all sincerity the physicians realized their extreme folly and hastened to forget the blue glass cure.

And now from the state of Missouri comes another "ism." This is osteo-

It Cures Colds, Coughs, Sore Throat, Croup, Influenza, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis and Asthma. A certain cure for Consumption in first stages, and a sure relief in advanced stages. Use at once. You will see the excellent effect after taking the first dose. Sold by dealers everywhere. Large bottles 25 cents and 50 cents.

Dr. Virchow.
[Noted Austrian surgeon.]

paty. Contrary to one's natural conclusions, this as it is practiced has virtually nothing to do with bones. It is merely massage developed into a gigantic cure-all—just massage, which your family doctor has used as far back as you can remember, but massage decorated with a number of artistic theories which every cult must have.

There are also physio-therapy, electro-magnetism, physio-chemistry and on and on down a long list, each with its foundation of a grain of truth and an immense superstructure of theory.

Each year a new cult is born, each year an old one dies, and the old school goes on accepting and regurgitating new truths and casting out false doctrines. It has its vagaries and its false prophets, but the secret of its continued growth is merely that it has no set principles or theories; there is no belief so strong as to be an absolute essential. It gathers facts from each cult as it lives and dies and profits by the teaching of every "ism."

[Copyright, 1902, by Lewis D. Sampson.]

Unnecessary Trouble.
Lionheart (who has been inspecting the estate of a noble landowner)—And this beautiful estate will all be inherited by your noble daughter?

"Well, hardly. You see, I have no daughter."

"Indeed! Then what on earth did you want to tire me out for by this inspection?"—Flegende Blatter.

Wretch.

"George, did you ever love any other woman as well as you love me?"

"Oh, yes, dear; several of them."

"Indeed! Why didn't you marry one of them instead of me?"

"Well, I suppose I'll be asking myself that question, too, some day."—Chicago Tribune.

Involved Fuel Relations.

Nora—The lady next door wants to borrow a bucket of coal, ma'am.

Mrs. Blank—Nora, tell her that we are already borrowing our coal from the people on the other side of us.—Detroit Free Press.

Scald head is an eczema of the scalp—very severe sometimes, but it can be cured. Doan's Ointment, quick and permanent in its results. At any drug store, 50 cents.

Rushville, Ind.

Messrs. Ely Bros.—I have been a great sufferer from catarrh and hay fever and tried many things, but found no permanent relief until I found it in Ely's Cream Balm about eight years ago, and we have been fast friends ever since. (Rev.) R. M. BENTLEY.

Messrs. Ely Bros.—Find enclosed 50 cents, for which please send me your Cream Balm. I find your remedy the quickest and most permanent cure for cold in the head, catarrh, etc. Yours truly, DELL M. POTTER.

Gen. Mgr. Arizona Gold Mining Co.

E. L. LOMAX,
General Passenger and Ticket Agent,
OMAHA, NEB., or
F. B. CHOATE, Agent, 15 Park Bldg.,
PITTSBURG, PA.

The Health And Pleasure Resorts.
of Texas, Mexico, Arizona and California are quickly and comfortably reached via the Southern Pacific Company's SUNSET ROUTE. Daily through service from New Orleans to San Francisco via Houston, San Antonio, El Paso, and Los Angeles. Special daily service, SUNSET LIMITED from New Orleans, composed of Buffet Smoking Car, containing Bath Room and Barber Shop, Dining Room, Pullman Car, regular Pullman Sleepers, and Dining Car (meals a la carte) all of the latest design and most luxuriously appointed. Direct connections made at New Orleans from all points North and East. Detailed information cheerfully furnished by F. B. Choate, General Agent, 515 Park Building, Pittsburg, Pa.

Bowser Versus Webster

He Takes Issue With All Authorities on Subject of "Whortleberries," and Gets Into Trouble

(Copyright, 1902, by C. B. Lewis.)
MR. BOWSER had been reading his evening paper for half an hour when he laid it down with the remark: "Well, that's a queer name. Did you ever hear of whortleberries, Mrs. Bowser?"
"A thousand times over," she replied. "Oh, you have? Well, you are ahead of me for once in your life. Perhaps you will enlighten me?"
"You have not only eaten them a hundred times, but I have no doubt you have picked many a painful whortleberry, my dear, as what people generally call huckleberries."
"They can't be."
"But surely are."
"I deny it. A huckleberry is a huckleberry and has been ever since any one heard of them. A whortleberry is an altogether different thing, whatever it is. I thought it queer that you should know more than I did about the matter."
"Now, don't make any mistake about the berries," protested Mrs. Bowser, though she realized that argument must lead to a family row. "There is no such fruit as huckleberries. The name is a corruption of whortleberries. Very few newspapers or circulars use the term 'huckle'."
"You are wrong—a thousand times wrong!" exclaimed Mr. Bowser as he walked about. "It has never been anything else but huckleberry since America was discovered. Now that I remember, I can inform you that whortleberries grow in India. I have seen a few preserved specimens. They grow on trees and are something like our peaches. A huckleberry, as you know, is a small black berry about as large as a buckshot. It will be well for you to remember this and not make any further mistakes."
"You have only to look in the dictionary to find that 'huckle' is a corruption of 'whortle' and that both terms relate to one and the same berry. Here, let me get it for you."

BOWSER WAS LYING IN THE SNOW WHEN HE OPENED HIS EYES, AND THE VENERABLE MAN WAS ALMOST OUT OF SIGHT.

"What do I care about the dictionary? What I know I know."

"But let's see what it says."

"I don't care what it says. All the dictionaries in the world couldn't convince me that I was wrong."

Mrs. Bowser got down the unabridged and read:

"The whortleberry is a small round edible berry which is highly valued for food. The name huckleberry is now more common in colloquial language than whortleberry."

"Doesn't that prove my case?" she asked as she closed the book.

"Not by forty miles, madam," shouted Mr. Bowser. "The two are entirely distinct. One grows in America, the other in India."

"But Webster does not say so."

"What have I got to do with Webster or any other man? What I know I know. Furthermore, I will prove the huckleberry question right here in our own house. We'll see what the cook says."

The cook came up in answer to the bell, and Mr. Bowser asked:

"Sarah, you know what huckleberries are, of course?"

"Oh, yes, sir."

"But did you ever see a whortleberry?"

"Yes, sir; they are the same thing."

"Eh! Eh! What's that?"

"The same thing, sir, begging your pardon. My brother once bet $10 that they were different, and he made a fool of himself and lost his money. Is that all, sir?"

There was a painful silence as the cook departed, and then Mr. Bowser stood up and hoarsely whispered:

"Woman, I see the conspiracy, but I will balk it. I presume you have even got the cat on your side."

"Why all this excitement over nothing?" asked Mrs. Bowser. "I'm sure we don't care whether it's whortle or huckle."

"But we do care," he persisted. "You have tried to make out that I am an ignoramus, and I propose to show you to the contrary. Within half an hour I will make you and your Webster's Dictionary look like 15 cents."

"What are you going to do?" she asked as he started down the hall.

"I am going to bring forty different people here to say that I am right. You sit right there and you will hear from me in about ten minutes."

Mr. Bowser put on his hat and overcoat and went out, and he had scarcely got out of the gate when he met a pedestrian and accosted him with:

"Sir, you will pardon me, but I wish to ask you a question. What is the difference between huckleberries and whortleberries?"

"It's all in the pronunciation," replied the man.

"Then you insist that both are the same thing?"

"Certainly. Have you run across any idiot who disputes it?"

Mr. Bowser glared at him and walked on. At the corner he found a man leaning against the fence and said to him:

"I have a little bet on hand, and perhaps you can help me to win it. You have heard of huckleberries, haven't you?"

"I should remark," was the reply. "I was born on the edge of a huckleberry swamp, and I have picked a hundred bushels of them."

"Well, now, did you ever hear of whortleberries?"

"They are the same thing, old man—the same thing. It's all in the way you pronounce the name."

"But I contend that they are different," aggressively announced Mr. Bowser.

"No use, old man. A whortleberry is a huckleberry, and you can't make pumpkins of one and turnips of the other. I pronounce the name huckle. I like it. There's something soft and tender about it. At this very moment I'm waiting for my huckleberry who works in that house over there to appear and take a walk with me. It would take away half of my love if I had to call her my whortleberry. Better give it up and go home."

According to Order.

Indignant Guest—These don't taste like first class eggs.

Dignified Waiter—No, suh. You asked for medium boiled, didn't you, suh?—Chicago Tribune.

FASHIONABLE COLORS.

Ivory Whites—Mulberry Red Is Much Worn In Paris.

White cloth and white crepe de chine edged with milk or chinchilla and worn with beautiful Italian lace make extremely becoming and exclusive house frocks, by which is meant a warm tone of ivory. Blue white is seldom becoming, although it suits a few, but at best it looks rather cold and comfortable.

Dull mulberry red will be worn a great deal for street wear later, especially in headgear. In Paris crimson tones have taken the place of sapphire blues and greens. Presently no doubt this mulberry shade will be ousted by purple and light gray, which two colors are always beloved by Parisians during the Lenten season.

ACCORDION PLAITED CHIFFON BLOUSE.

Gray is a very trying color and should be made up very softly, with perhaps a suggestion of a warmer tone. It should always be trimmed with lace.

The dainty evening blouse here shown is of accordion plaited chiffon over satin. The collarless neck is encircled by a yoke of lace.

JUDIC CHOLLET.

New Magazine Office.

"The express agent won't let us have that shipment of paper," said the business manager, "until we plank the cash down."

"That's all right. Just announce that the twentieth edition is exhausted and out of print, and let the express man go to blazes."—Atlanta Constitution.

Common Phrases.

In front of a millionaire's mansion Dan Cupid was sitting in tears.

"Oh, what," I inquired, "is the matter, and what is the cause of your tears?"

"It's this," he replied, with emotion; "A terrible state of affairs. If you aren't at the top of the ladder, you're helped to the foot of the stairs."—New York Times.

"It showed on the face of it."

His Plight.

"A terrible state of affairs. If you aren't at the top of the ladder, you're helped to the foot of the stairs."—New York Times.

A Prisoner in Her House.

Mrs. W. H. Lavha, of 1001 Agnes avenue, Kansas City, Mo., has for several years been troubled with severe hoarseness and at times a hard cough, which she says, "Would keep me in doors for days. I was prescribed for by physicians with no noticeable results. A friend gave me a part of a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy with instructions to closely follow the directions and I wish to state that after the first day I could notice a decided change for the better, and at this time after using it for two weeks, have no hesitation in saying I realize that I am entirely cured. From this time on Chamberlain's Cough Remedy will be in my house constantly." This remedy is for sale by Alvin H. Bulger.

Mrs. Austin says: "My buckwheat cakes will please you, if you love the good old-fashioned flavor. 34-2wks-74"

Very Low Rates to the West And Southwest.

THE MISSOURI PACIFIC RAILWAY AND IRON MOUNTAIN ROUTE will sell one way and round trip Homeseekers' tickets to points in Kansas, Colorado, Nebraska, Missouri, Arkansas, Indian and Oklahoma territories, Louisiana, Texas, and New Mexico, on the first and third Tuesdays of each month to and including April, at unusually low rates.

For further information write Jno. R. James, central passenger agent, 905 Park building, Pittsburg, Pa.

31-cod-w-4f

THIN FOLKS MADE FAT

Good, healthy flesh can only be gained by the use of proper food, together with natural action of the digestive organs. Nine people out of ten, in order to weigh as much as they ought, and be perfectly healthy, should use Mi-o-na, the great flesh-forming food and digestion regulator. Weigh yourself before commencing to use these little tablets and see how your weight increases from week to week.

Mi-o-na does not contain a particle of pepsin, the basis of the ordinary dyspepsia remedy, and which never made a cure of dyspepsia. Mi-o-na has valuable flesh-forming properties, tones up and strengthens the digestive organs, helps digest the food eaten, and absolutely cures the worst forms of dyspepsia.

If you are not perfectly satisfied with the results from Mi-o-na Will Reed will return your money without any questions. What other medicine is sold on this plan?

HANCOCK BAR,

Finest line of Wines, Whiskies, Beer and Cigars in the city.

WM. HANCOCK, Proprietor, Mulberry St. EAST END.

DRINK PURE SPRING WATER

I will deliver it at your door fresh every morning

R. G. BOYD

Successor to Robert Bond. Col. Phone 447. 108 Thompson Ave.

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING.

Wanted, For Sale, To Rent, Financial, Exchange, Personals, not exceeding 30 words, daily, three insertions, 25 cents; 50 cents the week. $1.50 the month. Weekly, 25 cents, one time; 75 cents the month. Cash in advance, otherwise we charge double price to cover bookkeeping and collection.

WANTED.

WANTED—Modeler. A first class general-ware modeler. Steady work at good wages. The Wheeling Pottery Co., LaBelle Department, Wheeling, W. Va. 414

WANTED—Forelady for glost ware rooms, with crew. Apply to The Sevens China Co. 417

WANTED—Experienced decalcoman transferers at The Homer Laughlin China Co. Plant No. 2. 447

WANTED—At once, a cutter. Apply to Ed. Hutton, Wallace & Chetwynd Pottery. 437

GOOD COLORED GIRL for general housework, good wages. Mrs. H. Blythe, 145 College street. 434

WANTED—Experienced Decalcoman Girls; also Girl Gilders. Smith & Phillips China company. 424

FOR SALE.

FOR SALE—House situated at 151 Sixth street, to be removed. Inquire of Geo. H. Owen & Co. 294f

FOR RENT.

FOR RENT—Furnished front room, 147 Third street, near Central school building. Call at the house after 5 p. m. 437

FOR RENT—One furnished front room with privilege of bath. Inquire at 284 Third street, city. 394f

LEGAL

NOTICE

Notice is hereby given, that an application in writing has been made to the Council of the city of East Liverpool, Ohio, for a period of twenty-five years, a single track, electric street railway, except on Fifth street, where it shall have double tracks, with the necessary switches, turnouts, poles, trolley and feed wires, in the section of Sixth and Jefferson streets to the east end of Globe street with a branch line from the intersection of Pennsylvania avenue and East street to the intersection of Calcutta Road with the city's north-west line, along the route in said application described.

No grant to construct or operate a street railroad along said route will be made except to the corporation, individual or individuals that will agree to carry passengers upon such proposed street railroad at the lowest rates of fare.

Sealed bids must be in the hands of the City Clerk by 12 o'clock noon on Tuesday, March 10, 1903.

Passed February 16, 1903.

WILLIS DAVIDSON, City Clerk.

Published in the Evening News Review February 16th to Mar. 9th, 1903, inclusive.

There's no reflection so dainty, no light so charming as the mellow glow that comes from

CORDOVA

Wax Candles

Prepared in many colors to harmonize with surroundings, drawing room, bedroom or hall. Sold everywhere. Made by

STANDARD

OIL CO.

HOME STUDY COURSE

Self Education Through the Medium of Specially Prepared Articles by Prominent Instructors

Interesting Features of Medicine

By George Thomas Palmer, M. D.

IX.—Some Peculiar "Isms" and "Pathies."

IN a vocation so rife with superstitious notions as medicine it is not strange that various illogical and absurd cults have arisen. Inasmuch as the art of healing has always had in it a great deal which is incapable of explanation, it is not to be wondered at that thousands of people have been ready to follow every new "ism" without troubling themselves about why and wherefore. The admixture of religion with the healing of disease, born of the miraculous cures by Christ and the saints of old, has been productive of

Dr. L. Pasteur.

[Discoverer of the antirabies serum.] the "faith cures" which have from time to time appeared in various forms. So much of mythology hangs over Homer, Hippocrates and post-Hippocratic medical history that it is difficult to differentiate quackery from the natural superstitious beliefs of the day. In Roman times we come upon a quack so arrant and bigoted that he is placed beyond question on a par with quacks of our own day.

However absurd may have been the teachings of the older masters, there was earnestness in their research and modesty in their demeanor, but Thales of Miletus was too pronounced a charlatan and his teachings were too grandiose to credit him with a shadow of sincerity.

How unchanging are the methods of the quack! Thessalus came to Rome an ignorant adventurer and began the practice of the art of healing. He studied the tastes of his clientele and advised liberal use of wines, choice viands and all forms of self indulgence, thereby making himself exceedingly agreeable to his patients. He opened a school of medicine, guaranteeing to teach the entire art in six weeks—a veritable twentieth century diploma mill. Of students he had hundreds, of patients thousands, and he rode upon the very crest of popular favor. Before his death he superintended the carving of his own tombstone, on which he had inscribed, "Greater Than All Physicians, Living or Dead!" The "pathy" of Thessalus was the first on record of many of those by which the world has been willingly hoodwinked.

But even before his day Paracelsus had in all sincerity established a school of healing, the theories of which were so peculiar as to entitle them to consideration here. He taught that man is best understood by the study of nature and that each disease has its cure in some special product of nature. His was also a popular school and for a time overthrew the teachings of Hippocrates, and, absurd as his ideas now seem to us, we must admit that they contributed materially to the knowledge of specific medication. There was a grain of truth in his writings. Some

No Dessert More Attractive

Why use gelatine and spend hours soaking, sweetening, flavoring and coloring when produces better results in two minutes? Everything in the package. Simply add hot water and set to cool. It's perfection. A surprise to the housewife. No trouble, less expense. Try it today. In Four Fruit Flavors: Lemon, Orange, Strawberry, Raspberry. At grocers, 10c.

Jell-O

diseases have certain specific cures in nature, but not many. His were as true as the doctrines of Hahnemann, who taught that like cures like; that what will cause a condition will also cure it.

But of the "isms" and "pathies" of which we still have traces the school of Hahnemann is the greatest. We can speak freely of this school today, for it is practically out of existence. The narrow teachings of Hahnemann no more resemble the great homeopathic school of today than do the theories of Hippocrates resemble the allopathic ideas of the present.

The father of homeopathy taught the doctrine of "high potency"—that a drug diluted with ten times its bulk of water was stronger than the drug undiluted, and that the greater the dilution the greater the potency or strength; furthermore, that a greatly diluted drug shaken by a strong arm would have a higher degree of potency than if shaken by an arm not so strong. He also believed, as I have mentioned, that a drug which will cause a condition will cure the same condition ("similia similibus curantur"). In the teachings of Hahnemann there was more than a grain of truth. The theory is exemplified by the fact that ipecac, which will cause nausea and vomiting when given in small doses, will allay nausea. But who can believe that whisky in minute doses will overcome alcoholic intoxication? that salt, which causes thirst, will also allay thirst?

As I say, the homeopathy of Hahnemann is no more. The great school which bears that name each year approaches more and more the allopathic school, and it has had the effect upon the old school of modifying its treatment, of reducing its dosage and of making medicinal treatment far more tolerable to suffering humanity.

And now comes the cult of Mrs. Eddy—Christian Science. It is one which is following the course of the dozens which have gone before. It is now in the era of prosperity which each "ism" has in its day and soon shall be forgotten with the others. It is the natural association of religion with healing which has existed since the earliest days of history. There is little that is new in it save that it is the refined and cultured faith of the well to do instead of the blind faith of the ignorant. It denies the existence of matter, holds disease to be mere error and insists that when faith has so far developed as to overcome our present fallacious beliefs in the existence of things, and false feelings and emotions, sin and disease, and even death, will pass away. It is called a science because its followers believe that they have arrived at their conclusions logically and by a regular sequence of facts.

It has in it the grain of truth that to a certain extent mind can overcome matter and that functional disease can be cured by faith. It is the therapeutic measure of mental suggestion which is used and has been used by the regular medical profession for many years. The Christian Scientists call in surgeons to set bones because the faith is not yet sufficiently developed to overcome such conditions without mechanical aid. It will reach that state of perfection some day—some day!

The same element of religious faith is evidenced in a crude way in the workings of Dowle of Chicago. Like Mrs. Eddy, but in a cruder way, suited to the clientele to which he caters, he has thrown a cloak of divine power about his person, claiming with convincing earnestness that he is the incarnated Elijah and John the Baptist merged in one. This assumption of holy place or divine inspiration is essential to working upon the minds of people who have been taught for centuries of the disease curing process of religion and to account for the powers of the alleged healer. Man's confidence in man is not sufficient to permit the healer to claim the power as lying within himself.

Many of my readers will remember the wonderful popularity of spiritualism in its day, of the cures accomplished by the advice of those who had gone before generously volunteered in the séances of skillful mediums. While not so directly medical as others, the cult of spiritualism was one which was felt in the medical world.

Others may recall that peculiar condition of "king's evil" now known as scrofula, or tubercular glands of the neck—peculiar because it could only be cured by the laying on of royal hands. Many were the pilgrimages to European courts by sufferers, and many were the cures reported. The spontaneous recoveries which are common to the disease were naturally attributed to the monarchs who set aside days on which to bring relief to their suffering subjects.

Some years ago a certain layman discovered (?) that rays of sunlight coming through panes of blue glass would cure almost any ill to which man is heir. Physicians took it up, and hundreds and thousands were cured of every variety of ills. After reporting these recoveries with all sincerity the physicians realized their extreme folly and hastened to forget the blue glass cure.

And now from the state of Missouri

It Cures Colds, Coughs, Sore Throat, Croup, Influenza, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis and Asthma. A certain cure for Consumption in first stages, and a sure relief in advanced stages. Use at once. You will see the excellent effect after taking the first dose. Sold by druggists everywhere. Large bottles 25 cents and 50 cents.

Dr. Virchow.

[Noted Austrian surgeon.] opathy. Contrary to one's natural conclusions, this as it is practiced has virtually nothing to do with bones. It is merely massage developed into a gigantic cure-all—just massage, which your family doctor has used as far back as you can remember, but massage decorated with a number of artistic theories which every cult must have.

There are also physio-therapy, electro-magnetism, physio-chemistry and on and on down a long list, each with its foundation of a grain of truth and an immense superstructure of theory.

Each year a new cult is born, each year an old one dies, and the old school goes on accepting and regretting, gaining new truths and casting out false doctrines. It has its vagaries and its false prophets, but the secret of its continued growth is merely that it has no set principles or theories; there is no belief so strong as to be an absolute essential. It gathers facts from each cult as it lives and dies and profits by the teaching of every "ism."

[Copyright, 1902, by Lewis D. Sampson.]

Unnecessary Trouble.

Lieutenant (who has been inspecting the estate of a noble landowner)—And this beautiful estate will all be inherited by your noble daughter?

"Well, hardly. You see, I have no daughter."

"Indeed! Then what on earth did you want to tire me out for by this inspection?"—Fliegende Blätter.

Wretch.

"George, did you ever love any other woman as well as you love me?"

"Oh, yes, dear; several of them."

"Indeed! Why didn't you marry one of them instead of me?"

"Well, I suppose I'll be asking myself that question, too, some day."—Chicago Tribune.

Involved Fuel Relations.

Nora—The lady next door wants to borrow a bucket of coal, ma'am.

Mrs. Blank—Nora, tell her that we are already borrowing our coal from the people on the other side of us.—Detroit Free Press.

Scald head is an eczema of the scalp—very severe sometimes, but it can be cured. Doan's Ointment, quick and permanent in its results. At any drug store, 50 cents.

Rushville, Ind.

Messrs. Ely Bros.—I have been a great sufferer from catarrh and hay fever and tried many things, but found no permanent relief until I found it in Ely's Cream Balm about eight years ago, and we have been fast friends ever since. (Rev.) R. M. BENTLEY.

Messrs. Ely Bros.—Find enclosed 50 cents, for which please send me your Cream Balm. I find your remedy the quickest and most permanent cure for cold in the head, catarrh, etc. Yours truly, DELL M. POTTER, Gen. Mgr. Arizona Gold Mining Co.

E. L. LOMAX,

General Passenger and Ticket Agent, OMAHA, NEB., or F. B. CHOATE, Agent, 15 Park Bldg., PITTSBURG, PA.

The Health and Pleasure Resorts.

of Texas, Mexico, Arizona and California are quickly and comfortably reached via the Southern Pacific Company's SUNSET ROUTE. Daily through service from New Orleans to San Francisco via Houston, San Antonio, El Paso, and Los Angeles. Special daily service, SUNSET LIMITED from New Orleans, composed of Buffet Smoking Car, containing Bath Room and Barber Shop, Dining Room, Pullman Sleepers, and Dining Car (meals a la carte) all of the latest design and most luxuriously appointed. Direct connections made at New Orleans from all points North and East. Detailed information cheerfully furnished by F. B. Choate, General Agent, 15 Park Building, Pittsburg, Pa.

Bowser Versus Webster

He Takes Issue With All Authorities on Subject of "Whortleberries," and Gets Into Trouble

[Copyright, 1903, by C. B. Lewis.]

MR. BOWSER had been reading his evening paper for half an hour when he laid it down with the remark:

"Well, that's a queer name. Did you ever hear of whortleberries, Mrs. Bowser?"

"A thousand times over," she replied. "Oh, you have? Well, you are ahead of me for once in your life. Perhaps you will enlighten me?"

"You have not only eaten them a hundred times, but I have no doubt you have picked many a painful Whortleberry, my dear, as what people generally call huckleberries."

"They can't be."

"But they surely are."

"I deny it. A huckleberry is a huckleberry and has been ever since any one heard of them. A whortleberry is an altogether different thing, whatever it is. I thought it queer that you should know more than I did about the matter."

"Now, don't make any mistake about the berries," protested Mrs. Bowser, though she realized that argument must lead to a family row. "There is no such fruit as huckleberries. The name is a corruption of whortleberries. Very few newspapers or circulars use the term 'huckle.'"

"You are wrong—a thousand times wrong," exclaimed Mr. Bowser as he walked about. "It has never been anything else but huckleberry since America was discovered. Now that I remember, I can inform you that whortleberries grow in India. I have seen a few preserved specimens. They grow on trees and are something like our peaches. A huckleberry, as you know, is a small black berry about as large as a buckshot. It will be well for you to remember this and not make any further mistakes."

"You have only to look in the dictionary to find that 'huckle' is a corruption of 'whortle' and that both terms relate to one and the same berry. Here, let me get it for you."

"What do I care about the dictionary? What I know I know."

"But let's see what it says."

"I don't care what it says. All the dictionaries in the world couldn't convince me that I was wrong."

Mrs. Bowser got down the unabridged and read:

"The whortleberry is a small round edible berry which is highly valued for food. The name huckleberry is now more common in colloquial language than whortleberry."

"Doesn't that prove my case?" she asked as she closed the book.

"Not by forty miles, madam," shouted Mr. Bowser. "The two are entirely distinct. One grows in America, the other in India."

"But Webster doesn't say so."

"What have I got to do with Webster or any other man? What I know I know. Furthermore, I will prove the huckleberry question right here in our own house. We'll see what the cook says."

The cook came up in answer to the bell, and Mr. Bowser asked:

"Sarah, you know what huckleberries are, of course?"

"Oh, yes, sir."

"But did you ever see a whortleberry?"

"Yes, sir; they are the same thing."

"Eh! Eh! What's that?"

"The same thing, sir, begging your pardon. My brother once bet $10 that they were different, and he made a fool of himself and lost his money. Is that all, sir?"

There was a painful silence as the cook departed, and then Mr. Bowser stood up and hoarsely whispered:

"Woman, I see the conspiracy, but I will balk it. I presume you have even got the cat on your side."

"Why all this excitement over nothing?" asked Mrs. Bowser. "I'm sure we don't care whether it's whortle or huckle."

"But we do care," he persisted. "You have tried to make out that I am an ignoramus, and I propose to show you to the contrary. Within half an hour I will make you and your Webster's Dictionary look like 15 cents."

"What are you going to do?" she asked as he started down the hall.

"I am going to bring forty different people here to say that I am right. You sit tight there, and you will hear from me in about ten minutes."

Mr. Bowser put on his hat and overcoat and went out, and he had scarcely got out of the gate when he met a pedestrian and accosted him with:

"Sir, you will pardon me, but I wish to ask you a question. What is the difference between huckleberries and whortleberries?"

"It's all in the pronunciation," replied the man.

"Then you insist that both are the same thing?"

"Certainly. Have you run across any idiot who disputes it?"

Mr. Bowser glared at him and walked on. At the corner he found a man leaning against the fence and said to him:

"I have a little bet on hand, and perhaps you can help me to win it. You have heard of huckleberries, haven't you?"

"I should remark," was the reply. "I was born on the edge of a huckleberry swamp, and I have picked a hundred bushels of them."

"Well, now, did you ever hear of whortleberries?"

"They are the same thing, old man—the same thing. It's all in the way you pronounce the name."

"But I contend that they are different," aggressively announced Mr. Bowser.

"No use, old man. A whortleberry is a huckleberry, and you can't make pumpkins of one and turnips of the other. I pronounce the name huckle. I like it. There's something soft and tender about it. At this very moment I'm waiting for my huckleberry who works in that house over there to appear and take a walk with me. It would take away half of my love if I had to call her my whortleberry. Better give it up and go home."

But Mr. Bowser wouldn't. He sauntered down the street and passed three or four pedestrians and finally accosted a venerable looking man who had lived long in the world and eaten all sorts of berries.

"You—you know what a huckleberry is?" began Mr. Bowser.

"I think I do," slowly replied the venerable man after recovering from his surprise, "but if you have any game to play, don't take me for a fool."

"I have no game, I simply wish to settle a dispute. I contend that huckleberry and whortleberry are two different berries. The other party contends that they are the same thing."

"And who is the other party?"

"Well, it's my wife."

"I see. Well, I congratulate and pity her at the same time."

"What do you mean?"

"I mean that she probably knows more than the average woman, but she has also got an ass for a husband."

"Look here, you old reprobate," shouted Mr. Bowser, "don't talk that way to me. I asked you a plain question, and—"

"And you are an ass, sir! Go home and acknowledge it to your wife."

"By thunder, but I allow no old he goat to call me names. I'll give you one minute!"

Mr. Bowser was lying in the snow when he opened his eyes, and the venerable man was almost out of sight. Five minutes later Mrs. Bowser heard the front door open, and she walked into the hall to see Mr. Bowser sneaking upstairs.

"Is it whortleberry?" she asked.

He didn't reply.

"Or is it huckleberry?"

He didn't even halt to look down. He had suddenly decided that the huckleberry season was over.

M. QUAD.

At a Standstill.

"He boasts that he doesn't advertise, but he's still doing business at his old stand."

"He means he's doing business at his old standstill."—Philadelphia Press.

A Puzzle Indeed.

"This," declared the eminent orator, "is the very key to the whole question."

"But," interrupted a small man in a rear seat, "where is the keyhole?"—Judge.

FASHIONABLE COLORS.

Ivory Whites—Mulberry Red Is Much Worn In Paris.

White cloth and white crepe de chine edged with mink or chinchilla and worn with beautiful Italian lace make extremely becoming and exclusive house frocks, by which is meant a warm tone of ivory. Blue white is seldom becoming, although it suits a few, but at best it looks rather cold and comfortable.

Dull mulberry red will be worn a great deal for street wear later, especially in headgear. In Paris crimson tones have taken the place of sapphire blues and greens. Presently no doubt this mulberry shade will be ousted by purple and light gray, which two colors are always beloved by Parisians during the Lenten season.

Gray is a very trying color and should be made up very softly, with perhaps a suggestion of a warmer tone. It should always be trimmed with lace.

The dainty evening blouse here shown is of accordion plaited chiffon over satin. The collarless neck is encircled by a yoke of lace.

JUDIC CHOLLET.

NEW MAGAZINE OFFICE.

"The express agent won't let us have that shipment of paper," said the business manager, "until we plank the cash down."

"That's all right. Just announce that the twentieth edition is exhausted and out of print, and let the express man go to blazes."—Atlanta Constitution.

According to Order.

Indignant Guest—These don't taste like first class eggs.

Dignified Waiter—No, sub. You asked for medium boiled, didn't you, sub?—Chicago Tribune.

Common Phrases.

"It showed on the face of it."

—Chicago News.

His Plight.

In front of a millionaire's mansion Dan Cupid was sitting in tears.

"Oh, what," I inquired, "is the matter. And what is the cause of your tears?"

"It's this," he replied, with emotion; "A terrible state of affairs."

"If you aren't at the top of the ladder, you're helped to the foot of the stairs."

—New York Times.

A Prisoner in Her House.

Mrs. W. H. Lavha, of 1001 Agnes avenue, Kansas City, Mo., has for several years been troubled with severe hoarseness and at times a hard cough, which she says, "Would keep me in doors for days. I was prescribed for by physicians with no noticeable results. A friend gave me a part of a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy with instructions to closely follow the directions and I wish to state that after the first day I could notice a decided change for the better, and at this time after using it for two weeks, have no hesitation in saying I realize that I am entirely cured. From this time on Chamberlain's Cough Remedy will be in my house constantly." This remedy is for sale by Alvin H. Bulger.

Mrs. Austin says: "My buckwheat cakes will please you, if you love the good old-fashioned flavor. 34-2wks-74

Very Low Rates to the West And Southwest.

THE MISSOURI PACIFIC RAILWAY AND IRON MOUNTAIN ROUTE will sell one way and round trip Homeseekers' tickets to points in Kansas, Colorado, Nebraska, Missouri, Arkansas, Indian and Oklahoma territories, Louisiana, Texas, and New Mexico, on the first and third Tuesdays of each month to and including April, at unusually low rates.

For further information write Jno. R. James, central passenger agent, 905 Park building, Pittsburg, Pa.

31-cod-w-11

THIN FOLKS MADE FAT

Good, healthy flesh can only be gained by the use of proper food, together with natural action of the digestive organs. Nine people out of ten, in order to weigh as much as they ought and be perfectly healthy, should use Mi-o-na, the great flesh-forming food and digestion regulator. Weigh yourself before commencing to use these little tablets and see how your weight increases from week to week.

Mi-o-na does not contain a particle of pepsin, the basis of the ordinary dyspepsia remedy, and which never made a cure of dyspepsia. Mi-o-na has valuable flesh-forming properties, tones up and strengthens the digestive organs, helps digest the food eaten, and absolutely cures the worst forms of dyspepsia.

If you are not perfectly satisfied with the results from Mi-o-na. Will Reed will return your money without any questions. What other medicine is sold on this plan?

HANCOCK BAR,

EAST END.

Finest line of Wines, Whiskies, Beer and Cigars in the city.

WM. HANCOCK, Proprietor, Mulberry St. EAST END.

DRINK PURE SPRING WATER

I will deliver it at your door fresh every morning

R. G. BOYD

Successor to Robert Bond, Col. Food, 1st Thompson Ave.

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING.

Wanted, For Sale, To Rent, Financial, Exchange, Personals, not exceeding 30 words, daily, three insertions, 25 cents; 50 cents the week. $1.50 the month. Weekly, 25 cents, one time; 75 cents the month. Cash in advance, otherwise we charge double price to cover bookkeeping and collection.

WANTED.

WANTED—Modeler. A first class general-ware modeler. Steady work at good wages. The Wheeling Pottery Co., LaBelle Department, Wheeling, W. Va. 441

WANTED—Forelady for glist war rooms, with crew. Apply to The Sovereigns China Co. 441

WANTED—Experienced decalcomania transferers at The Homer Laughlin China Co. Plant No. 2. 441

WANTED—At once, a cutter. Apply to Ed. Hatton, Wallace & Chetwynd Pottery. 439

GOOD COLORED GIRL for general housework, good wages. Mrs. H. Blythe, 145 College street. 431

WANTED—Experienced Decalcomania Girls; also Girl Gilders. Smith & Phillips China company. 421

FOR SALE.

FOR SALE—House situated at 151 Sixth street, to be removed. Inquire of Geo. H. Owen &

HOME STUDY COURSE

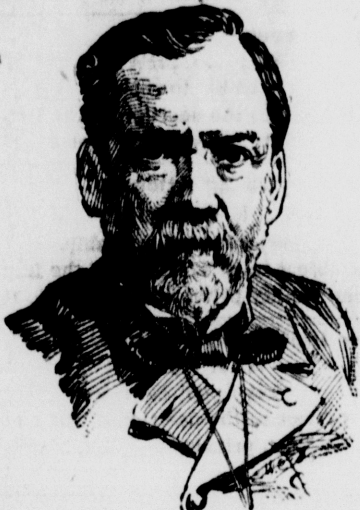

Self Education Through the Medium of Specially Prepared Articles by Prominent Instructors

Interesting Features of Medicine

By George Thomas Palmer, M. D.

IX.—Some Peculiar "Isms" and "Pathies."

IN a vocation so rife with superstitious notions as medicine it is not strange that various illogical and absurd cults have arisen. Inasmuch as the art of healing has always had in it a great deal which is incapable of explanation, it is not to be wondered at that thousands of people have been ready to follow every new "ism" without troubling themselves about why and wherefore. The admixture of religion with the healing of disease, born of the miraculous cures by Christ and the saints of old, has been productive of the "faith cures" which have from time to time appeared in various forms. So much of mythology hangs over Homer, Hippocratic and post-Hippocratic medical history that it is difficult to differentiate quackery from the natural superstitious beliefs of the day. In Roman times we come upon a quack so arrogant and bigoted that he is placed beyond question on a par with quacks of our own day.

Dr. L. Pasteur.

[Discoverer of the antrabiles serum.]

However absurd may have been the teachings of the older masters, there was earnestness in their research and modesty in their demeanor, but Thessalus of Tralles was too pronounced a charlatan and his teachings were too grandiose to credit him with a shadow of sincerity.

How unchanging are the methods of the quack! Thessalus came to Rome an ignorant adventurer and began the practice of the art of healing. He studied the tastes of his clientele and advised liberal use of wines, choice viands and all forms of self-indulgence, thereby making himself exceedingly agreeable to his patients. He opened a school of medicine, guaranteeing to teach the entire art in six weeks—a veritable twentieth century diploma mill. Of students he had hundreds, of patients thousands, and he rode upon the very crest of popular favor. Before his death he superintended the carving of his own tombstone, on which he had inscribed, "Greater Than All Physicians, Living or Dead!" The "pathy" of Thessalus was the first on record of many of those by which the world has been willingly hoodwinked.

But even before his day Paracelsus had in all sincerity established a school of healing, the theories of which were so peculiar as to entitle them to consideration here. He taught that man is best understood by the study of nature and that each disease has its cure in some special product of nature. His was also a popular school and for a time overthrew the teachings of Hippocrates, and, absurd as his ideas now seem to us, we must admit that they contributed materially to the knowledge of specific medication. There was a grain of truth in his writings. Some

No Dessert More Attractive

Why use gelatine and spend hours soaking, sweetening, flavoring and coloring when produces better results in two minutes? Everything in the package. Simply add hot water and set to cool. It's perfection. A surprise to the housewife. No trouble, less expense. Try it today. In Four Fruit Flavors: Lemon, Orange, Strawberry, Raspberry. At grocers, 10c.

Jell-O

It Cures Colds, Coughs, Sore Throat, Croup, Influenza, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis and Asthma. A certain cure for Consumption in first stages, and a sure relief in advanced stages. Use at once. You will see the excellent effect after taking the first dose. Sold by druggists everywhere. Large bottles 25 cents and 50 cents.

Dr. Virchow.

[Noted Austrian surgeon.]

comes another "ism." This is osteopathy. Contrary to one's natural conclusions, this as it is practiced has virtually nothing to do with bones. It is merely massage developed into a gigantic cure-all—just massage, which your family doctor has used as far back as you can remember, but massage decorated with a number of artistic theories which every cult must have.

There are also physio-therapy, electro-magnetism, physio-chemistry and on and on down a long list, each with its foundation of a grain of truth and an immense superstructure of theory.

Each year a new cult is born, each year an old one dies, and the old school goes on accepting and regurgitating, gaining new truths and casting out false doctrines. It has its vagaries and its false prophets, but the secret of its continued growth is merely that it has no set principles or theories; there is no belief so strong as to be an absolute essential. It gathers facts from each cult as it lives and dies and profits by the teaching of every "ism."

[Copyright, 1902, by Lewis D. Sampson.]

Unnecessary Trouble.

Lieutenant (who has been inspecting the estate of a noble landowner)—And this beautiful estate will all be inherited by your noble daughter?

"Well, hardly. You see, I have no daughter."

"Indeed! Then what on earth did you want to hire me out for by this inspection?"—Flegende Blatter.

Wretch.

"George, did you ever love any other woman as well as you love me?"

"Oh, yes, dear; several of them."

"Indeed! Why didn't you marry one of them instead of me?"

"Well, I suppose I'll be asking myself that question, too, some day."—Chicago Tribune.

Involved Fuel Relations.

Nora—The lady next door wants to borrow a bucket of coal, ma'am.

Mrs. Blank Nora, tell her that we are already borrowing our coal from the people on the other side of us.—Detroit Free Press.

Scalp head is an eczema of the scalp—very severe sometimes, but it can be cured. Doan's Ointment, quick and permanent in its results. At any drug store, 50 cents.

Rushville, Ind.

Messrs. Ely Bros.—I have been a great sufferer from catarrh and hay fever and tried many things, but found no permanent relief until I found it in Ely's Cream Balm about eight years ago, and we have been fast friends ever since. (Rev.) R. M. BENTLEY.

Messrs. Ely Bros.—Find enclosed 50 cents, for which please send me your Cream Balm. I find your remedy the quickest and most permanent cure for cold in the head, catarrh, etc. Yours truly, DELL M. POTTER. Gen. Mgr. Arizona Gold Mining Co.

E. L. LOMAX, General Passenger and Ticket Agent, OMAHA, NEB., or F. B. CHOATE, Agent, 15 Park Bldg., PITTSBURG, PA.

The Health and Pleasure Resorts. of Texas, Mexico, Arizona and California are quickly and comfortably reached via the Southern Pacific Company's SUNSET ROUTE. Daily through service from New Orleans to San Francisco via Houston, San Antonio, El Paso, and Los Angeles. Special daily service, SUNSET LIMITED from New Orleans, composed of Buffet Smoking Car, containing Bath Room and Barber Shop, Drawing Room, Pullman Car, regular Pullman Sleepers, and Dining Car (meals a la carte) all of the latest design and most luxuriously appointed. Direct connections made at New Orleans from all points North and East. Detailed information cheerfully furnished by F. B. Choate, General Agent, 515 Park Building, Pittsburg, Pa.

Bowser versus Webster

He Takes Issue With All Authorities on Subject of "Whortleberries," and Gets Into Trouble

[Copyright, 1903, by C. B. Lewis.]

MR. BOWSER had been reading his evening paper for half an hour when he laid it down with the remark:

"Well, that's a queer name. Did you ever hear of whortleberries, Mrs. Bowser?"

"A thousand times over," she replied. "Oh, you have? Well, you are ahead of me for once in your life. Perhaps you will enlighten me?"

"You have not only eaten them a hundred times, but I have no doubt you have picked many a painful whortleberry, my dear, as what people generally call huckleberries."

"They can't be." "But they surely are."

"I deny it. A huckleberry is a huckleberry and has been ever since any one heard of them. A whortleberry is an altogether different thing, whatever it is. I thought it queer that you should know more than I did about the matter."

"Now, don't make any mistake about the berries," protested Mrs. Bowser, though she realized that argument must lead to a family row. "There is no such fruit as huckleberries. The name is a corruption of whortleberries. Very few newspapers or circulars use the term 'huckle.'"

"You are wrong—a thousand times wrong," exclaimed Mr. Bowser as he walked about. "It has never been anything else but huckleberry since America was discovered. Now that I remember, I can inform you that whortleberries grow in India. I have seen a few preserved specimens. They grow on trees and are something like our peaches. A huckleberry, as you know, is a small black berry about as large as a buckshot. It will be well for you to remember this and not make any further mistakes."

"You have only to look in the dictionary to find that 'huckle' is a corruption of 'whortle' and that both terms relate to one and the same berry. Here, let me get it for you."

"What do I care about the dictionary? I think I know it now."

"But let's see what it says."

"I don't care what it says. All the dictionaries in the world couldn't convince me that I was wrong."

Mrs. Bowser got down the unabridged and read:

"The whortleberry is a small round edible berry which is highly valued for food. The name huckleberry is now more common in colloquial language than whortleberry."

"Doesn't that prove my case?" she asked as she closed the book.

"Not by forty miles, madam," shouted Mr. Bowser. "The two are entirely distinct. One grows in America, the other in India."

"But Webster does not say so."

"What have I got to do with Webster or any other man? What I know I know. Furthermore, I will prove the huckleberry question right here in our own house. We'll see what the cook says."

The cook came up in answer to the bell, and Mr. Bowser asked:

"Sarah, you know what huckleberries are, of course?"

"Oh, yes, sir."

"But did you ever see a whortleberry?"

"Yes, sir; they are the same thing."

"Eh! Eh! What's that?"

"The same thing, sir, begging your pardon. My brother once bet $10 that they were different, and he made a fool of himself and lost his money. Is that all, sir?"

There was a painful silence as the cook departed, and then Mr. Bowser stood up and hoarsely whispered:

"Woman, I see the conspiracy, but I will balk it. I presume you have even got the cat on your side."

"Why all this excitement over nothing?" asked Mrs. Bowser. "I'm sure we don't care whether it's whortle or huckle."

"But we do care," he persisted. "You have tried to make out that I am an ignoramus, and I propose to show you to the contrary. Within half an hour I will make you or your Webster's Dictionary look like 15 cents."

"What are you going to do?" she asked as he started down the hall.

"I am going to bring forty different people here to say that I am right. You sit right there, and you will hear from me in about ten minutes."

Mr. Bowser put on his hat and overcoat and went out, and he had scarcely got out of the gate when he met a pedestrian and accosted him with:

"Sir, you will pardon me, but I wish to ask you a question. What is the difference between huckleberries and whortleberries?"

"It's all in the pronunciation," replied the man.

"Then you insist that both are the same thing?"

"Certainly. Have you run across any idiot who disputes it?"

Mr. Bowser glared at him and walked on. At the corner he found a man leaning against the fence and said to him:

"I have a little bet on hand, and perhaps you can help me to win it. You have heard of huckleberries, haven't you?"

"I should remark," was the reply. "I was born on the edge of a huckleberry swamp, and I have picked a hundred bushels of them."

"Well, now, did you ever hear of whortleberries?"

"They are the same thing, old man—the same thing. It's all in the way you pronounce the name."

"But I contend that they are different," aggressively announced Mr. Bowser.

"No use, old man. A whortleberry is a huckleberry, and you can't make pumpkins of one and turnips of the other. I pronounce the name huckle. I like it. There's something soft and tender about it. At this very moment I'm waiting for my huckleberry who works in that house over there to appear and take a walk with me. It would take away half of my love if I had to call her my whortleberry. Better give it up and go home."

BOWSER WAS LYING IN THE SNOW WHEN HE OPENED HIS EYES, AND THE VENERABLE MAN WAS ALMOST OUT OF SIGHT.

tion of 'whortle' and that both terms relate to one and the same berry. Here, let me get it for you."

"What do I care about the dictionary? I think I know it now."

"But let's see what it says."

"I don't care what it says. All the dictionaries in the world couldn't convince me that I was wrong."

Mrs. Bowser got down the unabridged and read:

"The whortleberry is a small round edible berry which is highly valued for food. The name huckleberry is now more common in colloquial language than whortleberry."

"Doesn't that prove my case?" she asked as she closed the book.

"Not by forty miles, madam," shouted Mr. Bowser. "The two are entirely distinct. One grows in America, the other in India."

"But Webster does not say so."

"What have I got to do with Webster or any other man? What I know I know. Furthermore, I will prove the huckleberry question right here in our own house. We'll see what the cook says."

The cook came up in answer to the bell, and Mr. Bowser asked:

"Sarah, you know what huckleberries are, of course?"

"Oh, yes, sir."

"But did you ever see a whortleberry?"

"Yes, sir; they are the same thing."

"Eh! Eh! What's that?"

"The same thing, sir, begging your pardon. My brother once bet $10 that they were different, and he made a fool of himself and lost his money. Is that all, sir?"

There was a painful silence as the cook departed, and then Mr. Bowser stood up and hoarsely whispered:

"Woman, I see the conspiracy, but I will balk it. I presume you have even got the cat on your side."

"Why all this excitement over nothing?" asked Mrs. Bowser. "I'm sure we don't care whether it's whortle or huckle."

"But we do care," he persisted. "You have tried to make out that I am an ignoramus, and I propose to show you to the contrary. Within half an hour I will make you or your Webster's Dictionary look like 15 cents."

"What are you going to do?" she asked as he started down the hall.

But Mr. Bowser wouldn't. He sauntered down the street and passed three or four pedestrians and finally accosted a venerable looking man who had lived long in the world and eaten all sorts of berries.

"You—you know what a huckleberry is?" began Mr. Bowser.

"I think I do," slowly replied the venerable man after recovering from his surprise, "but if you have any game to play, don't take me for a fool."

"I have no game. I simply wish to settle a dispute. I intend that huckleberry and whortleberry are two different berries. The other party contends that they are the same thing."

"And who is the other party?"

"Well, it's my wife."

"I see. Well, I congratulate and pity her at the same time."

"What do you mean?"

"I mean that she probably knows more than the average woman, but she has also got an ass for a husband."

"Look here, you old reprobate," shouted Mr. Bowser, "don't talk that way to me. I asked you a plain question, and—"

"And you are an ass, sir! Go home and acknowledge it to your wife."

"By thunder, but I allow no old he goat to call me names. I'll give you one minute!"

Mr. Bowser was lying in the snow when he opened his eyes, and the venerable man was almost out of sight. Five minutes later Mrs. Bowser heard the front door open, and she walked in to the hall to see Mr. Bowser sneaking upstairs.

"Is it whortleberry?" she asked. He didn't reply.

"Or is it huckleberry?"

He didn't even halt to look down. He had suddenly decided that the huckleberry season was over. M. QUAD.

At a Standstill.

"He boasts that he doesn't advertise, but he's still doing business at his old stand."

"He means he's doing business at his old standstill."—Philadelphia Press.

A Puzzle Indeed.

"This," declared the eminent orator, "is the very key to the whole question."

"But," interrupted a small man in a rear seat, "where is the keyhole?"—Judge.

FASHIONABLE COLORS.

Ivory Whites—Mulberry Red is Much Worn in Paris.

White cloth and white crepe de chine edged with mink or chinchilla and worn with beautiful Italian lace make extremely becoming and exclusive house frocks, by which is meant a warm tone of ivory. Blue white is seldom becoming, although it suits a few, but at best it looks rather cold and uncomfortable.

Dull mulberry red will be worn a great deal for street wear later, especially in headgear. In Paris crimson tones have taken the place of sapphire blues and greens. Presently no doubt this mulberry shade will be ousted by purple and light gray, which two colors are always beloved by Parisians during the Lenten season.

Gray is a very trying color and should be made up very softly, with perhaps a suggestion of a warmer tone. It should always be trimmed with lace.

The dainty evening blouse here shown is of accordion plaited chiffon over satin. The collarless neck is encircled by a yoke of lace.

ACCORDION PLAITED CHIFFON BLOUSE.

cially in headgear. In Paris crimson tones have taken the place of sapphire blues and greens. Presently no doubt this mulberry shade will be ousted by purple and light gray, which two colors are always beloved by Parisians during the Lenten season.

Gray is a very trying color and should be made up very softly, with perhaps a suggestion of a warmer tone. It should always be trimmed with lace.

The dainty evening blouse here shown is of accordion plaited chiffon over satin. The collarless neck is encircled by a yoke of lace.

JUDIC CHOLLET.

New Magazine Office.

"The express agent won't let us have that shipment of paper," said the business manager, "until we plank the cash down."

"That's all right. Just announce that the twentieth edition is exhausted and out of print, and let the express man go to blazes."—Atlanta Constitution.

According to Order.

Indignant Guest—These don't taste like first class eggs.

Dignified Waiter—No, suh. You asked for medium boiled, didn't you, suh?—Chicago Tribune.

Common Phrases.

"It showed on the face of it."

—Chicago News.

His Flight.

In front of a millionaire's mansion Dan Cupid was sitting in tears.

"Oh, what," I inquired, "is the matter, and what is the cause of your tears?"

"It's this," he replied, with emotion: "A terrible state of affairs."

If you aren't at the top of the ladder, You're helped to the foot of the stairs."—New York Times.

A Prisoner in Her House.

Mrs. W. H. Lavha, of 1001 Agnes avenue, Kansas City, Mo., has for several years been troubled with severe hoarseness and at times a hard cough, which she says, "Would keep me in doors for days. I was prescribed for by physicians with no noticeable results. A friend gave me a part of a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy with instructions to closely follow the directions and I wish to state that after the first day I could notice a decided change for the better, and at this time after using it for two weeks, have no hesitation in saying I realize that I am entirely cured. From this time on Chamberlain's Cough Remedy will be in my house constantly." This remedy is for sale by Alvin H. Bulger.

Mrs. Austin says: "My buckwheat cakes will please you, if you love the good old-fashioned flavor. 34-2wks-74

Very Low Rates to the West And Southwest.

THE MISSOURI PACIFIC RAILWAY AND IRON MOUNTAIN ROUTE will sell one way and round trip Homeseekers' tickets to points in Kansas, Colorado, Nebraska, Missouri, Arkansas, Indian and Oklahoma territories, Louisiana, Texas, and New Mexico, on the first and third Tuesdays of each month to and including April, at unusually low rates.

For further information write Jno. R. James, central passenger agent, 905 Park building, Pittsburg, Pa.

31-cod-wtf

THIN FOLKS MADE FAT

Good, healthy flesh can only be gained by the use of proper food, together with natural action of the digestive organs. Nine people out of ten, in order to weigh as much as they ought, and be perfectly healthy, should use Mi-o-na, the great flesh-forming food and digestion regulator. Weigh yourself before commencing to use these little tablets and see how your weight increases from week to week.

Mi-o-na does not contain a particle of pepsin, the basis of the ordinary dyspepsia remedy, and which never made a cure of dyspepsia. Mi-o-na has valuable flesh-forming properties, tones up and strengthens the digestive organs, helps digest the food eaten, and absolutely cures the worst forms of dyspepsia.

If you are not perfectly satisfied with the results from Mi-o-na. Will Reed will return your money without any questions. What other medicine is sold on this plan?

HANCOCK BAR,

EAST END.

Finest line of Wines, Whiskies, Beer and Cigars in the city.

WM. HANCOCK, Proprietor, Mulberry St. EAST END.

DRINK PURE SPRING WATER

I will deliver it at your door fresh every morning

R. G. BOYD

Successor to Robert Bond. Col. Phone 447. 188 Thompson Ave.

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING.

Wanted, For Sale, To Rent, Financial, Exchange, Personals, not exceeding 30 words, daily, three insertions, 25 cents; 50 cents the week. $1.50 the month. Weekly, 25 cents, one time; 75 cents the month. Cash in advance, otherwise we charge double price to cover bookkeeping and collection.

WANTED.

WANTED—Modeler. A first class general-ware modeler. Steady work at good wages. The Wheeling Pottery Co., LaBelle Department, Wheeling, W. Va. 441

WANTED—Forelady for glost ware rooms, with crew. Apply to The Sevens China Co. 442

WANTED—Experienced decalcomania transferers at The Homer Laughlin China Co. Plant No. 2. 442

WANTED—At once, a cutter. Apply to Ed. Hatton, Wallace & Chatwynd Pottery. 442

GOOD COLORED GIRL for general housework, good wages. Mrs. H. Blythe, 145 College street. 443

WANTED—Experienced Decalcomania Girls; also Girl Gilders. Smith & Phillips China company. 421

FOR SALE.

Over-Work Weakens Your Kidneys.

Unhealthy Kidneys Make Impure Blood.

All the blood in your body passes through your kidneys once every three minutes.

The kidneys are your blood purifiers, they filter out the waste or impurities in the blood. If they are sick or out of order, they fail to do their work.

Pains, aches and rheumatism come from excess of uric acid in the blood, due to neglected kidney trouble.

Kidney trouble causes quick or unsteady heart beats, and makes one feel as though they had heart trouble, because the heart is over-working in pumping thick, kidney-poisoned blood through veins and arteries.

It used to be considered that only urinary troubles were to be traced to the kidneys, but now modern science proves that nearly all constitutional diseases have their beginning in kidney trouble.

If you are sick you can make no mistake by first doctoring your kidneys. The mild and extraordinary effect of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy, is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases and is sold on its merits.

by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar sizes. You may have a sample bottle by mail. Home of Swamp-Root, free, also pamphlet telling you how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble. Mention this paper when writing Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y.

Don't make any mistake, but remember the name Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

Read This—It Costs You Nothing

And May Be Worth Thousands of Dollars to You.

Mr. H. K. Mitchell, of New Philadelphia, O., speaks of Life Plant in the following emphatic language:

"Life Plant is a wonder. We have used it in our family for nearly a year and find it to be all that is claimed for it in giving tone and vigor to the system. It certainly cures rheumatism, kidney trouble, and in fact I believe it will cure any disease that is reached through the blood."

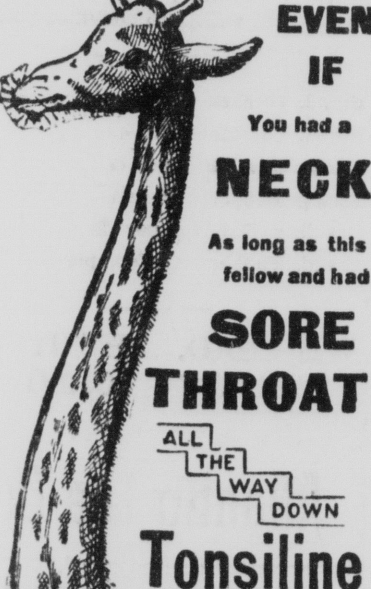

We guarantee the genuineness of every TESTIMONIAL. The above was indeed a remarkable cure, but it was simple and easy when the proper method was followed. It is a notable fact in science, that disease germs can not exist in pure matter. There must be some impurity else they die. You might arrest a disease by local application, and take some poisons fatal to disease germs, but you cannot hope for a cure by that system of treatment. You must get at the cause.

Impure blood is the cause of practically ALL diseases. To cure any disease you must by some means purify the BLOOD. Scrofula, Salt Rheum, Rheumatism, Eczema, Hives, Tetters, Catarrh and Asthma, are the most familiar forms of blood diseases. Life Plant purifies the BLOOD. It renews LIFE, it restores the vital element in the BLOOD. That is why it cures diseases, and prevents disease. It is nature's way. Try it NOW. DELAY IS DANGEROUS.

For Sale by All Druggists.

THE LIFE PLANT CO. - CANTON, O.
FOR SALE BY WILL REED, CHAS. CRAIG AND W. L. WILSON.

EVEN IF
You had a
NECK
As long as this fellow and had
SORE THROAT
ALL THE WAY
DOWN
Tonsiline
WOULD QUICKLY
CURE IT.

Tonsiline is the greatest throat remedy on earth. It cures Sore Throat of all kinds very quickly, and is a positive, over-riding and speedy cure for Sore Throat, Hoarseness and Quinsy. A small bottle of Tonsiline lasts longer than most any case of SORE THROAT. 25 and 50 cents at all druggists.

KILL WARTS, CALLUSES, WALK CORNS, EASY FREE
REMOVER. Makes walking easy. Kills Warts, Calluses, Corns, Bunions, and all other foot troubles. Sold by Druggists. Write for free sample, including ad. to J. C. Ayer & Co., 231 Lafayette St., Lowell, Mass.

FOR OVER SIXTY YEARS.
An Old and Well-Tried Remedy.
MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP has been used for over sixty years by millions of mothers for their children who suffer from COLIC, SOOTHING THE STOMACH, SOOTHING THE NERVES, SOOTHING THE CROUP, SOOTHING THE COUGHS, AND IS THE BEST REMEDY FOR ALL INFANTILIA. Sold by Druggists in every part of the world. Be sure and ask for MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP, AND TAKE A SOUTHERN BOTTLE.

For over 50 years Ayer's Pills have been the standard family pill. Act directly on the liver, gently laxative.

The New Arabian Nights

By ROBERT LOUIS STEVENSON

The SUICIDE CLUB

PART I

Story of the Young Man With the Cream Tarts

DURING his residence in London the accomplished Prince Florizel of Bohemia gained the affection of all classes by the seduction of his manner and by a well considered generosity. He was a remarkable man even by what was known of him, and that was but a small part of what he actually did. Although of a placid temper in ordinary circumstances and accustomed to take the world with as much philosophy as any plowman, the Prince of Bohemia was not without a taste for ways of life more adventurous and eccentric than that to which he was destined by his birth. Now and then, when he fell into a low humor, when there was no laughable play to witness in any of the London theaters and when the season of the year was unguitable to those field sports in which he excelled all competitors, he would summon his confidant and master of the horse, Colonel Geraldine, and bid him prepare himself against an evening ramble. The master of the horse was a young officer of a brave and even temerarious disposition. He greeted the news with delight and hastened to make ready. Long practice and a varied acquaintance of life had given him a singular facility in disguise. He could adapt not only his face and bearing, but his voice and almost his thoughts, to those of any rank, character or nation, and in this way he diverted attention from the prince and sometimes gained admission for the pair into strange societies. The civil authorities were never taken into the secret of these adventures. The imperturbable courage of the one and the ready invention and chivalrous devotion of the other had brought them through a score of dangerous passes, and they grew in confidence as time went on.

One evening in March they were driven by a sharp fall of sleet into an oyster bar in the immediate neighborhood of Leicester square. Colonel Geraldine was dressed and painted to represent a person connected with the press in reduced circumstances, while the prince had, as usual, travestied his appearance by the addition of false whiskers and a pair of large adhesive eyelashes. These lent him a shaggy and weather beaten air, which for one of his urbanity formed the most impenetrable disguise. Thus equipped the commander and his satellite sipped their brandy and soda in security.

The bar was full of guests, male and female; but, though more than one of these offered to fall into talk with our adventurers, none of them promised to grow interesting upon a nearer acquaintance. There was nothing present but the lees of London and the commonplace of disrespectability, and the prince had already fallen to yawning and was beginning to grow weary of the whole excursion when the swing doors were pushed violently open and a young man, followed by a couple of commissionaires, entered the bar. Each of the commissionaires carried a large dish of cream tarts under a cover, which they at once removed, and the young man made the round of the company and pressed these confections upon every one's acceptance with an exaggerated courtesy. Sometimes his offer was laughingly accepted; sometimes it was firmly or even harshly rejected. In these latter cases the new-comer always ate the tart himself, with some more or less humorous commentary.

At last he accosted Prince Florizel. "Sir," said he, with a profound obeisance, proffering the tart at the same time between his thumb and forefinger, "will you so far honor an entire stranger? I can answer for the quality of the pastry, having eaten two dozen and three of them myself since 5 o'clock."

"I am in the habit," replied the prince, "of looking not so much to the nature of a gift as to the spirit in which it is offered."

"The spirit, sir," returned the young man, with another bow, "is one of mockery."

"Mockery?" repeated Florizel. "And whom do you propose to mock?"

"I am not here to expound my philosophy," replied the other, "but to distribute these cream tarts. If I mention that I heartily include myself in the ridicule of the transaction, I hope you will consider honor satisfied and descend. If not, you will constrain me to eat my twenty-eighth, and I own to being weary of the exercise."

"I have to thank you," said he, "for your extraordinary patience."

And he dismissed them with a bow apiece. For some seconds he stood looking at the purse from which he had just paid his assistants; then, with a laugh, he tossed it into the middle of the street and signified his readiness for supper.

In a small French restaurant in Solis.

"AS FOR THE REST"— HE TOSSED THEM INTO THE FIRE.

And, allow me to sign the treaty for both."

And the prince swallowed the tart with the best grace imaginable.

"It is delicious," said he.

"I perceive you are a connoisseur," replied the young man.

Colonel Geraldine likewise did honor to the pastry, and every one in that bar having now either accepted or refused his delicacies the young man with the cream tarts led the way to another and similar establishment. The two commissionaires, who seemed to have grown accustomed to their absurd employment, followed immediately after, and the prince and the colonel brought up the rear, arm in arm, and smiling to each other as they went. In this order the company visited two other taverns, where scenes were enacted of a like nature to that already described—some refusing, some accepting, the favors of this vagabond hospitality, and the young man himself eating each rejected tart.

On leaving the third saloon the young man counted his store. There were but nine remaining, three in one tray and six in the other.

"Gentlemen," said he, addressing himself to his two followers, "I am unwilling to delay your supper. I am positively sure you must be hungry. I feel that I owe you a special consideration. And on this great day for me, when I am closing a career of folly by my most conspicuously silly action, I wish to behave handsomely to all who give me countenance. Gentlemen, you shall wait no longer. Although my constitution is shattered by previous excesses, at the risk of my life I liquidate the suspensory condition."

With these words he crushed the nine remaining tarts into his mouth and swallowed them at a single movement each; then, turning to the commissionaires, he gave them a couple of sovereigns.

"I have to thank you," said he, "for your extraordinary patience."

And he dismissed them with a bow apiece. For some seconds he stood looking at the purse from which he had just paid his assistants; then, with a laugh, he tossed it into the middle of the street and signified his readiness for supper.

In a small French restaurant in Solis.

In a small French restaurant in Solis.

In a small French restaurant in Solis.

In a small French restaurant in Solis.

In a small French restaurant in Solis.

In a small French restaurant in Solis.

In a small French restaurant in Solis.

LOSING FLESH.

Are you losing flesh? If so, better consult your doctor at once. He will tell you the cause. We can provide the remedy, which is Scott's Emulsion of cod-liver oil.

A young woman in Batavia writes us she had lost twenty-five pounds in three months, and her lungs were seriously affected. She took three bottles of Scott's Emulsion and gained fifteen pounds, and was able to resume her work.

"You touch me," said the prince, "and I have all the will in the world to rescue you from this dilemma, but upon one condition. If my friend and I eat your cakes—for which we have neither of us, any natural inclination—we shall expect you to join us at supper by way of recompense."

The young man seemed to reflect. "I have still several dozen upon hand," he said at last, "and that will make it necessary for me to visit several more bars before my great affair is concluded. This will take some time, and if you are hungry—"

The prince interrupted him with a polite gesture.

"My friend and I will accompany you," he said, "for we have already a deep interest in your very agreeable mode of passing an evening. And now that the preliminaries of peace are set-which had enjoyed an exaggerated reputation for some little while, but had already begun to be forgotten, and in a private room up two pairs of stairs the two companions made a very elegant supper and drank three or four bottles of champagne, talking the while upon indifferent subjects. The young man was fluent and gay, but he laughed louder than was natural in a person of

Send for Free Sample.
SCOTT & BOWNE, Chemists, 201 East 34th St., N. Y.

Send for Free Sample.
SCOTT & BOWNE, Chemists, 201 East 34th St., N. Y.

Send for Free Sample.
SCOTT & BOWNE, Chemists, 201 East 34th St., N. Y.

Send for Free Sample.
SCOTT & BOWNE, Chemists, 201 East 34th St., N. Y.

Send for Free Sample.
SCOTT & BOWNE, Chemists, 201 East 34th St., N. Y.

Send for Free Sample.
SCOTT & BOWNE, Chemists, 201 East 34th St., N. Y.

Send for Free Sample.
SCOTT & BOWNE, Chemists, 201 East 34th St., N. Y.

Send for Free Sample.
SCOTT & BOWNE, Chemists, 201 East 34th St., N. Y.

Send for Free Sample.
SCOTT & BOWNE, Chemists, 201 East 34th St., N. Y.

Send for Free Sample.
SCOTT & BOWNE, Chemists, 201 East 34th St., N. Y.

Send for Free Sample.
SCOTT & BOWNE, Chemists, 201 East 34th St., N. Y.

Send for Free Sample.
SCOTT & BOWNE, Chemists, 201 East 34th St., N. Y.

Send for Free Sample.
SCOTT & BOWNE, Chemists, 201 East 34th St., N. Y.

Send for Free Sample.
SCOTT & BOWNE, Chemists, 201 East 34th St., N. Y.

Send for Free Sample.
SCOTT & BOWNE, Chemists, 201 East 34th St., N. Y.

Send for Free Sample.
SCOTT & BOWNE, Chemists, 201 East 34th St., N. Y.

Send for Free Sample.
SCOTT & BOWNE, Chemists, 201 East 34th St., N. Y.

Send for Free Sample.
SCOTT & BOWNE, Chemists, 201 East 34th St., N. Y.

Send for Free Sample.
SCOTT & BOWNE, Chemists, 201 East 34th St., N. Y.

Send for Free Sample.
SCOTT & BOWNE, Chemists, 201 East 34th St., N. Y.

Send for Free Sample.
SCOTT & BOWNE, Chemists, 201 East 34th St., N. Y.

Send for Free Sample.
SCOTT & BOWNE, Chemists, 201 East 34th St., N. Y.

Send for Free Sample.
SCOTT & BOWNE, Chemists, 201 East 34th St., N. Y.

Send for Free Sample.
SCOTT & BOWNE, Chemists, 201 East 34th St., N. Y.

Send for Free Sample.
SCOTT & BOWNE, Chemists, 201 East 34th St., N. Y.

Send for Free Sample.
SCOTT & BOWNE, Chemists, 201 East 34th St., N. Y.

Send for Free Sample.
SCOTT & BOWNE, Chemists, 201 East 34th St., N. Y.

Send for Free Sample.
SCOTT & BOWNE, Chemists, 201 East 34th St., N. Y.

Send for Free Sample.
SCOTT & BOWNE, Chemists, 201 East 34th St., N. Y.

Send for Free Sample.
SCOTT & BOWNE, Chemists, 201 East 34th St., N. Y.

to seem indiscreet, I must tell you that my friend and I are persons very well worthy to be intrusted with a secret. We have many of our own, which we are continually revealing to improper ears, and if, as I suppose, your story is a silly one, you need have no delicacy with us, who are two of the silliest men in England. My name is Godall—Theophilus Godall; my friend is Major Alfred Hammersmith, or at least such is the name by which he chooses to be known. We pass our lives entirely in the search for extravagant adventures, and there is no extravagance with which we are not capable of sympathy."

"I like you, Mr. Godall," returned the young man. "You inspire me with a natural confidence, and I have not the slightest objection to your friend the major, whom I take to be a nobleman in masquerade; at least I am sure he is no soldier."

The colonel smiled at this compliment to the perfection of his art, and the young man went on in a more animated manner:

"There is every reason why I should not tell you my story. Perhaps that is just the reason why I am going to do so; at least, you seem so well prepared to hear a tale of silliness that I cannot find it in my heart to disappoint you. My name, in spite of your example, I shall keep to myself. My age is not essential to the narrative. I am descended from my ancestors by ordinary generation, and from them I inherited a very eligible human temperament, which I still occupy, and a fortune of £300 a year. I suppose they also handed on to me a hairbrain humor, which it has been my chief delight to indulge. I received a good education. I can play the violin nearly well enough to earn money in a cheap orchestra, but not quite. The same remark applies to the flute and the French horn. I learned enough of whist to lose about a hundred a year at that scientific game. My acquaintance with French was sufficient to enable me to squander money in Paris with almost the same facility as in London. In short, I am a person full of manly accomplishments. I have had every sort of adventure, including a duel about nothing. Only two months ago I met a young lady exactly suited to my taste in mind and body; I found my heart melt; I saw that I had come upon my fate at last and was in the way to fall in love. But when I came to reckon up what remained to me of my capital I found it amounted to something less than £400. I ask you fairly, can a man who respects himself fall in love on £400? I concluded certainly not, left the presence of my charmer and, slightly accelerating my usual rate of expenditure, came this morning to this £80. This I divided into two equal parts—£40 I reserve for a particular purpose and the remaining £40 I was to dissipate before night."

"I have passed a very entertaining day and played many farces besides that of the cream tarts, which procured me the advantage of your acquaintance, for I was determined, as I told you, to bring a foolish career to a still more foolish conclusion, and when you saw me throw my purse into the street the £40 was at an end. Now you know me as well as I know myself—a fool, but consistent in his folly and, as I will ask you to believe, neither a whimpser nor a coward."

From the whole tone of the young man's statement it was plain that he harbored very bitter and contemptuous thoughts about himself. His auditors were led to imagine that his love affair was nearer his heart than he admitted and that he had a design on his own life. The face of the cream tarts began to have very much the air of a tragedy in disguise.

"Why, is this not odd," broke out Geraldine, giving a look to Prince Florizel, "that we three fellows should have met by the merest accident in so large a wilderness as London and should be so nearly in the same condition?"

"How?" cried the young man. "Are you, too, ruined?" "Is this supper a folly like my cream tarts? Has the devil brought three of his own together for a last carouse?"

"The devil, depend upon it, can sometimes do a very gentlemanly thing," returned Prince Florizel, "and I am so much touched by this coincidence that, although we are not entirely in the same state, I am going to put an end to the disparity. Let your heroic treatment of the last cream tarts be my example."

So saying, the prince drew out his purse and took from it a small bundle of banknotes.

"You see, I was a week or so behind you, but I mean to catch you up and come neck and neck into the winning post," he continued. "This," laying one of the notes upon the table, "will suffice for the bill. As for the rest"—He tossed them into the fire, and they went up the chimney in a single blaze.

The young man tried to catch his arm, but, as the table was between them, his interference came too late.

"Unhappy man," he cried, "you should not have burned them all! You should have kept £40."

"Forty pounds!" repeated the prince. "Why, in heaven's name, £40?"

"Why not eighty?" cried the colonel. "For to my certain knowledge there must have been a hundred in the bundle."

"It was only £40 he needed," said the young man gloomily. "But without them there is no admission. The rule is strict—£40 for each. Accursed life, where a man cannot even die without money!"

The prince and the colonel exchanged glances.

"Explain yourself," said the latter. "I have still a pocketbook tolerably well lined, and I need not say how readily I should share my wealth with Godall, but I must know to what end. You must certainly tell us what you mean."

The young man seemed to awaken; he looked uneasily from one to the other,

and his face flushed deeply. "You are not fooling me?" he asked. "You are indeed ruined men, like me?"

"Indeed, I am, for my part," replied the colonel.

"And for mine," said the prince. "I have given you proof. Who but a ruined man would throw his notes into the fire? The action speaks for itself."

"A ruined man—yes," returned the other suspiciously, "or else a millionaire."

"Enough, sir," said the prince. "I have said so, and I am not accustomed to have my word remain in doubt."

"Ruined?" said the young man. "Are you ruined, like me? Are you, after a life of indulgence, come to such a pass that you can only indulge yourself in one thing more? Are you?" he kept lowering his voice as he went on, "are you going to give yourselves that last indulgence? Are you going to avoid the consequences of your folly by the one infallible and easy path? Are you going to give the slip to the sheriff's officers of conscience by the one open door?"

Suddenly he broke off and attempted to laugh.

"Here is your health!" he cried, emptying his glass, "and good night to you, my merry ruined men."

(To be continued.)

Childish Frankness.
"Uncle, do you know the difference between you and a rooster?"

"No. What is it?"

"A rooster has a comb and you don't want one,"—Meggenoller Blatter.

No Time For Them.
First Society Woman—Have you any children?

Second Society Woman—Gracious, no! I can't even find time to take care of my dog!—Philadelphia Record.

presio
(better than flour)
dainty dumplings

Why stick to these old methods? BE UP TO DATE—USE

SOFT THROAT
Hoarseness, Sore Mouth, Tonsillitis, and all diseases of the throat. Prevents Diphtheria. Cures Quinsy.

Cure guaranteed. 25 and 50 cents at all druggists.

THE OZO REMEDY CO.
New Brighton, Pa.

CHICHESTER'S PILLS
A Standard Remedy, and for 25 years, 10,000 testimonials have been sent to the CHICHESTER PILLS MANUFACTURING CO. for the cure of all diseases of the bowels, liver, and stomach. Substitutions and Imitations. Ask for the name, CHICHESTER'S PILLS, and you will get the genuine. Sold by all druggists. For Ladies, ask for the name, CHICHESTER'S PILLS, and you will get the genuine. Sold by all druggists. For Ladies, ask for the name, CHICHESTER'S PILLS, and you will get the genuine. Sold by all druggists.

BEST PASSENGER SERVICE IN TEXAS.
4-IMPORTANT GATEWAYS-4

TEXAS AND PACIFIC RAILWAY

NO TROUBLE TO ANSWER QUESTIONS.

THE PITTSBURG, LISBON & WESTERN RAILWAY CO.

Time table effective Nov. 25, 1901. Trains daily except Sunday. Central time.

Lv. Lisbon. Ar. N. Galilee.
No. 6.....2:35 p. m. 3:40 p. m.
No. 40.....6:00 a. m. 7:05 a. m.

Lv. N. Galilee. Ar. Lisbon.
No. 9.....8:25 a. m. 9:30 a. m.
No. 45.....5:10 p. m. 6:03 p. m.

Connections at New Galilee.
Connections at New Galilee with Pennsylvania company trains to and from New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Washington, Pittsburgh, Beaver Falls, East Liverpool, Wellsville, Bell-air, Alliance, Canton, Chicago, Erie, New Castle, Ashtabula, Youngstown and intermediate points.

K. E. BARINGER,
General Passenger Agent.

Pennsylvania Lines.

Schedule of Passenger Trains—Central Time In Effect January 5, 1902. From East Liverpool Cleveland and Pittsburgh Division.

EASTBOUND. WESTBOUND.
No. 1.....8:15 a. m. 7:00 p. m.
No. 2.....8:45 a. m. 7:30 p. m.
No. 3.....9:15 a. m. 8:00 p. m.
No. 4.....9:45 a. m. 8:30 p. m.
No. 5.....10:15 a. m. 9:00 p. m.
No. 6.....10:45 a. m. 9:30 p. m.
No. 7.....11:15 a. m. 10:00 p. m.
No. 8.....11:45 a. m. 10:30 p. m.

From Chester, Pittsburgh (Pan Handle) Division.
EASTBOUND. WESTBOUND.
No. 1.....8:15 a. m. 7:00 p. m.
No. 2.....8:45 a. m. 7:30 p. m.
No. 3.....9:15 a. m. 8:00 p. m.
No. 4.....9:45 a. m. 8:30 p. m.
No. 5.....10:15 a. m. 9:00 p. m.
No. 6.....10:45 a. m. 9:30 p. m.
No. 7.....11:15 a. m. 10:00 p. m.
No. 8.....11:45 a. m. 10:30 p. m.

Runs Daily. Daily, except Sunday. Sunday only.

Pullman Sleeping Cars are run on Nos. 101 and 102 and Parlor Cars on Nos. 103 and 104 between Pittsburgh and Cleveland via Yellow Creek and Alliance. No. 105 connects at Rochester for New Castle, Jamestown, Youngstown, Niles, Warren, Ashtabula and intermediate stations. No. 106 for Erie, Ashtabula and intermediate stations. No. 107 for Youngstown, Niles, Jamestown, Erie and intermediate stations.

No. 108 and 109 connect at Ashtabula for New Philadelphia and stations on Tuscarawas branch.

Over-Work Weakens Your Kidneys.

Unhealthy Kidneys Make Impure Blood.

All the blood in your body passes through your kidneys once every three minutes. The kidneys are your blood purifiers, they filter out the waste or impurities in the blood. If they are sick or out of order, they fail to do their work. Pains, aches and rheumatism come from excess of uric acid in the blood, due to neglected kidney trouble.

Kidney trouble causes quick or unsteady heart beats, and makes one feel as though they had heart trouble, because the heart is over-working in pumping thick, kidney-poisoned blood through veins and arteries. It used to be considered that only urinary troubles were to be traced to the kidneys, but now modern science proves that nearly all constitutional diseases have their beginning in kidney trouble.

If you are sick you can make no mistake by first doctoring your kidneys. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases and is sold on its merits by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar sizes. You may have a sample bottle by mail. Home of Swamp-Root, free, also pamphlet telling you how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble. Mention this paper when writing Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y.

Don't make any mistake, but remember the name Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

Read This—It Costs You Nothing

And May Be Worth Thousands of Dollars to You.

Mr. H. K. Mitchell, of New Philadelphia, O., speaks of Life Plant in the following emphatic language:

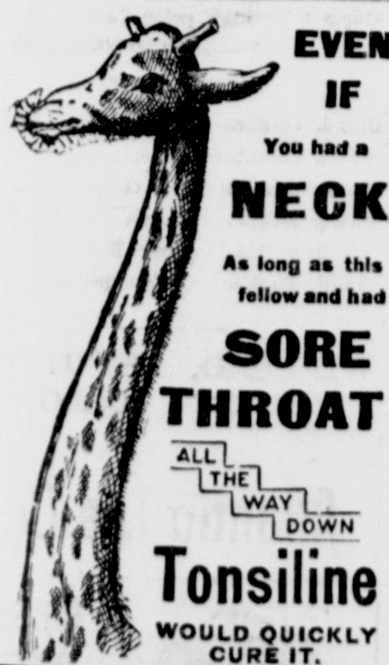

Life Plant is a wonder. We have used it in our family for nearly a year and find it to be all that is claimed for it in giving tone and vigor to the system. It certainly cures rheumatism, in fact, I believe it will cure any disease that is reached through the blood.

We guarantee the genuineness of every TESTIMONIAL. The above was indeed a remarkable cure, but it was simple and easy when the proper method was followed. It is a notable fact in science, that disease germs can not exist in pure matter. There must be some impurity else they die. You might arrest a disease by local application, and take some poisons fatal to disease germs, but you cannot hope for a cure by that system of treatment. You must get at the cause.

Impure blood is the cause of practically ALL diseases. To cure any disease you must by some means purify the BLOOD. Scrofula, Salt Rheum, Rheumatism, Eczema, Hives, Tetters, Catarrh and Asthma, are the most familiar forms of blood diseases. Life Plant purifies the BLOOD. It renews LIFE. It restores the vital element in the BLOOD. That is why it cures diseases, and prevents disease. It is nature's way. It's the common sense way. Try it NOW. DELAY IS DANGEROUS.

For Sale by All Druggists.

THE LIFE PLANT CO. - CANTON, O.
FOR SALE BY WILL REED, CHAS
CRAIG AND W. L. WILSON.

EVEN IF

You had a

NECK

As long as this fellow and had

SORE THROAT

ALL THE WAY DOWN

Tonsiline

WOULD QUICKLY CURE IT.

KILL Warts, Colic, Coughs, WALK CORNS, A.C. WITH PAIN & KILL THEM EASY FREE REMOVAL. Makes walking easy, eradicates the corn. At dealers in Toilet Articles, Inc. Mention this paper and write for free sample, including ad. LONDON SULLY CO., 231 Lafayette St., New York, N.Y.

FOR OVER SIXTY YEARS. An Old and Well-Tried Remedy. MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP has been used for over SIXTY YEARS by MILLIONS of MOTHERS for their CHILDREN WITH THE BEST SUCCESS. IT SOOTHES THE CHILD, SOOTHES THE CRIES, ALLAYS ALL PAIN, CURES COLIC, and is the best remedy for COLIC. Sold by Druggists in every part of the world. Be sure and ask for MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP, and take NO OTHER KIND. Twenty-Five Cents a Bottle.

For over 50 years Ayer's Pills have been the standard family pill. Act directly on the liver, gently laxative.

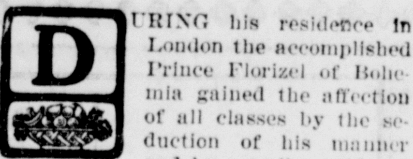

The New Arabian Nights

By ROBERT LOUIS STEVENSON

The SUICIDE CLUB

PART I

Story of the Young Man With the Cream Tarts

DURING his residence in London the accomplished Prince Florizel of Bohemia gained the affection of all classes by the seduction of his manner and by a well considered and generous. He was a remarkable man even by what was known of him, and that was but a small part of what he actually did. Although of a placid temper in ordinary circumstances and accustomed to take the world with as much philosophy as any plowman, the Prince of Bohemia was not without a taste for ways of life more adventurous and eccentric than that to which he was destined by his birth. Now and then, when he fell into a low humor, when there was no laughable play to witness in any of the London theaters and when the season of the year was unsuitable to those field sports in which he excelled all competitors, he would summon his confidant and master of the horse, Colonel Geraldine, and bid him prepare himself against an evening ramble. The master of the horse was a young officer of a brave and even temperate disposition. He greeted the news with delight and hastened to make ready. Long practice and a varied acquaintance of life had given him a singular facility in disguise. He could adapt not only his face and bearing, but his voice and almost his thoughts, to those of any rank, character or nation, and in this way he diverted attention from the prince and sometimes gained admission for the pair into strange societies. The civil authorities were never taken into the secret of these adventures. The imperturbable courage of the one and the ready invention and chivalrous devotion of the other had brought them through a score of dangerous passes, and they grew in confidence as time went on.

One evening in March they were driven by a sharp fall of sleet into an oyster bar in the immediate neighborhood of Leicester square. Colonel Geraldine was dressed and painted to represent a person connected with the press in reduced circumstances, while the prince had, as usual, travestied his appearance by the addition of false whiskers. These lent him a shaggy and weather beaten air, which for one of his urbanity formed the most impenetrable disguise. Thus equipped the commander and his satellite slipped their brandy and soda in security.

The bar was full of guests, male and female; but, though more than one of these offered to fall into talk with our adventurers, none of them promised to grow interesting upon a nearer acquaintance. There was nothing present but the lees of London and the commonplace of disrespectability, and the prince had already fallen to yawning and was beginning to grow weary of the whole excursion when the swing doors were pushed violently open and a young man, followed by a couple of commissionaires, entered the bar. Each of the commissionaires carried a large dish of cream tarts under a cover, which they at once removed, and the young man made the round of the company and pressed these confections upon every one's acceptance with an exaggerated courtesy. Sometimes his offer was laughingly accepted; sometimes it was firmly or even harshly rejected. In these latter cases the newcomer always ate the tart himself, with some more or less humorous commentary.

At last he accosted Prince Florizel. "Sir," said he, with a profound obeisance, proffering the tart at the same time between his thumb and forefinger, "will you so far honor an entire stranger? I can answer for the quality of the pastry, having eaten two dozen and three of them myself since 5 o'clock."

"I am in the habit," replied the prince, "of looking not so much to the nature of a gift as to the spirit in which it is offered."

"The spirit, sir," returned the young man, with another bow, "is one of mockery."

"Mockery?" repeated Florizel. "And whom do you propose to mock?"

"I am not here to expound my philosophy," replied the other, "but to distribute these cream tarts. If I mention that I heartily include myself in the ridicule of the transaction, I hope you will consider honor satisfied and descend. If not, you will constrain me to eat my twenty-eighth, and I own to being weary of the exercise."

"You touch me," said the prince, "and I have all the will in the world to rescue you from this dilemma, but upon one condition. If my friend and I eat your cakes—for which we have neither of us, any natural inclination—we shall expect you to join us at supper by way of recompense."

The young man seemed to reflect. "I have still several dozen upon hand," he said at last, "and that will make it necessary for me to visit several more bars before my great affair is concluded. This will take some time, and if you are hungry—"

The prince interrupted him with a polite gesture.

"My friend and I will accompany you," he said, "for we have already a deep interest in your very agreeable mode of passing an evening. And now that the preliminaries of peace are set-

"AS FOR THE REST"—HE TOSSED THEM INTO THE FIRE.

led, allow me to sign the treaty for both."

And the prince swallowed the tart with the best grace imaginable.

"It is delicious," said he.

"I perceive you are a connoisseur," replied the young man.

Colonel Geraldine likewise did honor to the pastry, and every one in that bar having now either accepted or refused his delicacies the young man with the cream tarts led the way to another and similar establishment. The two commissionaires, who seemed to have grown accustomed to their absurd employment, followed immediately after, and the prince and the colonel brought up the rear, arm in arm, and smiling to each other as they went. In this order the company visited two other taverns, where scenes were enacted of a like nature to that already described—some refusing, some accepting, the favors of this vagabond hospitality, and the young man himself eating each rejected tart.

On leaving the third saloon the young man counted his store. There were but nine remaining, three in one tray and six in the other.

"Gentlemen," said he, addressing himself to his two followers, "I am unwilling to delay your supper. I am positively sure you must be hungry. I feel that I owe you a special consideration. And on this great day for me, when I am closing a career of folly by my most conscientiously silly action, I wish to behave handsomely to all who give me countenance. Gentlemen, you shall wait no longer. Although my constitution is shattered by previous excesses, at the risk of my life I liquidate the suspensory condition."

With these words he crushed the nine remaining tarts into his mouth and swallowed them at a single movement each; then, turning to the commissionaires, he gave them a couple of sovereigns.

"I have to thank you," said he, "for your extraordinary patience."

And he dismissed them with a bow. For some seconds he stood looking at the purse from which he had just paid his assistants; then, with a laugh, he tossed it into the middle of the street and signified his readiness for supper.

In a small French restaurant in Soho,

LOSING FLESH.

Are you losing flesh? If so, better consult your doctor at once. He will tell you the cause. We can provide the remedy, which is Scott's Emulsion of cod-liver oil.

A young woman in Batavia writes us she had lost twenty-five pounds in three months, and her lungs were seriously affected. She took three bottles of Scott's Emulsion and gained fifteen pounds, and was able to resume her work.

Send for Free Sample.

SCOTT & BOWNE, Chemists, 499 Pearl St., N. Y.

which had enjoyed an exaggerated reputation for some little while, but had already begun to be forgotten, and in a private room up two pairs of stairs the three companions made a very elegant supper and drank three or four bottles of champagne, talking the while upon indifferent subjects. The young man was fluent and gay, but he laughed louder than was natural in a person of to seem indiscreet, I must tell you that my friend and I are persons very well worthy to be intrusted with a secret. We have many of our own, which we are continually revealing to improper ears, and if, as I suppose, your story is a silly one, you need have no delicacy with us, who are two of the silliest men in England. My name is Godall—Theophilus Godall; my friend is Major Alfred Hammersmith, or at least such is the name by which he chooses to be known. We pass our lives entirely in the search for extravagant adventures, and there is no extravagance with which we are not capable of sympathy."

"I like you, Mr. Godall," returned the young man. "You inspire me with a natural confidence, and I have not the slightest objection to your friend the major, whom I take to be a nobleman in masquerade; at least I am sure he is no soldier."

The colonel smiled at this compliment to the perfection of his art, and the young man went on in a more animated manner:

"There is every reason why I should not tell you my story. Perhaps that is just the reason why I am going to do so; at least, you seem so well prepared to hear a tale of silliness that I cannot find it in my heart to disappoint you. My name, in spite of your example, I shall keep to myself. My age is not essential to the narrative. I am descended from my ancestors by ordinary generation, and from them I inherited a very eligible human tenement, which I still occupy, and a fortune of £300 a year. I suppose they also handed on to me a harebrain humor, which it has been my chief delight to indulge. I received a good education. I can play the violin nearly well enough to earn money in a cheap orchestra, but not quite. The same remark applies to the flute and the French horn. I learned enough of whist to lose about a hundred a year at that scientific game. My acquaintance with French was sufficient to enable me to squander money in Paris with almost the same facility as in London. In short, I am a person full of mainly accomplishments. I have had every sort of adventure, including a duel about nothing. Only two months ago I met a young lady exactly suited to my taste in mind and body; I found my heart melt; I saw that I had come upon my fate at last and was in the way to fall in love. But when I came to reckon up what remained to me of my capital I found it amounted to something less than £400! I ask you fairly, can a man who respects himself fall in love on £400? I concluded certainly not, left the presence of my charmer and, slightly accelerating my usual rate of expenditure, came this morning to my last £80. This I divided into two equal parts—£40 I reserve for a particular purpose and the remaining £40 I was to dissipate before night."

"I have passed a very entertaining day and played many farces besides that of the cream tarts, which procured me the advantage of your acquaintance, for I was determined, as I told you, to bring a foolish career to a still more foolish conclusion, and when you saw me throw my purse into the street the £40 was at an end. Now you know me as well as I know myself—a fool, but consistent in his folly and, as I will ask you to believe, neither a whimpier nor a coward."

From the whole tone of the young man's statement it was plain that he harbored very bitter and contemptuous thoughts about himself. His auditors were led to imagine that his love affair was nearer his heart than he admitted and that he had a design on his own life. The force of the cream tarts began to have very much the air of a tragedy in disguise.

"Why, is this not odd," broke out Geraldine, giving a look to Prince Florizel, "that we three fellows should have met by the merest accident in so large a wilderness as London and should be so nearly in the same condition?"

"How?" cried the young man. "Are you, too, ruined? Is this supper a folly like my cream tarts? Has the devil brought three of his own together for a last carouse?"

"The devil, depend upon it, can sometimes do a very gentlemanly thing," returned Prince Florizel, "and I am so much touched by this coincidence that, although we are not entirely in the same state, I am going to put an end to the disparity. Let your heroic treatment of the last cream tarts be my example."

So saying, the prince drew out his purse and took from it a small bundle of banknotes.

"You see, I was a week or so behind you, but I mean to catch you up and come neck and neck into the winning post," he continued. "This," laying one of the notes upon the table, "will suffice for the bill. As for the rest"—He tossed them into the fire, and they went up the chimney in a single blaze.

The young man tried to catch his arm, but, as the table was between them, his interference came too late.

"Unhappy man," he cried, "you should not have burned them all! You should have kept £40."

"Forty pounds!" repeated the prince. "Why, in heaven's name, £40?"

"Why not eighty?" cried the colonel. "For to my certain knowledge there must have been a hundred in the bundle."

"It was only £40 he needed," said the young man gloomily. "But without them there is no admission. The rule is strict—£40 for each. Accursed life, where a man cannot even die without money!"

The prince and the colonel exchanged glances.

"Explain yourself," said the latter. "I have still a pocketbook tolerably well lined, and I need not say how readily I should share my wealth with Godall, but I must know to what end. You must certainly tell us what you mean."

The young man seemed to awaken; he looked uneasily from one to the other,

and his face flushed deeply. "You are not fooling me?" he asked. "You are indeed ruined men like me?"

"Indeed, I am, for my part," replied the colonel.

"And for mine," said the prince. "I have given you proof. Who but a ruined man would throw his notes into the fire? The action speaks for itself."

"A ruined man—yes," returned the other suspiciously, "or else a millionaire."

"Enough, sir," said the prince. "I have said so, and I am not accustomed to have my word remain in doubt."

"Ruined?" said the young man. "Are you ruined, like me? Are you, after a life of indulgence, come to such a pass that you can only indulge yourself in one thing more? Are you—he kept lowering his voice as he went on—"are you going to give yourselves that last indulgence? Are you going to avoid the consequences of your folly by the one infallible and easy path? Are you going to give the slip to the sheriff's officers of conscience by the one open door?"

Suddenly he broke off and attempted to laugh.

"Here is your health!" he cried, emptying his glass, "and good night to you, my merry ruined men."

(To be continued.)

Childish Frankness.

"Uncle, do you know the difference between you and a rooster?"

"No. What is it?"

"A rooster has a comb and you don't want one."—Meggendorfer Blatter.

No Time For Them.

First Society Woman—Have you any children?

Second Society Woman—Gracious, no! I can't even find time to take care of my dog!—Philadelphia Record.

Presio
(better than flour)
devises
dainty dumplings

WHY STICK TO THESE OLD METHODS? BE UP TO DATE—USE
OZOLINE
The best family remedy in the world for
SORE THROAT
Hoarseness, Sore Mouth, Tonsillitis, and Inflammation of the Throat. Prevents Diphtheria.
Cures Quinsy. 25 and 50 cents at all druggists.
THE OZO REMEDY CO.
New Brighton, Pa.

CHICHESTER'S PILLS
Original and Only Genuine.
A Standard Remedy, sold for 25 years.
10,000 testimonials. Ladies ask druggist for "CHICHESTER'S PILLS" in RED and GOLD metal boxes, sealed with Substitutions and Imitations. Ask your druggist or send 4 cents in stamps for Pamplet, Testimonials and Booklet for Ladies, to return Mail. Sent by druggist. Chichester Chemical Co.,
Medicine House, Philadelphia, Pa.

BEST PASSENGER SERVICE IN TEXAS.
4-IMPORTANT GATEWAYS-4

NO TROUBLE TO ANSWER QUESTIONS.

See me at the Texas and Pacific Railway

E. P. TURNER,
GEN'L. PASS'G. AND TICKET AGENT,
DALLAS, TEXAS

JOHN R. JAMES,
General Passenger Agent,
Room 905 Park Bldg.
Pittsburg, Pa.

BLOOD POISON

Bone Pains, Itchings, Swellings

If you have sores and pain in bones, back and joints, Itching Scaly Skin, Blood feels hot, Swollen Glands, Itching and Bumps on the Skin, Itching Patches in Mouth, Sore Throat, Pimples, Copper Colored Spot on the Run-down, Ulcers on any part of the body, Hair or Eyebrows falling out, take Botanic Blood Balm, guaranteed to cure the worst and most deep-seated cases. It cures all sores, stops all aches and pains, reduces all swellings, makes blood pure and rich, completely changes the body into a healthy condition. Old Rheumatism, Catarrh, Eczema, Scrofula, are caused by Poison in the Blood. B.B.B. stops Itching and Itching, Itching and Stinging, cures Rheumatism, Catarrh, heals all Sores, Scabs, Eruptions, Nettle Rashes, by giving pure, healthy blood to affected parts.

Blood Balm Cures Cancers of all kinds, suppurating Swellings, Eating Sores, Tumors, ugly Ulcers. It heals the sores and cures cancer perfectly. If you have a prostatic Pimple, Swellings, Scurvy, Pains, take Blood Balm and they will disappear before they develop into Cancer. Pleasant and safe to take. Thoroughly tested for 50 years. Composed of Pure Botanic Ingredients. Strengthens weak kidneys and weak stomachs, cures dyspepsia. At Druggists, $1 Per Large Bottle. Complete directions.

Sold in East Liverpool by J. W. Reed. Call or write, Blood Balm sent by express. Sample and Circulars sent Free.

Colonist Tickets to West and Northwest via Pennsylvania Lines.

From February 15th to April 30th, inclusive, one way second-class colonist tickets to California, North Pacific Coast points, Montana and Idaho, will be sold at low fares via Pennsylvania Lines. For particulars apply to nearest Ticket Agent of the Pennsylvania Lines.

PITTSBURG & LAKE ERIE R. R. TIME TABLE.

In Effect Nov. 23, 1902.

GOING NORTH.		BRIDGE	NEW	BRIDGE	MOORE
No.	1	2	3	4	5
1	11:15 a.m.	11:45 a.m.	12:15 p.m.	12:45 p.m.	1:15 p.m.
2	1:45 p.m.	2:15 p.m.	2:45 p.m.	3:15 p.m.	3:45 p.m.
3	4:15 p.m.	4:45 p.m.	5:15 p.m.	5:45 p.m.	6:15 p.m.
4	6:45 p.m.	7:15 p.m.	7:45 p.m.	8:15 p.m.	8:45 p.m.
5	11:15 p.m.	11:45 p.m.	12:15 a.m.	12:45 a.m.	1:15 a.m.

GOING SOUTH.		BRIDGE	NEW	BRIDGE	MOORE
No.	1	2	3	4	5
1	11:15 a.m.	11:45 a.m.	12:15 p.m.	12:45 p.m.	1:15 p.m.
2	1:45 p.m.	2:15 p.m.	2:45 p.m.	3:15 p.m.	3:45 p.m.
3	4:15 p.m.	4:45 p.m.	5:15 p.m.	5:45 p.m.	6:15 p.m.
4	6:45 p.m.	7:15 p.m.	7:45 p.m.	8:15 p.m.	8:45 p.m.
5	11:15 p.m.	11:45 p.m.	12:15 a.m.	12:45 a.m.	1:15 a.m.

Nos. 17, 19, 21, 23, 25, 27, 29, 31, 33, 35, 37, 39, 41, 43, 45, 47, 49, 51, 53, 55, 57, 59, 61, 63, 65, 67, 69, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, 83, 85, 87, 89, 91, 93, 95, 97, 99, 101, 103, 105, 107, 109, 111, 113, 115, 117, 119, 121, 123, 125, 127, 129, 131, 133, 135, 137, 139, 141, 143, 145, 147, 149, 151, 153, 155, 157, 159, 161, 163, 165, 167, 169, 171, 173, 175, 177, 179, 181, 183, 185, 187, 189, 191, 193, 195, 197, 199, 201, 203, 205, 207, 209, 211, 213, 215, 217, 219, 221, 223, 225, 227, 229, 231, 233, 235, 237, 239, 241, 243, 245, 247, 249, 251, 253, 255, 257, 259, 261, 263, 265, 267, 269, 271, 273, 275, 277, 279, 281, 283, 285, 287, 289, 291, 293, 295, 297, 299, 301, 303, 305, 307, 309, 311, 313, 315, 317, 319, 321, 323, 325, 327, 329, 331, 333, 335, 337, 339, 341, 343, 345, 347, 349, 351, 353, 355, 357, 359, 361, 363, 365, 367, 369, 371, 373, 375, 377, 379, 381, 383, 385, 387, 389, 391, 393, 395, 397, 399, 401, 403, 405, 407, 409, 411, 413, 415, 417, 419, 421, 423, 425, 427, 429, 431, 433, 435, 437, 439, 441, 443, 445, 447, 449, 451, 453, 455, 457, 459, 461, 463, 465, 467, 469, 471, 473, 475, 477, 479, 481, 483, 485, 487, 489, 491, 493, 495, 497, 499, 501, 503, 505, 507, 509, 511, 513, 515, 517, 519, 521, 523, 525, 527, 529, 531, 533, 535, 537, 539, 541, 543, 545, 547, 549, 551, 553, 555, 557, 559, 561, 563, 565, 567, 569, 571, 573, 575, 577, 579, 581, 583, 585, 587, 589, 591, 593, 595, 597, 599, 601, 603, 605, 607, 609, 611, 613, 615, 617, 619, 621, 623, 625, 627, 629, 631, 633, 635, 637, 639, 641, 643, 645, 647, 649, 651, 653, 655, 657, 659, 661, 663, 665, 667, 669, 671, 673, 675, 677, 679, 681, 683, 685, 687, 689, 691, 693, 695, 697, 699, 701, 703, 705, 707, 709, 711, 713, 715, 717, 719, 721, 723, 725, 727, 729, 731, 733, 735, 737, 739, 741, 743, 745, 747, 749, 751, 753, 755, 757, 759, 761, 763, 765, 767, 769, 771, 773, 775, 777, 779, 781, 783, 785, 787, 789, 7

Over-Work Weakens Your Kidneys.

Unhealthy Kidneys Make Impure Blood.

All the blood in your body passes through your kidneys once every three minutes. The kidneys are your blood purifiers. They filter out the waste or impurities in the blood. If they are sick or out of order, they fail to do their work. Pains, aches and rheumatism come from excess of uric acid in the blood, due to neglected kidney trouble.

Kidney trouble causes quick or unsteady heart beats, and makes one feel as though they had heart trouble, because the heart is over-working in pumping thick, kidney-poisoned blood through veins and arteries. It is used to be considered that only urinary troubles were to be traced to the kidneys, but now modern science proves that nearly all constitutional diseases have their beginning in kidney trouble.

If you are sick you can make no mistake by first doctoring your kidneys. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases and is sold on its merits by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar sizes. You may have a sample bottle by mail free, also pamphlet telling you how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble. Mention this paper when writing Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y.

Don't make any mistake, but remember the name Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

Read This—It Costs You Nothing

And May Be Worth Thousands of Dollars to You.

Mr. H. K. Mitchell, of New Philadelphia, O., speaks of Life Plant in the following emphatic language:

Life Plant is a wonder. We have used it in our family for nearly a year and find it to be all that is claimed for it in giving tone and vigor to the system. It certainly cures rheumatic trouble. In fact I believe it will cure any disease that is reached through the blood.

We guarantee the genuineness of every TESTIMONIAL. The above was indeed a remarkable cure, but it was simple and easy when the proper method was followed. It is a notable fact in science, that disease germs can not exist in pure matter. There must be some impurity else they die. You might arrest a disease by local application, and take some poisons fatal to disease germs, but you cannot hope for a cure by that system of treatment. You must get at the cause.

Impure blood is the cause of practically ALL diseases. To cure any disease you must by some means purify the BLOOD. Scrofula, Salt Rheum, Rheumatism, Eczema, Hives, Tetter, Catarrh and Asthma, are the most familiar forms of blood diseases. Life Plant purifies the BLOOD. It renews LIFE, it restores the vital element in the BLOOD. That is why it cures diseases, and prevents disease. It is nature's way. It's the common sense way. Try it NOW. DELAY is DANGEROUS.

For Sale by All Druggists.

THE LIFE PLANT CO. - CANTON, O.
FOR SALE BY WILL REED, CHAS CRAIG AND W. L. WILSON.

EVEN IF YOU HAD A NECK AS LONG AS THIS FELLOW AND HAD SORE THROAT ALL THE WAY DOWN Tonsiline WOULD QUICKLY CURE IT.

Tonsiline is the greatest throat remedy on earth. It cures Sore Throat, Croup, Whooping Cough, Hoarseness, and all other throat troubles. It is the best remedy for SORE THROAT. 50 and 50 cents at all druggists. THE TONILINE CO., CANTON, OHIO.

KILL Warts, Colic, Coughs, WALK CORNS, &c., WITH AYER'S PILLS. FREE

FOR OVER SIXTY YEARS. An Old and Well-Tried Remedy. MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP has been used for over SIXTY YEARS by MILLIONS of mothers for their CHILDREN WHILE TEething. It is the best remedy for COLIC, WIND, COUGHS, and ALL AFFECTIONS OF THE THROAT. It is sold in every part of the world. Be sure and ask for MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP, AND TAKE NO OTHER KIND. Twenty-Five Cents a Bottle.

For over 50 years Ayer's Pills have been the standard family pill. Act directly on the liver, gently laxative.

The New Arabian Nights

By ROBERT LOUIS STEVENSON

The SUICIDE CLUB

PART I

Story of the Young Man With the Cream Tarts

DURING his residence in London the accomplished Prince Florizel of Bohemia gained the affection of all classes by the seduction of his manner and by a well considered generosity. He was a remarkable man even by what was known of him, and that was but a small part of what he actually did. Although of a placid temper in ordinary circumstances and accustomed to take the world with as much philosophy as any plowman, the Prince of Bohemia was not without a taste for ways of life more adventurous and eccentric than that to which he was destined by his birth. Now and then, when he fell into a low humor, when there was no laughable play to witness in any of the London theaters and when the season of the year was unsuitable to those field sports in which he excelled all competitors, he would summon his confidant and master of the horse, Colonel Geraldine, and bid him prepare himself against an evening ramble. The master of the horse was a young officer of a brave and even temerarious disposition. He greeted the news with delight and hastened to make ready. Long practice and a varied acquaintance of life had given him a singular facility in disguise. He could adapt not only his face and bearing, but his voice and almost his thoughts, to those of any rank, character or nation, and in this way he diverted attention from the prince and sometimes gained admission for the pair into strange societies. The civil authorities were never taken into the secret of these adventures. The imperturbable courage of the one and the ready invention and chivalrous devotion of the other had brought them through a score of dangerous passes, and they grew in confidence as time went on.

One evening in March they were driven by a sharp fall of sleet into an oyster bar in the immediate neighborhood of Leicester square. Colonel Geraldine was dressed and painted to represent a person connected with the press in reduced circumstances, while the prince had, as usual, travestied his appearance by the addition of false whiskers and a pair of large adhesive eyebrows. These lent him a shaggy and weather beaten air, which for one of his urbanity formed the most impenetrable disguise. Thus equipped the commander and his satellite slipped their brandy and soda in security.

The bar was full of guests, male and female; but, though more than one of these offered to fall into talk with our adventurers, none of them promised to grow interesting upon a nearer acquaintance. There was nothing present but the lees of London and the commonplace of disrespectability, and the prince had already fallen to yawning and was beginning to grow weary of the whole excursion when the swing doors were pushed violently open and a young man, followed by a couple of commissionaires, entered the bar. Each of the commissionaires carried a large dish of cream tarts under a cover, which they at once removed, and the young man made the round of the company and pressed these confections upon every one's acceptance with an exaggerated courtesy. Sometimes his offer was laughingly accepted; sometimes it was firmly or even harshly rejected. In these latter cases the newcomer always ate the tart himself, with some more or less humorous commentary.

At last he accosted Prince Florizel. "Sir," said he, with a profound obeisance, proffering the tart at the same time between his thumb and forefinger, "will you so far honor an entire stranger? I can answer for the quality of the pastry, having eaten two dozen and three of them myself since 5 o'clock."

"I am in the habit," replied the prince, "of looking not so much to the nature of a gift as to the spirit in which it is offered."

"The spirit, sir," returned the young man, with another bow, "is one of mockery."

"Mockery?" repeated Florizel. "And whom do you propose to mock?"

"I am not here to expound my philosophy," replied the other, "but to distribute these cream tarts. If I mention that I heartily include myself in the ridicule of the transaction, I hope you will consider honor satisfied and descend. If not, you will constrain me to eat my twenty-eighth, and I own to being weary of the exercise."

"You touch me," said the prince, "and I have all the will in the world to rescue you from this dilemma, but upon one condition. If my friend and I eat your cakes—for which we have neither of us, any natural inclination—we shall expect you to join us at supper by way of recompense."

The young man seemed to reflect. "I have still several dozen upon hand," he said at last, "and that will make it necessary for me to visit several more bars before my great affair is concluded. This will take some time, and if you are hungry"—

The prince interrupted him with a polite gesture. "My friend and I will accompany you," he said, "for we have already a deep interest in your very agreeable mode of passing an evening. And now that the preliminaries of peace are setpled, allow me to sign the treaty for both."

"AS FOR THE REST"—HE TOSSED THEM INTO THE FIRE.

And the prince swallowed the tart with the best grace imaginable.

"It is delicious," said he.

"I perceive you are a connoisseur," replied the young man.

Colonel Geraldine likewise did honor to the pastry, and every one in that bar having now either accepted or refused his delicacies the young man with the cream tarts led the way to another and similar establishment. The two commissionaires, who seemed to have grown accustomed to their absurd employment, followed immediately after, and the prince and the colonel brought up the rear, arm in arm, and smiling to each other as they went. In this order the company visited two other taverns, where scenes were enacted of a like nature to that already described—some refusing, some accepting, the favors of this vagabond hospitality, and the young man himself eating each rejected tart.

On leaving the third saloon the young man counted his store. There were but nine remaining, three in one tray and six in the other.

"Gentlemen," said he, addressing himself to his two followers, "I am unwilling to delay your supper. I am positively sure you must be hungry. I feel that I owe you a special consideration. And on this great day for me, when I am closing a career of folly by my most conspicuously silly action, I wish to behave handsomely to all who give me countenance. Gentlemen, you shall wait no longer. Although my constitution is shattered by previous excesses, at the risk of my life I liquidate the suspensory condition."

With these words he crushed the nine remaining tarts into his mouth and swallowed them at a single movement each; then, turning to the commissionaires, he gave them a couple of sovereigns.

"I have to thank you," said he, "for your extraordinary patience."

And he dismissed them with a bow apiece. For some seconds he stood looking at the purse from which he had just paid his assistants; then, with a laugh, he tossed it into the middle of the street and signified his readiness for supper.

In a small French restaurant in Soho,

LOSING FLESH.

Are you losing flesh? If so, better consult your doctor at once. He will tell you the cause. We can provide the remedy, which is Scott's Emulsion of cod-liver oil.

A young woman in Batavia writes us she had lost twenty-five pounds in three months, and her lungs were seriously affected. She took three bottles of Scott's Emulsion and gained fifteen pounds, and was able to resume her work.

Send for Free Sample. SCOTT & BOWNE, Chemists, 69 Pearl St., N. Y.

which had enjoyed an exaggerated reputation for some little while, but had already begun to be forgotten, and in a private room up two pairs of stairs the three companions made a very elegant supper and drank three or four bottles of champagne, talking the while upon indifferent subjects. The young man was fluent and gay, but he laughed louder than was natural in a person of to seem indiscreet, I must tell you that my friend and I are persons very well worthy to be intrusted with a secret. We have many of our own, which we are continually revealing to impostors and, if, as I suppose, your story is a silly one, you need have no delicacy with us, who are two of the silliest men in England. My name is Godall—Theophilus Godall; my friend is Major Alfred Hammersmith, or at least such is the name by which he chooses to be known. We pass our lives entirely in the search for extravagant adventures, and there is no extravagance with which we are not capable of sympathy."

"I like you, Mr. Godall," returned the young man. "You inspire me with a natural confidence, and I have not the slightest objection to your friend the major, whom I take to be a nobleman in masquerade; at least I am sure he is no soldier."

The colonel smiled at this compliment to the perfection of his art, and the young man went on in a more animated manner.

"There is every reason why I should not tell you my story. Perhaps that is just the reason why I am going to do so; at least, you seem so well prepared to hear a tale of silliness that I cannot find it in my heart to disappoint you. My name, in spite of your example, I shall keep to myself. My age is not essential to the narrative. I am descended from my ancestors by ordinary generation, and from them I inherited a very eligible human temperament, which I still occupy, and a fortune of £300 a year. I suppose they also handed on to me a hairbrain humor, which it has been my chief delight to indulge. I received a good education. I can play the violin nearly well enough to earn money in a cheap orchestra, but not quite. The same remark applies to the flute and the French horn. I learned enough of whist to lose about a hundred a year at that scientific game. My acquaintance with French was sufficient to enable me to squander money in Paris with almost the same facility as in London. In short, I am a person full of manly accomplishments. I have had every sort of adventure, including a duel about nothing. Only two months ago I met a young lady exactly suited to my taste in mind and body; I found my heart melt; I saw that I had come upon my fate at last and was in the way to fall in love. But when I came to reckon up what remained to me of my capital I found it amounted to something less than £400! I ask you fairly, can a man who respects himself fall in love on £400? I concluded certainly not, left the presence of my charmer and, slightly accelerating my usual rate of expenditure, came this morning to my last £80. This I divided into two equal parts—£40 I reserve for a particular purpose and the remaining £40 I was to dissipate before night."

"I have passed a very entertaining day and played many farces besides that of the cream tarts, which procured me the advantage of your acquaintance, for I was determined, as I told you, to bring a foolish career to a still more foolish conclusion, and when you saw me throw my purse into the street the £40 was at an end. Now you know me as well as I know myself—a fool, but consistent in his folly and, as I will ask you to believe, neither a whimpser nor a coward."

From the whole tone of the young man's statement it was plain that he harbored very bitter and contemptuous thoughts about himself. His auditors were led to imagine that his love affair was nearer his heart than he admitted and that he had a design on his own life. The force of the cream tarts began to have very much the air of a tragedy in disguise.

"Why, is this not odd," broke out Geraldine, giving a look to Prince Florizel, "that we three fellows should have met by the merest accident in so large a wilderness as London and should be so nearly in the same condition?"

"How?" cried the young man. "Are you, too, ruined? Is this supper a folly like my cream tarts? Has the devil brought three of his own together for a last carouse?"

"The devil, depend upon it, can sometimes do a very gentlemanly thing," returned Prince Florizel, "and I am so much touched by this coincidence that, although we are not entirely in the same state, I am going to put an end to the disparity. Let your heroic treatment of the last cream tarts be my example."

So saying, the prince drew out his purse and took from it a small bundle of banknotes.

"You see, I was a week or so behind you, but I mean to catch you up and come neck and neck into the winning post," he continued, "This," laying one of the notes upon the table, "will suffice for the bill. As for the rest"—He tossed them into the fire, and they went up the chimney in a single blaze.

The young man tried to catch his arm, but, as the table was between them, his interference came too late.

"Unhappy man," he cried, "you should not have burned them all! You should have kept £40."

"Forty pounds?" repeated the prince. "Why, in heaven's name, £40?"

"Why not eighty?" cried the colonel. "For to my certain knowledge there must have been a hundred in the bundle."

"It was only £40 he needed," said the young man gloomily. "But without them there is no admission. The rule is strict—£40 for each. Accursed life, where a man cannot even die without money!"

The prince and the colonel exchanged glances.

"Explain yourself," said the latter. "I have still a pocketbook tolerably well lined, and I need not say how readily I should share my wealth with Godall, but I must know to what end. You must certainly tell us what you mean."

The young man seemed to awaken; he looked uneasily from one to the other,

and his face flushed deeply.

"You are not fooling me?" he asked. "You are indeed ruined men, like me?"

"Indeed, I am, for my part," replied the colonel.

"And for mine," said the prince, "I have given you proof. Who but a ruined man would throw his notes into the fire? The action speaks for itself."

"A ruined man, yes," returned the other suspiciously, "or else a millionaire."

"Enough, sir," said the prince. "I have said so, and I am not accustomed to have my word remain in doubt."

"Ruined?" said the young man. "Are you ruined, like me? Are you, after a life of indulgence, come to such a pass that you can only indulge yourself in one thing more? Are you," he kept lowering his voice as he went on, "are you going to give yourselves that last indulgence? Are you going to avoid the consequences of your folly by the one infallible and easy path? Are you going to give the slip to the sheriff's officers of conscience by the one open door?"

Suddenly he broke off and attempted to laugh.

"Here is your health!" he cried, emptying his glass, "and good night to you, my merry ruined men."

(To be continued.)

Childish Frankness.

"Uncle, do you know the difference between you and a rooster?"

"No. What is it?"

"A rooster has a comb and you—don't want one."—Meggendorfer Blatt.

No Time For Them.

First Society Woman—Have you any children?

Second Society Woman—Gracious, no! I can't even find time to take care of my dog!—Philadelphia Record.

Presio
(better than flour)
devises
dainty dumplings

WHY STICK TO THESE OLD METHODS? BE UP TO DATE—USE
OZOLINE
The best family remedy in the world for
SORE THROAT
Hoarseness, Sore Mouth, Tonsillitis, and all diseases of the throat. Prevents Diphtheria. Cures Quinsy. Cures guaranteed. 25 and 50 cents at all druggists.
THE OZO REMEDY CO.
New Brighton, Pa.

CHICHESTER'S PILLS
Original and Only Genuine. A Standard Remedy, sold for 25 years. It is the only medicine that cures CHICHESTER'S ENGLISH PILLS in RED and GOLD bottles, and is sold in every part of the world. Take no other. Refuse Substitutions and Imitations. Ask your Druggist or send for a Free Booklet for Ladies, or write to: Dr. J. C. Chichester, Chichester Dispensary Co., Madison Square, N.Y., U.S.A.

BEST PASSENGER SERVICE IN TEXAS.
4-IMPORTANT GATEWAYS-4

TEXAS AND PACIFIC RAILWAY
EL PASO, SAN ANTONIO, DALLAS, HOUSTON, NEW ORLEANS

NO TROUBLE TO ANSWER QUESTIONS.

Connections at New Galilee.
Connections at New Galilee with Pennsylvania company trains to and from New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Washington, Pittsburgh, Beaver Falls, East Liverpool, Wellsville, Bellaire, Alliance, Canton, Chicago, Erie, New Castle, Ashtabula, Youngstown and intermediate points.

K. E. BARINGER,
General Passenger Agent.

Pennsylvania Lines.
Schedule of Passenger Trains—Central Time In Effect January 5, 1902. From East Liverpool Cleveland and Pittsburgh Division.

EASTBOUND.		WESTBOUND.
No. 102	8:45 a. m.	No. 101	12:35 a. m.
103	8:55 a. m.	100	1:15 a. m.
104	9:05 a. m.	99	1:35 a. m.
105	9:15 a. m.	98	1:55 a. m.
106	9:25 a. m.	97	2:15 a. m.
107	9:35 a. m.	96	2:35 a. m.
108	9:45 a. m.	95	2:55 a. m.
109	9:55 a. m.	94	3:15 a. m.
110	10:05 a. m.	93	3:35 a. m.

From Chester, Pittsburgh (Pan Handle) Division.

EASTBOUND.		WESTBOUND.
No. 150	8:45 a. m.	No. 149	8:07 a. m.
151	8:55 a. m.	148	8:27 a. m.
152	9:05 a. m.	147	8:47 a. m.
153	9:15 a. m.	146	9:07 a. m.

*Runs Daily. †Daily, except Sunday.
*Sunday only.

John R. James,
General Passenger Agent.
Room 905 Park Bldg.
Pittsburgh, Pa.

Pullman Sleeping Cars are run on Nos. 901 and 902 and Parlor Cars on Nos. 903 and 904 between Pittsburgh and Cleveland via Yellow Creek and Alliance. No. 898 connects at Rochester for New Castle, J. W. Andrews, Youngstown, Niles, Warren, Ashtabula and intermediate stations. No. 840 for Erie, Ashtabula and intermediate stations. No. 899 for Youngstown, Niles, Jamestown, Erie and intermediate stations.

No. 895 and 896 connect at Bayard for New Philadelphia, and stations on Tuscarawas Branch.

For time cards, rates of fare, through tickets, baggage checks, and further information regarding the running of trains, apply to ADAM HILL, Passenger and Ticket Agent, East Liverpool, Ohio.

HOME AFFAIRS.

Brief Notes of a Personal Nature And of Matters About Town.

To Entertain at Luncheon—Miss Maude Wallace will entertain a number of friends on tomorrow afternoon at luncheon. Fancy work will be the feature of the afternoon.

OBITUARY

Mrs. David Gilson.

Mrs. David Gilson, aged 72 years, died this morning at the home of her daughter, Mrs. George Hill, near East Liverpool. Mrs. Gilson had been in poor health for some time, but the immediate cause of her death was stomach trouble. Her husband died in 1865 and since then she has made her home the greater part of the time with her daughter, near this city. She leaves two children, a son, Harry, of Allegheny, and Mrs. Hill. The funeral will be held Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the house. Interment at Riverview.

Frank Roush.

Frank Roush, aged 42, died this morning about 9 o'clock at his home on the upper end of Avondale street, after a long illness with consumption. Mr. Roush leaves a wife, but no children. The funeral will be held Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock from the house, interment at Long's Run cemetery.

Thomas Sheve.

Thomas Sheve, aged 44 years, died yesterday morning at 242 College street, where he boarded, after an illness of several weeks from typhoid fever. Funeral services will be held at St. Aloysius' church at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning and interment will be made in St. Aloysius' cemetery.

Archibald Haught.

Archibald Haught, aged 22 years, died at 10 o'clock this morning in the Hotel Grand building, Washington and Sixth streets, after a lingering illness from consumption.

Found Dead in Bed.

Lisbon, February 23.—(Special).—A five-week-old twin daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Morris died suddenly Saturday evening and was buried yesterday. The child was found dead in bed.

Threatened With Fever.

William Powell, son of Constable Powell, is very sick, threatened with typhoid fever.

NOTICE.

A MEETING OF THE REPUBLICAN CITY CENTRAL COMMITTEE WILL BE HELD AT CITY HALL AT 7:30 THIS EVENING. A FULL ATTENDANCE IS DESIRED, AS AN IMPORTANT DECISION IS TO BE MADE.

M. J. McGARRY,
Secretary.

W. L. SMITH,
Chairman.

Wall Paper.

Six more days to buy Wall Paper at cost and less. Must vacate room March 1st.

THE ART WALL PAPER STORE.

Knee Pants Sale, 50c sale price 36c. Joseph Bros.

Heddleston Bros.

for all the good things to be found in a first class grocery.

NOTICE—Bring in your pass books at once and have dividends credited. Open tonight from 7 to 9 p. m. POTTERS BUILDING & SAVINGS CO.

Spring Goods

It is just a little early to talk about Spring Shoes, but we received such a nice Button Shoe last Friday that we can not help talking about them. It has a nice, light sole, Pat. tip, dull matt top, square button fly; a very handsome shoe. Guaranteed to wear and costs only

$2.50

Button shoes are stylish this season. Special prices on winter goods.

The Sleepless Shoe Co. IN THE DIAMOND.

CAPITAL STOCK HAS BEEN DOUBLED

Union Loan and Trust Company Now Capitalized at a Full Million.

The Union Building, Loan & Trust company of East Liverpool, has increased its capital stock from $500,000 to $1,000,000. J. M. Kelly is president and S. T. Herbert, secretary.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS TODAY

Star Bargain Store, sale of blankets and comforts.
The Leader Store, skirts.
Lewis Bros., rockers.
Chas. F. Craig, soaps.
Sleepless Shoe Co., spring goods.
Hodson's Drug Store, visiting tablet.

THANKS GIVEN

By Candidate T. V. Thompson to His Loyal Friends and Supporters.

To the mass of Republican voters who stood by me so faithfully in my contest for the nomination of mayor, I hereby express my heartfelt thanks. I appreciate the work and influence spent in my behalf and will certainly endeavor to repay the kindness shown me. Further, if the Republican voters honor me by electing me to the office I will endeavor to fulfill the duties incident to the position and treat all in a just manner.

Respectfully yours,
45-h THOMAS V. THOMPSON.

A Good Thing.

Old fashioned stick candy, that's what every body says, sold at HEDDLESTON BROS. 45-h

Thanks.

I wish to thank my friends who so loyally supported me at the primary election held on Saturday, and assure them that their kindness will always be appreciated.

O. D. NICE,
45-h

The Wade Jewelry Co. have moved to a large store room at 164 Fifth st

Gasoline Tank Exploded.

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 23.—Fire at McLean last night threatened to destroy the entire city, but after considerable hard work and many narrow escapes on the part of the fighters the flames were brought under control. The city of Bloomington, Ill., was wired for assistance but the request was recalled before the apparatus had started from that city. The loss is estimated at $20,000, partially covered by insurance. The fire was caused by the explosion of a gasoline tank.

Third Explosion Victim.

Pottsville, Pa., Feb. 23.—The third death as a result of the explosion of a locomotive on the Philadelphia and Reading railway on Thursday night, occurred yesterday when John Alexander, the engineer, died from injuries received in the accident. The other deaths were the fireman and a passenger.

Accepts Hobart College Presidency.

Geneva, N. Y., Feb. 23.—Official announcement was made yesterday of the acceptance by the Rev. Langdon C. Stewardson of Lehigh university of the presidency of Hobart college.

Ancient Glove Etiquette.

Woodstock and Worcester leather gloves are of ancient celebrity. In the middle ages the giving of a glove was a ceremony of investiture in bestowing lands and dignities. In England, in the reign of Edward II., the deprivation of gloves was a ceremony of degradation. The importation of foreign gloves into England was not permitted until 1825.

Boys' Suit Sale at Joseph Bros.

44-i

A big discount given on Men's and Boys' Suits.

This week only at THE SURPRISE CLOTHING HOUSE 43-eod-1

Won Out By a Large Majority.

Old fashioned stick candy is a popular favorite, sold by HEDDLESTON BROS. 45-h

By vote of Local 165, of Painters,

Decorators & Paper Hangers of America, it was decided to place E. M. Cross, or Cross & Stiffen, on the unfair list, and ask all union workmen to stay with us.

(Signed.) W. T. HOUSE, R. S. 45-i

Home Guards Dance.

The Home Guards will give a dance to their many friends of East Liverpool at Rock Springs park, Monday evening, February 23. A cordial invitation is extended to all. Admission, ladies free, 44-i

Art Wall Paper Store.

All Paper must be sold, room vacated March 1st.

THE ART WALL PAPER STORE.

45-h

Buy a Suit for yourself and the Boys

while you can get 20 per cent discount on each dollar you spend.

THE SURPRISE CLOTHING HOUSE

43-eod-1

Assuming the Husband's Name.

The practice of the wife assuming the husband's name at marriage originated from a Roman custom and became the common custom after the Roman occupation. Thus, Julia and Octavia, married to Pompey and Cicero, were called by the Romans Julia of Pompey and Octavia of Cicero, and in later times married women in most European countries signed their names in the same manner, but omitted the "of."

Against this view it may be mentioned that during the sixteenth and even at the beginning of the seventeenth century the usage seems doubtful, since we find Catherine Parr so signing herself after she had been twice married, and we always hear of Lady Jane Grey (not Dudley), Arabella Stuart (not Seymour), etc. Some persons think that the custom originated from the Scriptural teaching that husband and wife are one. This was the rule of law so far back as Baeton (died 1228), and it was decided in the case of Bon versus Smith, in the reign of Elizabeth, that a woman by marriage loses her former name and legally receives the name of her husband. Altogether the custom is involved in much obscurity.

Little Big Men.

Suwarow, the greatest of Russian generals; Frederick the Great, David Garrow, the wonderful actor, and Alexander Hamilton, whom Talleyrand pronounced one of the three greatest men he had ever known, were slender and below the middle height. The brave General Marion "was in stature of the smallest size, thin as well as low," and Dr. Kane, who surpassed all of his Arctic companions in braving torrid heat and polar cold, was but 5 feet 6 in height and weighed at his best only 135 pounds. But more dwarfish than any of these ghostly beings was that phenomenon of the eighteenth century, the Abbe Galiani of Naples. "Personally," says Marmontel, "the abbe, who was but 4 feet 6 inches in stature, was the prettiest little harlequin that Italy ever produced, but upon the shoulders of that harlequin was the head of a Machiavelli."

Thanks His Friends.

I desire to express my sincere thanks to my friends in the Fourth ward for the hearty manner in which they supported me at the primary on Saturday. In accepting the nomination for council I will not be unmindful of the responsibilities which go with it should I be elected by the Republicans, and will do my utmost to fill the position in a satisfactory and acceptable manner.

THOMAS CANNON.
45-h

A Good Thing.

Old fashioned stick candy, that's what every body says, sold at HEDDLESTON BROS. 45-h

Boys' Knee Pants Sale, $1.00 grade

65c. Joseph Bros. 44-i

Prof. Babcock, the expert optician, can still be found with the Wade Jewelry Co., 164 Fifth street. 31-tr

It leads—the News Review.

TOO LATE TO CLASSIFY

FOR SALE—A five room house on High street, East End. Inquire of Archie Putnam, Maple street, East End. 45-r

HOTEL FOR SALE—On account of

death of landlady the well known Sutherland House, at Hookstown, Pa., containing 14 rooms. Also all necessary out buildings and a large livery barn. This property is nicely situated and for any person wanting to engage in hotel and livery business this is a good opportunity. J. S. Sutherland, Hookstown, Pa. 45-j

No Clothing Fits Like Ours

GOOD NEWS FOR ALL IN NEED OF OVERCOATS.

We have no old counter-worn hand me down clothing at any price. Our goods are all new tailor-made that has no equal, they are yours at clean cut prices. We don't ask you as much for $15 overcoat as the $18 ones. No fake business in ours.

A. G. MINEHART,

The one-price Clothier and Furnisher. Fifth St., Hard's old stand, East Liverpool, O.

We make a specialty of

POPULAR PRICED ROCKERS

Cut is one of our

$3.00 SPECIALS.

Your Credit Is Good.

ASK LEWIS BROS. ABOUT IT.

ZEB WHITE

He Tells of a Dream That Led to Startling Results

(Copyright, 1902, by O. B. Warner.)

ZEB WHITE, the old possessor of a Tennessee, and I had planned to go up the side of the Cumberland mountains above his cabin and look for signs of bear at the mouth of a certain cave. His wife had something to say to him on the subject after I was out of doors, and the old man didn't seem a bit enthusiastic as we finally started off. We had walked along for a mile in silence when he sat down on a rock and observed:

"Of all the drafted critters in this world I reckon a woman is the drattedest. She ain't to be understood by no man, and I'm dawggoned if I believe she knows herself!"

It looked as if old Zeb had been the victim of a candle lecture before getting away, but as it was none of my mix in I had nothing to say, and he waited a couple of minutes before continuing:

"My old woman will run along as slick as grease for two or three months, and then all of a sudden she'll break out and be as techy as a wolf with a sore paw. Mebbe it's that way with all wimin, and mebbe that's what a man kin expect to put up with when he falls in love and gets married. Mebbe the old woman is gittin' ready to mix up with another b'ar."

I scented a story and asked for it, and after a little coaxing he said:

"One time about six y'ars ago I cum home from town and found the ole woman sittin' on the doahstep and lookin' as ruffled as a wet hen. She was all right and as chipper as y'ar please when I went away in the mawnin', but sunthin' had changed her. She didn't pay no 'tenshun to me as I sat down, and I knowed we was in for a row. I didn't say nuthin' for a long time, but jest chawed terbacker and looked across the road at a rabbit hoppin' about. Bimbley I softly sez:

"It's a powerful pleasant evenin', Mrs. White."

"She turns on me with a glare in her eyes and sez:

"Yes, it's a powerful pleasant evenin' fur folks as is too lazy to draw their breath and don't keer how much their families suffer."

"Mebbe that's me," sez I, feelin' sort o' riled all to once.

"Zeb White," sez she as she riz up, "yo' ain't no man 'tall. My shoes ar' all worn out, and I ain't got a dress fit for a skunk to look at. I shall cook the last co'mmeal in the house fur breakfast, and Lawd knows what we'll git any mo'."

Yo' hev got to be the oneriest man in all Tennessee. Yo' ain't fitten fur buzzards to peck at. Yo' used to git around and be sunboby, but fur the last y'ar it's bin whisky and terbacker and loann' around till I won't put up with it no mo'."

"Nobodys axin' yo' to stay if yo' don't want to," sez I, feelin' hurt in my feelin's."

"She got her bonnet on and was minded to go, but arter walkin' out to the road and lookin' up and down she cum back. She didn't say nuthin' mo', and I was too mad to speak, and we sot around fur awhile and then went to bed. It might hev bin along about midnight when she wakes me up and sez:

"Zeb, I've bin hev'n a mighty curus dream. I dremp't that a mighty big b'ar had fell into one o' them iron pits up by the big ravine."

"What if he has?" sez I.

"Then his pelt will buy me a par o' shoes and a dress, and we'll hev meat and grease 'nuff to last us fur a month."

"I'll see about it in the mawnin'."

"But I want yo' to see about it right off now. I'll go with yo' and print out the pit, and yo' kin shoot the b'ar befo' he climbs out."

"I was mad yit," said the old man, "and I didn't think much of a dream, and so I wouldn't git up. The ole woman did, however. She got out o' bed, lit the lantern and went off to see if the b'ar was actually in the pit. I soon fell asleep, thinkin' she wouldn't go fur, and it was mawnin' when I woke up ag'in. The ole woman wasn't nowhar to be seen, but I wasn't in no hurry to go out and look fur her. I got sum breakfast, smoked my pipe, and along about 8 o'clock I shouldered my gun and started off fur the pits. We was up that way last Sunday, if yo' remembers."

"Yes."

"Thar ar' six or seven places whar they dug down fur iron ore. Sum o' 'em ain't more'n ten feet deep, and sum ar' thirty. I didn't know which one she had dremp't about, and I went along slow and looked fur signs. I had looked into fo' or five pits and was thinkin' the ole woman had got lost on the mountin' in the night when I cum to the deepest pit of all. It was as big around as a well, and down on the leaves and brosh at the bottom was a sight to behold. My ole woman and a monstrous big b'ar was down thar together and all mixed up. She heard me movin' about at the top, and she knowed my face as I looked down, but she didn't say a blessed word until I spoke. I was sorter glad to find her alive and sort o' mad about her callin' me names, and bimbley I sez:

"Mebbe it ar', sez she, cool as yo' please."

"An ar' that a b'ar alongside o' yo'?"

"Yes, it's a b'ar; same b'ar I dremp't about last night. Mebbe yo'r name might be Zeb White?"

"I'm considerin' that folks call me by that name. It's a pleasant mawnin', Mrs. White."

"Pears like it."

"Then we didn't say no mo' fur a long time," said old Zeb as he smiled and chuckled and filled his pipe anew.

"I soon she was powerful sassy yit, and I wasn't givine to humble myself fust."

"And she had tumbled into the pit with the bear?" I queried.

"She had, sah, but the b'ar was down thar fust, and she had lit on him and didn't receive no hurt. Then two had been wedged in thar together fur seven or eight hours, and the b'ar hadn't even growled at her. His tumbler down and her fallin' on top o' him had jest skinned him most to death. Bimbley I sez to the ole woman:

"Mrs. White, mebbe yo' ar' takin' a heap of comfort down thar? If so, don't let me disturb yo'."

"The Ontario (N. Y.) farmers' grange has passed resolutions to the effect that hereafter all members will 'eschew the wearing of whiskers and beards.'—News Item.]

And are the festive lilacs doomed? Will goatees go no more? Are sideburns still cracked for all time? And always gone before? Farwell, farwell, bewhiskered face! Bucolic styles declare That you're passe, though poultry's a 'chance."

The farmer's face goes bare! What will the comic artists do When drawing pictures of The victim and the green goods man—Those portraits that we love? How can we tell, without a tag, The guileless farmer's mug, Without the fringe we've grown to know—That human hirsute rug?

The century is on the move; Our ideals, shattered, fall; But of the changes we bewail This is the worst of all. And yet some men will benefit In dollars—likewise cents—For razors will be catalogued Among farm implements!

The winds of winter moan alone Unchecked by whiskers red, And Uncle Josh gives up his beard For stuffing for a bed. While on the page with plows and hoes, With rakes and drills, he sees

Send For Our Razor No. 3 and Mow Yourself With Ease.

—Cincinnati Commercial Tribune.

Joseph Bros.' Boys' Suit Sale. 44-i

This is the last week of our sale. We advise you to take advantage of it. THE SURPRISE CLOTHING HOUSE

GRATIFYING GROWTH

REFERRING to our recent report to the Comptroller of the Currency, published in this paper, we beg to call your attention to the following

COMPARATIVE STATEMENT OF DEPOSITS:

February 5th, 1901	$296,546 16
" 25th, 1902	441,067 60
" 6th, 1903	503,667 99

THE POTTERS NATIONAL BANK.

WORKINGMEN! YOU MUST HAVE SHOES.

SATURDAY SPECIALS:

All $1.75 Shoes at $1.50.	All $1.50 Shoes at $1.25.
All $1.25 Shoes at $1.00.	All others proportionately.

THE WORKINGMEN'S SHOE HOUSE.

HOUSE & HODGSON, 162 Sixth Street.

HOWARD H. BEAN, M. D.,

Practice limited to diseases of the EYE, EAR, NOSE and THROAT. Cataracts removed, crossed eyes straightened without cutting or pain. Deafness cured. Discharges from the ears stopped. Expert in fitting glasses. Office corner sixth street and Diamond, East Liverpool, Ohio. Open evenings.

Atlantic Tea Co

Our inventory has drawn our attention to the largest stock of canned goods and dried fruits that we have ever carried. Our contracts were made early in the season when the prices were fully 20 per cent. lower than the present market. We are going to dispose of this stock at prices that will delight the consumer and alarm the high price dealer. A few prices will suffice to convince you:

PRICE LIST.

Stand. Tomatoes, 2 1/2 lbs. cans, per can.	7c
Stand. Tomatoes, 3 1/2 lbs. cans, per can.	8c
Early June Peas, per can.	$ 1.30
String Beans, per can. 6c
Seedless Raisins, per lb. 10c
Stand. Package Coffee, per lb. 10c

WE LEAD, LET THOSE WHO CAN, FOLLOW.

Atlantic Tea Co.

New York Hair Parlor.

Over Star Bargain Store 184 1/2 Fifth St.

FOR SALE! The entire stock of hair goods. Must vacate Mar. 1st. Switches and Pomps Half Price.

D. A. DEVINE, Prop't.

Telephone Bell 490.—C. C. 66

Served in Every Style at

he.. Stag

125-127 Second. Next R. R. Station.

IN SEASON

HOME AFFAIRS.

Brief Notes of a Personal Nature And of Matters About Town.

To Entertain at Luncheon—Miss Maude Wallace will entertain a number of friends on tomorrow afternoon at luncheon. Fancy work will be the feature of the afternoon.

OBITUARY

Mrs. David Gilson.

Mrs. David Gilson, aged 72 years, died this morning at the home of her daughter, Mrs. George Hill, near East Liverpool. Mrs. Gilson had been in poor health for some time, but the immediate cause of her death was stomach trouble. Her husband died in 1865 and since then she has made her home the greater part of the time with her daughter, near this city. She leaves two children, a son, Harry, of Allegheny, and Mrs. Hill. The funeral will be held Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the house. Interment at Riverview.

Frank Roush.

Frank Roush, aged 42, died this morning about 9 o'clock at his home on the upper end of Avondale street, after a long illness with consumption. Mr. Roush leaves a wife, but no children. The funeral will be held Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock from the home, interment at Long's Run cemetery.

Thomas Sheve.

Thomas Sheve, aged 44 years, died yesterday morning at 242 College street, where he boarded, after an illness of several weeks from typhoid fever. Funeral services will be held at St. Aloysius' church at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning and interment will be made in St. Aloysius' cemetery.

Archibald Haught.

Archibald Haught, aged 22 years, died at 10 o'clock this morning in the Hotel Grand building, Washington and Sixth streets, after a lingering illness from consumption.

Found Dead in Bed.

Lishon, February 23.—(Special).—A five-weeks-old twin daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Morris died suddenly Saturday evening and was buried yesterday. The child was found dead in bed.

Threatened With Fever.

William Powell, son of Constable Powell, is very sick, threatened with typhoid fever.

NOTICE.

A MEETING OF THE REPUBLICAN CITY CENTRAL COMMITTEE WILL BE HELD AT CITY HALL AT 7:30 THIS EVENING. A FULL ATTENDANCE IS DESIRED, AS AN IMPORTANT DECISION IS TO BE MADE.

M. J. McGARRY, Secretary.

W. L. SMITH, Chairman.

Wall Paper.

Six more days to buy Wall Paper at cost and less. Must vacate room March 1st.

THE ART WALL PAPER STORE.

Knee Pants Sale, 50c sale price 36c. Joseph Bros.

Heddleston Bros.

for all the good things to be found in a first class grocery.

NOTICE—Bring in your pass books at once and have dividends credited. Open tonight from 7 to 9 p. m. POTTERS BUILDING & SAVINGS CO.

Spring Goods

It is just a little early to talk about Spring Shoes, but we received such a nice Button Shoe last Friday that we can not help talking about them. It has a nice, light sole, Pat. tip, dull matt top, square button fly; a very handsome shoe.

Guaranteed to wear and costs only

$2.50

Button shoes are stylish this season. Special prices on winter goods.

The Sleepless Shoe Co. IN THE DIAMOND.

CAPITAL STOCK HAS BEEN DOUBLED

Union Loan and Trust Company Now Capitalized at a Full Million.

The Union Building, Loan & Trust company, of East Liverpool, has increased its capital stock from $500,000 to $1,000,000. J. M. Kelly is president and S. T. Herbert, secretary.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS TODAY

Star Bargain Store, sale of blankets and comforts.
The Leader Store, skirts.
Lewis Bros., rockers.
Chas. F. Craig, soaps.
Sleepless Shoe Co., spring goods.
Hodson's Drug Store, visiting tablet.

THANKS GIVEN

By Candidate T. V. Thompson to His Loyal Friends and Supporters.

To the mass of Republican voters who stood by me so faithfully in my contest for the nomination of mayor, I hereby express my heartfelt thanks. I appreciate the work and influence spent in my behalf and will certainly endeavor to repay the kindness shown me. Further, if the Republican voters honor me by electing me to the office I will endeavor to fulfill the duties incident to the position and treat all in a just manner.

Respectfully yours,
THOMAS V. THOMPSON.

A Good Thing.

Old fashioned stick candy, that's what every body says, sold at HEDDLESTON BROS.

Thanks.

I wish to thank my friends who so loyally supported me at the primary election held on Saturday, and assure them that their kindness will always be appreciated.

O. D. NICE.

The Wade Jewelry Co. have moved to a large store room at 164 Fifth st

Gasoline Tank Exploded.

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 23.—Fire at McLean last night threatened to destroy the entire city, but after considerable hard work and many narrow escapes on the part of the fighters the flames were brought under control. The city of Bloomington, Ill., was wired for assistance but the request was recalled before the apparatus had started from that city. The loss is estimated at $20,000, partially covered by insurance. The fire was caused by the explosion of a gasoline tank.

Third Explosion Victim.

Pottsville, Pa., Feb. 23.—The third death as a result of the explosion of a locomotive on the Philadelphia and Reading railway on Thursday night, occurred yesterday when John Alexander, the engineer, died from injuries received in the accident. The other deaths were the fireman and a passenger.

Accepts Hobart College Presidency. Geneva, N. Y., Feb. 23.—Official announcement was made yesterday of the acceptance by the Rev. Langdon C. Stewardson of Lehigh university of the presidency of Hobart college.

Ancient Glove Etiquette.

Woodstock and Worcester leather gloves are of ancient celebrity. In the middle ages the giving of a glove was a ceremony of investiture in bestowing lands and dignities. In England, in the reign of Edward II., the deprivation of gloves was a ceremony of degradation. The importation of foreign gloves into England was not permitted until 1825.

Boys' Suit Sale at Joseph Bros.

A big discount given on Men's and Boys' Suits. This week only at THE SURPRISE CLOTHING HOUSE Went Out By a Large Majority.

Old fashioned stick candy is a popular favorite, sold by HEDDLESTON BROS.

By vote of Local 165, of Painters, Decorators & Paper Hangers of America, it was decided to place E. M. Cross, or Cross & Stiffner, on the unfair list, and ask all union workmen to stay with us.

(Signed.) W. T. HOUSE, R. S.

Home Guards Dance.

The Home Guards will give a dance to their many friends of East Liverpool at Rock Springs park, Monday evening, February 23. A cordial invitation is extended to all. Admission, gents 50c, ladies free.

Art Wall Paper Store. All Paper must be sold, room vacated March 1st.

THE ART WALL PAPER STORE.

Buy a Suit for yourself and the Boys while you can get 20 per cent discount on each dollar you spend. THE SURPRISE CLOTHING HOUSE

Assuming the Husband's Name.

The practice of the wife assuming the husband's name at marriage originated from a Roman custom and became the common custom after the Roman occupation. Thus, Julia and Octavia, married to Pompey and Cicero, were called by the Romans Julia of Pompey and Octavia of Cicero, and in later times married women in most European countries signed their names in the same manner, but omitted the "of."

Against this view it may be mentioned that during the sixteenth and even at the beginning of the seventeenth century the usage seems doubtful, since we find Catherine Parr so signing herself after she had been twice married, and we always hear of Lady Jane Grey (not Dudley), Arabella Stuart (not Seymour), etc. Some persons think that the custom originated from the Scriptural teaching that husband and wife are one. This was the rule of law so far back as Braeton (died 1298), and it was decided in the case of Bon versus Smith, in the reign of Elizabeth, that a woman by marriage loses her former name and legally receives the name of her husband. Altogether the custom is involved in much obscurity.

Little Big Men.

Suwarow, the greatest of Russian generals; Frederick the Great, David Garrick, the wonderful actor, and Alexander Hamilton, whom Talleyrand pronounced one of the three greatest men he had ever known, were slender and below the middle height. The brave General Marion "was in stature of the smallest size, thin as well as low," and Dr. Kane, who surpassed all of his Arctic companions in braving torrid heat and polar cold, was but 5 feet 6 inches in height and weighed at his best only 135 pounds. But more dwarfish than any of these ghostly beings was that phenomenon of the eighteenth century, the Abbe Galiani of Naples. "Personally," says Marmontel, "the abbe, who was but 4 feet 6 inches in stature, was the prettiest little harlequin that Italy ever produced, but upon the shoulders of that harlequin was the head of a Machiavelli."

Thanks His Friends.

I desire to express my sincere thanks to my friends in the Fourth ward for the hearty manner in which they supported me at the primary on Saturday. In accepting the nomination for council I will not be unmindful of the responsibilities which go with it should I be elected by the Republicans, and will do my utmost to fill the position in a satisfactory and acceptable manner.

THOMAS CANNON.

A Good Thing.

Old fashioned stick candy, that's what every body says, sold at HEDDLESTON BROS.

Boys' Knee Pants Sale, $1.00 grade 65c. Joseph Bros.

Prof. Babcock, the expert optician, can still be found with the Wade Jewelry Co., 164 Fifth street.

It reads—the News Review.

TOO LATE TO CLASSIFY

FOR SALE—A five room house on High street, East End. Inquire of Archie Putnam, Maple street, East End.

HOTEL FOR SALE—On account of

death of landlady the well known Sutherland House, at Hookstown, Pa., containing 14 rooms. Also all necessary out buildings and a large livery barn. This property is nicely situated and for any person wanting to engage in hotel and livery business this is a good opportunity. J. S. Sutherland, Hookstown, Pa.

GOOD NEWS FOR ALL IN NEED OF OVERCOATS.

We have no old counter-worn hand-me-down clothing at any price. Our goods are all new tailor-made that has no equal, they are yours at clean cut prices. We don't ask you as much for $15 overcoat as the $18 ones. No fake business in ours.

A. G. MINEHART, The one-price Clothier and Furnisher. Fifth St., Hard's old stand, East Liverpool, O.

We make a specialty of

POPULAR PRICED ROCKERS

Cut is one of our

$3.00 SPECIALS.

Your Credit Is Good.

ASK LEWIS BROS. ABOUT IT.

ZEB WHITE

He Tells of a Dream That Led to Startling Results

[Copyright, 1902, by O. B. Warner.]

ZEB WHITE, the old possum hunter of Tennessee, and I had planned to go up the side of the Cumberland mountains above his cabin and look for signs of bear at the mouth of a certain cave. His wife had something to say to him on the subject after I was out of doors, and the old man didn't seem a bit enthusiastic as we finally started off. We had walked along for a mile in silence when he sat down on a rock and observed:

"Of all the dratted critters in this world I reckon a woman is the drattedest. She ain't to be understood by no man, and I'm dawggoned if I believe she knows herself."

It looked as if old Zeb had been the victim of a Caudle lecture before getting away, but as it was none of my mix in I had nothing to say, and he waited a couple of minutes before continuing:

"My old woman will run along as slick as grease fur two or three months, and then all of a sudden she'll break out and be as techy as a wolf with a sore paw. Mebbe it's that way with all wimin, and mebbe that's what a man kin expect to put up with when he falls in love and gets married. Mebbe the old woman is gittin' ready to mix up with another b'ar."

I scented a story and asked for it, and after a little coaxing he said:

"One time about six y'ars ago I cum home from town and found the ole woman sittin' on the doahstep and lookin' as ruffled as a wet hen. She was all right and as chipper as yo' please when I went away in the mawnin', but sunthin' had changed her. She didn't pay no 'tenshun to me as I sot down, and I knowed we was in fur a row. I didn't say nuthin' fur a long time, but jest chawed terbacker and looked across the road at a rabbit hoppin' about. Bimeby I softly sez:

"It's a powerful pleasant evenin', Mrs. White."

"She turns on me with a glare in her eyes and sez:

"'Yes, it's a powerful pleasant evenin', fur folks as is too lazy to draw their breath and don't keer how much their families suffer."

"'Mebbe that's me,' sez I, feelin' sort o' riled all to once."

"'Zeb White,' sez she as she riz up, 'yo' ain't no man 'tall. My shoes ar' all worn out, and I ain't got a dress fit

"MY OLD WOMAN AND A MONSTROUS BIG B'AR WAS DOWN THAR TOGETHER."

for a skunk to look at. I shall cook the last co'nnmeal in the house fur breakfast, and Lawd knows what we'll git any mo'. Yo' hev got to be the oneriest man in all Tennessee. Yo' ain't fitten fur buzzards to peck at. Yo' used to git around and be sunboby, but fur the last y'ar it's bin whisky and terbacker and loatin' around till I won't put up with it no mo'."

"'Nobody's axin' yo' to stay if yo' don't want to,' sez I, feelin' hurt in my feelin'."

"She got her bonnet on and was minded to go, but arter walkin' out to the road and lookin' up and down she cum back. She didn't say nuthin' mo', and I was too mad to speak, and we sot around fur awhile and then went to bed. It might hev bin along about midnight when she wakes me up and sez:

"'Zeb, I've bin hevin' a mighty curus dream. I drempt that a mighty big b'ar had fell into one o' them iron pits up by the big ravine."

"'What if he has?' sez I."

"'Then his pelt will buy me a p'ar o' shoes and a dress, and we'll hev meat and grease 'nuff to last us fur a month."

"'I'll see about it in the mawnin'."

"'But I want yo' to see about it right off now. I'll go with yo' and p'int out the pit, and yo' kin shoot the b'ar befo' he climbs out."

"'I was mad yit,' said the old man, 'and I didn't think much of a dream, and so I wouldn't git up. The ole woman did, however. She got out o' bed, lit the lantern and went off to see if the b'ar was actually in the pit. I soon fell asleep, thinkin' she wouldn't go fur, and it was mawnin' when I woke up ag'in. The ole woman wasn't nowhar to be sav'n, but I wasn't in no hurry to go out and look fur her. I got sum breakfast, smoked my pipe, and along about 8 o'clock I shouldered my gun and started off fur the pits. We was up that way last Sunday, if yo' remembers."

"'Yes."

"'Thar ar' six or seven places whar they dug down fur iron ore. Sum o' 'em ain't more'n ten feet deep, and sum ar' thirty. I didn't know which one she had drempt about, and I went along slow and looked fur signs. I had looked into fo' or five pits and was thinkin' the ole woman had got lost on the mounting in the night when I cum to the deepest pit of all. It was as big around as a well, and down on the leaves and bresh at the bottom was a sight to behold. My ole woman and a monstrous big b'ar was down thar together and all mixed up. She heard me movin' about at the top, and she knowed my face as I looked down, but she didn't say a blessed word until I spoke. I was sorter glad to find her alive and sort o' mad about her callin' me names, and bimeby I sez:

"'Mebbe I'm mistook, but ar' that Mrs. Zeb White down thar at the bottom?"

"'Mebbe it ar', sez she, cool as yo' please."

"'An ar' that a b'ar alongside o' yo'?"

"'Yes, it's a b'ar; same b'ar I drempt about last night. Mebbe yo' name might be Zeb White?"

"'I'm considerin' that folks call me by that name. It's a pleasant mawnin', Mrs. White."

"'Pears like it."

"'Then we didn't say no mo' fur a long time," said old Zeb as he smiled and chuckled and filled his pipe anew, "I seen she was powerful sawsy yit, and I wasn't gwine to humble myself fust."

"'And she had tumbled into the pit with the b'ar?" I queried.

"'She had, sah, but the b'ar was down thar fust, and she had lit on him and didn't receive no hurt. Them two had been wedged in thar together fur seven or eight hours, and the b'ar hadn't even growled at her. His tumbler down and her fallin' on top o' him had jest skinned him most to death. Bimeby I sez to the ole woman:

"'Mrs. White, mebbe yo' ar' takin' a heap o' cumfurd down thar? If so, don't let me disturb yo'."

A Powerful Light.

The new Risinger No. 10 Double Reflector Lamp produces an 1800 candle power light and is acknowledged by all to be the best light ever manufactured. Call and see us before placing your order. We are experienced in the business.

The Risinger Manufacturing Co.

215 Broadway,

East Liverpool, Ohio.

Bell Phone 301.

GRATIFYING GROWTH

REFERRING to our recent report to the Comptroller of the Currency, published in this paper, we beg to call your attention to the following

COMPARATIVE STATEMENT OF DEPOSITS:

February 5th, 1901 . $296,546 16
" 25th, 1902 . 441,067 60
" 6th, 1903 . 503,667 99

THE POTTERS NATIONAL BANK.

WORKINGMEN! YOU MUST HAVE SHOES.

SATURDAY SPECIALS:

All $1.75 Shoes at $1.50. All $1.50 Shoes at $1.25.
All $1.25 Shoes at $1.00. All others proportionately.

THE WORKINGMEN'S SHOE HOUSE.

HOUSE & HODGSON, 162 Sixth Street.

"I ain't complainin', sez she, 'but jest fur a change yo' might pull me out."

"'But am I an onery man?' sez I."

"'Yo' surely ar', sez she, 'but between an onery man and an onery b'ar I'll take the man. I shan't take no mo' than that, Zeb White, not if yo' keep me down yere a week."

"'I wasn't feelin' quite satisfied, but I knowed she was a woman o' her word, and so I cut a grapevine and lowered it down and pulled her out. Then I shot the b'ar and went off and got two men to help me pull the carcass out. He was the biggest, fattest b'ar anybody had seen around yere fur ten y'ars. I sold the pelt alone fur $20 in cash, and we had b'ar meat till we got tired of it. Reckon we've got sum o' the grease in the house yit, and it's prime stuff to ile up yo' b'utes."

"'And you bought the dress and shoes, of course?' I asked."

"'Of co'se,' he replied. 'I never did feel quite right about it all. Pears to me like the ole woman got ahead of me in the fuss, in the dream and in the b'ar skin, and she never really took back any of them words. 'Deed, but she went round braggin' over me and holdin' her nose so high that I felt mighty humble all winter."

"'As he got up and knocked the ashes out of his pipe and wound up his quaint old wooden watch he said to himself:

"'Yes, wimin is curus critters—mighty curus."

M. QUAD.

THE WHISKERLESS FARMER

(The Ontario (N. Y.) farmers' grange has passed resolutions to the effect that hereafter all members will "eschew the wearing of whiskers and beards."—News Item.)

And are the festive lilacs doomed? Will goatees go no more? Are sideburns sidetracked for all time And gaiters gone before? Farewell, farewell, bewhiskered face! Bueolic styles declare That you're passe, though poultry's "dressed."

The farmer's face goes bare! What will the comic artists do When drawing pictures of The victim and the green goods man— Those portraits that we love? How can we tell, without a tag, The guileless farmer's mug, Without the fringe we've grown to know— That human hirsute rug?

The century is on the move; Our ideals, shattered, fall, But of the changes we bewail This is the worst of all. And yet some men will benefit In dollars—likewise cents— For razors will be catalogued Among farm implements!

The winds of winter moan alone Unchecked by whiskers red And Uncle Josh gives up his beard For stuffing for a bed. While on the page with plows and hoes, With rakes and drills, he sees

Send For Our Razor No. 9 and Mow Yourself With Ease.

—Cincinnati Commercial Tribune.

Joseph Bros.' Boys' Suit Sale.

This is the last week of our sale. We advise you to take advantage of it. THE SURPRISE CLOTHING HOUSE

HOWARD H. BEAN, M. D.,

Practice limited to diseases of the EYE, EAR, NOSE and THROAT. Cataracts removed, cross eyes straightened without cutting or pain. Deafness cured. Discharges from the ears stopped. Expert in fitting glasses. Office corner sixth street and Diamond, East Liverpool, Ohio. Open evenings.

Atlantic Tea Co

Our inventory has drawn our attention to the largest stock of canned goods and dried fruits that we have ever carried. Our contracts were made early in the season when the prices were fully 20 per cent. lower than the present market. We are going to dispose of this stock at prices that will delight the consumer and alarm t he high price dealer. A few prices will suffice to convince you:

PRICE LIST.

Stand. Tomatoes, 2lb cans, per can, 7c
Stand. Tomatoes, 3lb cans, per can, 9c
Early June Peas, per can 8 1/2c
String Beans, per can 6c
Seedless Raisins, per lb 10c
Stand. Package Coffee, per lb 10c

WE LEAD, LET THOSE WHO CAN, FOLLOW.

Atlantic Tea Co.

New York Hair Parlor.

Over Star Bargain Store 138 1/2 Fifth St.

Served in Every Style at the Stag 126-127 Second. Next R. R. Station. D. A. DEVINE, Prop'r. Telephone 600—C. C. 66.

HOME AFFAIRS.

Brief Notes of a Personal Nature And of Matters About Town.

To Entertain at Luncheon—Miss Maude Wallace will entertain a number of friends on tomorrow afternoon at luncheon. Fancy work will be the feature of the afternoon.

OBITUARY

Mrs. David Gilson.

Mrs. David Gilson, aged 72 years, died this morning at the home of her daughter, Mrs. George Hill, near East Liverpool. Mrs. Gilson had been in poor health for some time, but the immediate cause of her death was stomach trouble. Her husband died in 1865 and since then she has made her home the greater part of the time with her daughter, near this city. She leaves two children, a son, Harry, of Allegheny, and Mrs. Hill. The funeral will be held Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the house. Interment at Riverview.

Frank Roush.

Frank Roush, aged 42, died this morning about 9 o'clock at his home on the upper end of Avondale street, after a long illness with consumption. Mr. Roush leaves a wife, but no children. The funeral will be held Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock from the house, interment at Long's Run cemetery.

Thomas Sheve.

Thomas Sheve, aged 44 years, died yesterday morning at 242 College street, where he boarded, after an illness of several weeks from typhoid fever. Funeral services will be held at St. Aloysius' church at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning and interment will be made in St. Aloysius' cemetery.

Archibald Haight.

Archibald Haight, aged 22 years, died at 10 o'clock this morning in the Hotel Grand building, Washington and Sixth streets, after a lingering illness from consumption.

Found Dead in Bed.

Lisbon, February 23.—(Special).—A five-week-old twin daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Morris died suddenly Saturday evening and was buried yesterday. The child was found dead in bed.

Threatened With Fever.

William Powell, son of Constable Powell, is very sick, threatened with typhoid fever.

NOTICE.

A MEETING OF THE REPUBLICAN CITY CENTRAL COMMITTEE WILL BE HELD AT CITY HALL AT 7:30 THIS EVENING. A FULL ATTENDANCE IS DESIRED, AS AN IMPORTANT DECISION IS TO BE MADE.

M. J. McGARRY,
Secretary.

W. L. SMITH,
Chairman.

Wall Paper.

Six more days to buy Wall Paper at cost and less. Must vacate room March 1st.

THE ART WALL PAPER STORE,
45-h

Knee Pants Sale, 50c sale price 36c.
Joseph Bros. 44-i

Heddleston Bros.

for all the good things to be found in a first class grocery. 45-h

NOTICE—Bring in your pass books at once and have dividends credited. Open tonight from 7 to 9 p. m.
POTTERS BUILDING & SAVINGS CO.

Spring Goods

It is just a little early to talk about Spring Shoes, but we received such a nice Button Shoe last Friday that we can not help talking about them. It has a nice, light sole, Pat. tip, dull matt top, square button fly; a very handsome shoe. Guaranteed to wear and costs only

$2.50

Button shoes are stylish this season. Special prices on winter goods.

The Sleepless Shoe Co.
IN THE DIAMOND.

CAPITAL STOCK

HAS BEEN DOUBLED

Union Loan and Trust Company Now Capitalized at a Full Million.

The Union Building, Loan & Trust company of East Liverpool, has increased its capital stock from $500,000 to $1,000,000. J. M. Kelly is president and S. T. Herbert, secretary.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS TODAY

Star Bargain Store, sale of blankets and comforts.
The Leader Store, skirts.
Lewis Bros., rockers.
Chas. F. Craig, soaps.
Sleepless Shoe Co., spring goods.
Hodson's Drug Store, visiting tablet.

THANKS GIVEN

By Candidate T. V. Thompson to His Loyal Friends and Supporters.

To the mass of Republican voters who stood by me so faithfully in my contest for the nomination of mayor, I hereby express my heartfelt thanks. I appreciate the work and influence spent in my behalf and will certainly endeavor to repay the kindness shown me. Further, if the Republican voters honor me by electing me to the office I will endeavor to fulfill the duties incident to the position and treat all in a just manner.

Respectfully yours,
45-h THOMAS V. THOMPSON.

A Good Thing.

Old fashioned stick candy, that's what every body says, sold at HEDDLESTON BROS. 45-h

Thanks.

I wish to thank my friends who so loyally supported me at the primary election held on Saturday, and assure them that their kindness will always be appreciated.
O. D. NICE. 45-h

The Wade Jewelry Co. have moved to a large store room at 164 Fifth st

Gasoline Tank Exploded.

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 23.—Fire at McLean last night threatened to destroy the entire city, but after considerable hard work and many narrow escapes on the part of the fighters the flames were brought under control. The city of Bloomington, Ill., was wired for assistance but the request was recalled before the apparatus had started from that city. The loss is estimated at $20,000, partially covered by insurance. The fire was caused by the explosion of a gasoline tank.

Third Explosion Victim.

Pottsville, Pa., Feb. 23.—The third death as a result of the explosion of a locomotive on the Philadelphia and Reading railway on Thursday night, occurred yesterday when John Alexander, the engineer, died from injuries received in the accident. The other deaths were the fireman and a passenger.

Accepts Hobart College Presidency.
Geneva, N. Y., Feb. 23.—Official announcement was made yesterday of the acceptance by the Rev. Langdon C. Stewardson of Lehigh university of the presidency of Hobart college.

Ancient Glove Etiquette.

Woodstock and Worcester leather gloves are of ancient celebrity. In the middle ages the giving of a glove was a ceremony of investiture in bestowing lands and dignities. In England, in the reign of Edward II., the deprivation of gloves was a ceremony of degradation. The importation of foreign gloves into England was not permitted until 1825.

Boys' Suit Sale at Joseph Bros. 44-i

A big discount given on Men's and Boys' Sweaters. This week only at THE SURPRISE CLOTHING HOUSE. 43-eod-i

Won Out By a Large Majority.
Old fashioned stick candy is a popular favorite, sold by
HEDDLESTON BROS. 45-h

By vote of Local 165, of Painters, Decorators & Paper Hangers of America, it was decided to place E. M. Cross, or Cross & Stiffler, on the unfair list, and ask all union workmen to stay with us.
(Signed.) W. T. HOUSE, R. S. 45-i

Home Guards Dance.

The Home Guards will give a dance to their many friends of East Liverpool at Rock Springs park. Monday evening, February 25. A cordial invitation is extended to all. Admission, gents 50c, ladies free. 44-i

Art Wall Paper Store.
All Paper must be sold, room vacated March 1st.
THE ART WALL PAPER STORE. 45-h

Buy a Suit for yourself and the Boys while you can get 20 per cent discount on each dollar you spend.
THE SURPRISE CLOTHING HOUSE. 43-eod-i

Assuming the Husband's Name.

The practice of the wife assuming the husband's name at marriage originated from a Roman custom and became the common custom after the Roman occupation. Thus, Julia and Octavia, married to Pompey and Cicero, were called by the Romans Julia of Pompey and Octavia of Cicero, and in later times married women in most European countries signed their names in the same manner, but omitted the "of."

Against this view it may be mentioned that during the sixteenth and even at the beginning of the seventeenth century the usage seems doubtful, since we find Catherine Parr so signing herself after she had been twice married, and we always hear of Lady Jane Grey (not Dudley), Arabella Stuart (not Seymour), etc. Some persons think that the custom originated from the Scriptural teaching that husband and wife are one. This was the rule of law so far back as Baeton (died 1298), and it was decided in the case of Bon versus Smith, in the reign of Elizabeth, that a woman by marriage loses her former name and legally receives the name of her husband. Altogether the custom is involved in much obscurity.

Little Big Men.

Suwarow, the greatest of Russian generals; Frederick the Great, David Garrick, the wonderful actor, and Alexander Hamilton, whom Talleyrand pronounced one of the three greatest men he had ever known, were slender and below the middle height. The brave General Marion "was in stature of the smallest size, thin as well as low," and Dr. Kane, who surpassed all of his arctic companions in braving torrid heat and polar cold, was but 5 feet 6 in height and weighed at his best only 135 pounds. But more dwarfish than any of these ghostly beings was that phenomenon of the eighteenth century, the Abbe Galiani of Naples. "Personally," says Marmontel, "the abbe, who was but 4 feet 6 inches in stature, was the prettiest little harlequin that Italy ever produced, but upon the shoulders of that harlequin was the head of a Machiavelli."

Thanks His Friends.

I desire to express my sincere thanks to my friends in the Fourth ward for the hearty manner in which they supported me at the primary on Saturday. In accepting the nomination for council I will not be unmindful of the responsibilities which go with it should I be elected by the Republicans, and will do my utmost to fill the position in a satisfactory and acceptable manner.

THOMAS CANNON. 45-h

A Good Thing.

Old fashioned stick candy, that's what every body says, sold at
HEDDLESTON BROS. 45-h

Boys' Knee Pants Sale, $1.00 grade 65c. Joseph Bros. 44-i

Prof. Babcock, the expert optician, can still be found with the Wade Jewelry Co., 164 Fifth street. 31-tr

It leads—the News Review.

TOO LATE TO CLASSIFY

FOR SALE—A five room house on High street, East End. Inquire of Archie Putnam, Maple street, East End. 45-r

HOTEL FOR SALE—On account of death of landlady the well known Sutherland House, at Hookstown, Pa., containing 14 rooms. Also all necessary out buildings and a large livery barn. This property is nicely situated and for any person wanting to engage in hotel and livery business this is a good opportunity. J. S. Sutherland, Hookstown, Pa. 45-j

No
Clothing
Fits
Like
Ours

GOOD NEWS FOR ALL IN NEED OF OVERCOATS.

We have no old counter-worn hand me down clothing at any price. Our goods are all new tailor-made that has no equal, they are yours at clean cut prices. We don't ask you as much for $15 overcoat as the $18 ones. No fake business in ours.

A. G. MINEHART,
The one-price Clothier and Furnisher.
Fifth St., Hard's old stand,
East Liverpool, O.

We make a specialty of

POPULAR PRICED ROCKERS

Cut is one of our

$3.00 SPECIALS.

Your Credit Is Good.

ASK LEWIS BROS. ABOUT IT.

GRATIFYING GROWTH

REFERRING to our recent report to the Comptroller of the Currency, published in this paper, we beg to call your attention to the following

COMPARATIVE STATEMENT OF DEPOSITS:

February	5th, 1901	$296,546 18
"	25th, 1902	441,067 60
"	6th, 1903	503,667 99

THE POTTERS NATIONAL BANK.

WORKINGMEN!
YOU MUST HAVE SHOES.

SATURDAY SPECIALS:

All $1.75 Shoes at $1.50.	All $1.50 Shoes at $1.25.
All $1.25 Shoes at $1.00.	All others proportionately.

THE WORKINGMEN'S SHOE HOUSE.

HOUSE & HODGSON, 162 Sixth Street.

"I ain't complainin'," sez she, "but jest fur a change yo' might pull me out."
"But am I an onery man?" sez I.
"Yo' surely ar'," sez she, "but between an onery man and an onery bar I'll take the man. I shan't take no more than that, Zeb White, not if yo' keep me down yere a week."

"I wasn't feelin' quite satisfied, but I knowed she was a woman of her word, and so I cut a grapevine and lowered it down and pulled her out. Then I shot the bar and went off and got two men to help me pull the karkass out. He was the biggest, fattest bar anybody had seen around yere fur ten years. I sold the pelt alone fur $20 in cash, and we had bar meat till we got tired of it. Reckon we've got sum of the grease in the house yit, and it's prime stuff to lie up yo'r butes."

"And you bought the dress and shoes, of course?" I asked.
"Of co'se," he replied. "I never did feel quite right about it all. 'Pears to me like the ole woman got ahead of me in the fuss, in the dream and in the bar skin, and she never really took back any of them words. 'Deed, but she went round braggin' over me and holdin' her nose so high that I felt mighty humble all winter."
As he got up and knocked the ashes out of his pipe and wound up his quaint old wooden watch he said to himself:
"Yes, wimin is curus critters—mighty curus."

THE WHISKERLESS FARMER.

[The Ontario (N. Y.) farmers' grange has passed resolutions to the effect that hereafter all members will "eschew the wearing of whiskers and beards."—News Item.]

And are the festive blades doomed?
Will goatees go no more?
Are sideburns sidetracked for all time
And gals gone before?
Farwell, farwell, whiskered faces!
Bucole styles declare
That you're passe, though poultry's
"dressed."

The farmer's face goes bare!
What will the comic artists do
When drawing pictures of
The victim and the green goods man—
Those portraits that we love?
How can we tell, without a tag,
The guileless farmer's mug,
Without the fringe we've grown to know—
That human hirsute rug?

The century is on the move:
Our ideals, shattered, fall,
But of the changes we bewail
This is the worst of all.
And yet some men will benefit
In dollars—likewise cents—
For razors will be catalogued
Among farm implements!

The winds of winter mean alone
Unchecked by whiskers red,
And Uncle Josh gives up his beard
For stuffing for a bed.
While on the page with plox and hoos,
With rakes and drills, he sees

Send For Our Razor No. 9 and Mow Yourself With Ease.
—Cincinnati Commercial Tribune.

Joseph Bros. Boys' Suit Sale. 44-i
This is the last week of our sale. We advise you to take advantage of it.
THE SURPRISE CLOTHING HOUSE

HOWARD H. BEAN, M. D.,

Practice limited to diseases of the EYE, EAR, NOSE and THROAT. Cataracts removed, cross eyes straightened without cutting or pain. Deafness cured. Discharges from the ears stopped. Expert in fitting glasses. Office corner sixth street and Diamond, East Liverpool, Ohio. Open evenings.

Atlantic Tea Co

Our inventory has drawn our attention to the largest stock of canned goods and dried fruits that we have ever carried. Our contracts were made early in the season when the prices were fully 20 per cent. lower than the present market. We are going to dispose of this stock at prices that will delight the consumer and alarm the high price dealer. A few prices will suffice to convince you:

PRICE LIST.

Stand. Tomatoes, 2lb cans, per can. 7c
Stand. Tomatoes, 3lb cans, per can. 8c
Early June Peas, per can. . . . $ 1.30
String Beans, per can. 60c
Seedless Raisins, per lb. 10c
Stand. Package Coffee, per lb. . . 10c

WE LEAD, LET THOSE WHO CAN, FOLLOW.

Atlantic Tea Co.

FOR SALE!
The entire stock of hair goods, must vacate March 1st.
Switches and Poms Half Price.
New York Hair Parlors,
Over Star Bargain Store 138 1/2 Fifth St.

Served in Every Style at
The Stag
135-137 Second.
Next R. R. Station.
D. A. DEVINE, Prop'r.
Telephones
Bell 490—C. C. 64

A Powerful Light.

The new Risinger No. 10 Double Reflector Lamp produces an 1800 candle power light and is acknowledged by all to be the best light ever manufactured. Call and see us before placing your order, we are experienced in the business.

The Risinger
Manufacturing Co.

215 Broadway,
East Liverpool, Ohio.

Bell Phone 301.

"MY OLE WOMAN AND A MONSTROUS BIG BAR WAS DOWN THAR TOGETHER."

for a skunk to look at. I shall cook the last cornmeal in the house fur break fast, and Lawd knows whar we'll git any mo'. Yo' hev got to be the oneriest man in all Tennessee. Yo' ain't fitten fur buzzards to peck at. Yo' used to git around and be sunboby, but fur the last yar it's bin whiskey and torbacker and loatin' around till I won't put up with it no mo'.

"Nobody's axin' yo' to stay if yo' don't want to," sez I, feelin' hurt in my feelin's.

"She got her bonnet on and was minded to go, but arter walkin' out to the road and lookin' up and down she cum back. She didn't say nuthin' mo', and I was too mad to speak, and we set around fur awhile and then went to bed. It might hev bin along about midnight wheu she wakes me up and sez:

"Zeb, I've bin hevin' a mighty curus

CANDIDATES AND PEOPLE BOTH GLAD IT IS OVER

General Satisfaction Expressed Over the Nominations Made by the Republicans
On Saturday.

DEFEATED WARMLY SUPPORT THE TICKET

THE TICKET THAT WON.

Mayor—THOMAS V. THOMPSON.
President of Council—JOHN HORWELL.
City Auditor—WILLIS DAVIDSON.
City and Township Treasurer—CHRIS HORTON.
City Solicitor—GEORGE E. DAVIDSON.
Board of Public Service—JOHN N. TAYLOR, W. L. SMITH, JACOB SHENKEL.
Councilman-at-Large—JOS. BARLOW, HENRY BULLOCK, E. N. CROXALL.
Council, First Ward—ZED. T. SMITH.
Council, Second Ward—HUGH JOHNSTON.
Council, Third Ward—HOWARD E. MOON.
Council, Fourth Ward—THOMAS CANNON.
Justice of the Peace—H. P. McCARRON.
Constable—WM. COPESTICK.
Township Trustee—JOSEPH BEARDMORE.
Board of Education—W. B. HILL, E. M. KNOWLES, JESSE H. SMITH.

That a strong ticket was named Saturday by the Republicans is an indisputable fact, and that it will win at the general election on the first Monday in April is generally conceded this morning. At this time it is impossible to determine just how much opposition will develop, but as the nominees represent, by a preponderance of votes, the sentiment of the people, it is only reasonable to assume that this same preference will be expressed again at the polls.

So spirited was the campaign for the nominations that it is only natural that a great deal of disappointment should exist, at least for a few days, among the defeated aspirants. For the most part they are taking defeat philosophically and gracefully, giving heartiest expressions of good wishes for the success of the ticket. Some of the defeated candidates took it stoically and before the completion of the count were in the best of spirits and gave full assurance to the voters that the entire ticket would have their unqualified support.

From the head of the ticket to the assessors in the wards good men have been named, according to the general opinion of Republican voters. Especially cause for congratulation is found in the public service board, conceded to be one of the strongest and best the city could have.

The story of the contest was told in the News Review extras of Saturday night, the last of which, containing the complete vote for all the candidates, was distributed among its subscribers.

BIG CAR PLANT

AT CANTON

STRUCTURAL STEEL COMPANY TO HAVE $10,000,000 CAPITAL.

The Concern to Erect One of the Largest Establishments of the Kind.

Canton, February 23.—It is given out at the office of the Structural Steel Car company that notice has been received from eastern stockholders, stating that they will reorganize and recapitalize the company, increasing the capital stock to $10,000,000. This means that Canton is to have one of the largest structural steel car plants in the United States. A meeting of the stockholders will be held in this city March 15, at which time the reorganization and recapitalization will be perfected and plans adopted for the enlarging of the plant.

An option has been secured on additional land, the price of which is agreed upon as $20,000. This gives the new company when it is organized almost 80 acres, which will be needed for the shops to be erected. The company will make all styles of structural steel cars, including hopper and side dumps, combination wood and steel and ordinary wooden gondolas. C. E. Howe, one of the eastern capitalists, has taken an active part in the reorganization of the company, and visited Canton several days ago. He states that when the plant is ready to begin early yesterday morning. This vote is given in tabular form today.

The total vote cast was 3,491, probably the largest ever polled at a primary election in the city. Friends of the several candidates everywhere were alert to prevent illegal voting and challenges were numerous in nearly every precinct.

At the East End polling places there were a number of words scraps during the afternoon, but no serious trouble resulted. One or two fist fights were reported, but the combatants were separated before either one was injured.

The East End stood by its home candidate in good style, and Dr. Marshall received nearly twice as many votes as both Thompson and Nice combined. The great bulk of the vote was polled at the fire station, the first precinct of the ward. There was little necessity for the police in the East End, as there was no attempt at illegal voting. A number of persons were challenged in both precincts and one man in the second precinct became very angry at being challenged and threatened to clean up the election officials. He was quieted in a few moments, however, and left in a better frame of mind. The whole afternoon passed very quietly, considering the extra large vote.

In the first precinct of the First ward the clerks erred in totaling the vote of both Nice and Marshall, but as they both involved but one vote the result is still a tie.

A meeting of the city committee has been called for 7:30 this evening, when a decision will be rendered.

operations that orders will be booked for 5,000 cars.

The Structural Steel Car company was organized several months ago and the plant as originally intended has been completely finished and machinery has been placed. Some hitch, however, occurred in the company, and several stockholders dropped out. A few months ago several Canton capitalists enlisted the aid of eastern men from Pittsburg, Cleveland and New York to refinance the company, and the deal was closed a few days ago for the sale of $500,000 worth of stock to the eastern men.

Mrs. A. S. McCaskey.

Lisbon, February 23.—(Special).—The funeral of Mrs. A. S. McCaskey, wife of Dr. McCaskey, formerly of this county, was held in Cleveland at 10 o'clock today with burial in Lakeview cemetery. Mrs. McCaskey, who was formerly Miss Maymo Spickler, of East Palestine, died Friday after a brief illness with acute gastritis, for the relief of which she had undergone a severe surgical operation a few hours previous. She was about 35 years old and was the third wife of Dr. McCaskey who is well known in Columbiana county, having been brought up in Lisbon and having practiced in Columbiana and East Palestine. His sister, Mrs. Wm. M. Hostetter, of this city, attended the funeral.

Get the Saturday Review (weekly) to send to absent friends who want all the home news.

THE VOTE IN DETAIL.

NAME.	First Ward First Precinct	Second Ward Second Precinct	Third Ward Third Precinct	Fourth Ward Fourth Precinct	Twelfth Ward Twelfth Precinct	Total
For Mayor—
O. D. Nice.....	59	39	125	99	94	113
Thomas V. Thompson.....	96	22	194	129	266	170
Dr. R. J. Marshall.....	237	67	94	98	86	129
Andy C. Roe.....	22	33	23	47	17	8
For President of Council—
Robert Burns.....	123	48	163	127	130	133
John Horwell.....	163	36	173	135	140	155
George E. Rigby.....	59	15	86	64	177	104
For City Auditor—
Willis Davidson.....	233	71	455	307	497	438
For City and Twp. Treasurer—
Chris Horton.....	189	52	221	143	222	234
Joseph Betz.....	150	43	188	175	202	173
For City Solicitor—
George E. Davidson.....	227	70	455	307	497	438
For Board of Public Service—
George Olmhausen.....	45	8	58	42	75	57
W. L. Smith.....	172	54	272	214	307	290
John N. Taylor.....	163	52	309	234	313	292
George Peach.....	72	15	66	62	130	87
Jacob Shenkel.....	147	56	246	165	227	221
John H. Harris.....	72	12	58	67	62	60
Charles Hanley.....	193	53	87	97	65	85
For Councilman-at-Large—
Joseph Barlow.....	179	53	258	214	291	289
Henry E. Bullock.....	143	29	202	122	210	178
Henry Chambers.....	171	36	113	84	117	124
Herman Feustel, Jr.....	55	18	85	94	86	97
E. N. Croxall.....	125	53	172	126	203	202
R. C. Heddleston.....	107	28	170	131	135	104
For Justice of the Peace—
H. P. McCarron.....	194	53	455	307	497	438
For Constable—
John McVay.....	36	14	83	88	101	112
W. E. Cooper.....	33	14	138	85	170	130
William Copestick.....	195	18	106	86	103	93
William Zane Davis.....	78	59	61	53	68	62
For Township Trustee—
Joseph Beardmore.....	190	53	455	307	497	438
For Board of Education—
W. B. Hill.....	217	74	455	307	497	438
E. M. Knowles.....	195	57	455	307	497	438
Jesse H. Smith.....	215	63	455	307	497	438

NOW PUTTING UP THE TROLLEY WIRE

The Electric Line to Pleasant Heights Is Now Almost Completed.

IT MEANS A GREAT DEAL

To a Growing Section of the City. Which Is Likely to Become Very Populous and Prosperous—Cars Will Soon Run.

The construction of the street car line to be known as the Pleasant Heights railway is rapidly nearing completion. After several months of continuous and hard work the management of the road has the work practically at an end. For only a short time now will the residents of the snow capped hill be compelled to trudge their way up the cold and uninviting road. Not only will the new road be a great convenience to the dwellers of that section of the city but it will result in an increase to property value all along the route. It is predicted that Pleasant Heights will in the next few years be one of the most densely populated districts of the suburban vicinities.

The residents in general will hail the trip of the first car with delight, realizing full well what it will eventually mean to the entire city.

A gang of men under the superintendency of W. B. Thomas was at work today, stringing the trolley wire from the Diamond out West Market street to Sheridan avenue, where it will meet with the wire strung from the other end. Everything will likely be in readiness for operation before the end of the week.

FELL ON ICY PORCH

Mrs. Joseph Conkle Sustained Broken Arm at Pittsburg Where She Was Visiting.

Mrs. Joseph Conkle, 338 Walnut street, met with a painful accident at Pittsburg Saturday afternoon, where she had been visiting friends. In some way she slipped and fell on an icy porch, breaking her arm above the wrist. Mr. Conkle went to Pittsburg yesterday and returned with his wife on the midnight train. Mrs. Conkle became sick on the trip and it was necessary to call the ambulance to convey her to her home. She was given medical attention and is resting comfortably today.

THE TOTAL VOTE FOR COUNCILMEN

HOW THE CONTESTS IN THE FOUR WARDS RESULTED.

Only Moon in the Third Was Nominated Without Any Opposition.

The vote for ward councilmen in the city is given in full in the following table:

Council, First ward—	1st Precinct	2d Precinct	Total
Jamison.....	83	48	131
Thomas.....	105	35	141
Chaffin.....	26	3	29
Smith.....	158	30	188
Council, Second ward—	1st Precinct	2d Precinct	Total
Johnston.....	217	170	387
King.....	133	137	270
Council, Third ward—	1st Precinct	2d Precinct	Total
Moon.....	497	438	935
Council, Fourth ward—	1st Precinct	2d Precinct	Total
Berg.....	86	71	157
Massey.....	31	61	92
Cannon.....	72	126	198
McKeone.....	67	22	89
McLane.....	62	55	117

WILLIE COOK IS AGAIN AT HOME

NO PLACE ELSE WHERE HE CAN LEGALLY STAY

No Chance to Get Him in Reformatory. The Sheriff Weary of Him.

Lisbon, February 23.—(Special).—Willie Cook, the incorrigible from Walker, who has been confined in the jail here ever since Sheriff Leonard returned with him from Lancaster, where the lad was refused admission to the industrial school, has been taken home by his father, William Cook, who came here Saturday. An ineffectual effort was made to secure William's admission to the reformatory under a special privilege.

His removal from the jail is a relief to Sheriff and Mrs. Leonard as he required constant watching.

Busiest place in town—the News Review job office.

MAYOR PROPOSES TO PLEASE HIMSELF

Tired of Running His Office to Suit the Whims of Other People.

THOSE WHO CANNOT PAY

Will Be Compelled to Linger in the Canton Workhouse Until the Law Has Received Satisfaction as Regards Their Fines

Evil doers falling into the hands of the police from the present date until the first of May, when the new officials will take their seats, will meet something besides pleasant smiles in the mayor's sanctum.

Upon his arrival at the city hall this morning, Mayor Davidson was completely disgusted. The slips before him were made out for the usual bunch of drunks, and from them not one penny could be expected unless friends came to their support. Every man ushered into the chief executive's presence was given the same greeting:

"You are charged with being drunk and your fine is $1 and costs. If you cannot pay it, you must lie in the Canton workhouse. For three years I have worked to please the people; from now until May, I am going to run this office to suit Billy Davidson," said the mayor.

The first culprit to receive sentence was Moody Coburn. He was arrested in the Diamond by Officer Woods and was charged with intoxication. Owing to a back fine of $5.60 his total fine was $11.20 and being unable to produce he was remanded to jail where he will languish until both are paid.

Coburn had a terrible experience in the East End yesterday morning. He had been out all of Saturday and the night following, celebrating the primaries. Taking aboard too much booze he was thrown to the mercy of the weather. At about 9 o'clock Sunday morning he became so stupefied that he could not amble another inch, and, falling against a telephone pole near Oakland, stood there for several hours. A motorman on a street car finally realized that he was in a dangerous condition and stopping the car made a thorough examination, finding that although standing upright, he was

AN EXCITING ENCOUNTER BETWEEN TWO YOUNG WOMEN DUE TO A GIRL'S JEALOUSY

Wellsville Lass Followed Her Lover to This City and Angrily Attacked the Girl He Escorted.

Feeling confident that her professed lover was deceiving her, Miss Jessie James, a young brunette of Wellsville, who has figured prominently in the circles of Tophet in that city for several months, came to this city early last evening on a street car and immediately set a watch for the young man, who, according to her testimony, has made a reputation for himself as a Lothario.

Her vigilance was repaid in a short time by discovering him in company with another young lady of the city. The first sight of him was obtained on Washington street, near the corner of Second street. Without thinking of the probable results, the idea of her beloved being with another only in her mind she, rushed after the couple and, catching them at the corner of Cherry alley, without a word or sign of warning, she rushed at her lover's companion.

In a few moments one of the most terrific hair-pullings and hand-to-hand encounters occurring in the city for months happened. The East Liverpool maiden was unaware of the reason for the onslaught, but was compelled to unconscious and a victim of the cold. Kindly the motorman placed him on a street car and carried him to the Diamond, whence he was taken to the city hall by the aid of the patrol wagon. Restoratives were applied and he was revived, but today he was suffering from the effects. He expects to be released from custody by the aid of his wife who he thinks will produce the double fine.

Richard Walker, when arraigned, presented the appearance of one who had met the sidewalk face to face, numerous times. Officer Aufderheide nabbed him while he was attempting to reach another place for one more drink. He was very repentant and had forgotten all about owing a back fine of $11.20. It was imposed on himself and wife, the time they were arrested for disturbing each other's face. He was given his preference, the total fine or a term in the workhouse.

Frank Robinson, a colored gentleman of Wellsville, pleaded not guilty to a charge of drunkenness. He will be given a trial this evening. He said when the charge was read to him: "I was not drunk. You know me and Mahoney are great friends. I was walking down the street and Mike came up to me and said 'Hello.' I replied and we walked down together. He put me in and I didn't deserve it any more than he did. You know we always run together."

His order on Harrison Rinehart will likely be accepted. He is working on street contracts in the neighboring city.

James Carnes was the only one of the bunch that could ante up. He was arrested by Officer Morris for being drunk in the Diamond and paid his assessment of $5.60.

JUDGMENT IS GIVEN FOR THE PLAINTIFF

In a Suit for $250 Between Men Interested in Oil and Gas Leases.

Lisbon, February 23.—(Special).—Justice J. M. Dickinson rendered judgment for the plaintiff Saturday in the case of Frank Woodmancy vs. George Randolph, oil and gas prospectors from New York and Pennsylvania, suit having been brought for the payment of a $250 check. Judge Wells, attorney for defendant, served notice of appeal. Attorney Lodge Riddle represented the plaintiff.

The case grew out of an agreement whereby a prospector named Humphrey was engaged by Randolph to secure the financing of a company to the amount of $1,500 for the development of oil and gas leases near Hanover. A verbal agreement between Humphrey and Randolph provided that the latter was to receive a one-sixth interest, or $250, as compensation. In order to induce others to sign the paper he circulated, Humphrey secured from Randolph a check on a fight to save herself personal injury, and a spectator states that she did it most admirably. The young man, fearing the wrath of his Wellsville girl, perhaps having been her victim before, made himself scarce soon after the fray was commenced. The girls fought in desperation, and had it not been for the interference of the spectators, one would undoubtedly have been seriously injured. From the entrance to the alley up to Third street they clawed like tigers, and when they were finally separated blood was streaming from the faces and necks of both.

When separated Miss James again started in search of her beau. She was not successful, however, and after several hours of hunting she went to the train and left for home. In a conversation with a friend she stated that her lover's name was Frank Aleshire, and that he had been her constant companion for almost a year. Several times she had caught him talking with other girls and yesterday she heard that he had come to this city to meet one of them. Having promised to be her husband, she could not stand the thought and followed.

New York bank for his one-sixth interest, although there was an agreement between them that Randolph should not pay anything. Humphrey secured the entire subscription and Woodmancy became a partner in the concern.

In a settlement between them Humphrey transferred to Woodmancy the check against Randolph for which Woodmancy brought suit.

A GREAT DAY FOR THE KNIGHTS

INITIATION AND BANQUET OF THE K. OF C. YESTERDAY.

Crowds Went from Here And Other Cities to Steubenville—Interesting Exercises.

Representatives from 16 councils, numbering several hundred, took part in the initiation of half a hundred candidates for membership into the Knights of Columbus at Steubenville yesterday afternoon. The special train from this city carried about 100 Knights, including the initiatory team of the local council, and at Wellsville 50 more were added. Special trains also carried Knights from Newark, Wheeling, Zanesville, Dennison and other Ohio valley towns. All the trains arrived in Steubenville in time to permit the Knights to attend the special mass held in St. Peter's Catholic church.

The initiatory ceremonies took place in the Elks' lodge rooms, beginning at 10:30 a. m. The East Liverpool team conferred the first degree and the Wheeling council had charge of the second degree. District Deputy P. A. Gavin, with the assistance of Youngstown council, conferred the third.

After these ceremonies were over the Knights repaired to the lodge room of the Steubenville council, where an elaborate banquet had been laid. An orchestra rendered beautiful music between the toasts. Attorney J. J. Coniff, Steubenville; Dr. Wingerter, Wheeling; T. J. Duffy, East Liverpool; Revs. Fathers Quayle and Slattery, Steubenville, and W. A. Maline, Youngstown, were among the speakers.

The Knights spent a most enjoyable day and will long remember it. Their train returning reached here at midnight.

Administrator Removed.

Lisbon, February 23.—(Special).—A. H. Clark, as administrator of the estate of the late George Hallam, of East Liverpool, having failed to furnish a new bond, as required by the court, has been removed and his letters of authority as such administrator revoked.

All the news all the time in the News Review.

WITH THE WORKMEN IN THE CLAY PLANTS

TRENTON'S LENOX WARE.

A little boasting about Trenton's art pottery is indulged in by the True American, which says:

"From Trenton potteries have gone in the last few months to different parts of the country specimens of ceramic art rivaling, if not surpassing in beauty and workmanship and decoration and excellence in quality and grace of execution, the best work of famed foreign makers. Importers are astonished, critics and lovers of the ceramic are delighted, and European manufacturers have sent for specimens and reports, having been aghast at the prospect of competition in a line not before attempted by American capital or labor. Although New Jersey has for half a century been known universally for its clay working industries, its product in pottery has been until within the last few years confined almost exclusively to those lines of earthenware and crockery in which utility and economy of manufacture have been more potent in giving them a place in the world's market than an artistic consideration or effort.

"To the foreign maker has been left entirely the credit and profit of producing the triumphs in china and porcelain that form the highest branch in the clay working art; that art sought by art lovers to be given place in collections or to beautify costly and elegant homes and tables; that have made the towns of Limoges, of Lambeth, and of Louton, of Staffordshire, Chelsea and Coalport; that have brought eminence and respect to such names as Wedgwood and Minton. Among these wares of the old world makers, (Lenox blue) and (Lenox brown) porcelain and china, dainty bone china and beek, the creation of Walter Lenox of the Ceramic Art company, Trenton, have in the last few years gradually acquired a place of honor and repute. In the show cases and show rooms of importers and dealers Lenox ware has attained recognition and trade papers and critics have declared with almost unanimous voice that the potters and decorators of France and England will have to look to their laurels to preserve their standing as the leaders in the porcelain and china markets.

"Rival potters, accruing fortunes from commoner grades of product, say Lenox is losing time and money. Artists and connoisseurs proclaim him the advance agent of a new departure in American industry and art, in which New Jersey is fated to take a foremost part."

CHINESE SPECIMENS RARE.

Extensive collections of Chinese porcelain are very rare, rare that private collections are even well known to dealers and others. There are only two collections of which much has been heard, and they are without doubt the most important in the world. One is the collection lent by George Salting to the Victoria and Albert Museum, England, and the other is the one made by the late James A. Garland, formerly president of the First National bank, New York. Garland was a judicious and skillful enthusiast in Chinese and oriental porcelain. For several years the Garland collection has been exhibited in the Metropolitan Museum, New York, and is rich in specimens of every class or school.

POTTERY FOR JAPAN.

J. M. Takito, a pottery manufacturer of Nagaya, Japan, was in Pittsburgh last week, having come up from East Liverpool and other pottery towns in the Ohio valley. He said he had been much impressed with the machinery used in American factories, which turn out an enormous product as compared with the output of the Japanese factories. "They are not artistic in their decorations as our wares are," he continued, "but the ware itself is good, and will last as long as ours. Our decorations are painted on the ware by highly skilled artists, most of whom are descendants of pottery artists for many generations."

FROM POTTERY TO UNIVERSITY.

At a distinguished gathering of college presidents at Highstown, N. J., last week, who had assembled to celebrate the anniversary of the Peddie Institute, there was present Prof. William T. Morrell, of the University of Rochester. Prof. Morrell's life and career has been an inspiration to thousands of young men, and his address commemorating the founding of the Peddie school was doubtless one of the best efforts of the gathering. Prof. Morrell at one time modeled the plastic clay as he now shapes and fashions the minds of his students. He is well known in Trenton, having worked in the potteries there for years before he went to college and worked his way to his present honorable position.

UNCONSCIOUS AND FREEZING

YOUNG FARMER RODE ABOUT DURING THE BLIZZARD.

An Experience In Steubenville That Nearly Ended Wm. Runyon's Life

Steubenville, February 23.—William Runyon, a young countryman who lives back of Wintersville, had an experience during the recent blizzard that he will never forget.

He makes weekly trips to sell products of his father's little farm. He is not blessed with an overwhelming amount of the world's goods, but is strong and robust, and for this reason he did not wrap himself up more carefully than he would do in ordinary weather. He left home at daylight and three hours afterwards he was in Steubenville, having come down over the Franklin avenue route instead of the steep Market street hill. He drove two horses attached to a sleigh, the animals fortunately, being of the kind that can take care of themselves.

When Runyon entered the city, the horses were following their own routes, the lines were hanging loose and Runyon was apparently asleep. People whom he passed thought him drunk and gave him no more than ordinary attention. His horses traveled along the streets of the north end of the city, until finally Expressman John Bickerstaff stopped them. He shook the motionless driver, but received no response. Again he shook him but still the driver could not be aroused. It was then noticed that Runyon's face was purple, which led to the belief that he was unconscious from the cold. His hands were rubbed, and body well wrapped up, and shaken at intervals, and at last he became aroused slowly. At first he did not know where he was, but as the work of his rescuers continued unceasingly, Runyon soon recovered consciousness and was able to talk.

He was surprised to know that he had reached the city, although he remembered passing the high pressure water basin. He felt the cold severely after leaving home, he said, but as the journey towards Steubenville progressed, he thought he was getting warmer. At the same time he felt sleepiness coming over him. He could not hold his eyes open, although he made every effort to do so. He passed the water basin he knew but after that everything was black until he was aroused in the city.

Runyon said he felt well enough to continue his journey and started away to distribute his goods to his customers and to arrange for his trip home as soon as possible. It is likely that his frozen nose and ears, will keep the memory of his experience fresh in his mind.

Don't fool with a cold, no one can tell what the end may be. Pneumonia, catarrh, chronic bronchitis and consumption invariably result from neglected colds. Nothing can be compared with Chamberlain's Cough Remedy as a quick cure for colds and influenza, and by its use these diseases may be avoided. For sale by Alvin H. Bulger.

Buy a Suit for yourself and the Boys while you can get 20 per cent discount on each dollar you spend.

THE SURPRISE CLOTHING HOUSE.
43-eod-1

The Wade Jewelry Co. have removed to 164 Fifth street, where they are fitting up a commodious store room and optical parlors.
31-1f

All the news all the time in the News Review.

FORECAST OF WEEK.

Statehood Bill Will Soon Reach
Critical Period of Career
in the Senate.

LONGER SESSIONS WILL BE HELD

Probable that Daily Sittings of Upper Body Will Begin at 10 or 11 O'clock
and Frequently Run Into Night.
House Business in Good Shape.

Washington, Feb. 23.—The course of the proceedings in the senate during the present week will depend very largely upon whether there is an adjustment of differences upon the statehood bill. If there is no agreement the bill will continue to cut a figure in the proceedings, whether it be technically under consideration or not, just as it has done during the greater part of the session. If the canal treaty is proceeded with the statehood bill will do much to shape its course; if the treaty is put aside and the appropriation bills taken up the statehood question will present itself in the shape of riders on those bills.

According to the present program the postoffice appropriation bill will be the first of the supply measures to be considered. It is indeed the only one of those bills not yet passed which has been reported from committee. It carries the statehood bill as a rider, and unless an understanding is arrived at before the bill is taken up the question of its retention will immediately confront the senate. That will be a critical period in the statehood bill's career. Some of the anti-statehood senators contend that it can be beaten as a rider, and advocate an invitation to this test of strength.

To Take Up Appropriation Bills.
It is not intended that many more days will be allowed to elapse before the taking up of the appropriation bills. With only eight working days of the session left all senators appreciate that it is essential that there should be little more delay in voting the necessary supplies for the support of the government for the next fiscal year.

Of the 13 appropriation bills, only six have so far been considered by the senate proper, but several of the remaining seven have had the attention of senate committees. Three have now, however, been received from the house of representatives.

In order to conclude its work on the appropriation bills and transact other necessary business before the day for final adjournment on March 4, the senate will find it necessary, regardless of the statehood bill, and the canal treaty, to hold longer sessions than ordinarily, and it is probable that during the greater part of the time henceforth the daily sittings will begin at 10 or 11 o'clock and that many of them will run into the night.

On Saturday considerable time will be devoted to eulogies on deceased members of the house.

House Forecast.
The house enters the last full week of the session with the decks practically cleared of every thing except appropriation bills. Only one of these—the general deficiency—which was reported Saturday, remains to be passed. Several interesting contests are expected during the consideration of the questions of adjusting the differences between the two houses on a number of bills in conference. Especially spirited would be the fight over the proposition to accept a statehood amendment; if one should come to the house as a rider on an appropriation bill. It would command the solid support of the Democratic side and it is believed enough Republicans to accept it, although it would be strongly resisted by the Republican leaders. The Philippines currency bill has been set for tomorrow. The six suspension days, which under the rules precedes the expiration of each congress, begins on Wednesday and by means of the parliamentary expedient of making motions under suspension of the rules parliamentary knots can be cut and legislation expedited.

Fowler Bill Not Likely to Pass.
The Fowler currency bill will continue to be the stop gap whenever the matters are not pressing, but there seems no prospect of its passage. There is an intimation, however, that it might serve a useful purpose in case the Aldrich deposit bill should come over from the senate. It is said that the latter bill could be substituted for the former without going to committee either by striking out all after the enactment clause of the Fowler bill or through the operations of a special rule. If neither of these courses will be adopted the bill will be referred to the ways and means committee, which could report it forthwith, as it is well understood that a reference to the committee on banking and currency would be equivalent to its death. The reference to the ways and means committee can be made on the ground that it provides for interest on government deposit in national banks and to that extent is a revenue measure.

Inflammation of the bronchial tubes or even the lobes of the lungs, is promptly subdued and a reconstruction of tissue begun after a short treatment of Hagee's Cordial of Cod Liver Oil. A food and tonic for wasted conditions without the disagreeable grease. Pleasant to take.

REALM OF SPORTS

LEAGUE UMPIRES

The Staff of the National League Now Nearly Complete—The American League.

With the appointment of J. E. Johnstone, who umpired in the American league last season, after being tried by fire in the Southern and Interstate refineries, Harry Pulliam's National League staff needs but one more judge of play to complete the quota. Bob Emslie and Hank O'Day were the only members of the old staff to be re-appointed—neither Tom Brown, Archie Latham nor Arthur Irwin being recalled. The latter is fixed in the Rochester managerial berth, but the others would not have required much coaxing to take up their old roles of the autocrats of the diamond, and in ball parlance "autocrat" is a synonym for "mark."

Tom Lynch refused to accept a regular appointment that was proffered him, but volunteered his services during the summer in case he is needed. Gus Moran and J. E. Johnstone are the new appointees. If good words count for anything "Bug" Holliday may be considered to have an even chance to draw the other diploma, but he is only one of over a score of applicants all anxious to suffer in the cause of good ball and the appropriation that goes with it. Johnstone won a reputation as a disciplinarian. He is said to give his decisions without hesitation in a clear, loud voice.

President Ban Johnson, of the American league, has announced his staff of umpires for the coming season. Only one new man, James E. Hassett, of the New England league, will handle the indicator for the American during the coming summer. The rest of the list is Jack Sheridan, Bob Carruthers, Silk O'Loughlin and Tommy Connolly.

BONA FIDE OFFER

Tendered Jim Jeffries for a Fight Between Himself and Corbett.

Jim Jeffries has received an official offer for a fight between himself and James J. Corbett for the championship of the world. For the past six weeks there have appeared in the public prints numerous challenges of Corbett and bids by different clubs for a contest, but as late as Thursday evening Jeffries declared that he had not received a single authentic challenge beyond an offer for a contest with Corbett.

Friday morning, however, he received from John Pollock, of New York, a bona fide offer for a fight for the championship, the same to take place at Carson City, Nev., or at some other place to be agreed upon. After reading the telegram Jeffries said:

"That is the first legitimate offer that has been made, and if Corbett wants to fight me to a finish he can have my game. I still believe he is bluffing and will not stand the gaft."

Jeffries said he was in the show business now, and would not go into training unless a bona fide match that could be pulled off was made. In a finish fight he said he could lick Corbett easily, but would not say anything until after the match is made.

Corbett says he will accept the offer.

SPORTING MISCELLANY.

Wheeling has a Y. M. C. A. bowling league.

Young Griffio has been sentenced to three months in jail at Chicago for disorderly conduct.

Harry Forbes and Andy Tokell box for bantam weight championship at Detroit February 27.

E. J. Arnold's breeding farm at Greenville, Ill., and the horse Gold Heels have been attached. The property is worth $40,000.

Western Reserve university has at last signed a coach, Charles J. Boyle, for the past two years coach at Ohio Wesleyan university, and star player at Dartmouth in 1901.

ORCHESTRA CONCERTS

The Fifteenth Set at Carnegie Hall This Week, Presenting a Choice Program.

The fifteenth set of concerts this season by the Pittsburgh orchestra in Carnegie hall, Shesley Park, Pittsburgh, will be given Friday evening and Saturday afternoon, February 27 and 28. This will be the last set of concerts this season but three.

In some respects this week's program, given with the co-operation of Edwin H. Lemare, organist, is one of the most interesting of the season. The works by Hadley and Parker are entirely new here. Mr. Hadley is an American and his symphony, "The Seasons," is his most notable work, and it has been played by the leading concert orchestras of this country and abroad. Mr. Parker is a Boston man and his concerto, which Mr. Lemare will play at these concerts, is his latest large work.

USED INTERNALLY AND EXTERNALLY

HAMLINS WIZARD OIL

CURES—RHEUMATISM, LAME BACK, STIFF JOINTS, NEURALGIA, HEADACHE, TOOTHACHE, EARACHE, DEAFNESS, CUTS, WOUNDS, SPRAINS, BRUISES, BURNS, SCALDS, SORE THROAT, QUINSY, COLIC, CHOLERA, CHOLERA MORBUS, INDIGESTION, CRAMPS, LAMENESS, SORE LEGS, SORES, ULCERS, AND ALL PAIN, LAMENESS, SORE LEGS, SWELLING & INFLAMMATION FROM ANY CAUSE WHATSOEVER.

"The Greatest Family Medicine That Ever Came Down The Pike."

Sold by all DRUGGISTS
50 cts. and $1.00 Per Bottle
MANUFACTURED BY HAMLINS WIZARD OIL CO CHICAGO

Hereafter it is believed that the organ will be used more frequently with the orchestra, which will be welcome news to Pittsburgh orchestra audiences, the changes now being wrought in the organ at the hall will make it available for this sort of work.

Mr. Lemare, organist and director of music at Carnegie institute, is the soloist, and Pittsburgh is to be congratulated that he has been invited by the orchestra committee to appear at these concerts. He is the peer of any living concert organist.

The program in full is:
Symphony, "The Seasons," Op. 39
Concerto for organ and orchestra, Op. 55
Ballet Music from "The Queen of Sheba"
For organ solo: (a) Intermezzo in D flat
(b) Etude Symphonique
March, "Pomp and Circumstance"

SLIPPED AND FELL AND LOST HIS LIFE

Jefferson County Man Dead as Result of an Accident in Wellsville.

Campbell M. Collins, justice of the peace at Portland station, Jefferson county, died at the Gill hospital in Steubenville as the result of injuries received at Wellsville on February 10. He was 50 years old and leaves a wife and two sons. One son is station agent at Rush Run, George W. Collins, a brother, is C. & P. freight agent in Steubenville.

February 19, as Mr. Collins was running alongside a freight train near the Wellsville shops he stepped on a pile of ashes. His right leg slipped under the wheels of the train and was terribly crushed. The passenger train which he had intended boarding to go to his home at Portland station, took him to the Gill hospital, where he had his leg amputated above the knee, as the only means of prolonging his life. Collins rallied from the operation, but his condition did not improve.

KILLED IN A WRECK IN NEW MEXICO

Former Resident of Wellsville Victim of a Railroad Accident.

Word has been received in Wellsville that Frank W. Prosser was killed in a railroad wreck in New Mexico. He was an engineer on the railroads. Mr. Prosser was born and reared in Wellsville and was 45 years old. He was the only son of Squire John Prosser, now of Cleveland.

Mr. Prosser left Wellsville 20 years ago and for several years lived at Meriden, Miss.

This is the last week of our sale. We advise you to take advantage of it. THE SURPRISE CLOTHING HOUSE.

FOR SALE.
THE UNITED PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH PROPERTY, fronting seventy feet on Main street, between Fifth and Sixth, Wellsville, Ohio. If not sold previous to March 1st, the property will be withdrawn from the market. Inquire of Samuel Stevenson, Wellsville, Ohio.

The following is a list of Union contractors of plastering of East Liverpool, Ohio, and suburbs:
Wm. Howard, Wm. Graham, Wm. Reese, Wm. Johnston, H. S. Hinton, Thos. Eaton, Chas. Hamilton, Samuel McClure.
Non-union contractors:
Wm. McClure.

Take advantage of our Discount Sale on all Overcoats and Suits. This is the last week.

THE SURPRISE CLOTHING HOUSE.
For the real good old buckwheat flavor, buy Mrs. Austin's buckwheat and don't forget the name.

34-2wks-74

$33 to California

That is the Rock Island's rate from Chicago. In effect daily, February 15 to April 30. Tickets are good in tourist sleeping cars, which the Rock Island runs every day in the week Chicago to Los Angeles and San Francisco. These cars make quicker time to Southern California than similar cars over any other line. Cars are operated over both the "Scenic" and "Southern" lines. Folder giving full information mailed on request.

If you are going to California, GO NOW. After May 1st it will cost you nearly $20.00 more than at present.
Low rates to Montana, Idaho, Utah and Puget Sound are also offered by the Rock Island.
Write or call. We'll gladly give you full information.
Phil. A. Auer, D.P.A., 415 Park Bldg., Pittsburg, Pa.

REAL ESTATE TRUST CO.
311 FOURTH AVE.
PITTSBURGH, PA.

BANK BY MAIL
It is just as safe as in person—
It is many times easier—
It causes you no unnecessary trouble—
Drop us a postal for booklet—How to BANK BY MAIL.
Capital and surplus, $3,750,000

REQUESTS IMMEDIATE PAYMENT

Minister Bowen Promptly Declines to Pay Money Asked for By the German Government.

Washington, Feb. 22.—The German government, through its representative here, Baron Speck von Sternberg, has made a request of Mr. Bowen for the immediate payment of the 5,500 pounds which it was stipulated in the protocol signed on February 13, should be paid within 30 days from that date, as a preliminary to the raising of the blockade against Venezuelan ports and the agreement to send the question of preferential treatment of the blockading nations to The Hague for determination. Mr. Bowen promptly declined to accede to the request, but informed Baron Sternberg that as provided in the protocol the money would be paid to the German representative at Caracas 30 days from February 13, which would be on the 15th of March.

The reason that animated the German government in making the request is not disclosed here nor is Mr. Bowen aware of it. The matter, however, has some significance, perhaps, in view of the fact that the ships taken by the Germans during the blockade have not yet been returned to Venezuela.

During the day Mr. Bowen had calls from the French ambassador, M. Jusserand, the Spanish minister, Senor Ojeda, and the Belgian minister, Baron Monneur, in regard to the protocols that are in preparation for the settlement of the claims of the citizens of their countries against Venezuela. Rough drafts of these instruments are already on their way by mail to the European governments interested, but there are certain provisions regarding them about which the envoys desired to consult Mr. Bowen. The protocols are expected to reach their destinations the latter part of this week, pending which no final steps for their joint signature can be taken.

London, Feb. 23.—The correspondent of the "Standard" at Brussels telegraphs that the protocol between Belgium and Venezuela will be signed this week. Belgium, says the correspondent, has obtained full satisfaction. The Belgian claimants will receive $2,500,000 after the Anglo-German claims have been paid.

Too late to cure a cold after consumption has fastened its deadly grip on the lungs. Take Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup while yet there is time.

Fine Job Printing—News Review.

DO YOU KNOW

that investments made in mining stocks, JUDICIOUSLY SELECTED, produce larger returns than any other form of investment.

We are in position to make money for you. OUR EXPERIENCE PROVES IT. Stocks sold by us have risen in value from 60 per cent to 600 per cent WITHIN TWO YEARS. If you want to make money, make it safely, and lots of it, write

G. W. RUTH & CO.
210-211-212, 331 Fourth Avenue, Pittsburg, Pa.

Dr. J. F. Bumpus

Osteopathic Physician.
Graduate under Dr. A. T. Still, the founder of Osteopathy, Kirksville, Mo., is located in the Oyster Building, 118½ Sixth St.
East Liverpool, Ohio.
Consultation by appointment.
C. C. Phone 674.

PennStock Exchange

Potters' Bank Building.
STOCKS BONDS & GRAIN
Markets Received Momentarily Over Private Wire.
BRANCH PENN STOCK EXCHANGE.
PITTSBURGH, PA.
Telephone, Ball 38.

ALL PEOPLE ought to know keeps the best whiskey in town. Twenty different brands to select from. All pure rye. Call at corner of Walnut and Railroad streets and you will come back.

FRESH MEATS.

YOU WANT THE BEST YOU CAN GET FOR YOUR MONEY

That is why you should come here. Our market supplies only the best.

Selected meats for those who want something especially nice for this season.

Charles Trainer,
Broadway and East Market.

EAST END

TWENTY-SIX ADDED
TO THE CHURCH ROLLS

Large Increase of Second Presbyterian Church Membership Results from Special Services.

The services at the Second Presbyterian church yesterday were the most successful ever held since the organization of the church. Rev. N. M. Crowe, the pastor, preached two fine sermons to the largest audiences ever gathered in the church. The regular communion services were held and Prof. Morton sang several selections in a beautiful manner. The communion service was the closing service of the series of meetings lasting three weeks at this church, and the result of these meetings has been to awaken the church as never before.

Twenty-six new members were received into the church yesterday and 15 of them were heads of families. It is seldom that a revival appeals to the older persons with such great force as the series of meetings just closed. The proportion of heads of families is usually much smaller than that given above. The condition of the church at present is more prosperous than ever before. The members, as well as the pastor, are all greatly pleased with the outcome of the meetings and propose to keep up the interest all through the year. Prof. Morton, who so ably assisted by his music during the meetings, left this morning for his home in Pittsburgh. The members of the church will always remember his sweet singing, and the prominent part it played in winning so many souls to Christ.

The meetings at the Erie street M. E. church closed yesterday with very interesting services. Rev. G. W. Orcutt preached a thoughtful sermon to a large congregation. The revival services, which have been in progress there for several weeks, closed Friday evening, but the last service of a revival nature was held last night. A large number of persons have joined the church since these meetings began and many have professed conversion. Wednesday night Rev. Mr. Orcutt will begin a series of sermons to be preached instead of the regular mid-week prayer meetings.

The services at the Second U. P. church were particularly interesting yesterday. Rev. G. W. McCracken, of Monmouth, Ill., preached at both services to a well-filled house. He chose for his morning topic, "Heaven As a Place." In the evening he preached from "Prisoners of Hope." The sermons were bright and pointed and the congregation was delighted with both discourses.

PAYING ELECTION BETS

Large Amount of Money Changed Hands in the East End District.

All was quiet and serene in the East End this morning. It was similar to the quiet after a great storm. The principal business transacted was the paying of election wagers. But few if any persons with any sporting inclinations whatever failed to make a bet of some kind on the result. At least half dozen East Enders are several hundred dollars out of pocket apiece. Many backed the East End candidate to win, but a larger amount was wagered that he would win over Nice. The latter bets are of course yet undecided, as the returns indicate a tie vote between Nice and Marshall.

Yesterday was very quiet, as hardly anyone could realize that the fight had terminated as it did. Now that the nominations have been made business will again assume its usual activity, and in a few days everything will go along as though nothing had happened.

The nomination of Smith over Thomas for council, was a surprise to

WHEN YOU BUY

Meredith's Diamond Club Pure Rye whiskey you get the highest grade whiskey made. That's why it's best for medicinal purposes and preferred for other uses. That's why you should try it. Send the tops to us and you will get the mug.

G. W. MEREDITH & CO.,
177 Market St., East Liverpool, O.

many, as the former was late in entering the fight. However, bets of 2 to 1 were offered on Smith late Saturday afternoon and found no takers.

Gypsy Camp Still Stays.

The gypsy camp which has been located below the East End school building still thrives. They have about eight wagons and each one seems to contain several different families, at least when they all come out. There are not half as many as camped in the East End a year ago, and they appear to be more quiet than those that camped in Calhoun's addition. The camp was visited yesterday by quite a number of persons and many had their fortunes told them.

Bridge Building Next.

The stonemasons reached the East End this morning to begin work on the abutments of the new bridges to be erected by the C. & P. railroad. The company has finished the greater part of the grading for its double track through the East End and now proposes to build the bridges necessary at once. The first bridge to be put in will be between the East End and Smith's Ferry.

Many Vaccinated.

A large number of residents of the East End are nursing sore arms today. A great many children and persons who had never been vaccinated, visited a physician when the recent case of smallpox appeared in the East End and were vaccinated. Their arms are now beginning to get sore, but no one has yet been reported seriously ill.

EAST END AFFAIRS.

A successful dance was held Saturday night at the Columbian park.

Born, to Mr. and Mrs. Edward Long, of St. George street, Saturday night a daughter.

Will Hutchinson, mouldrunner at the Klondike pottery, is confined to his home on account of sickness.

George Wilson, jiggerman, at the Klondike pottery, is unable to be at work today on account of sickness.

Mrs. A. Searith has returned to her home on Pennsylvania avenue after a week's visit with relatives in Pittsburgh.

Henry Goodballet, of First avenue, is much improved after an illness lasting a couple of months with typhoid fever.

J. S. Noah, of Virginia avenue, is confined to the house with an attack of grip. His little daughter, who has been ill, is improving.

T. J. Kerr has returned after a week's visit in Missouri, where he was inspecting the property of the East Liverpool Lead & Zinc company. He brought back with him about 50 pounds of ore that tests 86 per cent pure.

The condition of Bryan, the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. D. F. White, of Railroad street, is unchanged. The funeral of the twin brother of the little fellow who died Friday was held yesterday afternoon at the house. Interment at Riverview cemetery.

COUNTY AND NEIGHBORHOOD

Wheeling banks have decided to pay only 3 per cent interest on deposits hereafter.

Chas. W. Fulton, Republican, who has been elected senator from Oregon, was born in Ohio in 1853.

John Taylor, aged 78, for 59 years a resident of Salem, died of blood poisoning, caused by an injury to his hand.

John P. Vance, son of the late Rev. John A. Vance, formerly of New Castle, Pa., was frozen to death while on a surveying expedition to Canada.

C. B. Allman, prominent in Massillon business and social circles, and member of the firm of Allman & Putman, died suddenly of paralysis, aged 60 years.

At Ravenna Mr. and Mrs. Austin Blackman celebrated their 65th wedding anniversary. February 22, 1838, Mr. Blackman and Miss Jane G. Hickox were married in Aurora.

Lloyd Austin and John Baum, of Marlboro, were lodged in jail, charged with having robbed Vernon Clayton, of that town, of $100. Both men are very prominent. They were released on bail.

At Galion a horse kicked at a dog being playfully patted by John Groll, aged 31. The hoof struck Groll in the cheek, crushing it, fracturing the skull and breaking his neck. Groll lived 20 minutes.

THE JOURNEY
TO JERUSALUM

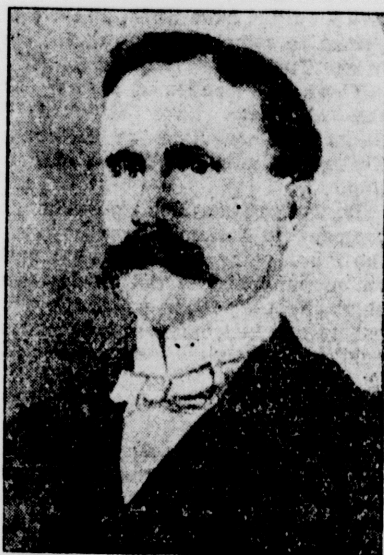

A Scholarly Lecture Addressed to Young Men by Rev. Dr. M. B. Pratt.

A NEW EPOCH IN HISTORY

Marked by the Founding of the Hebrew Capital, the Cradle of the World's Faith—Services in the Local Churches.

Tolise who accompanied Rev. Dr. Pratt, and there were many, on his "Journey to Jerusalem" at the opera house yesterday afternoon were highly pleased and edified. Those, however, who expected to hear the sacred places of the ancient Hebrew capital described were disappointed, for the lecturer described it only as one of the five great capitals, which in turn flourished and waned as centers of different forms of religious worship. His discourse showed a thorough and critical knowledge and conception of the sacred and profane history of the ages.

Mrs. Homer Knowles sang "The Holy City," which was illustrated with stereoscopic views by Dr. Birkett. Mrs. Knowles possesses a beautiful and cultured voice and her rendition of this touching refrain greatly pleased and impressed the large audience. The lecturer answered the query, "Should the young man of corrupt moral be favorably received in the better class of society?" but dismissed with a few words several which might be called catch questions. "The privilege of society is a gift and great benefits are derived from it when properly conducted and guarded. It is a great safeguard to an everlasting civilization, a factor that determines human character. Society should not be degraded for it has a holy mission in its sphere as has the church. Excluding vices is a premium on virtue, and by all means immorality should not be tolerated.

REV. R. A. JENNINGS.

Associate pastor and musical director, First M. E. church.

"The world has known five great capitals, noted for their splendor, for their wealth and as centers of religious worship in one form or another. Thebes in the valley of the Nile, noted for its architecture, mechanical achievements and great influence. The pyramids were their accomplishments. Babylon, the Chaldean capital on the banks of the Euphrates was in turn one of the world's mightiest cities; Athens, the capital of ancient Greece, was celebrated for its art, architecture and literature, but Rome grasped its power and made the earth tremble for the empires that opposed its domination. Jerusalem was the cradle of the world's ultimate faith. Religion is the fundamental matter in human life. Knowledge comes and goes; power is temporal, but religion stands eternally. Forms and creeds alter with the ages. The ancients bowed before serpents and defied the mysteries, but religion was stripped of extraneous ceremonies and emerged finally to the worship of one God and found its first abiding place in Jerusalem.

"Empires attached to religious principles will endure. Mohammedanism, with all its truth and error, has withstood the attack of ages because its roots have been sunk deep into the consciousness of religion. The political, social and labor organizations will be enduring or fleeting just as they send their roots into religious truths. Religion in every human life is a fundamental thing.

"The Jews have been scattered over the world for 29 centuries but have defied the attacks of the world and retain their religious individuality. He is preeminently the religious man and Jerusalem razed to the ground did not utterly banish his religion, protected as it is by the laws of Moses and the words of the prophets. Jerusalem marked a new era in the history of the world. It is the mother of a distinctly refining force and stands for refinement as nothing else does. It has been said the mind grows by what it feeds upon but I say it grows like what it feeds upon. Nero ate red flesh and was a brute, the incarnation of the devil. Lions do not smell flowers but hunt for blood. The mind takes on character and ideals by what it feeds upon. You will take on coarseness of the civilization upon which you feed and a man vulgar and polluted can be picked out from among many. On the other hand the man who feeds upon religious truths and strives for manhood can safely be distinguished.

SKIRTS FOR THE LITTLE LADIES.

We have just received a lot of dainty Dress Skirts in short lengths, prettily trimmed with satin ribbon and mercerized lined. These Skirts are well worth $3.75 each but for this week you take your pick at..... $2.98

THE HOME OF LOW PRICES THE LEADER. KNOWLES BLOCK WASHINGTON ST.

"Manhood can be taken from environment. If you would be licentious seek Dinana at the Greek capital, if you would be brutal, go to Rome and Nero, if degraded and self-indulgent go to Babylon and neighbor with Nebuchadnezzar. If you seek elevation and pure thoughts, to the great city of Jerusalem. Life's ideal is not coarseness. Time is not given to be spoiled by loafing. Remember, man was given to rise in supreme majesty and become a proud citizen."

A LARGE NUMBER
OF NEW MEMBERS

Fifty-Five Were Added to the Roll at the First Presbyterian Church Sunday.

The ordinance of communion was celebrated yesterday morning at the First Presbyterian church and 55 members were added to the church roll, several by letter from churches of other cities, but the majority by profession of faith. It is with a great degree of satisfaction that the report of the work in the church during the pastorate of Rev. Mr. Jordan is referred to by members of his congregation. With the additional members added yesterday the total increase during his pastorate reaches 472. This is probably the best record in the Steubenville presbytery.

The advancement has also been marked in the Sunday school, the increase of the past two years being nearly 70 per cent. The enrollment of the school yesterday was 550.

DR. JONES PREACHED
TO THE PYTHIANS

An Able and Interesting Sermon on the Need of Helping One Another.

Rev. David Jones, D. D., preached a sermon yesterday morning to the Knights of Pythias and the members of the order were out in large numbers to hear it. The helplessness of one man to accomplish great things by his own strength and the assistance he may derive from close association with and dependence upon others, was part of the theme. He said in part:

"The law of well being and progress depends almost entirely on the law of dependence and help. A man may be seemingly great but he can do very little in this world by his own strength. He must call for help from others. Nations cannot exist independently, let its riches be ever so great for when it severs its connection with other nations it falls into ruin and decay.

"In crude conditions of society the wants of communities and individuals are few but as civilization advances man's wants multiply. Science has revolutionized the world and nature has given up valued secrets to the research of men—not man. No discovery was made without assistance and no man can say 'I alone did this.'

"How many in the pottery industry can make a piece of ware unassisted? Very few, if any. Every process requires a distinct order of skill; each step a knowledge not needed in the previous stages of development. This is true of all industries and shows that the law operates in the industrial as well as the social world. Trade and commerce come under the same law. No one is independent and no one can work without the assistance of another. Progress is made only in so far as men are willing to help one another.

"Men are compelled to obey the law; it is compulsory. There is no alternative, he must receive help from his fellows.

"This law comes into human life, we are liable to disease and changes of fortune and circumstances and would perish unless assistance came to us. How strong the law is here! God ordains that one man shall help another, so if your neighbor is hungry you must feed him, if naked clothe him, if homeless give him society and friendship.

"God is powerless to help without your assistance for God works through man. It is an ennobling thought that we are co-operating with God. What a helpless creature is man alone. Yet a giant when he unites with others.

"God has united men, has bound them together as a web and you cannot touch a strand of it without shaking the fabric and disturbing the whole world. The Knights of Pythias as an order is comparatively young, less than 40 years old but has 300,000 members. What a vast influence it has! How many homes has it placed over the defenseless heads of humanity. How much suffering has been soothed. You have obeyed this law and helped your brother. May God bless your order. No man can grasp the good it has done."

A SERMON UPON
THE GREATEST SIN

Grieving the Holy Spirit the Greatest Wrong Any Man Can Do.

Excellent music and an eloquent sermon, both combined with a spiritual blessing, which was in evidence throughout the congregation, made the special evangelistic services last evening at the First United Presbyterian church, conducted by Rev. Leslie Hawk, of Toledo, most impressive, interesting and enjoyable to the immense gathering present.

The evangelist has made a specialty of conducting such services and his manner is commendable and pleasing. After preaching ably on the subject, "The Greatest Sin," he had cards passed among the members of the congregation for their signatures, which, when appended, pledged themselves to lead a better life and the acceptance of Jesus Christ. There were numerous cards signed, showing that the evangelist's work had not been fruitless and on the other hand very successful.

In part Dr. Hawk said: "There has been a church in the world since the first believers were in evidence. God has always provided a dispensation of His life, that from which we are to take lessons and live by. The first dispensation came through Moses and was called the Mosaic law. It continued until Christ came to earth. He brought with him the dispensation of the Holy Spirit. The three then were Father, Son and Holy Ghost. The three combined make the godhead. All three are God. How one can be three and three one is more than I can explain. There is no man that understands it. If there were God would not be God.

"There are things that we are not supposed to understand, that our minds are not capable of conceiving. This is one of them. The last of the godhead, the Holy Spirit, is one of the most important of the three. He is the agent of God in the world. My text, taken from Ephesians 4:30, 'Grieve not the Holy Spirit of God, whereby ye are sealed until the day of redemption,' gives the essence of my sermon. The greatest sin that can be committed, with the exception of the unpardonable sin, is to grieve the Holy Spirit.

"The Holy Spirit is sensitive to the touch of sin. All sin grieves the Spirit. We are all sinners and grieve the Spirit. It is because He loves us. We should beware. The Spirit can be so grieved that it will depart from us and once that is done we are doomed, damned and our destiny is stilled forever."

Many conclusions were drawn and lessons pictured by the exhorter and his words were eagerly grasped. There will be meetings every night this week, and commencing tomorrow short services will be held in the afternoons.

What's the secret of happy, vigorous health? Simply keeping the bowels, the stomach, the liver and kidneys strong and active. Burdock Blood Bitters does it.

Take advantage of our Discount Sale on all Overcoats and Suits. This is the last week.

THE SURPRISE CLOTHING HOUSE.

The Union Savings Bank
Of Pittsburgh

Capital, $1,000,000

The Capital Stock of $1,000,000

and the names of its Directors are a guarantee of soundness and of safe, conservative management.

4 Per Cent. Interest

Compounded semi-annually

Deposits of any amount accepted by mail

Write for the Booklet

DIRECTORS

H. C. Frick	H. C. McDowell	D. E. Park	R. B. Mellon
W. N. Frew	A. W. Mellon	H. C. Fowkes	F. J. Hearne
James McCrea	James H. Lockhart	J. B. Finley	John Porterfield
Geo. I. Whitney	J. M. Schoonmaker	P. C. Knox	Geo. E. Shaw

OPEN SATURDAY EVENINGS

Frick Building

Pittsburgh

ANNOUNCEMENT

We have opened a branch office in East Liverpool at Rooms 5 and 6, Potters National Bank Building, under the management of Mr. Thomas Healey, with direct wire to our main office in Pittsburg.

Our extensive system of private wires—east and west—enables us to quickly execute orders on all leading exchanges.

EDWARD T. C. SLEASE & CO.,

Bankers and Brokers,

Telephones—Bell 525. Columbiana County 382.

TO CALIFORNIA.
COLONIST RATES
VIA

SOUTHERN PACIFIC,
February 15th to April 30th,
FROM

Pittsburg.....	$42 00
Chicago.....	33 00
St. Louis.....	30 00
New Orleans.....	30 00
Missouri River.....	25 00

California literature mailed free to any address, full particulars apply to

G. G. HERRING,

No. 515 Park Bldg.,
Pittsburg, Pa.

Pittsburg and Cincinnati Packet Line.

Hrs. for Wheeling, Marietta, Parkersburg, Gallipolis, Huntington, Ironton, Portsmouth, Cincinnati, Louisville, Memphis, St. Louis, New Orleans and way landings. Leave wharftop foot of Broadway, down as follows: Steamer Keystone State, Monday 9 p. m.; Queen City, Wednesday 9 p. m.; Virginia, Saturday 9 p. m. Up the river, Keystone State, Sunday 2 p. m.; Queen City, Tuesday 2 p. m.; Virginia, Friday 2 p. m. Fare, East Liverpool to Cincinnati, $4.50; round trip, $11 and $18 meals and berth included. For freight or passage apply to Gus Marindill, Agt., Broadway wharf. Both phones 35 Jas. A. Henderson, Gen. Mgr. Pittsburg.

Real Beauties

are the Diamonds, Jewelry, etc., that we are offering on reasonable payments. Our stock is complete.

Pianos, Organs, other musical goods and Sewing Machines on monthly payments.

J. M. BUCKLE,

(Successor to Lacey & Buckle.)

Mulberry St., East End.

The News Review

Daily Except Sunday.

BRUSH BROS. PROP'S.

LOUIS H. BRUSH, Manager.

The News Review, Daily.

Established 1884. By mail, one year, $5.00; six months, $3.00; three months, $1.75; by carrier $5.00; ten cents per week.

The Saturday Review, Weekly.

Established 1879. By mail one year, $1.00 in advance; six months, 50 cents; three months, 25 cents.

Official Papers

of the City of East Liverpool and Columbiana County

Office 196 Washington Street.

Bell Telephone.

Business Office.....No. 127

Editorial Room.....No. 127

Columbiana County Telephone.

Business Office.....No. 127

Editorial Room.....No. 127

CHARLES S. PATTESON,

Manager of Foreign Advertising, 525 Temple Court, New York.

CITY AND TOWNSHIP TICKET.

Mayor—THOMAS V. THOMPSON.

President of Council—JOHN H. HOWELL.

City Auditor—WILLIAM J. HART.

City and Township Treasurer—CHRIS HORTON.

City Solicitor—GEORGE E. DAVIDSON.

Board of Public Service—JOHN N. TAYLOR, W. L. SMITH, JACOB SHENKEL.

Commissioner of Public Works—JOS. BARLOW.

Highway Engineer—E. N. CROXALL.

Council First Ward—ZED T. SMITH.

Council Second Ward—BENJ. JOHN.

Council Third Ward—HOWARD E. MOSE.

Council Fourth Ward—THOS. CANNON.

Justice of the Peace—H. E. MCCARRON.

Constable—WM. COLESTOCK.

Township Trustee—JOSEPH BEARD.

Board of Education—W. B. HILL, E. M. KNOWLES, JESSE H. SMITH.

CIRCULATION STATEMENT.

The sworn paid circulation of THE EVENING NEWS REVIEW for the month of January, 1903, was 81,106.

Average for the month, 3,119.

The following are the figures for each issue:

January 1 HOLIDAY.

January 2.....3,011

January 3.....2,975

January 4 SUNDAY.

January 5.....3,020

January 6.....3,060

January 7.....2,994

January 8.....2,991

January 9.....3,017

January 10.....2,991

January 11 SUNDAY.

January 12.....3,028

January 13.....3,086

January 14.....3,065

January 15.....3,035

January 16.....3,151

January 17.....3,104

January 18 SUNDAY.

January 19.....3,027

January 20.....3,054

January 21.....3,358

January 22.....3,114

January 23.....3,107

January 24.....3,208

January 25 SUNDAY.

January 26.....3,121

January 27.....3,112

January 28.....3,123

January 29.....3,104

January 30.....3,112

January 31.....3,138

Total.....81,106

Average.....3,119

Columbiana County, State of Ohio, ss.

I, Louis H. Brush, publisher of the Evening News Review, swear that the above statement is true.

LOUIS H. BRUSH.

Sworn to and subscribed to in my presence this 2d of February, 1903.

J. S. HILBERT,

Notary Public.

MONDAY, FEBRUARY 23, 1903.

The Republican primaries are over, thus virtually deciding who shall be the first to hold office in East Liverpool under the new municipal code. The contest, especially that for the head of the ticket, was one of the most strenuous and earnest that the city has ever seen. That the popular chief of police won the mayoralty nomination over three strong candidates speaks volumes for his standing in the community and public confidence in him. For the board of public service, which will have large authority in deciding what public improvements shall be carried out and how the people's money shall be spent, it is certainly most gratifying to know that the people showed their appreciation of the importance of this new official body and chose for candidates men of such excellent qualifications as Messrs. Taylor, Smith and Shenkel. In the hands of these gentlemen that part of the city administration which relates to matters most closely concerning the interests of taxpayers and citizens generally will be capably and conservatively conducted. For president of council and members of that body, both at large and representing the several wards, men who are well known and trusted have been nominated; and, best of all, there are in the list several who have had experience as city legislators and who are familiar with the affairs of the municipality.

That Tired Feeling

Is a Common Spring Trouble.

It's a sign that the blood is deficient in vitality, just as pimples and other eruptions are signs that the blood is impure.

It's a warning, too, which only the hazardous fail to heed.

Hood's Sarsaparilla and Pills

Remove it, give new life, new courage, strength and animation.

They cleanse the blood and clear the complexion.

Accept no substitute.

"I felt tired all the time and could not sleep. After taking Hood's Sarsaparilla a while I could sleep well and the tired feeling had gone. This great medicine has also cured me of scrofula." Mrs. C. M. Root, Gilad, Conn.

Hood's Sarsaparilla promises to cure and keeps the promise.

as well as having knowledge of what new legislation is needed. The remaining nominees are men generally well known throughout the city, and that the majority of them found no opposition in securing a place on the ticket is excellent evidence that the voters believe them to be the right men for the office. The News Review takes pleasure in endorsing the ticket which the party has chosen and in giving it hearty support. All the candidates for the principal offices have gone on record with pledges of honesty and faithfulness and determination to execute the laws impartially should they be elected, and it will be the duty of press and people to hold them to strict accountability in keeping these promises. Our city has much to be proud of, and it should have first of all, such good government that that will be among its proudest and most valued possessions.

The News Review on Saturday evening showed its appreciation of popular interest in election results by issuing four successive extras, beginning at 9 p. m., and giving in each the latest and fullest returns which it was possible to secure up to the hour of going to press. The last extra, issued a few minutes after the count of the entire city was completed, gave the names of every nominee, as well as the total vote for every candidate in every precinct of the city and township. This meant a vast amount of hard work and hustling, but that the public thoroughly appreciated the enterprise of the News Review was shown by the fact that these extras sold almost as rapidly as the newsboys could hand them out. The last edition, with election returns complete, went to every subscriber in the city, enabling them to digest the news along with their Sunday morning breakfast, instead of waiting a day longer for the information which everybody sought, as they would have been compelled to do but for the provision made by the News Review to supply their wants.

The men who sought nominations and missed them will be just as enthusiastic in the support of the ticket as anybody else. Disappointment for some is inevitable in all political contests, but with Republicans it leads to no bitterness and no sulking.

Recent presidential appointments show that the man of merit gets there. Political pulls count for nothing with Roosevelt.

OBITUARY

Richard Burrows.

The funeral services of Richard Burrows, Sr., who died Saturday afternoon at his home near Thompson park from dropsy, will be held at the residence tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock. Rev. Dr. David Jones, of the M. P. church, will officiate. The interment will be made in Riverview cemetery. Mr. Burrows was 72 years of age.

SKIN CHAPPING

Do your hands look like a washwoman's or like a corn-husker's?

ANDERSON'S Cream of Rose Lotion

is a quick, pleasant relief and cure for chapping and skin roughness. You will look a long time before you find anything better.

Price, 10 and 25 Cents.

C. G. ANDERSON, Druggist. Diamond.

rows was 52 years of age, and came to this city 20 years ago from England. He was twice married and his second wife survives him. The children are Richard, Alice, Sidney, of this city, and Frank, of Cleveland, and Mary, of Pittsburgh; Malvern, aged 2 years, and a baby four days old.

FRIENDS AND VISITORS

G. H. A. Hunt was a business visitor in Pittsburgh Saturday.

James Spencer, of Broadway, is seriously ill with an attack of grip.

Earl Brownfield, of Calcutta street, is critically ill with typhoid fever.

Mrs. Presley Todd, of Chester, is confined to the house with a severe case of grip.

Mrs. Van Denning, of Calcutta street, is seriously ill at her home with bronchitis.

Theodore Carson and son, David, of Steubenville, were the guests of friends and relatives yesterday.

Miss Jennie Phillips, who has been visiting her parents at Burgettstown, Pa., has returned to her home in this city.

Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Knowles returned yesterday from an eastern trip after spending some time in New York City.

Mrs. Willard Say and Miss Moore, of Oil City, who have been the guests of George S. Goodwin returned home today.

George S. Goodwin leaves today for a business and pleasure trip in the south. He will remain at New Orleans for two weeks.

Mrs. H. Estrakamp, who has been making an extended visit with relatives at Covington, Ky., is expected home early this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Weaver, of New Cumberland, are visiting Mr. Weaver's grandmother, Mrs. Lydia Weaver, 251 Third street.

George Drake, whose illness with the mumps was mentioned a few days ago, is now very seriously ill. He is threatened with typhoid fever.

J. E. Keegan, vice president and general manager of the Columbia Oil & Gas company, of Woodfield, O., is a business visitor in East Liverpool.

Messrs. Harry T. Hall, of the Dollar Savings bank, and Irwin Dunlap, of the Citizens' National, left Saturday for Pittsburgh to attend the annual convention of the Pennsylvania Bankers' association.

Bishop Merrill Seriously Ill.

Chicago, Feb. 23.—Bishop Stephen M. Merrill, of the Methodist Episcopal church, is seriously ill at the Wesley hospital here, with pneumonia. The Bishop was suffering severely Saturday with a cold which had troubled him for several days and he went to the hospital for a few days' rest. Pneumonia developed early yesterday. It was said last night that he was holding his own and his physicians were confident that he would recover.

Bubonic Plague Abating.

Mazatlan, Feb. 23.—There were no deaths from the plague yesterday. One case of the disease occurred at the barracks of the gendarmes and the entire force was sent to the observation station. There is a more hopeful feeling now that it begins to be evident that the sanitary precautions are having the expected effect. There will be no abatement of the rigorous enforcement of the sanitary regulations.

Drank Wood Alcohol.

Schenectady, N. Y., Feb. 23.—Mrs. George Stave, aged 52, and her daughter, Mrs. Emanuel David, aged 27, died yesterday from drinking wood alcohol. They had been accustomed to drinking small quantities of hot diluted grain alcohol to relieve illness and during the night, neither one being well, they prepared by mistake wood alcohol and drank it. They survived several hours and died within an hour of each other.

Son Kills Father.

New Orleans, Feb. 23.—Peter Farrell, one of the leading local Democratic politicians and state coal ganger, was shot and killed by his eldest son, Edward, yesterday. The family claims that in a fit of unprovoked temper Farrell attempted to kill Edward and George, his eldest boys, for misconduct and Edward wrested the pistol from him and fired three shots into his father's heart. The boy surrendered.

Body Thrown Upon Depot Roof.

Greensburg, Pa., Feb. 23.—While driving across the Pennsylvania railroad tracks at New Florence, yesterday morning, Wallace Killen, aged 19, was struck by a train and killed. His body was thrown almost 30 feet and struck on the depot roof. His horse was also killed.

Four Killed.

Bloomington, Ill., Feb. 23.—The Kansas City limited on the Chicago and Alton railroad last night struck a wagon, containing five Italian coal miners south of Braceville, killed four of the men and fatally injured the fifth man.

Died in Church.

Cleveland, O., Feb. 23.—Ex-Police Judge R. D. Undergraff died suddenly of heart disease in Plymouth church last night. He was 55 years old. He was prominent in law practice and had been a member of the state legislature.

The Wade Jewelry Co., 164 Fifth street.

FEEDING A MILLION MOUTHS

There are a million little mouths in your skin ready to absorb whatever comes to them. What kind of soap do you feed them? We seldom reckon with the powers of absorption exercised by the pores of the skin, and yet it is possible for these little mouths to take in four quarts of water in twenty-four hours. No wonder impure toilet and bath soaps are so apt to produce skin diseases.

You can trust the soaps we sell you. We had none but worthy brands, and by buying in quantities we are able to make low prices on them.

CHAS. F. CRAIG, DRUGGIST.

S. W. Cor. W. Fifth and Market Sts.

KILLED TRUST AND WON HONOR.

Judge Day's Opinion in Coal Combine Case Excited Admiration of President.

Washington, Feb. 23.—Now that the Hon. William R. Day of Canton, O., is about to assume his duties as an associate justice of the United States supreme court, it may be of public interest to state that his interpretation of the Sherman anti-trust law was a factor in determining the president to elevate him to a seat on the highest judicial tribunal in the United States.

As a judge of the United States circuit court of appeals Mr. Day handed down a decision last April which resulted in disrupting a coal combination formed for the purpose of controlling prices and stifling competition in the Kanawha district. In that decision he expounded the anti-trust act in such a clear and forceful manner that it excited the admiration of Mr. Roosevelt after he had read it, and at the time he was considering the question of whom to appoint to the place which was soon to be vacated by Justice Shiras. The decision carried the point in favor of Judge Day.

DR. LOEB'S RECENT DISCOVERY.

Says That Muscular and Nervous Diseases Can Be Cured By Administering Calcium Salts.

Chicago, Feb. 23.—Dr. Jacques Loeb has discovered that muscular and nervous diseases, such as St. Vitus' dance, paralysis agitans, locomotor ataxia and sleeplessness can be cured by administering calcium salts, that is, such salts as are found in well water and many foods.

Announcement of this discovery in scientific research by the former head of the department of physiology at the University of Chicago has just been made. In one of the biennial publications just issued by the University of Chicago press, Dr. Loeb tells of his experiment on lower forms of life and the conclusions suggested in regard to human beings.

Simply stated, the conclusion is that the presence of calcium salts in the muscles is what prevents their twitching, that practically all nervous diseases are caused by the absence of the calcium and that, therefore, to restore normal conditions and effect a cure, the cure is to dose with calcium salts.

Major General Foster Dying.

Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 23.—Major General Robert S. Foster is dying at his home here. Physicians say he can live but a few hours. He commanded the first division of the twenty-fourth corps in the Civil war, and headed off General Lee at Appomattox, causing his surrender. He was one of the founders of the G. A. R. and was its first junior vice commander. He was United States marshal for Indiana under President Garfield, and is now quartermaster-general of Indiana.

Held for Murder.

Cleveland, O., Feb. 23.—Joseph Corwin, a railroad man of Toledo, was arrested last night, and is held in connection with the murder of Maggie Snedegar, a few days ago. A watch that was identified as belonging to the murdered woman, was found in Corwin's pocket by the police. He was arrested in the vicinity where the alleged murder occurred.

Four Foot Fall Is Fatal.

Cumberland, Md., Feb. 23.—Fred Snyder died at the hospital here Saturday night. He was working on a boat in one of the ponds here, and slipped from a trestle and fell, his head coming in contact with a block. He weighed 200 pounds, and his weight, doubtless was the cause of his short fall proving fatal.

Reception to Mitchell.

Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 23.—President John Mitchell of the United Mine Workers of America, left last night for Springfield, Ill., where he will attend the convention of the Illinois miners and the joint conference with the operators which will follow. The citizens of Springfield will give a reception in his honor tonight.

It leads—the News Review.

REFORMS DEMANDED.

Russian and Austrian Ambassadors Present Identical Memoranda to Sultan.

MACEDONIAN BANDS ORGANIZED

Leaders Are Collecting and Equipping

Armies to Oppose Turkish Troops.

Czar Recommends Papers to Abstain from Attacks on the Sultan.

Constantinople, Feb. 23.—The Austrian and Russian ambassadors presented Saturday to the grand vizier identical memoranda embodying the demands for reforms in Macedonia. They afterwards acquainted the foreign minister of the step taken. This course was adopted to give the proceedings a semi-official character.

The chief proposal made in the memoranda is the appointment of an inspector general for three years with ample powers to act independently and to requisition troops in case of emergency. The plan also provides for the reorganization of the gendarmerie and police under European instructors, for administrative and financial reforms and for a more equitable collection of taxes. These reforms do not effect the sultan's prerogatives or wound the religious susceptibilities of the muslimans.

Macedonian Bands Organized.

Vienna, Feb. 23.—It is reported that the Macedonian leader, Boris Sarafoff, has organized within the past fortnight several well-equipped Bulgarian bands in Macedonia, each consisting of about 250 men.

The Neue Freie Presse learns that 4,000 armed Macedonians are concentrated near the celebrated Rila monas tery 40 miles from Sofia, and are preparing to attack the town of Melnik in the Turkish province of Seres.

There is unconfirmed rumor that the Albanians have attacked the Roumanian consulate at Mitrovitsa, Turkey, 20 miles northwest of Prishtina.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 23.—The government, in a secret circular sent to the Press, calls attention to the declaration published in the official Messenger, February 15, in which the newspapers are instructed to refrain from publishing articles hostile to Turkey in connection with the Macedonian situation. The circular clearly indicated the constant desire of the czar to promote peacefully and earnestly reforms in Turkey, and it recommends the papers to abstain from superfluous attacks upon the sultan and the Turkish government.

Another circular forbids the mention of the participation of the Russian government and its local agents in the construction of highways in Persia.

Ohio River 15 Miles Wide.

Evansville, Ind., Feb. 23.—The river continues to rise slowly here and at 9 o'clock last night stood 49.8 feet. It is thought it will come to a stand some time tonight or tomorrow morning. In some places between here and Paducah, Ky., the Ohio river is 15 miles wide and resembles a sea. Most river boats were delayed again yesterday. All the tributary streams of the Ohio are expected to begin falling by tonight. Reports received say the wheat crop in many sections will be destroyed. Thousands of acres of wheat are now under water.

Diphtheria relieved in twenty minutes. Almost miraculous. Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil. At any drug store.

J. M. KELLY, President.

S. T. HERRBERT, Secretary.

GEO. W. BURFORD, N. G. MACRUM, Vice President.

THE UNION BUILDING, LOAN AND TRUST COMPANY,

GRAND OPERA HOUSE BLOCK,

Given on Paid-up Stock.

Given on Savings Accounts

6 PER CENT INTEREST

Money to Loan at Lowest Rates

ASSETS OVER $300,000.00.

THE FIRST NATIONAL BANK

OF EAST LIVERPOOL, OHIO.

President—David Boyce.

Vice President—J. M. Kelly.

Cashier—N. G. Macrum.

Asst. Cashier—Thos. H. Fisher.

BOARD OF DIRECTORS:

David Boyce, W. L. Thompson,

J. M. Kelly, O. C. Voadrey,

B. C. Simms, Jno. C. Thompson,

N. G. Macrum.

CAPITAL $100,000.

SURPLUS $100,000.

General Bankine Business.

Invites Business and Personal Accounts

SAFE DEPOSIT BOXES FOR RENT

193 Washington Street.

OUR "JEWEL" GAS RANGE

IS THE BEST

.. Satisfaction Guaranteed ..

20

WELLSVILLE

WINTER AUTOMOBILE

Farmer Near Salineville Invents a Horseless Vehicle to Run On Snow

A prominent citizen of Salineville who was in Wellsville last week is authority for the statement that a farmer residing near the coal town, Chester E. Morton, has about completed an invention, which, when perfected, will be one of the most unique of the age.

Morton, it is stated, has been working at the invention for a number of years, and now success is about to crown his efforts. The invention is an automobile propelled by a small gasoline engine, which, instead of running on four wheels is run on sled runners. The vehicle is for use only in good sleighing weather and cannot be used during any other time of the year.

On the sides of each runner there is a small ratchet which is similar to a Hindley's screw or a circular saw, excepting that the sharp teeth of the ratchet are about three inches apart. The ratchets are said to be small and concealed in the body of the heavy runners. The ratchets are run by a cog on a shaft on each side and on the back of part of the vehicle. The entire weight of the "auto" rests on the runners and the ratchets only serve for propelling purposes.

It is said that a speed of 15 miles per hour can be maintained on ordinary country roads, while on ice the speed is unlimited and would rival an ice boat. If the new invention proves a success, and it appears at the present time as though it would, Mr. Morton's years of toil will bring handsome returns.

THE VOTE WAS LIGHT IN WELLSVILLE

Fogo for Mayor Won With Ease. Other Successful Candidates.

The vote was light in Wellsville. Complete returns give Fogo, for mayor, 636, against 316 for McLain.

Attorney Charles MacGregor had no opposition for auditor, carrying the full vote.

Attorney Charles Boyd, for solicitor, had no opposition. The vote was 242.

For treasurer, T. R. Andrews, with no opposition, polled the full vote.

For board of public service, W. G. Stewart, 596; Herbert, 479; Bowers, 381; St. Clair, 305; Gersten, 270; Brannon, 250; Harmon, 148.

Council-at-large, O'Grady, 865; Blackburn, 860; McDaniel, 839.

Council, First ward, Anderson, 326; Second ward, 223; Third ward, Bissell, 245; Fourth ward, Joseph, 125; Flowers, 45.

Constable, Spores, 222; Moorehead, 257; McKee, 355; Thorn, 468.

For assessor, First ward, Holliday; Second ward, Marsh; Third ward, Lomax; Fourth ward, McCormick. All ran without opposition.

Board of education, Lones, 953; McKenzie, 934.

A West End Improvement.

The work of making the excavation for the new business block of Clayton Archibald on lower Main street, near 15th street, Wellsville is now about completed and work on the foundation will commence in a few days. The building will be one of the most modern in the West End. It will be of frame, three stories in height. The lower floor will be rented for store purposes and the second and third floors for flats.

Sermon to Pythians.

A special sermon was delivered by Rev. Chas. E. Clark last evening at the M. E. church of which he is pastor, to the members of Silver Lodge No. 182, Knights of Pythias, who attended in body. Promptly at 6 o'clock all

W. A. WEAVER.

How is your Candy stock. Let us brighten up your line with some of our fresh goods received since the Holidays—Do you need a

PEANUT ROASTER

We have one for sale at a bargain it is a "Boss on Wheels."

W. A. WEAVER, Wholesale Confectioner.

of the Sir Knights assembled at the castle hall on the square, in full uniform and marched in a body to the church, headed by their Chancellor Commander, R. H. Keay.

WELLSVILLE SHORT STORIES.

Henry Morgan has returned from a trip to Pittsburg

Edward Porter, of Commerce street, is visiting in Bridgeport.

Attorney W. F. Lones returned from a business trip to Lisbon.

Mrs. Mary J. McCalmont, of Commerce street is very ill of grip

Mrs. Ross Noble, of Front street, is ill and confined to her home.

Miss Lena Hatt, of Bridgewater, Pa., has been visiting friends here.

James McBane, of Irondeau, has returned from a short business trip here.

Frank L. Wells, of Main street, spent Sunday with his family in Lisbon.

Miss Stella Hale, of Main street, spent Sunday with friends in Pittsburg.

D. E. Lowe, of Cleveland, has returned from a short visit to friends in the city.

Mrs. T. L. Apple, of Main street, has returned from a visit to friends in New Castle, Pa.

C. W. Aten, of Nevada street, has returned from a short visit with friends in Pittsburg.

Will Colley, of this city, visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Colley, in Salineville Sunday.

Miss Grace Wilson has returned to her home after spending a few days with friends in Allegheny.

Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Bailey, of Alliance, returned to their home Saturday after visiting in the city.

J. B. Strook, of Beaver Falls, Pa., returned to his home Saturday evening after visiting friends here.

Mrs. Bessie G. Russell, of Pittsburg, is the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Gamble of Broadway.

A. D. Mattison, of the West End, left Saturday afternoon for Albany, N. Y., where he will hereafter reside.

Mrs. Barnhill, of Salineville, has returned to her home after visiting her daughter, Mrs. Jacob Ridinger, of this city.

In celebration of the anniversary of the birth of George Washington all of the branches of Wellsville schools were closed today.

Miss Mary Everson, of Front street, after spending Sunday at her home here, returned to Allegheny this morning where she is teaching in an orphan school.

Four Drowned.

Tallahassee, Fla., Feb. 23.—Three white children and a negro man were drowned Saturday night, in the Flat woods south of Tallahassee. Jefferson Johnson and his wife, parents of the children, were grieved. The family were in a wagon and in the darkness the team lost the road and got into deep water.

Art Wall Paper.

Store open every evening this week, the last week to buy paper at cost and less. Room to be given up March 1st.

Fifth street.

Children's Suit Sale, notice Joseph Bros.' show window. 444

You notice the large watch sign of the Wade Jewelry Co. has been removed to Fifth street, near the Y. M. C. A.

All the news all the time in the News Review.

VEST OF MISSOURI

PERSONALITY OF THE SENATOR WHO IS SOON TO RETIRE.

Brilliant as Orator and Wit and a Foremost Debater—Noted as a Story Teller—His Experience as a Soldier—A Man of Many Moods.

Senator George Graham Vest of Missouri, who on March 3 next will retire from the United States senate, in which he has been a force since 1879, has been in public life since 1850 and is one of the two surviving members of the Confederate senate that sat in Richmond in 1863.

For many years Senator Vest was regarded as the best equipped debater on the Democratic side and one of the best in the senate. For several years Senator Vest's health has been failing, and his voice has been seldom heard. On the rare occasions when he has spoken the fire of the senator's earlier days has been lacking, and his physical weakness and feeble voice make his efforts seem a reminiscence.

Vest is not the oldest man in the senate, having been born in 1820, but he is near it. There have been few greater orators in the senate than he and none who was a greater master of invective. Vest has been one of the best story tellers the senate has ever known, and many good stories that have appeared in print originated with him.

When Vest was a member of the Confederate States congress, he became aware that sentiment in Missouri was being aroused against him by the assertion that he preferred the life of a legislator to that of a soldier. He thereupon shouldered a musket and went to the war.

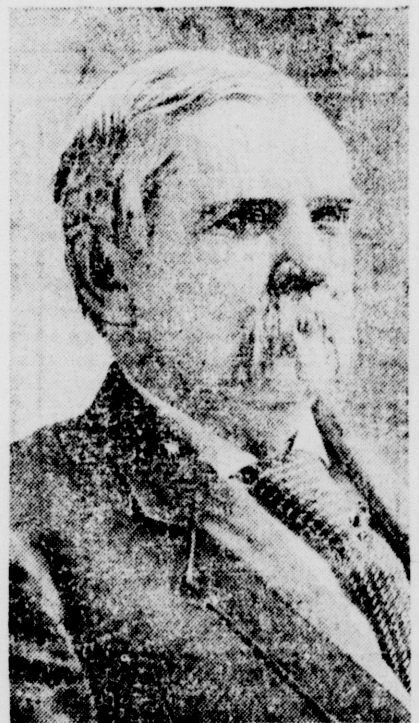

The first battle in which he was engaged the Confederates lost, and Vest was retiring from the field when he met a soldier from his own district.

"Jim," he said, "you see what I am doing?"

"Yes," said the other. "Now, Jim," said Vest, "I want you to go back to Missouri and tell them there that you saw me fighting for my country. Tell them, Jim, that you saw me in a battle yourself."

Jim said he would do as he was bid and started on his way.

"Oh, Jim!" Vest called after him, as a new thought dashed into his mind.

SENATOR GEORGE GRAHAM VEST OF MISSOURI.

"When you tell them you saw me in battle, you can add, if you want to, that if I keep my health and have an ordinary run of luck no living man will ever see me in another."

Vest, like all men of imagination, is a man of moods. There are times when he is absorbed in thought, and then he is taciturn. It is related that one day the late William H. Hatch, who entered the house the day Vest entered the senate, went over to consult the senator and found him in a fit of abstraction, moody and taciturn. Hatch had about as much imagination as a broomstick.

Hatch got no satisfaction from Vest and so went tearing back to the house, scattering explosives on the way. Some Missouri people got hold of him and told him that Vest would be all right next day and to go and see him when he was in the vein. Hatch did so and came back delighted. There was a discussion as to the occasion of Vest's moods, and one of the party said it was his imagination.

"Imagination be hanged!" roared Hatch. "It's his liver. That's all the matter with him. Let him send for some good Kentucky bourbon whisky and he'll be all right."

Of those whom Vest found in the senate when he entered it in 1879 only Hoar, Allison, Jones of Nevada, Cockrell and Morgan remain. Cockrell and Allison will die in harness, and one or the other of them will have the record for length of service in the United States senate and a record that may hold for a century. In this computation, however, Jones of Nevada may also be included.

Senator Vest is a native of Kentucky, but has lived in Sweet Springs, Mo., since 1853. His retirement from the senate is because of his own desire. He will leave a vacancy that will be hard to fill and will be missed by his conferees, with whom he is very popular.

A Success.

"Do tell us what Mrs. Bouncer is like."

"Well, she's a woman of sixty who looks fifty, thinks she's forty, dresses like thirty and acts like twenty."—Life.

The Star Bargain Store.

A Special 5 Days' Sale of Blankets and Comforts Commencing Tomorrow and will last until Saturday night and it will pay to attend this Special Sale at once as our stock is limited.

A full size Cotton Blanket for 45c a pair. The best 1-1-1 $1.00 Blankets, for this sale, 75c a pair. $1.39 extra heavy 1-1-1 Blankets for 98c for this sale only. 10-4 all wool Blankets in plaids for $2.00 for this special only. 1-1-1 $1.00 all wool Blankets for this sale for $2.75, in all colors. 10-4 all wool Country Blankets, $4.50 grade, for this sale reduced to $3.50, in all colors. The best $6.00 1-1-1 all wool Country Blankets, for this special sale for $4.00, in all colors. Special reductions in comforts—$1.25 ones for $1.00, $1.50 grade for $1.25. $2.50 fine grade comforts for $2.00.

WINTER UNDERWEAR.

Ladies' fleeced 25c vests and pants for 19c. 39c ladies' union suits for 25c. 50c ladies' vests and pants for 39c. Wool union suits at half price. Men's 50c heavy fleeced and ribbed underwear, sale price 25c. 75c heavy fleeced underwear, sale price 42c. $1.25 camel's hair and scarlet underwear, sale price 87c.

25c ladies' and misses' golf gloves for 19c. 50c ladies' and misses' golf gloves for 35c. $1.00 fleeced wrappers for 65c. $1.25 fleeced wrappers for 75c. $1.50 and $1.75 fleeced wrappers for $1.00. One lot of men's 50c and 75c stiff bosom shirts for 25c.

Winter Coats Almost Given Away.

Ladies' $12.50 and $15.00 grey raglans for $3.50. Ladies' and misses' 27-inch jackets, this season's, sold at $5.00 and $6.00, for $2.00.

All our monte carlo coats and children's jackets, this season's, at half price.

Child's elderdown coats, in white pink and blue, sold at $2.98, for $1.00.

A lot of tailor-made suits at half price and less than half. A lot of silk and broadcloth dress skirts at half price. A lot of walking skirts, sold at $6.98 and $8.98, for $3.50.

A lot of black and colored dress skirts, sold at $4.98 and $5.98, for $3.00.

A lot of $4.00 and $5.00 silk waists for $2.00. $2.00, $2.49 and $2.98 flannel waists for $1.00. $3.98 flannel waists for $1.50.

STAR BARGAIN STORE.

138 and 140 FIFTH STREET.

TRIBUTE TO DECEASED MEMBERS

House Held Session Yesterday and Adopted the Customary Resolutions—Eulogies Delivered.

Washington, Feb. 23.—The house held a session yesterday, to pay tribute to the memories of three deceased members, the late Representative Tongue, of Oregon, the late Representative Rumble, of Iowa, and the late Representative Moody, of North Carolina. Mr. Moody, of Oregon, presided in the absence of Speaker Henderson. The customary resolutions were adopted and the following members delivered eulogies: Upon the late Representative Tongue, Messrs. Bishop (Rep., Mich.), Mondell (Rep., Wyo.), Bellamy (Dem., N. C.), Davidson (Rep., Wis.), Needham (Rep., Cal.), Lawrence (Rep., Mass.), Ransdell (Dem., Louisiana), Coombs (Rep., Cal.), Burton (Rep., Ohio), Reeves (Rep., Ill.), Dwyer (Rep., W. Va.), Sparkman (Dem., Fla.), and Cushman (Rep., Wash.).

Upon the late Representative Rumble, Messrs. Lacy (Rep., Iowa), Connor (Rep., Iowa), Consins (Rep., Iowa), Hepburn (Rep., Iowa), Hedger (Rep., Iowa), Smith (Rep., Iowa), Thomas (Rep., Iowa), Calderhead (Rep., Cal.), Thompson (Dem., Ala.), and Haugor (Rep., Iowa).

Upon the late Representative Moody, Messrs. Klutz (Dem., N. C.), Fox (Dem., N. C.), Gibson (Rep., Tenn.), Thomas (Dem., N. C.), and Small (Dem., N. C.).

At 4:25 p. m., as a further mark of respect, the house adjourned.

Pope Gives Dinner to 1,000 Poor.

Rome, Feb. 23.—Yesterday was a great day for the poor of Rome, a thousand of them being the guests of the pope at a dinner in the Belvedere of the Vatican in honor of the pontiff's jubilee. The excellent menu included wine and desert. Great enthusiasm was displayed and there were repeated cries of "Long live Pope Leo." The pope desired to personally administer his blessing on the gathering, but, although he was well, the doctors vetoed his desire in order that he might husband his strength for the coming functions.

WEATHER FORECAST.

Washington, Feb. 23.—Forecast for today and tomorrow:

Ohio—Generally fair today; tomorrow cloudy and colder; probably snow flurries along the lakes; brisk to high west winds.

Western Pennsylvania—Fair and warmer today; brisk to high south west winds; tomorrow fair and colder.

West Virginia—Fair and warmer today; tomorrow fair and colder.

Knee Pants Sale today. Joseph Bros. 444

A big discount given on Men's and Boys' Sweaters. This week only at THE SURPRISE CLOTHING HOUSE. 43-cod4

We write Fire Insurance.

We write Life Insurance.

We write Accident Insurance.

We write Plate Glass Insurance.

We write Cyclone Insurance.

We write Liability Insurance.

We will Bond You.

We will send you to Europe, or bring your friends over.

We will sell you Real Estate.

Geo. H. Owen & Co.

First National Bank Building, East Liverpool, O.

THE TRAVELS OF COLUMBUS.

FIND TWO HIDDEN COURTIERS.

NAVAL CONSTRUCTION DELAYED.

Still, Secretary Moody Says United States Is Not Materially Behind Germany and England.

Washington, Feb. 23.—The president has been in correspondence with Secretary Moody respecting the matter of delay in the construction of naval vessels and the secretary in turn has called upon the chief constructor for a statement of conditions in various shipbuilding yards where naval work is going on. The secretary has submitted a letter in the nature of a report to the president including with it the chief constructor's report. In substance these letters show that "while through a number of causes the building of warships has been delayed and the dates of their completion have been and will be considerably beyond the dates originally set, naval construction in the United States is not materially behind the naval construction of England and Germany in the matter of time."

Secretary Moody argues that it would be a mistake to offer a bonus for the completion of vessels ahead of contract time and adds that two months ago he directed that no further extension of time be permitted except by his own personal order.

The chief constructor's report shows that there are seven causes for delay in naval work, namely: Inadequate plans, changes in armor or armament or design, delays in delivery of armor and ordnance, delays in government inspection, delays in structural steel, delays due to inadequate facilities and insufficient ability in the contractor's staff and delays due to inadequate supply of skilled labor. All of these subjects are treated in detail in the report, and the point is made that after all the apparent great speed in English shipyards is due to the fact that the vessels are delivered by the contractors in very incomplete condition to the government which spends several years in many instances, in equipping the ship for commission.

TO TEST NEW TYPE OF VESSEL

Submarine Torpedo Boat Will Be Put Through Series of Trials to Demonstrate Capabilities.

New York, Feb. 23.—The submarine torpedo boat Protector, a new type of vessel which will shortly be put through a series of trials for the purpose of demonstrating her capabilities to officers of the United States navy, is being overhauled at City Island, and put in first-class condition for the coming tests.

The Protector was built in Bridgeport, Conn., by her inventor and owner, Captain Simon Lake. The vessel is designed for harbor defense. She is 60 feet long, of 11-foot beam, draws 12 feet of water and weighs about 200 tons. She is built of steel and equipped with two wheels to enable her to travel along the bottom of the sea. Her motive power is electricity when submerged, and gasoline when cruising awash. There are two torpedo tubes, one fore and aft, and an opening in her bow will admit of a diver leaving the boat to cut cables or mine connections. Her builder believes she can destroy submarine defenses in any harbor. During recent trials she carried a crew of eight men and nine passengers. A speed of 12 knots was easily made on her surface run.

Hotel Destroyed.

Toledo, Feb. 23.—The Hotel Devaux, corner of St. Clair and Jefferson streets, was almost completely destroyed by fire yesterday evening. The fire was discovered by one of the guests on the third floor, and had gained quite a little headway. An alarm was turned in at once, but by the time the department had arrived the flames had spread to the second and fourth floors. The guests and help were notified and all left the building in safety, many taking their personal effects with them. The cause of the fire is unknown. The loss will amount to $60,000, with $50,000 insurance. There were about 50 guests in the house.

Suspected of Poisoning Children.

Davy, W. Va., Feb. 23.—Mrs. Walter Dykes is being hunted by authorities here. Her two children were found dead yesterday morning, having been poisoned. Rumor has it that she administered the drug rather than allow her husband to secure possession of them. She and her husband had been separated a few weeks.

Two Deaths from Typhoid.

Ithaca, N. Y., Feb. 23.—Two deaths from typhoid fever occurred here yesterday, one that of Francis E. Swartz, of Marlboro, N. Y., a senior in the Cornell college of law, the twelfth student to succumb to the disease, and the other that of Mrs. W. C. Taber, a resident of the city.

Lacks Four Feet of Highest Mark. Owensboro, Ky., Feb. 23.—The Ohio river was slowly rising at 6 o'clock last night. It lacks four feet of the highest mark in 1884. The bottoms are covered for several miles on the Indiana side. River men are fearful of a thaw. A rise of a few feet more will cause untold damage. Remanded for Trial.

New York, Feb. 23.—Lester Levine, Bernard Levine, Louis Levine, Leo Strauss, George Gachstatter, Max Simpson and William Terib, all of whom were arrested, charged with being implicated in a Mexican lottery scheme, were arraigned in the police court yesterday. After a preliminary hearing, all were remanded until next Friday for examination, security being accepted.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Cards under this heading will be run until the primaries for a charge of ten dollars, payable strictly in advance.

COUNTY TICKET.

For State Representative, ELIJAH W. HILL, Liverpool township. Subject to the decision of the Republican county primaries, March 28, 1903.

For Prosecuting Attorney, C. P. ROTHWELL, Unity township. Subject to the decision of the Republican county primaries, March 28, 1903.

For Prosecuting Attorney, L. C. MOORE, Washington township. Subject to the decision of the Republican county primaries, March 28, 1903.

For Prosecuting Attorney, M. J. McGARRY, Liverpool township. Subject to the decision of the county Republican primary election, March 28, 1903.

For Sheriff, A. J. JOHNSON, Liverpool township. Subject to the decision of the Republican county primaries, March 28, 1903.

For Sheriff, CHRIS A. BICK, Center township. Subject to the decision of the Republican county primaries, March 28, 1903.

For Sheriff, WILLIAM DALRYMPLE, Salem township. Subject to the decision of the Republican primary, March 28, 1903.

For County Commissioner, R. G. BOYD. Subject to the decision of the county primary election, March 28, 1903.

A Light That Makes reading Pleasant.

It rests the eyes, it gives a coolness about the head which is impossible with any other light, and it is not expensive.

You Can Use It Without Work.

No trouble to keep it clean and gives ease and rest to the household.

THE CERAMIC CITY LIGHT CO. 177 Washington St.

—A NEW—

Pleasure Palace!

Everything, New, Novel and Up-to-Date.

Try our lunch. Finest in the city. Don't miss seeing the New Views for Saturday.

C. M. Smith, Prop., Washington St.

THE NEW CENTURY WRITING TABLET.

"Leads Them All." "Perfect Goods Only." "Fully Guaranteed."

Our Fifth and Broadway window is filled with these and other tablets of equal merit. Prices 5c to 35c each.

In Box Papers, we carry the finest goods only, ranging in price from 10c per box to $2.00.

Hodson's Drug Store, (THE HODSON DRUG CO.) Fifth and Broadway.

HOME STUDY COURSE

Self Education Through the Medium of Specially Prepared Articles by Prominent Instructors

Interesting Features of Medicine

By George Thomas Palmer, M. D.

IX.—Some Peculiar "Isms" and "Pathies."

IN a vocation so rife with superstitious notions as medicine it is not strange that various illogical and absurd cults have arisen. Inasmuch as the art of healing has always had in it a great deal which is incapable of explanation, it is not to be wondered at that thousands of people have been ready to follow every new "ism" without troubling themselves about why and wherefore. The admixture of religion with the healing of disease, born of the miraculous cures by Christ and the saints of old, has been productive of

Dr. L. Pasteur.

[Discoverer of the antirabies serum.] the "faith cures" which have from time to time appeared in various forms. So much of mythology hangs over Homeric, Hippocratic and post-Hippocratic medical history that it is difficult to differentiate quackery from the natural superstitious beliefs of the day. In Roman times we come upon a quack so arrogant and bigoted that he is placed beyond question on a par with quacks of our own day.

However absurd may have been the teachings of the older masters, there was earnestness in their research and modesty in their demeanor, but Thessalus of Tralles was too pronounced a charlatan and his teachings were too grandiose to credit him with a shadow of sincerity.

How unchanging are the methods of the quack! Thessalus came to Rome an ignorant adventurer and began the practice of the art of healing. He studied the tastes of his clientele and advised liberal use of wines, choice viands and all forms of self-indulgence, thereby making himself exceedingly agreeable to his patients. He opened a school of medicine, guaranteeing to teach the entire art in six weeks—a veritable twentieth century diploma mill. Of students he had hundreds, of patients thousands, and he rode upon the very crest of popular favor. Before his death he superintended the carving of his own tombstone, on which he had inscribed, "Greater Than All Physicians, Living or Dead." The "pathy" of Thessalus was the first on record of many of those by which the world has been willingly hoodwinked.

But even before his day Paracelsus had in all sincerity established a school of healing, the theories of which were so peculiar as to entitle them to consideration here. He taught that man is best understood by the study of nature and that each disease has its cure in some special product of nature. His was also a popular school and for a time overthrew the teachings of Hippocrates, and, absurd as his ideas now seem to us, we must admit that they contributed materially to the knowledge of specific medication. There was a grain of truth in his writings. Some diseases have certain specific cures in nature, but not many. His were as true as the doctrines of Hahnemann, who taught that like cures like; that what will cause a condition will also cure it.

But of the "isms" and "pathies" of which we still have traces the school of Hahnemann is the greatest. We can speak freely of this school today, for it is practically out of existence. The narrow teachings of Hahnemann no more resemble the great homeopathic school of today than do the theories of Hippocrates resemble the allopathic ideas of the present.

The father of homeopathy taught the doctrine of "high potency"—that a drug diluted with ten times its bulk of water was stronger than the drug undiluted, and that the greater the dilution the greater the potency or strength; furthermore, that a greatly diluted drug shaken by a strong arm would have a higher degree of potency than if shaken by an arm not so strong. He also believed, as I have mentioned, that a drug which will cause a condition will cure the same condition ("similia similibus curantur"). In the teachings of Hahnemann there was more than a grain of truth. The theory is exemplified by the fact that opium, which will cause nausea and vomiting when given in small doses, will allay nausea. But who can believe that whisky in minute doses will overcome alcoholic intoxication; that salt, which causes thirst, will also allay thirst?

As I say, the homeopathy of Hahnemann is no more. The great school which bears that name each year approaches more and more the allopathic school, and it has had the effect upon the old school of modifying its treatment, of reducing its dosage and of making medicinal treatment far more tolerable to suffering humanity.

And now comes the cult of Mrs. Eddy—Christian Science. It is one which is following the course of the dozens which have gone before. It is now in the era of prosperity which each "ism" has in its day and soon shall be forgotten with the others. It is the natural association of religion with healing which has existed since the earliest days of history. There is little that is new in it save that it is the refined and cultured faith of the well to do instead of the blind faith of the ignorant. It denies the existence of matter, holds disease to be mere error and insists that when faith has so far developed as to overcome our present fallacious beliefs in the existence of things, and false feelings and emotions, sin and disease, and even death, will pass away. It is called a science because its followers believe that they have arrived at their conclusions logically and by a regular sequence of facts.

It has in it the grain of truth that to a certain extent mind can overcome matter and that functional disease can be cured by faith. It is the therapeutic measure of mental suggestion which is used and has been used by the regular medical profession for many years. The Christian Scientists call in surgeons to set bones because the faith is not yet sufficiently developed to overcome such conditions without mechanical aid. It will reach that state of perfection some day—some day!

The same element of religious faith is evidenced in a crude way in the workings of Dowie of Chicago. Like Mrs. Eddy, but in a cruder way, suited to the clientele to which he caters, he has thrown a cloak of divine power about his person, claiming with convincing earnestness that he is the incarnated Elijah and John the Baptist merged in one. This assumption of holy power or divine inspiration is essential to working upon the minds of people who have been taught for centuries of the disease curing process of religion and to account for the powers of the alleged healer. Man's confidence in man is not sufficient to permit the healer to claim the power as lying within himself.

Many of my readers will remember the wonderful popularity of spiritualism in its day, of the cures accomplished by the advice of those who had gone before generously volunteered in the sciences of skillful mediums. While not so directly medical as others, the cult of spiritualism was one which was felt in the medical world.

Others may recall that peculiar condition of "king's evil" now known as scrofula, or tubercular glands of the neck—peculiar because it could only be cured by the laying on of royal hands. Many were the pilgrimages to European courts by sufferers, and many were the cures reported. The spontaneous recoveries which are common to the disease were naturally attributed to the monarchs who set aside days on which to bring relief to their suffering subjects.

Some years ago a certain layman discovered (?) that rays of sunlight coming through panes of blue glass would cure almost any ill to which man is heir. Physicians took it up, and hundreds and thousands were cured of every variety of ill. After reporting these recoveries with all sincerity the physicians realized their extreme folly and hastened to forget the blue glass cure.

And now from the state of Missouri

It Cures Colds, Coughs, Sore Throat, Croup, Influenza, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis and Asthma. A certain cure for Consumption in first stages, and a sure relief in advanced stages. Use at once. You will see the excellent effect after taking the first dose. Sold by dealers everywhere. Large bottles 25 cents and 50 cents.

comes another "ism." This is osteo-

Dr. Virchow.

[Noted Austrian surgeon.]

opathy. Contrary to one's natural conclusions, this as it is practiced has virtually nothing to do with bones. It is merely massage developed into a gigantic cure-all—just massage, which your family doctor has used as far back as you can remember, but massage decorated with a number of artistic theories which every cult must have.

There are also physio-therapy, electro-magnetism, physio-chemistry and on and on down a long list, each with its foundation of a grain of truth and an immense superstructure of theory.

Each year a new cult is born, each year an old one dies, and the old school goes on accepting and regretting, gaining new truths and casting out false doctrines. It has its vagaries and its false prophets, but the secret of its continued growth is merely that it has no set principles or theories; there is no belief so strong as to be an absolute essential. It gathers facts from each cult as it lives and dies and profits by the teaching of every "ism."

[Copyright, 1902, by Lewis D. Sampson.]

Unnecessary Trouble.

Lieutenant (who has been inspecting the estate of a noble landowner)—And this beautiful estate will all be inherited by your noble daughter?
"Well, hardly. You see, I have no daughter."
"Indeed! Then what on earth did you want to tire me out for by this inspection?"—Fliegende Blätter.

Wretch.

"George, did you ever love any other woman as well as you love me?"
"Oh, yes, dear; several of them."
"Indeed! Why didn't you marry one of them instead of me?"
"Well, I suppose I'll be asking myself that question, too, some day."—Chicago Tribune.

Involved Fuel Relations.

Nora—The lady next door wants to borrow a bucket of coal, ma'am.
Mrs. Blank—Nora, tell her that we are already borrowing our coal from the people on the other side of us.—Detroit Free Press.

Scalp head is an eczema of the scalp—very severe sometimes, but it can be cured. Doan's Ointment, quick and permanent in its results. At any drug store, 50 cents.

Rushville, Ind.

Messrs. Ely Bros.—I have been a great sufferer from catarrh and hay fever and tried many things, but found no permanent relief until I found in Ely's Cream Balm about eight years ago, and we have been fast friends ever since. (Rev.) R. M. BENTLEY.

Messrs. Ely Bros.—Find enclosed 50 cents, for which please send me your Cream Balm. I find your remedy the quickest and most permanent cure for cold in the head, catarrh, etc. Yours truly, DELL M. POTTER, Gen. Mgr. Arizona Gold Mining Co.

E. L. LOMAX,

General Passenger and Ticket Agent, OMAHA, NEB., or F. B. CHOATE, Agent, 15 Park Bldg., PITTSBURG, PA.

The Health And Pleasure Resorts. of Texas, Mexico, Arizona and California are quickly and comfortably reached via the Southern Pacific Company's SUNSET ROUTE. Daily through service from New Orleans to San Francisco via Houston, San Antonio, El Paso, and Los Angeles. Special daily service, SUNSET LIMITED from New Orleans, composed of Buffet Smoking Car, containing Bath Room and Barber Shop, Drawing Room, Compartment Car, regular Pullman Sleepers, and Dining Car (meals a la carte) all of the latest design and most luxuriously appointed. Direct connections made at New Orleans from all points North and East. Detailed information cheerfully furnished by F. B. Choate, General Agent, 515 Park Building, Pittsburg, Pa.

Bowser Versus Webster

He Takes Issue With All Authorities on Subject of "Whortleberries," and Gets Into Trouble

[Copyright, 1903, by C. B. Lewis.]

M R. BOWSER had been reading his evening paper for half an hour when he laid it down with the remark:

"Well, that's a queer name. Did you ever hear of whortleberries, Mrs. Bowser?"

"A thousand times over," she replied. "Oh, you have? Well, you are ahead of me for once in your life. Perhaps you will enlighten me?"

"You have not only eaten them a hundred times, but I have no doubt you have picked many a painful Whortleberry, my dear, are what people generally call huckleberries."

"They can't be."

"But they surely are."

"I deny it. A huckleberry is a huckleberry and has been ever since any one heard of them. A whortleberry is an altogether different thing, whatever it is. I thought it queer that you should know more than I did about the matter."

"Now, don't make any mistake about the berries," protested Mrs. Bowser, though she realized that argument must lead to a family row. "There is no such fruit as huckleberries. The name is a corruption of whortleberries. Very few newspapers or circulars use the term 'huckle.'"

"You are wrong—a thousand times wrong," exclaimed Mr. Bowser as he walked about. "It has never been anything else but huckleberry since America was discovered. Now that I remember, I can inform you that whortleberries grow in India. I have seen a few preserved specimens. They grow on trees and are something like our peaches. A huckleberry, as you know, is a small black berry about as large as a buckshot. It will be well for you to remember this and not make any further mistakes."

"You have only to look in the dictionary to find that 'huckle' is a corrup-

"I am going to bring forty different people here to say that I am right. You sit right there, and you will hear from me in about ten minutes."

Mr. Bowser put on his hat and overcoat and went out, and he had scarcely got out of the gate when he met a pedestrian and accosted him with:

"Sir, you will pardon me, but I wish to ask you a question. What is the difference between huckleberries and whortleberries?"

"It's all in the pronunciation," replied the man.

"Then you insist that both are the same thing?"

"Certainly. Have you run across any idiot who disputes it?"

Mr. Bowser glared at him and walked on. At the corner he found a man leaning against the fence and said to him:

"I have a little bet on hand, and perhaps you can help me to win it. You have heard of huckleberries, haven't you?"

"I should remark," was the reply. "I was born on the edge of a huckleberry swamp, and I have picked a hundred bushels of them."

"Well, now, did you ever hear of whortleberries?"

"They are the same thing, old man—the same thing. It's all in the way you pronounce the name."

"But I contend that they are different," aggressively announced Mr. Bowser.

"No use, old man. A whortleberry is a huckleberry, and you can't make pumpkins of one and turnips of the other. I pronounce the name huckle. I like it. There's something soft and tender about it. At this very moment I'm waiting for my huckleberry who works in that house over there to appear and take a walk with me. It would take away half of my love if I had to call her my whortleberry. Better give it up and go home."

BOWSER WAS LYING IN THE SNOW WHEN HE OPENED HIS EYES, AND THE VENERABLE MAN WAS ALMOST OUT OF SIGHT.

tion of 'whortle' and that both terms relate to one and the same berry. Here, let me get it for you."

"What do I care about the dictionary? What I know I know."

"But let's see what it says. All the dictionaries in the world couldn't convince me that I was wrong."

Mrs. Bowser got down the unabridged and read:

"The whortleberry is a small round edible berry which is highly valued for food. The name huckleberry is now more common in colloquial language than whortleberry."

"Doesn't that prove my case?" she asked as she closed the book.

"Not by forty miles, madam," shouted Mr. Bowser. "The two are entirely distinct. One grows in America, the other in India."

"But Webster does not say so."

"What have I got to do with Webster or any other man? What I know I know. Furthermore, I will prove the huckleberry question right here in our own house. We'll see what the cook says."

The cook came up in answer to the bell, and Mr. Bowser asked:

"Sarah, you know what huckleberries are, of course?"

"Oh, yes, sir."

"But did you ever see a whortleberry?"

"Yes, sir; they are the same thing."

"Eh! Eh! What's that?"

"The same thing, sir, begging your pardon. My brother once bet $10 that they were different, and he made a fool of himself and lost his money. Is that all, sir?"

But Mr. Bowser wouldn't. He sauntered down the street and passed three or four pedestrians and finally accosted a venerable looking man who had lived long in the world and eaten all sorts of berries.

"You—you know what a huckleberry is?" began Mr. Bowser.

"I think I do," slowly replied the venerable man after recovering from his surprise, "but if you have any game to play, don't take me for a fool."

"I have no game. I simply wish to settle a dispute. I contend that huckleberry and whortleberry are two different berries. The other party contends that they are the same thing."

"And who is the other party?"

"Well, it's my wife."

"I see. Well, I congratulate and pity her at the same time."

"What do you mean?"

"I mean that she probably knows more than the average woman, but she has also got an ass for a husband."

"Look here, you old reprobate," shouted Mr. Bowser, "don't talk that way to me. I asked you a plain question, and—"

"And you are an ass, sir. Go home and acknowledge it to your wife."

"By thunder, but I allow no old he goat to call me names. I'll give you one minute!"

Mr. Bowser was lying in the snow when he opened his eyes, and the venerable man was almost out of sight. Five minutes later Mrs. Bowser heard the front door open, and she walked in to the hall to see Mr. Bowser sneaking upstairs.

"Is it whortleberry?" she asked.

"He didn't reply."

He didn't even halt to look down. He had suddenly decided that the huckleberry season was over. M. QUAD.

FASHIONABLE COLORS.

Ivory Whites—Mulberry Red Is Much Worn In Paris.

White cloth and white crepe de chine edged with mink or chinchilla and worn with beautiful Italian lace make extremely becoming and exclusive house frocks, by which is meant a warm tone of ivory. Blue white is seldom becoming, although it suits a few, but at best it looks rather cold and uncomfortable.

Dull mulberry red will be worn a great deal for street wear later, especially in headgear. In Paris crimson tones have taken the place of sapphire blues and greens. Presently no doubt this mulberry shade will be ousted by purple and light gray, which two colors are always beloved by Parisians during the Lenten season.

ACCORDION PLAITED CHIFFON BLOUSE.

Gray is a very trying color and should be made up very softly, with perhaps a suggestion of a warmer tone. It should always be trimmed with lace.

The dainty evening blouse here shown is of accordion plaited chiffon over satin. The collarless neck is encircled by a yoke of lace.

JUDIC CHOLLET.

New Magazine Office.

"The express agent won't let us have that shipment of paper," said the business manager, "until we plank the cash down."

"That's all right. Just announce that the twentieth edition is exhausted and out of print, and let the express man go to blazes."—Atlanta Constitution.

According to Order.

Indignant Guest—These don't taste like first class eggs.
Dignified Waiter—No, suh. You asked for medium boiled, didn't you, suh?—Chicago Tribune.

Common Phrases.

"It showed on the face of it."
—Chicago News.

His Plight.

In front of a millionaire's mansion Dan Cupid was sitting in tears.
"Oh, what," I inquired, "is the matter. And what is the cause of your fears?"

"It's this," he replied, with emotion: "A terrible state of affairs. If you aren't at the top of the ladder, you're helped to the foot of the stairs."

—New York Times.

A Prisoner in Her House.

Mrs. W. H. Lavha, of 1001 Agnes avenue, Kansas City, Mo., has for several years been troubled with severe hoarseness and at times a hard cough, which she says, "Would keep me in doors for days. I was prescribed by physicians with no noticeable results. A friend gave me a part of a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy with instructions to closely follow the directions and I wish to state that after the first day I could notice a decided change for the better, and at this time after using it for two weeks, have no hesitation in saying I realize that I am entirely cured. From this time on Chamberlain's Cough Remedy will be in my house constantly. This remedy is for sale by Alvin H. Bulger.

Mrs. Austin says: "My buckwheat cakes will please you, if you love the good old-fashioned flavor. 34-2wks-74

Very Low Rates to the West And Southwest.

THE MISSOURI PACIFIC RAILWAY AND IRON MOUNTAIN ROUTE will sell one way and round trip Homeseekers' tickets to points in Kansas, Colorado, Nebraska, Missouri, Arkansas, Indian and Oklahoma territories, Louisiana, Texas, and New Mexico, on the first and third Tuesdays of each month to and including April, at unusually low rates.

For further information write Jno. R. James, central passenger agent, 905 Park building, Pittsburg, Pa.

THIN FOLKS MADE FAT

Good, healthy flesh can only be gained by the use of proper food, together with natural action of the digestive organs. Nine people out of ten, in order to weigh as much as they ought, and be perfectly healthy, should use Mi-o-na, the great flesh-forming food and digestion regulator. Weigh yourself before commencing to use these little tablets and see how your weight increases from week to week.

Mi-o-na does not contain a particle of pepsin, the basis of the ordinary dyspepsia remedy, and which never made a cure of dyspepsia. Mi-o-na has valuable flesh-forming properties, tones up and strengthens the digestive organs, helps digest the food eaten, and absolutely cures the worst forms of dyspepsia.

If you are not perfectly satisfied with the results from Mi-o-na. Will Reed will return your money without any questions. What other medicine is sold on this plan?

HANCOCK BAR,

EAST END.

Finest line of Wines, Whiskies, Beer and Cigars in the city.

WM. HANCOCK, Proprietor, Mulberry St. EAST END.

DRINK PURE SPRING WATER
I will deliver it at your door fresh every morning
R. G. BOYD
Successor to Robert Bond.
Col. Phone 447. 1st Thompson Ave.

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING.

Wanted, For Sale, To Rent, Financial, Exchange, Personals, not exceeding 30 words, daily, three insertions, 25 cents; 50 cents the week, $1.50 the month. Weekly, 25 cents, one time; 75 cents the month. Cash in advance, otherwise we charge double price to cover bookkeeping and collection.

WANTED.

WANTED—Modeler. A first class general-ware modeler. Steady work at good wages. The Wheeling Pottery Co., LaBelle Department, Wheeling, W. Va. 44r

WANTED—Forelady for glost ware business, with crew. Apply to The Sèvres China Co. 44r

WANTED—Experienced decalcomania transferers at The Homer Laughlin China Co. Plant No. 2. 44r

WANTED—At once, a cutter. Apply to Ed. Hatton, Wallace & Chatwynd Pottery. 44r

GOOD COLORED GIRL for general housework, good wages. Mrs. H. Blythe, 145 College street. 43r

WANTED—Experienced Decalcomania Girls; also Girl Gilders. Smith & Phillips China company. 42r

FOR SALE.

FOR SALE—House situated at 151 Sixth street, to be removed. Inquire of Geo. H. Owen & Co. 29tr

FOR RENT.

FOR RENT—Furnished front room, 147 Third street, near Central school building. Call at the house after 5 p. m. 42r

FOR RENT—One furnished front room with privilege of bath. Inquire at 284 Third street, city. 39tr

LEGAL

NOTICE

Notice is hereby given, that an application in writing has been made to the Council of the city of East Liverpool, Ohio, for leave to construct, maintain and operate for a period of twenty-five years, a single track, electric street railway, except on Fifth street, where it shall have double tracks, with the necessary switches, turnouts, poles, trolley and feed wires, from the intersection of Pennsylvania avenue, from the intersection of Pennsylvania avenue and Rayne street to the intersection of Calcutta Road with said application described.

No grant to construct or operate a street railroad along said route will be made except to the corporation, individual or individuals that will agree to carry passengers at the lowest rates of fare.

Sealed bids must be in the hands of the City Clerk by 12 o'clock noon on Tuesday, March 10, 1903.

Passed February 10, 1903.
WILLIS DAVISON, City Clerk.

Published in the Evening News Review February 10th to Mar. 6th, 1903, continuously.

There's no reflection so dainty, no light so charming as the mellow glow that comes from
CORVOA
Wax Candles
Prepared in many colors to harmonize with room decorations. It is burning room, drawing room, bed room or hall. Sold everywhere. Made by STANDARD OIL CO.

No Dessert More Attractive

Why use gelatine and spend hours soaking, sweetening, flavoring and coloring when

Jell-O produces better results in two minutes! Everything in the package. Simply add hot water and set to cool. It's perfection. A surprise to the housewife. No trouble, less expense. Try it today. In Four Fruit Flavors: Lemon, Orange, Strawberry, Raspberry. At grocers, 10c.

Over-Work Weakens Your Kidneys.

Unhealthy Kidneys Make Impure Blood.

All the blood in your body passes through your kidneys once every three minutes.

The kidneys are your blood purifiers. They filter out the waste or impurities in the blood. If they are sick or out of order, they fail to do their work. Pains, aches and rheumatism come from excess of uric acid in the blood, due to neglected kidney trouble.

Kidney trouble causes quick or unsteady heart beats, and makes one feel as though they had heart trouble, because the heart is over-working in pumping thick, kidney-poisoned blood through veins and arteries. It used to be considered that only urinary troubles were to be traced to the kidneys, but now modern science proves that nearly all constitutional diseases have their beginning in kidney trouble.

If you are sick you can make no mistake by first doctoring your kidneys. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy, is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases and is sold on its merits by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar sizes. You may have a sample bottle by mail. Home of Swamp-Root, free, also pamphlet telling you how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble. Mention this paper when writing Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y.

Don't make any mistake, but remember the name Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

Read This—It Costs You Nothing

And May Be Worth Thousands of Dollars to You.

Mr. H. K. Mitchell, of New Philadelphia, O., speaks of Life Plant in the following emphatic language:

Life Plant is a wonder. We have used it in our family for nearly a year and find it to be all that is claimed for it in giving tone and vigor to the system. It certainly cures rheumatism, in fact I believe it will cure any disease that is reached through the blood.

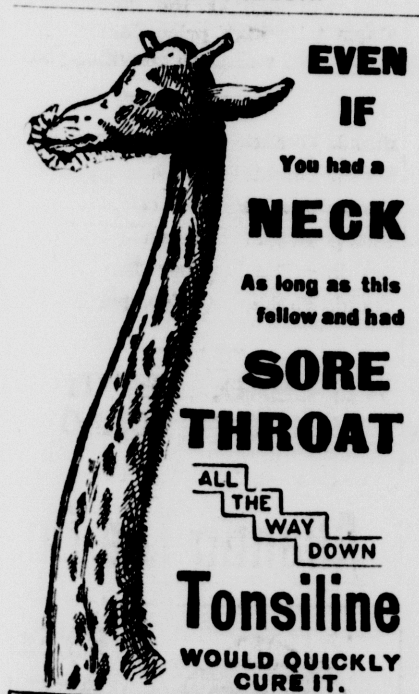

We guarantee the genuineness of every TESTIMONIAL. The above was indeed a remarkable cure, but it was simple and easy when the proper method was followed. It is a notable fact in science, that disease germs can not exist in pure matter. There must be some impurity else they die. You might arrest a disease by local application, and take some poisons fatal to disease germs, but you cannot hope for a cure by that system of treatment. You must get at the cause.

Impure blood is the cause of practically ALL diseases. To cure any disease you must by some means purify the BLOOD. Scrofula, Salt Rheum, Rheumatism, Eczema, Hives, Tetters, Catarrh and Asthma, are the most familiar forms of blood diseases. Life Plant purifies the BLOOD. It renews LIFE, it restores the vital element in the BLOOD. That is why it cures diseases, and prevents disease. It is nature's way. It's the common sense way. Try it NOW. DELAY IS DANGEROUS.

For Sale by All Druggists.

THE LIFE PLANT CO., CANTON, O.
FOR SALE BY WILL REED, CHAS. CRAIG AND W. L. WILSON.

EVEN IF
You had a
NECK
As long as this fellow and had
SORE THROAT
ALL THE WAY
DOWN
Tonsiline
WOULD QUICKLY
CURE IT.

KILL Warts, Calluses, WALK
Moles, &c., with
CORN REMOVER. EASY
SAFE, QUICK, PAIN-LESS.
Removes the corn, and eradicates the corn. At dealers in Toilet Articles, Etc. Mention this ad. and write for free sample, including ad.
THE TONSYLINE CO., 231 Lafayette St.,
New York, N. Y.

FOR OVER SIXTY YEARS.
An Old and Well-Tried Remedy.
MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP has been used for over SIXTY YEARS by MILLIONS of Mothers for their CHILDREN WILLINGLY INGEST WITH PERFECT SUCCESS. A small bottle of this SOOTHING SYRUP CURES ALL PAIRS:
INFANTILE COLIC, and is the best remedy for the world. Secure and ask for
MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP, and TAKE NO OTHER KIND.
Twenty-Five Cents a Bottle.

For over 50 years Ayer's Pills have been the standard family pill. Act directly on the liver, gently laxative.

J. C. Ayer & Co.,
Lowell, Mass.

The New Arabian Nights

By ROBERT LOUIS STEVENSON

The SUICIDE CLUB

PART I

Story of the Young Man With the Cream Tarts

DURING his residence in London the accomplished Prince Florizel of Bohemia gained the affection of all classes by the seduction of his manner and by a well considered generosity. He was a remarkable man even by what was known of him, and that was but a small part of what he actually did. Although of a placid temper in ordinary circumstances and accustomed to take the world with as much philosophy as any plowman, the Prince of Bohemia was not without a taste for ways of life more adventurous and eccentric than that to which he was destined by his birth. Now and then, when he fell into a low humor, when there was no laughable play to witness in any of the London theaters and when the season of the year was unsuitable to those field sports in which he excelled all competitors, he would summon his confidant and master of the horse, Colonel Geraldine, and bid him prepare himself against an evening ramble. The master of the horse was a young officer of a brave and even temerarious disposition. He greeted the news with delight and hastened to make ready. Long practice and a varied acquaintance of life had given him a singular facility in disguise. He could adapt not only his face and bearing, but his voice and almost his thoughts, to those of any rank, character or nation, and in this way he diverted attention from the prince and sometimes gained admission for the pair into strange societies. The civil authorities were never taken into the secret of these adventures. The impetuous courage of the one and the ready invention and chivalrous devotion of the other had brought them through a score of dangerous passes, and they grew in confidence as time went on.

One evening in March they were driven by a sharp fall of sleet into an oyster bar in the immediate neighborhood of Leicester square. Colonel Geraldine was dressed and painted to represent a person connected with the press in reduced circumstances, while the prince had, as usual, travelled his appearance by the addition of false whiskers and a pair of large adhesive eyebrows. These lent him a shaggy and weather beaten air, which for one of his urbanity formed the most impenetrable disguise. Thus equipped the commander and his satellite sipped their brandy and soda in security.

The bar was full of guests, male and female; but, though more than one of these offered to fall into talk with our adventurers, none of them promised to grow interesting upon a nearer acquaintance. There was nothing present but the lees of London and the commonplace of despatchability, and the prince had already fallen to yawning and was beginning to grow weary of the whole excursion when the swing doors were pushed violently open and a young man, followed by a couple of commissionaires, entered the bar. Each of the commissionaires carried a large dish of cream tarts under a cover, which they at once removed, and the young man made the round of the company and pressed these confections upon every one's acceptance with an exaggerated courtesy. Sometimes his offer was laughingly accepted; sometimes it was firmly or even harshly rejected. In these latter cases the newcomer always ate the tart himself, with some more or less humorous commentary.

At last he accosted Prince Florizel. "Sir," said he, with a profound obeisance, proffering the tart at the same time between his thumb and forefinger, "will you so far honor an entire stranger? I can answer for the quality of the pastry, having eaten two dozen and three of them myself since 3 o'clock."

"I am in the habit," replied the prince, "of looking not so much to the nature of a gift as to the spirit in which it is offered."

"The spirit, sir," returned the young man, with another bow, "is one of mockery."

"Mockery?" repeated Florizel. "And whom do you propose to mock?" "I am not here to expound my philosophy," replied the other, "but to distribute these cream tarts. If I mention that I heartily include myself in the ridicule of the transaction, I hope you will consider honor satisfied and descend. If not, you will constrain me to eat my twenty-eighth, and I own to being weary of the exercise."

"You touch me," said the prince, "and I have all the will in the world to rescue you from this dilemma, but upon one condition. If my friend and I eat your cakes—for which we have neither of us, any natural inclination—we shall expect you to join us at supper by way of recompense."

The young man seemed to reflect. "I have still several dozen upon hand," he said at last, "and that will make it necessary for me to visit several more bars before my great affair is concluded. This will take some time, and if you are hungry—"

The prince interrupted him with a polite gesture. "My friend and I will accompany you," he said, "for we have already a deep interest in your very agreeable mode of passing an evening. And now that the preliminaries of peace are set-

"AS FOR THE REST"—HE TOSSED THEM INTO THE FIRE.

led, allow me to sign the treaty for both."

And the prince swallowed the tart with the best grace imaginable. "It is delicious," said he. "I perceive you are a connoisseur," replied the young man.

Colonel Geraldine likewise did honor to the pastry, and every one in that bar having now either accepted or refused his delicacies the young man with the cream tarts led the way to another and similar establishment. The two commissionaires, who seemed to have grown accustomed to their absurd employment, followed immediately after, and the prince and the colonel, smiling to each other as they went. In this order the company visited two other taverns, where scenes were enacted of a like nature to that already described—some refusing, some accepting, the favors of this vagabond hospitality, and the young man himself eating each rejected tart.

On leaving the third saloon the young man counted his store. There were but nine remaining, three in one tray and six in the other.

"Gentlemen," said he, addressing himself to his two followers, "I am unwilling to delay your supper. I am positively sure you must be hungry. I feel that I owe you a special consideration. And on this great day for me, when I am closing a career of folly by my most conscientiously silly action, I wish to behave handsomely to all who give me countenance. Gentlemen, you shall wait no longer. Although my constitution is shattered by previous excesses, at the risk of my life I liquidate the suspensory condition."

With these words he crushed the nine remaining tarts into his mouth and swallowed them at a single movement each; then, turning to the commissionaires, he gave them a couple of sovereigns.

"I have to thank you," said he, "for your extraordinary patience."

And he dismissed them with a bow apiece. For some seconds he stood looking at the purse from which he had just paid his assistants; then, with a laugh, he tossed it into the middle of the street and signified his readiness for supper.

In a small French restaurant in Soho,

LOSING FLESH.

Are you losing flesh? If so, better consult your doctor at once. He will tell you the cause. We can provide the remedy, which is Scott's Emulsion of cod-liver oil.

A young woman in Batavia writes us she had lost twenty-five pounds in three months, and her lungs were seriously affected. She took three bottles of Scott's Emulsion and gained fifteen pounds, and was able to resume her work.

Send for Free Sample.
SCOTT & BOWNE, Chemists, 49, Fleet St., N. Y.

which had enjoyed an exaggerated reputation for some little while, but had already begun to be forgotten, and in a private room up two pairs of stairs the three companions made a very elegant supper and drank three or four bottles of champagne, talking the while upon indifferent subjects. The young man was fluent and gay, but he laughed louder than was natural in a person of to seem indiscreet, I must tell you that my friend and I are persons very well worthy to be intrusted with a secret. We have many of our own, which we are continually revealing to improper ears, and if, as I suppose, your story is a silly one, you need have no delicacy with us, who are two of the silliest men in England. My name is Godall—Theophilus Godall; my friend is Major Alfred Hamersmith, or at least such is the name by which he chooses to be known. We pass our lives entirely in the search for extravagant adventures, and there is no extravagance with which we are not capable of sympathy."

"I like you, Mr. Godall," returned the young man. "You inspire me with a natural confidence, and I have not the slightest objection to your friend the major, whom I take to be a nobleman in masquerade; at least I am sure he is no soldier."

The colonel smiled at this compliment to the perfection of his art, and the young man went on in a more animated manner: "There is every reason why I should not tell you my story. Perhaps that is just the reason why I am going to do so; at least, you seem so well prepared to hear a tale of silliness that I cannot find it in my heart to disappoint you. My name, in spite of your example, I shall keep to myself. My age is not essential to the narrative. I am descended from my ancestors by ordinary generation, and from them I inherited a very eligible human temperament, which I still occupy, and a fortune of £300 a year. I suppose they also handed on to me a harebrain humor, which it has been my chief delight to indulge. I received a good education. I can play the violin nearly well enough to earn money in a cheap orchestra, but not quite. The same remark applies to the flute and the French horn. I learned enough of whist to lose about a hundred a year at that scientific game. My acquaintance with French was sufficient to enable me to squander money in Paris with almost the same facility as in London. In short, I am a person full of many accomplishments. I have had every sort of adventure, including a duel about nothing. Only two months ago I met a young lady exactly suited to my taste in mind and body; I found my heart melted; I saw that I had come upon my fate at last and was in the way to fall in love. But when I came to reckon up what remained to me of my capital I found it amounted to something less than £100! I ask you fairly, can a man who respects himself fall in love on £100? I concluded certainly not, left the presence of my charmer and, slightly accelerating my usual rate of expenditure, came this morning to my last £80. This I divided into two equal parts—£40 I reserve for a particular purpose and the remaining £40 I was to dissipate before night."

"I have passed a very entertaining day and played many farces besides that of the cream tarts, which procured me the advantage of your acquaintance, for I was determined, as I told you, to bring a foolish career to a still more foolish conclusion, and when you saw me throw my purse into the street the £40 was at an end. Now you know me as well as I know myself—a fool, but consistent in his folly and, as I will ask you to believe, neither a whimpere nor a coward."

From the whole tone of the young man's statement it was plain that he harbored very bitter and contemptuous thoughts about himself. His auditors were led to imagine that his love affair was nearer his heart than he admitted and that he had a design on his own life. The force of the cream tarts began to have very much the air of a tragedy in disguise.

"Why, is this not odd," broke out Geraldine, giving a look to Prince Florizel, "that we three fellows should have met by the merest accident in so large a wilderness as London and should be so nearly in the same condition?"

"How?" cried the young man. "Are you, too, ruined? Is this supper a folly like my cream tarts? Has the devil brought three of his own together for a last carouse?"

"The devil, depend upon it, can sometimes do a very gentlemanly thing," returned Prince Florizel, "and I am so much touched by this coincidence that, although we are not entirely in the same state, I am going to put an end to the disparity. Let your heroic treatment of the last cream tarts be my example."

So saying, the prince drew out his purse and took from it a small bundle of banknotes.

"You see, I was a week or so behind you, but I mean to catch you up and come neck and neck into the winning post," he continued. "This," laying one of the notes upon the table, "will suffice for the bill. As for the rest"—He tossed them into the fire, and they went up the chimney in a single blaze.

The young man tried to catch his arm, but his interference came too late.

"Unhappy man," he cried, "you should not have burned them all! You should have kept £40."

"Forty pounds?" repeated the prince. "Why, in heaven's name, £40?"

"Why not eighty?" cried the colonel. "For to my certain knowledge there must have been a hundred in the bundle."

"It was only £40 he needed," said the young man gloomily. "But without them there is no admission. The rule is strict—£40 for each. Accursed life, where a man cannot even die without money!"

The prince and the colonel exchanged glances.

"Explain yourself," said the latter. "I have still a pocketbook tolerably well lined, and I need not say how readily I should share my wealth with Godall, but I must know to what end. You must certainly tell us what you mean."

The young man seemed to awaken; he looked uneasily from one to the other,

and his face flushed deeply.

"You are not fooling me?" he asked. "You are indeed ruined like me?"

"Indeed, I am, for my part," replied the colonel.

"And for mine," said the prince. "I have given you proof. Who but a ruined man would throw his notes into the fire? The action speaks for itself."

"A ruined man—yes," returned the other suspiciously, "or else a millionaire."

"Enough, sir," said the prince. "I have said so, and I am not accustomed to have my word remain in doubt."

"Ruined?" said the young man. "Are you ruined, like me? Are you, after a life of indulgence, come to such a pass that you can only induce yourself in one thing more? Are you?" he kept lowering his voice as he went on—"are you going to give yourselves that last indulgence? Are you going to avoid the consequences of your folly by the one infallible and easy path? Are you going to give the slip to the sheriff's officers of conscience by the one open door?"

Suddenly he broke off and attempted to laugh.

"Here is your health!" he cried, emptying his glass, "and good night to you, my merry ruined men."

(To be continued.)

Childish Frankness.

"Uncle, do you know the difference between you and a rooster?"

"No. What is it?"

"A rooster has a comb and you don't want one."—Meggenorfer Blatter.

No Time For Them.

First Society Woman—Have you any children?

Second Society Woman—Gracious, no! I can't even find time to take care of my dog!—Philadelphia Record.

Presio
(better than flour)
devises
dainty dumplings

WHY STICK TO THESE OLD METHODS?
BE UP TO DATE—USE
OZOLINE
The best family remedy in the world for
SORE THROAT
Hoarseness, Sore Mouth, Tonsillitis, and all diseases of the throat. Prevents Diphtheria. Cures Quinsy.
Cure guaranteed. 25 and 50 cents at all druggists.
THE OZO REMEDY CO.
New York, N. Y.

CHICHESTER'S PILLS
Original and Only Genuine.
Attested Remedy, and for 25 years, the most famous and successful in the world. CHICHESTER'S PILLS are in RED and GOLD wrapper, and are made with purest ingredients. Take no other. Refuse Substitutes and Imitations. Ask for Chichester's Pills in every Dispensary, and in every Drug Store. For Ladies, or return Mail, send 10c. to Chichester Chemical Co., Madison Square, N. Y. C.

BEST PASSENGER SERVICE IN TEXAS.
4-IMPORTANT GATEWAYS-4
THE TEXAS AND PACIFIC RAILWAY
NO TROUBLE TO ANSWER QUESTIONS.

THE PITTSBURG, LISBON & WESTERN RAILWAY CO.
Time table effective Nov. 25, 1901.
Trains daily except Sunday. Central time.
Lv. Lisbon, Ar. N. Galilee, No. 6.....2:35 p. m. 3:40 p. m.
No. 40.....6:00 a. m. 7:05 a. m.
Lv. N. Galilee, Ar. Lisbon, No. 9.....8:25 a. m. 9:30 a. m.
No. 45.....5:10 p. m. 6:08 p. m.

Connections at New Galilee.
Connections at New Galilee with Pennsylvania company trains to and from New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Washington, Pittsburgh, Beaver Falls, East Liverpool, Wellsville, Bellaire, Alliance, Canton, Chicago, Erie, New Castle, Ashtabula, Youngstown and intermediate points.
K. E. BARINGER,
General Passenger Agent.

Pennsylvania Lines.
Schedule of Passenger Trains—Central Time in Effect January 6, 1902.
From East Liverpool
Cleveland and Pittsburgh Division.

EASTBOUND.		WESTBOUND.
No. 102	8:45 a. m.	No. 101	12:38 a. m.
No. 103	11:31 a. m.	No. 104	1:11 a. m.
No. 105	1:13 p. m.	No. 106	2:06 p. m.
No. 107	3:59 p. m.	No. 108	5:11 p. m.
No. 109	7:30 p. m.	No. 110	8:58 p. m.
No. 111	4:55 p. m.	No. 112	5:48 p. m.

From Chester.		Pittsburgh (Pan Handle) Division.
No. 125	5:47 a. m.	No. 126	8:07 a. m.
No. 127	8:40 a. m.	No. 128	11:35 a. m.
No. 129	2:27 p. m.	No. 130	2:46 p. m.

*Runs Daily. *Daily, except Sunday.
*Sunday only.
Pullman Sleeping Cars are run on Nos. 101 and 102 and Parlor Cars on Nos. 103 and 104 between Pittsburgh and Cleveland via Yellow Creek and Alliance. No. 105 connects at Rochester for New Castle, Jamestown, Youngstown, Niles, Warren, Ashtabula and intermediate stations. No. 106 for Erie, Youngstown, Niles, Jamestown, Erie and intermediate stations. No. 107 connects at Bayard for New Philadelphia and stations on Tuscarawas branch.

For time cards, rates of fare, through tickets, baggage checks, and further information regarding the running of trains, apply to ADAM ELLIS, Passenger and Ticket Agent, East Liverpool, Ohio.

JOHN R. JAMES,
General Passenger Agent.
Room 805 Park Bldg.
Pittsburgh, Pa.

BLOOD POISON

Bone Pains, Itchings, Swellings

If you have aches and pains in bones, back and joints, itching scabby skin, blood feels hot, swollen glands, itches and bumps on the skin, itchy patches on mouth, sore throat, pimples, copper colored spots, all run-down, flukes on any part of the body, hair or eyebrows falling out, take to cure the worst and most desperate cases. It acts on the blood, cleanses all aches and pains, reduces all swellings, makes blood pure and healthy, completely changing the body into a healthy condition.

Botanic Blood Balm, guaranteed

Old Rheumatism, Catarrh, Eczema, Scrofula, are cured by Poison in the Blood. B.B.B. stops Itching and Spitting, Itching and Scratching, cures Rheumatism, Catarrh, boils all Scabs, Scalds, Eruptions, Water Blisters, by giving pure, healthy blood to affected parts.

Blood Balm Cures Cancers of all Kinds.

Suppurating Swellings, Eating Sores, Tumors, ugly Ulcers. It heals the sores or worst cancer perfectly. If you have a persistent Pimple, Swelling, Sore, Itching, Boil, Boast Balm and it will disappear before they develop into Cancer.

Pleasant and safe to take. Thoroughly tested for 30 years. Composed of Pure Botanic Ingredients. Strengthens weak kidneys and weak stomachs, cures dyspepsia. At Druggists, $1 Per Large Bottle, complete directions.

Sold in East Liverpool by J. W. Reed. Call or write, Blood Balm sent by express. Sample and Circulars sent Free.

Colonist Tickets to West and Northwest via Pennsylvania Lines.

From February 15th to April 30th, inclusive, one way second-class colonist tickets to California, North Dakota, Coast points, Montana and Idaho, will be sold at low fares via Pennsylvania Lines. For particulars apply to nearest Ticket Agent of the Pennsylvania Lines.

PITTSBURG & LAKE ERIE R. R. TIME TABLE.

In Effect Nov. 23, 1902.

GOING NORTH.		GOING SOUTH.
No. 1	8:40 a. m.	No. 2	8:40 a. m.
No. 3	11:31 a. m.	No. 4	11:31 a. m.
No. 5	1:13 p. m.	No. 6	1:13 p. m.
No. 7	3:59 p. m.	No. 8	3:59 p. m.
No. 9	7:30 p. m.	No. 10	7:30 p. m.
No. 11	4:55 p. m.	No. 12	4:55 p. m.

Nos. 17, 18, 19, 20, 21, 22, 23, 24, 25, 26, 27, 28 daily.
Other trains daily except Sunday.
Parlor cars are run between Pittsburgh and Cleveland on the following trains: Nos. 17, 23 and 25. Pittsburgh, Cambridge Springs and Jamestown. No. 18. Sleeping cars between Pittsburgh and Boston on No. 9; Pittsburgh, Buffalo and Cleveland on No. 21; Pittsburgh and Chicago, No. 25; (Sundays only, No. 21.)

Parlor cars are run between Cleveland and Pittsburgh on Nos. 24, 26 and 28; Jamestown, Cambridge Springs and Pittsburgh on No. 22. Sleeping cars between Chicago and Pittsburgh on No. 24; (Sundays only No. 22); Jamestown, Cleveland, Boston, Buffalo and Pittsburgh on No. 26.

New P. & L. E. car service, Pittsburgh 25c, down-town district 50c an hour.
J. B. YOH, L. A. ROBINSON,
Gen'l Supt. Gen'l Pass Agt

THE PITTSBURG, LISBON & WESTERN RAILWAY CO.

Time table effective Nov. 25, 1901.
Trains daily except Sunday. Central time.
Lv. Lisbon, Ar. N. Galilee, No. 6.....2:35 p. m. 3:40 p. m.
No. 40.....6:00 a. m. 7:05 a. m.
Lv. N. Galilee, Ar. Lisbon, No. 9.....8:25 a. m. 9:30 a. m.
No. 45.....5:10 p. m. 6:08 p. m.

Connections at New Galilee.
Connections at New Galilee with Pennsylvania company trains to and from New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Washington, Pittsburgh, Beaver Falls, East Liverpool, Wellsville, Bellaire, Alliance, Canton, Chicago, Erie, New Castle, Ashtabula, Youngstown and intermediate points.
K. E. BARINGER,
General Passenger Agent.

Pennsylvania Lines.
Schedule of Passenger Trains—Central Time in Effect January 6, 1902.
From East Liverpool
Cleveland and Pittsburgh Division.

EASTBOUND.		WESTBOUND.
No. 102	8:45 a. m.	No. 101	12:38 a. m.
No. 103	11:31 a. m.	No. 104	1:11 a. m.
No. 105	1:13 p. m.	No. 106	2:06 p. m.
No. 107	3:59 p. m.	No. 108	5:11 p. m.
No. 109	7:30 p. m.	No. 110	8:58 p. m.
No. 111	4:55 p. m.	No. 112	5:48 p. m.

Schedule of Passenger Trains-Central Time
In Effect January 8, 1902.
From East Liverpool
Cleveland and Pittsburgh Division.
EASTBOUND.	WESTBOUND.
No. 1202.....	No. 1201.....
12:02..... 8:45 a. m.	12:36 a. m.
1400..... 6:42 a. m.	1:11 a. m.
1336..... 11:31 a. m.	8:06 a. m.
889..... 8:06 p. m.	2:50 p. m.
1316..... 6:28 p. m.	8:11 p. m.

HOME AFFAIRS.

Brief Notes of a Personal Nature And of Matters About Town.

To Entertain at Luncheon—Miss Maude Wallace will entertain a number of friends on tomorrow afternoon at luncheon. Fancy work will be the feature of the afternoon.

OBITUARY

Mrs. David Gilson.

Mrs. David Gilson, aged 72 years, died this morning at the home of her daughter, Mrs. George Hill, near East Liverpool. Mrs. Gilson had been in poor health for some time, but the immediate cause of her death was stomach trouble. Her husband died in 1865 and since then she has made her home the greater part of the time with her daughter, near this city. She leaves two children, a son, Harry, of Allegheny, and Mrs. Hill. The funeral will be held Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the house. Interment at Riverview.

Frank Roush.

Frank Roush, aged 42, died this morning about 9 o'clock at his home on the upper end of Avondale street, after a long illness with consumption. Mr. Roush leaves a wife, but no children. The funeral will be held Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock from the house, interment at Long's Run cemetery.

Thomas Sheve.

Thomas Sheve, aged 44 years, died yesterday morning at 242 College street, where he boarded, after an illness of several weeks from typhoid fever. Funeral services will be held at St. Aloysius' church at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning and interment will be made in St. Aloysius' cemetery.

Archibald Haught.

Archibald Haught, aged 22 years, died at 10 o'clock this morning in the Hotel Grand building, Washington and Sixth streets, after a lingering illness from consumption.

Found Dead in Bed.

Lisbon, February 23.—(Special.)—A five-week-old twin daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Morris died suddenly Saturday evening and was buried yesterday. The child was found dead in bed.

Threatened With Fever.

William Powell, son of Constable Powell, is very sick, threatened with typhoid fever.

NOTICE.

A MEETING OF THE REPUBLICAN CITY CENTRAL COMMITTEE WILL BE HELD AT CITY HALL AT 7:30 THIS EVENING. A FULL ATTENDANCE IS DESIRED, AS AN IMPORTANT DECISION IS TO BE MADE.

M. J. McGARRY, Secretary.

W. L. SMITH, Chairman.

Wall Paper.

Six more days to buy Wall Paper at cost and less. Must vacate room March 1st.

THE ART WALL PAPER STORE.

Knee Pants Sale, 50c sale price 36c.

Joseph Bros.

Heddleston Bros.

for all the good things to be found in a first class grocery.

NOTICE—Bring in your pass books at once and have dividends credited.

Open tonight from 7 to 9 p. m.

POTTERS BUILDING & SAVINGS CO.

Spring Goods

It is just a little early to talk about Spring Shoes, but we received such a nice Button Shoe last Friday that we can not help talking about them. It has a nice, light sole, Pat. tip. dull matt top, square button fly; a very handsome shoe. Guaranteed to wear and costs only

$2.50

Button shoes are stylish this season. Special prices on winter goods.

The Sleepless Shoe Co. IN THE DIAMOND.

CAPITAL STOCK HAS BEEN DOUBLED

Union Loan and Trust Company Now Capitalized at a Full Million.

The Union Building, Loan & Trust company, of East Liverpool, has increased its capital stock from $500,000 to $1,000,000. J. M. Kelly is president and S. T. Herbert, secretary.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS TODAY

Star Bargain Store, sale of blankets and comforts.

The Leader Store, skirts.

Lewis Bros., rockers.

Chas. F. Craig, soaps.

Sleepless Shoe Co., spring goods.

Hodson's Drug Store, visiting tablet.

THANKS GIVEN

By Candidate T. V. Thompson to His Loyal Friends and Supporters.

To the mass of Republican voters who stood by me so faithfully in my contest for the nomination of mayor, I hereby express my heartfelt thanks. I appreciate the work and influence spent in my behalf and will certainly endeavor to repay the kindness shown me. Further, if the Republican voters honor me by electing me to the office I will endeavor to fulfill the duties incident to the position and treat all in a just manner.

Respectfully yours,

45-h THOMAS V. THOMPSON.

A Good Thing.

Old fashioned stick candy, that's what every body says, sold at

HEDDLESTON BROS. 45-h

Thanks.

I wish to thank my friends who so loyally supported me at the primary election held on Saturday, and assure them that their kindness will always be appreciated.

O. D. NICE. 45-h

The Wade Jewelry Co. have moved to a large store room at 164 Fifth st

Gasoline Tank Exploded.

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 23.—Fire at McLean last night threatened to destroy the entire city, but after considerable hard work and many narrow escapes on the part of the fighters the flames were brought under control. The city of Bloomington, Ill., was wired for assistance but the request was recalled before the apparatus had started from that city. The loss is estimated at $20,000, partially covered by insurance. The fire was caused by the explosion of a gasoline tank.

Third Explosion Victim.

Pottsville, Pa., Feb. 23.—The third death as a result of the explosion of a locomotive on the Philadelphia and Reading railway on Thursday night, occurred yesterday when John Alexander, the engineer, died from injuries received in the accident. The other deaths were the fireman and a passenger.

Accepts Hobart College Presidency.

Geneva, N. Y., Feb. 23.—Official announcement was made yesterday of the acceptance by the Rev. Langdon C. Stewardson of Lehigh university of the presidency of Hobart college.

Ancient Glove Etiquette.

Woodstock and Worcester leather gloves are of ancient celebrity. In the middle ages the giving of a glove was a ceremony of investiture in bestowing lands and dignities. In England, in the reign of Edward II., the deprivation of gloves was a ceremony of degradation. The importation of foreign gloves into England was not permitted until 1825.

Boys' Suit Sale at Joseph Bros.

44-h

A big discount given on Men's and Boys' Sweaters. This week only at

THE SURPRISE CLOTHING HOUSE

43-eod-1

Won Out By a Large Majority.

Old fashioned stick candy is a popular favorite, sold by

HEDDLESTON BROS. 45-h

By vote of Local 165, of Painters,

Decorators & Paper Hangers of America, it was decided to place E. M. Cross, or Cross & Stiffler, on the unfair list, and ask all union workmen to stay with us.

(Signed.) W. T. HOUSE, R. S. 45-h

Home Guards Dance.

The Home Guards will give a dance to their many friends of East Liverpool at Rock Springs park, Monday evening, February 23. A cordial invitation is extended to all. Admission, gentlemen 50c, ladies free.

Art Wall Paper Store.

All Paper must be sold, room vacated March 1st.

THE ART WALL PAPER STORE.

45-h

Buy a Suit for yourself and the Boys

while you can get 20 per cent discount on each dollar you spend.

THE SURPRISE CLOTHING HOUSE.

43-eod-1

Assuming the Husband's Name.

The practice of the wife assuming the husband's name at marriage originated from a Roman custom and became the common custom after the Roman occupation. Thus, Julia and Octavia, married to Pompey and Cicero, were called by the Romans Julia of Pompey and Octavia of Cicero, and in later times married women in most European countries signed their names in the same manner, but omitted the "of."

Against this view it may be mentioned that during the sixteenth and even at the beginning of the seventeenth century the usage seems doubtful, since we find Catherine Parr so signing herself after she had been twice married, and we always hear of Lady Jane Grey (not Dudley), Arabella Stuart (not Seymour), etc. Some persons think that the custom originated from the Scriptural teaching that husband and wife are one. This was the rule of law so far back as Bracton (died 1268), and it was decided in the case of Bon versus Smith, in the reign of Elizabeth, that a woman by marriage loses her former name and legally receives the name of her husband. Altogether the custom is involved in much obscurity.

Little Big Men.

Suwarow, the greatest of Russian generals; Frederick the Great, David Garrick, the wonderful actor, and Alexander Hamilton, whom Talleyrand pronounced one of the three greatest men he had ever known, were slender and below the middle height. The brave General Marion "was in stature of the smallest size, thin as well as low," and Dr. Kane, who surpassed all of his arctic companions in leaving torrid heat and polar cold, was but 5 feet 6 in height and weighed at his best only 125 pounds. But more dwarfish than any of these ghostly beings was that phenomenon of the eighteenth century, the Abbe Galiani of Naples. "Personally," says Marmontel, "the abbe, who was but 4 feet 6 inches in stature, was the prettiest little harlequin that Italy ever produced, but upon the shoulders of that harlequin was the head of a Machiavelli."

Thanks His Friends.

I desire to express my sincere thanks to my friends in the Fourth ward for the hearty manner in which they supported me at the primary on Saturday. In accepting the nomination for council I will not be unmindful of the responsibilities which go with it should I be elected by the Republicans, and will do my utmost to fill the position in a satisfactory and acceptable manner.

THOMAS CANNON.

A Good Thing.

Old fashioned stick candy, that's what every body says, sold at

HEDDLESTON BROS. 45-h

Boys' Knee Pants Sale, $1.00 grade

55c. Joseph Bros. 44-h

Prof. Babcock, the expert optician, can still be found with the Wade Jewelry Co., 164 Fifth street. 31-11

It leads—the News Review.

TOO LATE TO CLASSIFY

FOR SALE—A five room house on High street, East End. Inquire of Archie Putnam, Maple street, East End. 45-r

HOTEL FOR SALE—On account of death of landlady the well known Sutherland House, at Hookstown, Pa., containing 14 rooms. Also all necessary out buildings and a large livery barn. This property is nicely situated and for any person wanting to engage in hotel and livery business this is a good opportunity. J. S. Sutherland, Hookstown, Pa. 45-j

No Clothing Fits Like Ours

GOOD NEWS FOR ALL IN NEED OF OVERCOATS.

We have no old counter-worn hand me down clothing at any price. Our goods are all new tailor-made that has no equal, they are yours at clean cut prices. We don't ask you as much for $15 overcoat as the $18 ones. No fake business in ours.

A. G. MINEHART,

The one-price Clothier and Furnisher.

Fifth St., Hard's old stand,

East Liverpool, O.

We make a specialty of

POPULAR PRICED ROCKERS

Cut is one of our

$3.00 SPECIALS.

Your Credit Is Good.

ASK LEWIS BROS. ABOUT IT.

ZEB WHITE

He Tells of a Dream That Led to Startling Results

Copyright, 1902, by O. E. Warner.

ZEB WHITE, the old possum hunter of Tennessee, and I had planned to go up the side of the Cumberland mountains above the mouth of a certain cave. His wife had something to say to him on the subject after I was out of doors, and the old man didn't seem a bit enthusiastic as we finally started off. We had waited along for a mile in silence when he sat down on a rock and observed:

"Of all the dratted critters in this world I reckon a woman is the drattestest. She ain't to be understood by no man, and I'm dawggoned if I believe she knows herself!"

It looked as if old Zeb had been the victim of a Caudle lecture before getting away, but as it was none of my mix in I had nothing to say, and he waited a couple of minutes before continuing:

"My old woman will run along as slick as grease for two or three months, and then all of a sudden she'll break out and be as tecky as a wolf with a sore paw. Mebbe it's that way with all wimin, and mebbe that's what a man kin expect to put up with when he falls in love and gets married. Mebbe the old woman is gittin' ready to mix up with another bar."

I scented a story and asked for it, and after a little coaxing he said:

"One time about six y'ars ago I cum home from town and found the ole woman sittin' on the doabstep and lookin' as ruffled as a wet hen. She was all right and as chipper as yo'

please when I went away in the mornin', but sunthin' had changed her. She didn't pay no 'tension to me as I sot down, and I knowed we was in for a row. I didn't say nuthin' for a long time, but jest chawed tobacco and looked across the road at a rabbit hoppin about. Bimely I softly sez:

"It's a powerful pleasant evenin',

Mrs. White."

"She turns on me with a glare in her eyes and sez:

"Yes, it's a powerful pleasant even-in' for folks as is too lazy to draw their breath and don't keer how much their families suffer."

"Mebbe that's me," sez I, feelin' sort o' riled all to once.

"Zeb White," sez she as she riz up,

"yo' ain't no man 'tall. My shoes ar'

all worn out, and I ain't got a dress fit to wear."

"My ole woman and a monstrous big bar was down thar together."

for a skunk to look at. I shall cook the last co'mmeal in the house for breakfast, and Lawd knows whar we'll git any mo'. Yo' hev got to be the oneriest man in all Tennessee. Yo' used to git buzzards to peck at. Yo' used to git around and be sunboby, but for the last y'ar it's bin whiskey and tobacco and loatin' around till I won't put up with it no mo'."

"Nobodys axin' yo' to stay if yo' don't want to," sez I, feelin' hurt in my feelin's.

"She got her bonnet on and was minded to go, but arter walkin' out to the road and lookin' up and down she cum back. She didn't say nuthin' mo', and I was too mad to speak, and we sot around for awhile and then went to bed. It might hev bin along about midnight when she wakes me up and sez:

"Zeb, I've bin hev'in a mighty curus dream. I drempt that a mighty big bar had fell into one o' them iron pits up by the big ravine."

"What if he has?" sez I.

"Then his pelt will buy me a pair o' shoes and a dress, and we'll hev meat and grease 'nuff to last us for a month."

"I'll see about it in the mawnin'."

"But I want yo' to see about it right off now. I'll go with yo' and pint out the pit, and yo' kin shoot the bar befo'

he climbs out."

"I was mad yit," said the old man,

"and I didn't think much of a dream, and so I wouldn't git up. The ole woman did, however. She got out o' bed, lit the lantern and went off to see if the bar was actually in the pit. I soon fell asleep, thinkin' she wouldn't go fur, and it was mawnin' when I woke up agin. The ole woman wasn't nowhar to be seen, but I wasn't in no hurry to go out and look for her. I got sum breakfast, smoked my pipe, and along about 8 o'clock I shouldered my gun